Others do— you can!

To sell people one has never seen — by Long Distance — may seem strange to you, but it is being done every day. "I sell by Long Distance to points 200 miles away," writes a hardware merchant, "and never see the customers."

"A man called at our store the other day" — writes another merchant, "I recognized his voice at once. I had been calling him by Long Distance for months, but had never seen him."

That is how Long Distance, by expanding the selling area is enabling merchants to sell far more in a day than their fathers ever dreamed of selling.

Be fair to yourself, and to your business. Give Long Distance a chance to do for you what it is so successfully doing for others.

WISE AND OTHERWISE

"Is your husband fond of those clinging gowns?"

"He must be; he has let one cling to me for two years."

Corns cause much suffering, but Holloway's Corn Remover offers a speedy, sure, and satisfactory relief.

"I'll never ask another woman to marry me as long as I live."

"Refused again?"

"No, accepted."

A pleasant medicine for children is Mother Graves' Worm Exterminator, and it is excellent for driving worms from the system.

Mother—"Don't you think Daisy sings with a good deal of feeling?"

Crusty Old Fellow—"Well, hardly! If she had any real feeling, she wouldn't sing at all."

The Friend of All Sufferers.—Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil is a valuable remedy to all those who suffer pain. It holds out hope to everyone and realizes it by stilling suffering everywhere. It is a liniment that has the blessing of half a continent. It is on sale everywhere and can be found wherever enquired for.

"Have you heard that Smithson is marrying the wealthy Miss Playface?"

"Yes, poor blighter!"

"But why? She's pots of money."

"Yes, but the worst of harrying a woman for her money is that when the money's gone, the woman remains."

Fresh Supplies in Demand. Wherever Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil has been introduced increased supplies have been ordered, showing that wherever it goes this excellent Oil impresses its power on the people. No matter in what latitude it may be found its potency is never impaired. It is put up in most portable shape in bottles and can be carried without fear of breakage.

Coleman du Pont said at a dinner in New York:—

"The United States has four times as many automobiles as all the rest of the world put together."

Mr. du Pont smiles and added:

"We often complain that we have no national flower. It seems to me we ought at once to make our national flower the car-nation."

Miller's Worm Powders not only exterminate intestinal and other worms, but they are a remedy for many other ailments of children. They strengthen the young stomach against biliousness and are tonical in their effects where the child suffers from loss of appetite. In feverish conditions they will be found useful and they will serve to allay pain and griping in the stomach, from which children so often suffer.

Miss Leedom—You want me to go ridinz, you say? Do you drive your car?

Mr. Stamper—Yes.

Miss Leedom—Do you drive with one hand?

Mr. Stamper—Yes.

Miss Leedom—I'll get you an apple for the other.

Awful Asthma Attacks. Is there a member of your family who is in the power of this distressing trouble? No service you can render him will equal the bringing to his attention of Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Asthma Remedy. This remarkable remedy rests its reputation upon what it has done for others. It has a truly wonderful record, covering years and years of success in almost every part of this continent, and even beyond the seas.

A schoolmaster met two students out for a walk when he knew they ought to be at their lessons.

Going up to them, he took out his notebook and pencil to jot down their names.

"Now, sir," he said to one of them, "what might your name be?"

"William Makepeace Thackeray, sir," answered the boy.

"What, Sir! Do you mean to tell me that your name is William Makepeace Thackeray?" cried the master.

"Sir," replied the student, gravely, "you asked me what my name might be, not what it is."

Quick Relief For RHEUMATICS

Local Druggists Sell Rheuma on Money-Back Plan

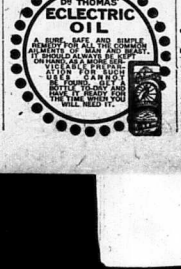
If you suffer from torturing rheumatic pains, swollen, twisted joints, and suffer intensely because your system is full of that dangerous poison that makes thousands helpless and kills thousands years before their time, then you need Rheuma, and need it now.

Start taking it to-day. Rheuma acts at once on kidneys, liver, stomach and blood, and you can sincerely exclaim: "Good riddance to bad rubbish."

Many people, the most skeptical of skeptics right in this town and in the country hereabouts, bless the day when Wallace's Drug Store and other druggists offered Rheuma to the afflicted at a small price and guaranteed money refunded if not satisfied. If you have rheumatism get a bottle of Rheuma to-day.

"Who was it that said he would rather make the songs than the laws of his country?"

"Dunno; but I'd like to make laws for the people who make the songs we hear nowadays."



HAVE SIMILAR FINGER MARKS

Important Discovery Made by California Professor as to Peculiarities of Family Groups.

Prof. J. A. Larson, instructor of physiology in the University of California, announced a new discovery in connection with finger prints which is likely to have a remarkable influence on many important cases that concern the law courts of California.

Briefly, Professor Larson's discovery indicates that a similarity of finger prints among members of a family is sufficiently marked to enable scientists to trace family groups and determine positively whether a given individual is really a member of the family to which he claims relationship.

The importance of the discovery in probate cases such as the Slingsby case is obvious.

Should Dr. Larson's new discovery be accepted by law and science, the Slingsby decision may be reversed, as well as many other analogous cases.

Dr. Larson's investigations began in 1913 at the Boston university.

"Since that time I have examined prints of members of approximately 100 families," he said, "and I am satisfied in my own mind that such a means of identification is possible. I am preparing detailed reports of my work now in order that science may be benefited by my discovery. Before I complete this, however, I expect to investigate the prints of fifteen or twenty additional families so as to remove all doubt as to the accuracy of my discovery."—San Francisco Chronicle.

AMBER FORMED BENEATH SEA

Natural Resin of Pines Turned Into Precious Material by the Action of the Elements.

"The world's supply of amber, that rare and therefore precious substance, the "gold of the north," as it has been called, comes from the coast of Samland in the eastern Prussian peninsula, between the towns of Burstineken and Palmnicken, and here the shafts of a famous mine run out under the Baltic and the miners are actually working under water. Ages ago the country was a land of pine forests which the ocean overwhelmed; the pine trees vanished beneath the surface of the sea, and then, century by century, the wood became fossilized and the natural resin of the pines was turned into amber. Millions of years were needed to transform the resin into amber, and the search for amber has developed romantic and picturesque episodes like those that have become part and parcel of the story of gold and diamonds. An amber mine, however, is not necessarily under water, and there is an open-air mine at Palmnicken where amber is dug for in much the same way as diamonds are sought in the mines of Kimberley. In normal times this one mine provides occupation for about 3,000 amber seekers.

Our Own Masters.

We have been told that America is to save the world and rescue civilization from dissolution, but we must do it in our way; in the way that has made us, in a little more than a century, the most unified, the most virile, and the most potent single power in the world. And when we ask ourselves what it is that has given us this unity, this virility, and this potency, the answer is, that we have founded this nation upon principles of law, and upon the guarantees of individual rights under the law. That is our great contribution to civilization; and if we are to be of use to other nations, old or new, our first thought must be to remain our own masters, to preserve our independence, to control our own forces as a nation by our own laws, and to protect our heritage of organized liberty from any form of detraction or perversion.—David Jayne Hill in the South American Review.

Giant Warrior of Middle Ages.

The pride and magnificence that played their part in the days of chivalry can hardly have a better illustration than the suit of equestrian armor which has recently been placed on exhibition in the Metropolitan Museum of Art, in New York city. Sieur Jacques Gourdon de Genouillhac wore the suit in the sixteenth century, and Sieur Jacques was an uncommonly large and powerful warrior, who served under Louis XII. and Francis I. of France. As may be deduced from their armor, the knights of the period were not noticeably large men, and Sieur Jacques must have seemed a veritable giant, for a six-foot attendant at the museum has tried on his armor and is said to have "merely rattled around in it."

Sea Moss.

Owing to the war the supply of "sea moss," of which several hundred thousand pounds, valued at almost $50,000, have been imported annually, for the most part from France and Germany, has virtually come to an end. Sea moss (not seaweed) is the popular name of several kinds of small marine animals that grow in colonies of a branching, plantlike form. Their commercial value arises from their having a horny skeleton which preserves the general plantlike shape of the growth.

THE NAPANEE BEAVER

Slang Among the Ancients.

An ancient use of a modern slang idiom was mentioned recently by T. E. Peet, the lecturer in Egyptology of Manchester university. He said that the Egyptians always used the verb "to do" in referring to a visit to a country, just as an American today speaks of "doing" Paris or London. After this it will not surprise us to learn that Hannibal considered his expeditions as nothing more than "stints" or that the Roman populace was rather annoyed when Julius Caesar was "done in."—Manchester Guardian.

"Amen Corner."

The phrase "amen corner," is said to have originated in London, where, at the end of Westminster row, the monks at one time finished their recitation of the "Pater Noster" as they went in procession on Corpus Christi day to St. Paul's cathedral. They began in Paternoster room with the Lord's prayer in Latin, continuing it to the end of the street, and then said "amen" at the corner of the row. As used in this country the phrase describes the corner of a church where the elderly members sit and pronounce the word "amen" at intervals.

Mankind's Debt to Reading.

"Have you ever rightly considered what the mere ability to read means?" once asked James Russell Lowell, and immediately his own question: "That it is the key which admits us to the whole world of thought and fancy and imagination? to the company of saint and sage, of the wisest and the wittiest at their wisest and wittiest moment? That it enables us to see with the keenest eyes, hear with the finest ears, and listen to the sweetest voices of all time? More than that it annihilates time and space for us."

The Works of Peace.

There remains to us a great duty of defense and preservation; and there is open to us also a noble pursuit, to which the spirit of the times strongly invites us. Let us advance the arts of peace and the works of peace. Let us develop the resources of our land, call forth its powers, build up its institutions, promote all its great interests, and see whether we, also, in our day and generation, may not perform something worthy to be remembered. —Daniel Webster.

Foolish to Trust to Luck.

It's no use tackling big propositions blindly. Dumb luck may bring you out on the right side. It may also bring you out on the short side. And if it does you are bound for defeat. Blind good fortune has brought men through trials, but they are not stronger for it. It's the man who sees the trials and marshals his forces so as to bring every ounce of energy into control that wins honors on the up-grades.—Exchange.

Still Searching for Atlantis.

Phoenician traditions ascribed to the people of Atlantis a high civilization. During the last few years scientific expeditions, in pursuit of natural history collections, have made explorations of the sea bottom in that region. How interesting it would be if their dragnets brought up from the depths some ancient relics from drowned towns of the lost continent.

The Six Senses.

In a primary school examination, a question about the senses was answered by a bright pupil in this fashion: "The five senses are sneezing, sobbing, crying, yawning and coughing. By a sixth sense is meant an extra one which some folks have. This is snoring."—Boston Transcript.

Hadn't Thought of That.

A man, unable to choose a wife from three girls whom he admired, sent duplicate letters of proposal to all, intending to marry the one who assented first. The trouble that he did not foresee was that the two to-late ones would sue for breach of promise.

Needs Brains First of All.

"In our complex civilization one scarcely knows what ethical principles to follow," says a writer. One might set forth reasonably confident in the Ten Commandments and the Sermon on the Mount.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Her Other Boarder.

Tillie Clinger says that in asking for accommodations at a strange place yesterday she inquired if there were any other boarders. "No," replied the landlady, "unless it's my husband, and he can quit any time he wants to."—Seattle Post-Intelligencer.

Novelty Soon Wears Off.

An experienced young woman told us the other day that there is a time in every engaged girl's life when about a day's growth of beard adds to her thrill, but that after the novelty wears off, clean shaving is much preferred.—Ohio State Journal.

Her Shoes Hurt Her Feet.

As a general thing, when you see a woman hobbling along the street with an agonized expression it is a sign that she's got more foot than head.—Dallas News.

Optimistic Thought.

Keep Smiling For Him

There is absolutely no need for you to wear out your nerves and knuckles over a washboard. Change the hard work of washing to just rinsing.

Rinso, the marvelous time and labour saver made by the makers of Lux, takes all the hard work out of wash-day.

Rinso is already granulated and therefore dissolves instantly in hot water.

Clothes soaked for a couple of hours—overnight if you wish—in Rinso suds need no rubbing. Think of it! You just rinse the dirt out.

Don't do another washing without Rinso.

Keep smiling for him.

Made by the makers of Lux.

Rinso

DIRECTIONS

Put some Rinso in a saucepan. Pour boiling water over it to set all its good, cleansing power free. Pour this into the wash-water. Quickly, completely, the tiny granules dissolve into a clean solution.

Use enough to get creamy, lasting suds. Then drop in the clothes. Soak—boil—or use a washing machine as you prefer. Rinso works perfectly any way you like best to wash.

First Dolls.

The first dolls of which there is any knowledge were found among the treasures unearthed from the ruins of Babylon. They were small figures in terra cotta and ivory, beautifully carved and must have been fascinating playthings for little Assyrian children. The little girls of Syria had mechanical dolls. The dolls the classic children played with were made of wax and clay, decorated with bright colors. As these children married very young, they played with their dolls until just before their wedding day.

Interesting Old Bible.

One of the original owners of the Treacle Bible, living in the eighteenth century, had made notations on the fly leaf concerning "John, who was born on Friday the 10th of February, 1769, at a quarter after eight at night, was baptized at Crossgate church on March 16 following, by the Reverend Mr. Wheeler, who died of smallpox, 12th Aprile, 1769, and was buried the next day at Crossgate church, aged eight weeks and five days." Other deaths, marriages and births were dated as far back as 1701-1702.

Commonwealths and States.

Massachusetts, Pennsylvania, Virginia and Kentucky are officially styled commonwealths, although there seems to be no particular reason except custom, as it has practically the same meaning as state. A commonwealth is a democratic form of government, such as that of each state of the Union, the four using the name commonwealth not differing from the others. As far back as 1636 the Massachusetts colony was spoken of as the commonwealth.

Legend of Origin of Flowers.

In Sussex, England, the lily of the valley is said to be a memorial of the battle St. Leonard fought with a dragon. The holy man encountered the monster in the forest and battled with it for three days. At last the saint was victorious though wounded seriously, and wherever his blood dripped upon the ground there sprang up lilies of the valley in profusion. In France the lily of the valley is said to have sprung from the Virgin's tears.

Money in Blueberries.

The average profit from an acre of Maine blueberry land is said to be about $100, and as no fertilizer or cultivation is necessary these berries are a quick and profitable crop. This is one of Washington county's big industries. For instance, the whole section from Porcupine mountain to the east Machias line is practically all blueberry land. Several factories are devoted to the canning of the berries.

Birds Driven by Storms.

Certain instances of birds found singly far to the north of their usual range are possibly to be explained by the whirl of cyclonic storms. The wind, turning counter clockwise, blows off shore in the south and carries the bird out to sea. But, sooner or later, if the bird has the good fortune to last out the experience, the farther spin of the storm tends to bring him ashore again.

Increase of English.

In the year 1600 there were about six million persons who spoke English—a much smaller number than spoke French, German, Italian or Spanish. Today Englishspeaking people number about one hundred and twenty millions, or about double the aggregate of those who speak French, Italian or Spanish and half as many again as speak German or Russian.

"If the window is shut," declared the other, "I shall suffocate."

The two glared at each other.

The conductor was at a loss, and welcomed the advice of a man who sat near. "First open the window," the man suggested, "that will kill one. Then shut the window; that will kill the other. Then we'll have peace."

Huffs to Meet at Hay Bay.

When the Huff Family Historical Association meets at Hay Bay in August next, all friends who are in sympathy with such historical organizations will be welcome. The endeavor is to do honor to all U. E. L. pioneers in general and, of course, the forefathers of the Huff family in particular. What they all endured the present generation has a very vivid idea when they read it up thoroughly. The next business meeting of the association will be held in the Public Library, Picton, on June 26th, 1926, at the hour of 2 p.m. Every descendant is urged to attend and help plan for this gathering. A telegram was received by the assistant secretary saying that three people were leaving Australia for Picton on July 1st to attend the celebration.

SIXTY-ONE/ YEARS MARRIED

The home of Mr. and Mrs. James A. Jaynes, Sharp's Corners, was the scene on Monday of a very happy gathering, it being the occasion of the 61st wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Jaynes, who have spent practically their whole lives in this district. Over 30 near relatives were present to congratulate the bride and bridegroom of 61 years ago, all the family being present, namely: Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Nolan, Hay Bay; Mr. and Mrs. C. Kellar, Deseronto Road; Mr. and Mrs. William McConnell, Sharp's Corners; Mr. and Mrs. Alex. Jaynes, Sharp's Corners; Mr. and Mrs. John Jaynes, Yarker, and the Misses Electa and Etta Jaynes, at home.

After receiving the "many happy returns" the honorees and guests sat down to a splendid dinner, and after all had fully partaken, the meeting was called to order by Rev. Mr. Bastone, of Selby, when Mr. and Mrs. Jaynes were presented with an address and two handsome chairs. The balance of the afternoon was spent in a happy social way, consisting of impromptu addresses, music and social intercourse.

Mr. and Mrs. Jaynes, although well up in years, are in splendid health, and their many Napanee friends extend to them their hearty congratulations and their best wishes for many more years of wedded life.

Phyllis—"Ethel told me that Joan had a quiet little wedding."

Pamela—"Of course. You don't think they'd quarrel in front of the parson, do you?"

BASEBALL

On Friday evening a scrub game of ball was staged at the park when Gibbards and the Bankers furnishing the antics. Gibbards won eventually by 12-3, but taking into consideration the long grass and all other hindrances, the game was productive of pretty good ball. The newcomers to the town were all out, and coupled with the old ones, Napanee could form a team and win the L. and A. League championship right now.

Jim Naphin pitched for Gibbards, and assisted by Joyce, a lefthander, the locals would have a fine pair of flingers, to say nothing of Tom McGarry, Mag Loucks and Am Killorin. There are five good pitchers, and Leo Scrimshaw is as good a catcher as there is in this district. Tom Kirby was also out, and shapes up as a likely player. Of last year's team Gerald and Harold Johnston, Ray Huffman, Harry Skitch and Claude Fraser played for the Furniture Makers, with Naphin and Scrimshaw forming the battery, and Mag Loucks on 1st.

McGarry and Joyce did the flinging for the Moneyed Kings, and Dave Stinson received. Burley, Clute, Cavanaugh, Ed. Daverin and Don Daverin made up the rest of the team. The Daverin Brothers are also a fine pair of ball-tossers, and would greatly bolster a local team.

A well known local enthusiast who has just taken up residence here and who is a former ball player, after watching the boys in action, said it was a shame Napanee had no team this year. He said that Napanee has a collection of fine ball-tossers, but no one to organize a team, and hoped that Newburgh would give some of the boys a chance. The players are all eligible and would greatly strengthen the Newburgh outfit.

N. C. I. NEWS

Taking advantage of the fine weather and other opportunities, last Friday morning, Fifth Form presented Miss Rehder, who is leaving N.C.I., with a handsome flat-box and a two-pound box of Laura Secords. Dr. Morden kindly started the ball rolling for us, and his introductory speech was followed by the following appropriate few words from Paul Thornley :—

"Dear Miss Rehder,—

We have learned with a sense of deep regret that the Collegiate is losing the benefit of your services at the close of this term.

For the past two years your presence among us has ever inspired us to the highest efforts in our work, and we all feel that the school is losing an efficient, patient, and sympathetic teacher from its staff.

We, the members of Fifth Form, who, during the past year, have had the honour of being members of your classroom in Upper School Mathematics, wish you every success in your future work, as you have had in the past, with this slight token of our appreciation and esteem.

Students of Fifth Form.

Miss Rehder, although completely taken by surprise, thanked us, and in turn, wished us everything good. In losing Miss Rehder, N. C. I. is losing one of its most valued teachers and loyal supporters, and the whole school hopes that good fortune and happiness will be with Miss Rehder wherever she goes.

LADIES' SOFTBALL LEAGUE

Three delegates from Napanee, Messrs. Babcock, Paul and Skitch, attended a meeting at the Y.M.C.A. in Belleville, on Tuesday evening for the purpose of forming a new Ladies' Softball League.

The league, to be known as the Bay of Quinte League, was formed, and will be affiliated with the Women's Ontario Softball Association, Intermediate Section. It will be composed of two teams from Belleville (the High School and the Beavers), one from Deseronto and one from Napanee.

The officers elected were:

President—Mr. Meagher, Belleville.
1st Vice-Pres.—Mr. Whitton, Deseronto.
2nd Vice-Pres.—Mr. Skitch, Napanee.
Sec.-Treas.—Miss Merry, Belleville.

An Executive, consisting of one lady player from each team, was also elected, with one advisor to the Executive. Napanee will be represented by Miss Christabel Taylor and Mr. G. L. Paul.

A set of rules was adopted, modeled after the rules of the C. O. B. A., with certain necessary amendments, and a schedule of games will be arranged very soon.

As the Women's Ontario Softball Association is, as yet, in its infancy, there is only one other group in the Intermediate Section, so that the chances of the winner of the Bay of Quinte League winning the first Provincial championship are very good. Moreover, as our girls have had considerably more practice than any of the other teams, they should get away to a flying start. A new diamond is in the course of construction in the large level field near the swimming pavilions, near Springside Park, and the games will all be held there.

If the same whole-hearted public support is given this league which was given to the Church League last winter, it will probably mean a Provincial championship for Napanee, the first time in the memory of the oldest inhabitant that Napanee will be really prominent in sports. The names of forty-five players are being forwarded to Toronto to receive amateur certificates, and the team will be backed by "B" Co., Frontenac Regiment.

WOMEN'S INSTITUTE ANNUAL CONVENTION

The annual meeting of South Addington District Women's Institute was held at Enterprise United Church, on June 10th.

The meeting was opened with Mrs. L. Piper, the District President, in the chair.

The four branches, Tamworth, Croydon, Moscow and Enterprise, were all well represented, and a large number of visitors were present. Mrs. Mellow, of Enterprise, read the address of welcome, which was ably responded to by Mrs. J. A. Amey, of Moscow.

Mrs. V. R. McCallum led the community singing, this proving to be an interesting feature throughout the whole programme. The morning was spent in transacting the business of the year, and in electing new officers for the year.

The district officers were as follows:—

President—Mrs. A. Huffman, Moscow.
1st Vice-President—Mrs. V. R. McCallum, Tamworth.
2nd Vice-President—Mrs. H. A. Carscallen, Enterprise.
Secretary Treasurer—Mrs. C. W. Amey, Moscow.

Each branch gave a splendid report, showing that each Institute had been active in their good work. In the perusal of these reports, we learned what each Institute as a branch had been doing, some erecting community halls, by the purchase of a new fire engine which already has saved several homes from destruction, by sending fruits and flowers to both the sick and convalescent patients of home and hospital.

At noon a splendid dinner was served in the basement of the church by the Enterprise ladies.

The afternoon session consisted by a splendid programme of papers, music, violin solos, vocal duetts, demonstrations, and an address by Mrs. Bunt.

Mrs. W. Redden, of Tamworth, read a paper on "How to Make the Sick Room Attractive", in which she outlined her subject particularly well. The other two papers were equally well given, one by Mrs. J. W. Bell, Moscow, "The Mother, the Duty to Herself, Her Home, and Community", and the other by Mrs. H. A. Carscallen, "First Aids in Nursing". This paper had been written by Miss Husband, a trained nurse.

Mr. Bunt gave a short address of congratulation to the Institute.

After selected music from the Enterprise Institute, the meeting closed. Every person present moved a hearty vote of thanks to the Enterprise ladies for their hospitality. Many of the visitors present determined to help boost the Institute in their good work throughout the community.

SILLSVILLE

On Wednesday afternoon a great number of pleasure seekers passed through our village, enjoying the beautiful scenery. We might safely say that the country is looking its best.—On Friday evening of last week Wilton Dramatic Club gave their play, "The Road to the City," a comedy in four acts. The play is an excellent one and was well acted. The orchestra furnished fine music. Everyone who attended felt fully satisfied with the evening's entertainment. We hoped for a large crowd, but other attractions in the vicinity prevented a full attendance. The proceeds were over $30. Miss Wallace, the leading lady, had a long and difficult part, but played it admirably. Mr. and Mrs. Fred Sharpe, taking the parts of Jud Judkins and Toto Lee, a young farmer and his sweetheart, were very amusing. Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Perry, a designing young couple from the city, acted their parts perfectly. Mr. and Mrs. E. I. Babcock, Miss Ida McPherson, Mr. Harold Brown and Mr. Fred McPherson were also very entertaining.

Mr. Ward Wartman has returned from a week's trip to London, Gravenhurst and Toronto.

Quite a number from Newburgh attended the Conservative picnic on Wednesday at Lake Ontario Park.

CONSERVATIVES OF LENNOX-PRINCE EDWARD MET AT NAPANEE

A. de W. Foster, M.P., Nova Scotia, Stressed Need of Meighen Policy. Officers Elected. Able Speakers Review Local and Country-wide Trade Situation.

Notwithstanding the inclemency of the weather, there being a steady drizzle of rain all day, the Town Hall was filled on Saturday afternoon with several hundred enthusiastic Conservatives, it being the occasion of the Annual Meeting of the Liberal-Conservative Association of the Federal Riding of Prince Edward-Lennox.

People were present from all parts of the combined counties, and a more enthusiastic meeting has not been held in years.

Seated on the platform were many stalwarts of the Conservative party, the meeting being honored with the presence of Mr. A. de Wit Foster, M. P. for King's County, N.S.; Mr. John Hubbs, M.P. for Prince Edward-Lennox; Mr. C. W. Hambly, M.L.A. for Lennox; General B. Hepburn, ex-M. P. for Prince Edward County, and others.

Promptly at two o'clock the meeting was opened by the President, Mr. J. de C. Hepburn, of Picton, who, in a short introductory address, expressed the satisfaction of all with the results of the last Federal election and the splendid co-operation between the two counties in working for the Conservative interests.

The minutes of the last regular meeting were then read and a financial statement presented by the Secretary-Treasurer, Mr. Geo. B. Boulter, of Picton.

The election of officers was then held, resulting as follows:—

President—Mr. J. de C. Hepburn, Picton.

1st Vice-President—Mr. Albert F. Reid, Napanee.

2nd Vice-President — Mrs. A. L. Harshaw, Napanee.

Secretary-Treasurer—Mr. Geo. E. Boulter, Picton.

Asst. Secretary-Treasurer — Mr. Wilfred S. Wilson, Napanee.

C. W. Hambly, M.L.A.

Mr. C. W. Hambly, M.L.A. for Lennox, was the first speaker after the election of officers, and in the time allotted to him gave a resume of the local political situation, stating that there was no certainty of an early appeal to the people notwithstanding the many conventions that were being held at the present time to select candidates.

Denies Kingston Story.

The speaker took this occasion to deny certain assertions in the Kingston Whig to the effect that he did not intend to stand for re-nomination.

Mr. John Hubbs, M.P.

Mr. John Hubbs, M.P. for Prince Edward-Lennox, was then called upon and was received with loud applause. The speaker very heartily thanked the electors of Lennox for the splendid plurality which had been accorded him at the election in October and also congratulated the association in the officers which had just been selected for the ensuing year.

Mr. Hubbs then reviewed the political situation at Ottawa and severely criticized the King administration for the delay in bringing down legislation, which in many cases was detrimental to the interests of the whole country.

Pledges Ruthlessly Broken

Many pledges that were made in the Speech from the Throne had been ruthlessly broken. He also dealt with the uncertainty created in industrial Canada by the Government method of handling the reduction in the tariff on automobiles, saying that the United States had been given many advantages over Canada at every turn.

The farmers of Canada are at the present time having farm products from Australia dumped into Canada to compete with the Canadian farm produce in our home market.

Mr. Hubbs was tendered an ovation at the conclusion of his splendid address.

H. S. Colliver, M.L.A.

The next speaker, Mr. H. S. Colliver, M.L.A. for Prince Edward, assured his audience that the present Government was bringing down good, sane, business-like legislation in connection with Education Finance, the Mining Industry and Agriculture.

He also stated that while the Liberals were running about the country claiming to be the only safe party to handle the tariff question in every province where Government-control is established either a Liberal or a Progressive Government is in power.

A De Witt Foster Welcomed

A rousing welcome was then tendered to Mr. A. De Witt Foster, M.P. for King's County, Nova Scotia, who in one of the best speeches ever heard in Napanee severely flayed the King administration.

In his opening remarks Mr. Foster referred to the sterling qualities of the local member, Mr. Hubbs, and spoke of the splendid work that he has been doing at Ottawa, this session.

Some Nova Scotia History

He then gave an interesting historical review of Nova Scotia and stated that the attitude of the present government is to keep the Maritime Provinces from receiving their fair share of prosperity.

The speaker next referred to financial conditions in the Provinces down by the sea, and told of the great decline of revenue which had taken place, and which amounted to millions of dollars.

He referred to the fact that Canadian grain is being routed through American ports.

Business Falling Off

In the chief industries in the Maritimes, which are principally fishing and agriculture, there has been a constant falling off in business every year since the King administration was first formed in 1921.

Meighen's Policy Needed

In conclusion, Mr. Foster stated that the Maritime Provinces as well as the other provinces of Canada are in need of an adequate and sane policy of tariff. Mr. Meighen would bring Canada back to an era of wonderful prosperity.

Mr. Foster's speech will long be remembered by those who were privledged to hear him, and at the conclusion of his wonderful address, he was accorded tumultuous applause.

Gen. Hepburn, Ex-M.P.

Gen. Hepburn, Ex-M.P. of Picton, then gave a short address after which a hearty vote of thanks was tendered the speaker of the day, Mr. Foster.

The meeting was then brought to a close by the singing of the National Anthem.

His Back Has Not Bothered Him Since

Why Mr. Marchbank Knows Dodd's Kidney Pills Are Good

New Brunswick Man is Enthusiastic over the Remedy That Brought Him Relief—Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Sussex, N.B., June 14th, (Special) —"My trouble first started from a strain and bothered my back so much. I was laid up most of my time. I saw several doctors but they did me no good. I took about six to ten boxes of your Dodd's Kidney Pills and my back has not bothered me for over two years now. You may publish this if you wish."

This statement was sent to us by Mr. H. J. Marchbank, a well-known resident of this place.

Mr. Marchbank's lame back was caused by sick kidneys. That is why he got such prompt and permanent relief from Dodd's Kidney Pills. They act directly on the kidneys strengthening them and enabling them to do their full work of straining all the impurities out of the blood.

Impurities in the blood are the seeds of disease. Dodd's Kidney Pills make good health by removing the seeds of disease.

STRATFORD WOMAN

Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Stratford, Ontario. — "After my first baby was born I started to work on the tenth day and did a big washing on the twelfth day. Being so young (I was married at 19) I did not know what was the matter, so let it go until I was all run-down, weak and nervous, and had a bad displacement. For nearly two years I could not sleep and I would always complain of having 'not a head-ache, but a brain-ache.' My mother is taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound during the Change of Life and she recommended it to me. After taking two bottles of it I got a little sleep and, to feel better and I have never left off since then, except for about three months. I can safely say I have taken thirty bottles since my second baby was born. I think it makes child-birth easier as I had terrible pains with my first three children and very few with my fourth as I was so much stronger. I am able to do my work alone, but I am still taking the Vegetable Compound as I am nursing baby."—Mrs. Dixie Fain, 49 Cherry Street, Stratford, Ontario.

"If you are suffering from any weakness which causes such symptoms as pains in the side and back and nervous feelings, give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial now. C

IN MEMORIAM.

In loving memory of John Storr, who departed this life June 16th, 1921.
Just a thought of sweet remembrance
From a memory kind and true;
Just a token of affection,
And a longing still for you.
The silent grief that's in the heart,
No human life can trace;
For many an aching heart is hid
Behind a smiling face.
Sadly missed by Wife and Daughter.

DENBIGH

A pretty wedding was solemnized by Rev. P. A. Scott, Ph.B., at the United Church parsonage, on Friday, June 11th, 1926, at 5 p.m., when Miss Alice Albertha Carswell, daughter of Mr. and the late Mrs. William Carswell, Matawatchan, was united in matrimony to Mr. John P. Kelly. The bride, who looked very charming, was attended by Mrs. T. A. Love, sister of the groom, while Mr. T. A. Love acted as best man. The happy young couple, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Love, left for their future home at Matawatchan with the usual "good luck" emblems attached to their auto. — Rev. P. A. and Mrs. Scott, who have been attending the annual conference of the United Church at Kingston, and also visiting their old home at Napanee, returned to Denbigh on Friday afternoon. — Mrs. Scott, now entering upon their fourth year of service on the Denbigh Mission, were accorded a most hearty welcome by their many warm friends. Mr. Scott has accomplished a great work in this much run-down mission. A beautiful parsonage has been built and a telephone installed, with the expectation of electric lights being placed soon; while the membership has been constantly growing. — Our esteemed Reeve, Mr. Frank Rogers, is attending County Council at Napanee this week. — The annual picnic, under the auspices of the United Church, will be held on Dominion Day, July 1st, in the beautiful grove of Mr. Fritch.—The Misses Lily and Clara Rogers, of Toronto, are visiting at the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Rogers.—The foundation for the new home of Dr. Adams is now under construction, while the new house of Mr. Chas. Petzold is nearing completion. — The Denbigh cheese factory is now running at full capacity these days, with Mr. Jim Jackson in charge —Work will soon be resumed on the new Community Hall. — Mr. Herb. Warlick was unexpectedly called, by telegram, on Saturday to Ottawa, owing to serious illness. — Mrs. (Dr.) Adams left on Tuesday for Toronto to consult a medical specialist. — Miss Anna Lane is expected home on Saturday from Peterboro', having finished her Normal course. — A word to the tourists: Put Denbigh on your list if you would see one of nature's unexcelled beauty spots.

Copalline your floors, linoleums and furniture. Copalline, unlike most varnishes, answers equally well on any purpose. Sold only at Wallace's.

EXPOSURE WAS FATAL TO ENTERPRISE MAN

Mr. Charles H. Dopking, Aged Eighty Wandered All Night in a Field

Wandering all night in the fields, clad only in light night clothes and bedroom slippers, led to pneumonia, which caused the death of Mr. Charles H. Dopking, aged eighty years, a native of Enterprise, Ont., who passed away Sunday morning, at his Pillar Point home, near Dexter, N.Y.

Mr. Dopking had been in failing health since the first of the year, and for the past several weeks had been suffering from cold.

At 10 o'clock Friday night, Mr. Dopking arose from his bed to go to the hen house, and in some manner became lost, and spent all night walking about trying to find his way home. It was thought that he might have suffered some temporary mental trouble as a result of his illness, and was therefore unable to find his way home.

An extensive search was started by relatives and friends when it was found he was missing, and after neighbors and others had organized into posses to scour the countryside, the man was finally found at 8 o'clock the following morning by William Dopking, his brother, and Deputy Sheriff Charles, N. Dingman, of Dexter, his son-in-law, and others, lying among a clump of juniper bushes in a field, about one mile from his home.

He became ill after his exposure, and cold developed into pneumonia, which caused his death.

Mr. Dopking was born in Enterprise, Ont., October 13th, 1845. He married Asenith Wagar, May 16th, 1869, and twenty-two years ago went to Pillar Point, where he settled. He had been a farmer all his life, and was a life-long member of the Methodist Church, which he joined at Enterprise in his early youth.

He is survived by his widow, four daughters, Mrs. Grace McAdam, Watertown, N.Y.; Mrs. Samuel McAdam, Bannockburn, Ont.; Mrs. Eugene Brenon, Turin, N.Y., and Mrs. Charles N. Dingman, Dexter, N.Y.; four brothers, George, of Kingston; William H., of Pillar Point; Reuben and Wilson, of Enterprise; one sister, Mrs. John A. Storey, Arborfield, Sask. He had twelve grandchildren and thirteen great-grandchildren.

Funeral services were held from the late home at Pillar Point, at 1.30 Tuesday afternoon, and from Pillar Point Methodist Church at 2 o'clock, Rev. Mr. Clark, Pastor of Pillar Point Church, officiating. Interment was made in the Dexter cemetery.

NAPANEE BRANCH WOMEN'S INSTITUTE

The June meeting was held on Tuesday, the 15th inst., in the Department of Agriculture Classroom, sixty members present. This is the last meeting of the Branch until September, but all are welcome at the District Annual Meeting to be held at Wilton, on Wednesday afternoon, June 30th. Since the W. I. is officially interesting itself in the Chautauqua this year, arrangements were made for selling tickets.

After routine business was concluded, the speaker of the afternoon was introduced, Mrs. M. E. Lowe, Toronto, who came through the courtesy of the Institutes Branch of the Department of Agriculture. Speaking of the origin and growth of the Institutes from the organization of the first Branch at Stoney Creek in 1897, until now, there are 7000 Branches in Canada and Old Country, all working for same aim of improving Home and Country. Hearing of what others are doing to aid schools, (supplying gramophone for same), Home and School Clubs, Hospitals, Health Exhibits at Fall Fairs, Clinics and Child Welfare, encouraging literary efforts, etc., this particular Branch feels that there is much work to interest them. Mrs. Lowe then gave a splendid talk on "The Value of Self-Control." One realized, in listening to the speaker and in meeting her afterward, that she had thoroughly learned the value and was a living example in her charming personality. We are not great for what we are, but for what we may become. All progress is through control, for example lighting controlled as electricity. Each moment we are kings or slaves, and the choice rests with us. The speaker urged her hearers to master weaker elements in each of us, to make perseverance our bosom friend; experience, a wise counsellor; caution, an elder brother, and hope, the guardian angel.

After roll call, the meeting closed by singing the National Anthem.

A Medicine That All Mothers Praise

Baby's Own Tablets Banish Babyhood and Childhood Ailments.

Mrs. H. Oakes, Sarnia, Ont., says: "I have used Baby's Own Tablets in my home for the past fifteen years and I believe the good health my children enjoy is due entirely to this medicine. The Tablets are helpful at teething time; relieve colds and are always beneficial in the minor ailments of little ones. I have recommended Baby's Own Tablets to other mothers whose experience with them has been as satisfactory as my own."

Baby's Own Tablets do one thing only, but they do it well. They act as a gentle laxative which thoroughly regulates the bowels and sweeten the stomach, thus banishing constipation and indigestion; colds and simple fevers and turn the cross, sickly baby into a well, happy, laughing child.

Baby's Own Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or direct by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

BAY OF QUINTE CONFERENCE BRANCH

The inaugural meeting of the Bay of Quinte Conference Branch of the United Church of Canada was held in Trenton on June 1st, 2nd and 3rd, over one hundred delegates attending. An impressive inaugural service was held the first evening, and the union consummated. Greetings from Conference were brought by Rev. G. A. Robinson, Arnprior. Mrs. M. E. Wilson, Ameliasburg, gave an address on the work and need of Mission Circles as a connecting link between the Mission Band and the Auxiliary, and Mrs. Callan spoke at length on the great importance of gathering in the children in Mission Bands for early missionary training. The quiet half hour was presided over by Mrs. J. F. McFadyen of Kingston.

In the afternoon Mrs. J. T. Daley, Port Hope, Convener of the Interim Committee, presided. Mrs. M. C. MacKinnon cleverly described C. G. I. T. groups, their origin, aim and work, and made all feel that this department of work should not be omitted from Church and Sunday School life. Mrs. R. O. Joliffe, Kingston, gave a most inspiring talk on "Our Task as Members of the Woman's Missionary Society of the United Church".

The presentation of the suggested Constitution and By-laws by Mrs. Ira Pierce, Toronto, made clear the task of the Dominion Board. Both were adopted by the Conference Branch.

At the evening meeting two wonderful missionary addresses were given by Miss Allen, on furlough, after twenty-one years successful work in Japan, and by Miss McHarrie, who for over sixteen years, has had charge of the Babies' Home in Central India. Mrs. Lawlor, Norwood, presided.

GIRLS' CAMP, VARTY LAKE

JULY 7th TO JULY 17th, 1926

The Camp Management Committee met early in April and unanimously decided to hold another camp at Varty Lake this year, with the motto, "Bigger and Better Than Ever". As a result, the committee has arranged an excellent programme for this year's activities.

The camp affords your girls an opportunity to develop as Jesus did, in wisdom, stature and in favour with God and man.

There need be no hesitancy in sending your girls, as competent leaders have been chosen. They solicit the co-operation of the whole community in more ways than one : (1) by sending your girls; (2) by visiting camp and learning first hand what is being done; (3) by your support on Field Day, Wednesday, July 14th.

Kindly note the date, from the 7th to 17th, which was made to avoid conflicting with Chautauqua.

All girls wishing to attend camp, kindly send in their registration fee of two dollars to Miss L. Rockwell, of Napanee, as soon as possible, as a limited number of girls can be accommodated. If unable to attend, this money will be refunded.

M. WALES, Secretary.

THE GRAHAM COMPANY'S 20th ANNIVERSARY

The Graham Co., Men's Clothiers and Furnishers, are this year celebrating their 20th anniversary as a business in Napanee.

Twenty years ago, under the name "Graham-Vanalstine", the business was started on the south side of Dundas Street, and after a few years the personell of the firm was changed, and the name was altered to "The Graham Co."

In 1913 the clothing stock of Meagher Bros. was acquired, and a change in location was made to the north side of Dundas Street, where the business is still being conducted.

Throughout all these years many changes have been taking place—changes in people, in world conditions and in merchandising methods. One thing that has remained the same is the policy of "The Graham Co.—"honest merchandise and satisfied customers".

Anniversaries of all sorts call for special celebrations, and in order to make this 20th anniversary a notable event, "The Graham Co." are staging a tremendous sale, a sale which will make everyone remember the occasion and save many dollars for all who take advantage of this rare event. A visit to the store will readily convince you that this is the sale event of the year.

A "dangerous character" on the road—

the car with defective brakes, lights or steering gear.

Carelessness in keeping your car in good order increases your liability to accident. It makes your car a menace on the highway — a "dangerous character."

You are not safe, and other motorists are not safe, if you drive with brakes which won't operate instantly, lights which don't shine, or steering gear which is not dependable.

Ontario's highways are of ample width. Danger spots are plainly marked. Curves and grades have been made safe.

The enjoyment of the highways by the thousands who use them depends largely on you and the other motorists. Keep your car in perfect mechanical condition. Drive carefully. Avoid excessive speeds.

On the motor owners of Ontario largely falls the cost of maintenance of our roads. Excessive speed is one of the chief agents of destruction of some road surfaces. Speed restrictions are therefore in the interest of all motorists. See that you observe them.

THE HON. GEO. S. HENRY, Minister of Highways

S. L. SQUIRE, Deputy Minister

Issued by the Ontario Department of Highways to secure the co-operation of motorists in abating the abuse of the roads of the Province.

SIXTY-FIRST ANNIVERSARY

(Too late for last issue).

Several of the relatives of Mr. and Mrs. Jas. A. Jayne motored to their home at Sharp's Corners, on June 7th, to celebrate the sixty-first anniversary of their marriage. The house was nicely decorated upon this occasion with evergreens, flags, and flowers. Shortly before dinner, the bride and bridegroom of sixty-one years ago, were seated side by side, surrounded by their friends, who presented them with two very useful gifts, as the following address was read:—

Dear Parents, — Your children, grandchildren, great-grandchildren and others, who are closely related to you, have gathered in your home today, with heartiest greetings for you upon the sixty-first anniversary of your marriage.

What a pleasure it is for us, and how highly, we have been favored by our Heavenly Father, to have father and mother with us, both at the age of eighty-two! You have met with trials, and disappointments in life, but you have been spared one sorrow—the parting with the children, and to-day, five daughters and two sons are present, who have grown up to manhood and womanhood. The family circle has never been broken.

As we look back over the past, several incidents come up in our thoughts. It is impossible to mention all of them, but how quickly we think of father singing. From our earliest recollection, as little children, we have seen the note book in your hand. You not only sang for us at home, but you served for twenty years as Choir leader—ten years in Selby United Church, and ten years in the United Church at Hay Bay. Although your vocal organs have become weaker, with your age, we can assure you it is a great pleasure upon this sixty-first anniversary to hear you sing once more, and as we realize you are in your eighty-third year, your voice seems to sound sweeter to us to-day than ever before. We also remember your years of labor in supporting seven children, and feel grateful to-day for past mercies.

Now, mother, it is hard to find words to express our high regard for you. Two words come up in our thoughts—kindness and sacrifice. Always of a frail constitution, but like so many other good mothers, through care and affection, you have learned the lesson of patience. You have been a silent, but faithful co-worker with father in his choir work, for you made it possible for him and two or three of the elder children to leave home, and attend Choir practice, by taking care of the little ones at home. We could mention so many acts of kindness we have received from you. The "welcome home" we shall never forget, when we turned our steps homeward after being away for a while. When you and father leave us, these fond memories of the past will ever be fresh in the minds of the children.

How quickly the years have passed by, and upon this anniversary occasion we have fond recollections of other friends. Our grandparents come up in our minds, Mr. and Mrs. John Jayne and Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Thompson, and also father's only sister and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Hudgin, who have passed on before. Although they are not with us to-day in person, we wonder, if they are not with us just now in spirit. When we come down to the end of life's journey, and cross over the "River", we hope we may be able to meet the loved ones who have passed on before.

Now as a token of love and friendship, we ask you to accept these chairs, a gift from the family and relatives. As a family we feel we cannot give you anything to-day that will repay you, for your lives of kindness and self-sacrifice, towards us, but we hope you may be spared for some time to enjoy these nice, comfortable chairs. When we come down to the end of time, and link after link in the chain that binds us together as a family circle is broken, and we do not need the chairs any longer, we trust that father, mother, the family, and all relatives, assembled here to-day, may be ready to enjoy the comfort and pleasures of the "Home of many Mansions", the home Jesus is preparing for those who love Him.

After a friendly reply from Mr. Jayne, expressing his gratitude for the gifts, we were favored with a few very appropriate remarks from Rev. J. Batstone. Then soon after singing a verse of "God Be With You Till We Meet Again", the friends sat down to a well-prepared dinner, in keeping with such occasions. Music, games, social intercourse, etc., formed the programme for the afternoon. Mr. Jayne, by request from his relatives, sang several solos, "Brother, Make a Friend of Jesus", "The Ninety and Nine", etc., which greatly pleased his friends, who often sang the chorus with him.

Now as the afternoon was far advanced, not long after prayer by Rev. J. Batstone, the happy gathering, after wishing the aged couple many more years of wedded happiness, started on their journey home.

Address and Presentation.

Residents of Kaladar Station are very sorry to learn that Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Weese are leaving the village, having sold out their business. Mr. and Mrs. Weese have been splendid citizens, and their places will be very hard to fill.

On Saturday evening last, a number of their friends gathered at their home to bid them good bye. A very enjoyable two hours was spent in various games, after which Mr. N. Benny presented them with a handsome tapestry upholstered chair, and Mr. Roy Spencer read the following address:

To Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Weese.

Dear Friends,—Usually when a number of young people gather together for an evening, it is with light hearts that they assemble, but we assure you this evening that it is with heavy hearts that we meet.

Ever since it was learned that you were leaving Kaladar, there has been somewhat of a gloom cast over the village, for never before did we realize what you have really meant to us.

You have been a real benefit and blessing to Kaladar, and your places will be hard to fill. We are very sorry that you are leaving us, but we find it is for your own good, and what is our loss, will be someone else's gain.

During the few years you lived here among us, you have made many friends. You have ever been willing to give the helping hand where needed. In our church work your help has been excelled. Your lumbering industry has given employment to many of our citizens, while as neighbours you have always been kind and sociable, and we do assure you that you will be sadly missed. The splendid lot which you recently presented to the United Church for the site, for the new church will ever be a monument to your good work in Kaladar.

As a slight token of the high esteem in which you both are held by your Kaladar friends, we ask you to accept this chair, and may it remind you of the very useful years you spent here.

We pray that wherever you may locate, that good health, happiness and prosperity may be yours, and we all join in wishing you "God Speed". Good bye, and God be with you;
Where ere your pathway lies;
With every memory of you
Our prayers shall fondly rise.
Good bye, and God be with you,
A shield from pain and care;
May every duty bring peace and rest,
And all your days be fair.

ROY SPENCER.

Mothers Value This Oil.—Mothers, who know how suddenly croup may seize their children and how necessary prompt action is in applying relief, always keep at hand a supply of Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil, because experience has taught them that this is an excellent preparation for the treatment of this ailment. And they are wise, for its various uses render it a valuable medicine.

WEDDING BELLS

Boniface—Anderson

In Mount Hor Presbyterian Church Monroe Avenue and Rosedale Street, Rochester, N.Y., on Saturday evening, June 5th, 1926, was solemnized the marriage of Miss Ila Betty Anderson, of 179 Henrietta Street, daughter of Mr. John P. Anderson, of Williamsport, Pa., to Mr. Leonard A. Henry Boniface of 995 Garson Avenue. The ceremony at 6.30 p.m., was performed by the Rev. Robert J. Drysdale, Ph.D., Pastor of the church. Mr. Anderson gave his daughter in marriage.

The church was decorated with palms, ferns and pink and white peonies. On either side of the white kneeling bench were tall vases of flowers, and the pews reserved for guests were marked with white ribbons.

Mrs. Marguerite E. Kitchen gave an organ recital while the guests were assembling, and the "Lohengrin" wedding music was played as a processional. Mendelssohn's wedding march from "Midsummer Night's Dream" was played as the bridal party left the church.

The bride wore a gown of white georgette and taffeta over white satin and her tulle veil fell from a cap of rose point lace and orange blossoms. She wore a string of pearls and carried a bouquet of pink roses, lilies of the valley and ferns with shower of white satin-striped chiffon ribbon.

The maid of honor, Miss Ruth Carr, wore pink and blue georgette over pink satin beaded in pastel shades and carried an arm bouquet of Columbia roses and blue larkspur tied with pink ribbon. The bridesmaids were Miss Frances Lumbert and Miss Helen Metheral. Miss Lumbert's gown of orchid satin was veiled with orchid georgette beaded in crystal. She carried an arm bouquet of butterfly roses and orchid sweet peas tied with orchid ribbon. Miss Metheral's gown of peach georgette over peach satin was beaded in crystal, and her arm bouquet of Ward roses and peach sweet peas was tied with peach ribbon. The maid of honor and bridesmaids wore ribbon rosettes of pastel shades in their hair and wore slippers of silver procade.

Merilyn Jean Anderson, cousin of the bride, and Gloria Boniface, niece of the bridegroom were flower girls. The former wore blue georgette over blue silk, and the latter pink georgette over pink silk. They carried baskets of spring flowers and scattered rose petals in the bride's path as she approached the altar.

Mr. Hector Harmon was best man, and the ushers were Mr. Ralph Anderson, cousin of the bride; Mr. Cecil Mott, cousin of the bridegroom, Mr. Arthur Kurtz and Mr. Raymond Desbrow.

A reception in the Genesee Valley Nurses' Club at 37 South Goodman street, followed the ceremony. Covers were laid for 50 guests and there were 17 at the bride's table. The bouquets of the bride's attendants were used as a central decoration surrounded by pink candles in tall silver candlesticks on the bridal table. The smaller tables were decorated with white lilacs and pink snapdragons in crystal vases. Favors and place cards were pink and white. Crystal candlesticks and pink candles, with tulips, snapdragons and lilacs were used to carry out the color scheme of pastel shades throughout the club and on the porch.

Out of town guests were Mr. John P. Anderson, of Williamsport, Pa.; Dr. and Mrs. F. C. Anderson and Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Anderson, of Ottawa, Canada, and Mrs. T. J. Murray, of San Francisco, Cal.

Entertainments in honor of the bride included an evening of bridge at the Genesee Valley Nurses' Club at which the bride's aunt, Miss Ila Jane Anderson, was hostess to the bridal party and a few of the bride's friends; a variety shower given by Mrs. George Boniface; a personal shower by Miss Ruth Carr; a bowling party by Mr. Leonard Boniface for the bridal party and other friends; and a theatre party at the Lyceum by Miss Lumbert and Miss Metheral.

Mr. and Mrs. Boniface left by motor for Washington, D.C., and other cities, and on August 1st will be at home at 152 Eastland Avenue, Rochester, N.Y.

The bride's mother was Miss Dora Bell Hullett, who resided with her uncle, Mr. J. S. Hullett, at Napanee, before her marriage to Mr. John P. Anderson.

Help for Asthma. Neglect gives asthma a great advantage. The trouble, once it has secured a foothold, fastens its grip on the bronchial passages tenaciously. Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Asthma Remedy is daily benefiting cases of asthma of long standing. Years of suffering, however, might have been prevented had the remedy been used when the trouble was in its first stages. Do not neglect asthma, but use this preparation at once.

When Digestion Is On Strike

Food Fails to Nourish — Relief Can Be Had Through Dr. Williams' Pink Pills

Is your digestion on strike? Do you turn away from your food at meal times, although you know you need the nourishment your food should give you? Is what you eat followed by pains, flatulence or nausea? These symptoms show that your stomach is in no state to digest food even if you eat it. Do not rely on remedies that merely give temporary relief. A sound stomach depends upon rich, red blood, and if it does not do the work nature intended, the trouble must be corrected through the blood and there is no better way to build up the blood than by taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Every dyspeptic who has tried them is delighted with the improved appetite and renewed strength that so quickly follow their use. Mrs. A. Quinlan, Stratford, Ont., is one who has tested the value of these pills in trouble of this kind. She says:—"I feel it a duty I owe to know what Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have done for me. Some time ago I suffered severely from indigestion, which left me run down and nervous. I could neither eat nor sleep well, and decided to consult a doctor. He told me that I was almost bloodless and gave me some medicine, but as it did not appear to help me, I decided to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I got three boxes and by the time I had taken them I felt better. I then got three more boxes and when I had taken them I felt like a new woman, and I was again able to do my housework, and have not since had any return of the trouble."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all medicine dealers, or will be sent by mail, at 50 cents a box by The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont. A little booklet "What to Eat and How to Eat", will be sent free to any address for the asking.

Mr. A. C. Parks Honored.

The annual meeting of the Midland District Mutual Fire Association, (comprising Mutual Fire Insurance Companies, East of Toronto), was held at Cobourg on Wednesday, June 16th, 1926, and was the most successful in the history of the Association. Mr. W. A. Cork, of the Ontario Insurance Department, was present, and delivered a very able address to the assembled delegates. Mr. A. C. Parks, of North Fredericksburgh, was unanimously elected President of the Association for the ensuing year. Mr. Parks has been for many years President of the Lennox and Addington Mutual Fire Insurance Company.

Barn Burned.

At 9.30 on Monday night a spectacular blaze was observed in South Napanee when it was discovered that the commodious barn of Capt. Ward was on fire. An alarm was rung in and the firemen responded very quickly, but nothing could be done to save the building, there being no waterworks in that portion of the town. A terrific rain storm was in progress at the time, and the wind blowing from the east; there was practically no damage to the residence, which was nearby. Had the conditions been reversed it would be hard to say what the outcome would have been, as there are several frame houses in the adjacent block. How the fire started is a complete mystery. A throng of spectators was present notwithstanding the downpour of rain, which was the heaviest this summer.

Marsden Kemp Honored.

Marsden Kemp has been honoured with two places in the Montreal Amateur Athletic Association Camera Club April competition, which is the greatest in Canada. Many of the competitors were from the large cities of United States, New York, Boston, Chicago carrying off three prizes. Scotland carried the remaining two. One of the chosen ones for exhibition was named "At the End of the Trip", representing a scene at the Napanee bridge, moonlight effect, a schooner and motor boat, clouds and beautiful water lighting. The other was from Kingston bridge at Brockville. "Where the Shadows Fall", a small stream, willows overhanging and reflected. It is in green carbon transfer. Mr. Kemp now has twenty-five thusly honoured against the United States, Britain and Canada.

SOFTBALL

On Thursday evening Deseronto defeated Belleville in a girls' softball game by a 19-5 score, in Deseronto. Miss Wagar pitched a masterly game for the homesters, whiffing nine batsmen. Her batting was also a feature, as she got four hits in five tries, one being for the circuit. Alma Gaulin's batting was also a feature. She banged out two homers, a double and a single in five trips to the plate. Ethel Harvey also slammed one for the circuit.

Score by innings :—

"B" Co.'s new grounds at the East end of the town will doubtless be a fine place for the games in the summer and ought to be well patronized. It is near the town and on the highway and doubtless large crowds will turn out to see the games. As soon as school and exams. are over, the girls will be seen in action again. "B" Co. are buying them new uniforms, and when the games start again, the fans will see a greatly improved team, both in appearance and playing. They have been practising regularly, and are showing more knowledge of the game, under the coaching of Harry Skitch.

Bleachers will be erected behind the plate and along the base lines, and the crowd will have plenty of comfort while watching the games. Arrangements are being made to have the girls repay the visits of Toronto, Belleville and Kingston, and these will soon be completed.

Local fans will be in for a good softball season, and will have the chance of seeing not a few crack girls' teams performing on the local lot.

It is rumoured that the softball enthusiasts of the town are endeavouring to form a town league among the men. The rumour goes that Gibbards, Iron Works, "B" Co., Bankers and Business Men are the teams implicated. There is no reason why the League should not be a success, and with the proper backing the league ought to "go over" big. Gibbards would always have a large band of supporters, as would the rest of the teams. The Business Men are especially keen over entering the league and the rest of the teams are "rarin' to go."

A girls' game and a men's game each Tuesday and Friday evening ought to draw a big crowd, both from the town and surrounding district. There is plenty of room for parking cars and vehicles on the new grounds and the largest crowd can be accommodated. "B" Co. has three boys' teams which are open for engagements. The Senior, over 18 years, are keen to take on the Business Men, Gibbards, Iron Works, or any other local or out-of-town aggregation, while the Intermediates, 16-18, are "rarin' to go". The Juniors, 16 and under, are practicing regularly and waiting for a challenge. Any team wishing to tackle these outfits, can get results by speaking to Harry Babcock as to Senior games, Percy Allison or Claude Fraser as to Intermediates, and Don Daverin or Cecil Harrison as to Junior.

BASEBALL.

At Centreville, on Wednesday afternoon, Odessa defeated Tamworth in a Lennox and Addington League fixture, by 14-10. This win was Odessa's 2nd straight, and put them tie with Newburgh for the leadership.

Tamworth weakened in the 8th, and seven Odessa men crossed the rubber and put the game on ice.

The line-ups :—

Odessa—B. Smith 1st, V. Kilgannon s.s., C. Smith 2nd, C. Neill c.f., McConnell 3b., Reid l.f., Cairns c., B. Kilgannon r.f., Heath p., Amey r.f.

Tamworth—Ehret c., Gendron p., Pope 1st, Harrison r.f., Holland 3b., Wells 2nd, J. Harrison s.s., Hetherington l.f., Anderson c.f.

Score by innings :—

	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	R	H	E
Odessa	1	0	0	2	0	2	2	7	0	14	16	0
Tamworth	2	0	2	2	2	1	0	1	0	10	19	2

Standing of L. and A. League

	Played	Won	Lost
Odessa	3	3	0
Newburgh	3	2	1
Adolphustown	3	1	2
Tamworth	3	0	3

At Newburgh, on Friday afternoon, Odessa went into undisputed leadership of the League by downing the homesters. This marked Odessa's 3rd straight win, and it looks as though they are the team to beat. Kilgannon hurled nice ball for the winners, and was ably backed up by his team-mates. Byron was not at his best for the homesters, and his support was poor.

Why Newburgh does not use some of the Napanee players in their games is more than the average man can see. The players are perfectly eligible and all are willing to play. A few of the local players would have saved that game on Friday.

LACROSSE.

On July 1st, Napanee and Deseronto will clash in their annual Lacrosse battle in Kingston. Deseronto have been practicing since the snow was off, but the locals just started in last week. Mr. Walter Metcalfe is very enthusiastic over the boys' chance to down the boys from the Bay town, while the boys themselves are very confident. THE LATE JAMES REID

On Friday last Napanee lost one of its best known citizens, when Mr. James Reid, of John St., suddenly passed away. Mr. Reid, though for the last few years never rugged, was enjoying his usual health when he was suddenly seized with a hemorhage from which he failed to recover.

Mr. Reid was of pioneer Scotch stock. His grandfather, James Reid, came to Canada when Lennox and Addington was mostly forest, and took up land near Enterprise, which later became known as Reidville. His was one of about a dozen families which came out together from the north of Ireland, and took up land in the vicinity. Mr. Reid's son, Robert, besides clearing the land, erected mills for the manufacture of lumber, and stores for the convenience of the people near Enterprise. In the winter the men of the settlement went to the camps, and in the summer, as many as could be spared from the land, worked in the mills.

In was in this environment that Mr. James Reid was born, in 1848. His father was Robert Reid, son of the first pioneer, and his mother was Elizabeth Dowdell, a daughter of one of those early settlers. For years James Reid worked in the lumbering business with his father, and in 1877 when he married Elizabeth Harkness, of Sheffield, he bought a farm and settled just east of Centreville, where he made his home for many years. It was about this time that Mr. Reid began to take an interest in public affairs. For two years he was a municipal councillor. At the end of that time he was made Deputy Reeve of Camden, which office he held for two years, and for six years was Reeve of the township. In 1887 he was elected Warden of the County.

In 1890 he entered Provincial politics, standing as candidate for the Conservative party in Addington, and was elected over his opponent, Frank Halliday. In 1894 a great effort was made to defeat him. Sir Oliver Mowitt entered the riding and appeared on the same platform with Mr. Reid, and debated provincial matters. But in spite of this, Mr. Reid was again elected. In 1898 he succeeded in defeating Frank Wartman, and in 1902, the last time he ran, he was ill in bed and unable to take any part in the campaign. Still he succeeded in securing the seat over his opponent, Mr. Geo. Anson Aylesworth. In 1905, when Parliament dissolved, Mr. Reid, whose health was failing, retired from active politics, after having served his County and Province continuously for fifteen years.

Mr. Reid was a man of alert mind and keen judgment, whose advice and counsel was sought after by the leaders of the party at all times. In 1908 he was appointed County Registrar, which position he held until 1915.

Mr. Reid was a Past County Master of L.O.L., and for many years was Treasurer of Victoria Lodge A. F. & A. M., Centreville.

The funeral was held from his late residence, on John St., Sunday afternoon, and a very large attendance from all over the County came to pay their last respects to an honored and respected resident of the community. The service was conducted by Rev. A. J. Wilson, of St. Andrew's Church, Napanee, of which Mr. Reid had been a member ever since his residence in the town. This was followed by a Masonic service conducted by Victoria Lodge of Centreville, assisted by Union Lodge, Napanee. Both of these lodges appeared in a body and accompanied the remains to Riverside cemetery.

There are left to mourn his loss, one son, Stanley, the present County Registrar; four brothers, Wilson Reid, of Enterprise; Thomas Reid, of Kingston; John Reid, of Carman, Man., and Sydney Reid, of Tisdale, Sask.; and three sisters, Mrs. J. Black, of Ker Robert, Sask.; Mrs. William Brown, of Tamworth, and Miss Elizabeth Reid, of Enterprise. It is a remarkable fact that this is only the second death in this large family.

OBITUARY

William Cronin.

Word was received in town on Friday from Montreal conveying the startling news that Mr. Will Cronin had passed away very suddenly. His father, on hearing the news, left immediately for Montreal. The deceased was a Napanee boy, being the son of Mr. William Cronin, of the local staff of the Canadian National Express Company, and Mrs. Cronin. He was well liked by a wide circle of acquaintances, who will regret to learn of his sudden passing.

The funeral service was held on Sunday afternoon, Rev. T. H. P. Anderson, of Newburgh, officiating, and it was largely attended, the deceased being well known and popular, particularly with the young people. The bearers were Messrs. F. Scott, Harry Bristol, Harry Kellar, W. McDonald, Harold Denison, and Harry Scott. At the conclusion of the service the remains were laid to rest in Riverside cemetery.

CONGREGATION HONOURS PASTOR

Presentation and Kind Words for Rev. and Mrs. W. P. Woodger, Who Leave Trenton Shortly

On Thursday, June 18th, a delightful lawn social was held on the Parsonage grounds of Grace United Church. Though the air was somewhat chilly both afternoon and evening, there was a good attendance.

The Parsonage was open house; dainty lunches were served indoors; it was a happy occasion. Good fellowship abounded; it was a real gathering of "folks". Candy, ice cream and cakes were for sale on the lawn and business was good. The group of ladies who made the preparations were congratulated on every hand.

In the evening a large group of the church family gathered on the lawn and a substantial purse was presented to Rev. Mr. Woodger.

In the address read in connection with the presentation, the sense of the church's loss was tenderly referred to, expressions of love and esteem for the pastor and wife were unstinted, and gratitude for the good accomplished during a four year pastorate was expressed in heartfelt words.

Rev. Dr. Laker of King St. Church, happened to be present as a visitor at the social and spoke briefly. His words were hearty. He congratulated the people of Grace Church upon the excellent couple they had been privileged to have among them for four years. He referred to the efficiency of Mr. Woodger's labors and in brotherly terms referred to the happy fellowship existing between himself and Mr. Woodger, between the two parsonages and the two churches.

Rev. Mr. Woodger, on behalf of Mrs. Woodger and himself, in well chosen words, thanked the members and adherents of the church who had expressed their regard and appreciation. It was quite a thrilling experience to stand in the large group as with tender feelings "Blest Be the Tie That Binds" was sung.—The Quinte Sun, Trenton, Ont., June 19th, 1926.

DESERONTO MAN SERIOUSLY HURT

On Saturday evening at about nine o'clock, while Austin Kimmerly was returning on foot to his home, a short distance from his brother's residence on the Provincial Highway, near Deseronto, he was struck down by a large car motoring towards Napanee. The blow rendered him unconscious and he lay on the side of the road a full half hour before he came to. He then crawled to his home and assistance was summoned. Dr. Boyce responded at once and found that Mr. Kimmerly was badly cut about the face and that he suffered a severe cut in the left leg. The doctor also found him suffering a concussion of the brain.

It was announced at the Masonic services held in the Church at Deseronto on Sunday morning that the unfortunate man was in a serious condition.

The automobile that struck him down sped on and did not return to the scene. While the officers are doing all they can to locate the auto, they have as yet been unable to even secure a clue.

Mr. Kimmerly is a man of about 70 years of age, and is a long time respected resident of the Deseronto road.

TRIBUTE BY THE COUNTY COUNCIL

TO THE MEMORY OF THE LATE JAMES REID, EX-WARDEN

Flag at Court House placed at half mast till after funeral on Sunday, and the following resolution of condolence passed, and forwarded to the family of deceased:—

"That this Council record its deep sorrow at the decease of James Reid, who more than forty years ago became a member of the Municipal Council of the Township of Camden, and from that Township was sent to this County Council, where he rendered years of good service, and over which Body during 1887, he presided as Warden. For fifteen years he was the elected Representative of the Riding of Addington in the Ontario Legislature; and afterwards, for some years, he was Registrar of Deeds for this County. In him this community has lost an able, faithful, painstaking and obliging Public Servant; his acquaintances have suffered the loss of a kind friend and wise counsellor; his family a loss irreparable."

ST. ANDREWS' W. M. S.

The June meeting was held in the S. S. room, on Friday evening, June 11th. Scripture lesson was read by Miss Mair, and prayer offered by Mrs. Thomson. The Mission Band sang two splendid choruses, which were much appreciated by all. Miss Paul, of Newburgh, gave a very interesting address on her thirty years' work among the Indians and new Canadians. For fourteen years Miss Paul taught in the Crosby Home at Port Simpson, and how well her efforts are repaid is shown in the splendid womanhood of the girls who attended. They have scattered but their training lives as they serve others. At Fernie and Frank, Miss Paul taught little foreign children, conducting kindergartens and Sunday Schools, giving these newcomers the best basis for good citizenship.

Mrs. Henderson and Mrs. Laughland reported the Conference Branch meeting held in Trenton the previous week. Miss McHarrie, of Central India, whose address was so well received at the Branch meeting, will speak in St. Andrew's Church, on Wednesday evening, July 8th. All interested in missionary enterprise should take advantage of this humorous and illustrated address.

At the close of the meeting a cup of tea was served, and social half hour spent.

Reno the Magician Coming Here

RENO THE MAGICIAN

Reno the Magician, who will appear here at the forthcoming Dominion Chautauqua, has studied occult mysteries in many oriental countries, and his programs are enhanced by the necromancy and legerdemain of the East.

Reno is a past master in the art of sleight of hand and one of the cleverest magicians of the day. His baffling programs are fraught with thrills and suspense for old and young alike.

Not the least amusing feature of a Reno program is the running fire of comment which accompanies every trick this popular magician introduces.

Too Much Rush in Life.

Today, as never before, the world is brimming over, palpitant with the full-ness. And yet so many of us fail to sense it, to so many of us a primrose is but a primrose, a fallen leaf but a dead thing. In the rush of modern life, with its insistent demands upon our time and attention, driving ourselves from one self-made duty to another, we have missed the glory of the sunshine, the fragrance of the flowers, the beauty and charm and joy that are all about us.—Exchange.

Chinese Music Unwritten.

Chinese music is not written. The words of some of the famous songs have been preserved, but the music has been handed down from father to son for generations that go far back before the day of the troubadours. When music is played it is played according to the memory of the musician and his ideas of interpretation. A musician varies the performance as his best judgement dictates, and the strings, reeds or brass may break in at almost any time.

Swift Locomotion.

Men can run about 32 feet a second, that being the world's record for a hundred yard sprint. Contrary to common supposition, skaters are no swifter than runners, the world's records for both being precisely the same—9 2-5 seconds for a hundred yards. Runners on skis have, however, made as much as 72 feet a second, and in leaping on skis more than 100 feet a second is attained.

Snakes Numerous in Idaho.

Pennsylvania, one of the most prolific sections for rattlers, has at least one large snakeskin tannery and keeps hosts of people slaughtering rattlesnakes. Idaho, however, is the banner rattlesnake section of the country. Idaho has great ridges of rocks, in which are deep bowls, cracks and caves. Herein rattlers breed by the eternal thousands and offer a vast industry for rattler harvesters.

Ascertaining Mountain Heights.

The height of mountains is ascertained by barometric observation, showing the pressure of atmosphere at the lower and higher levels. An instrument called the mountain barometer is graded especially for this purpose. It can also be done with a leveling instrument and theodolite, but either way requires technical knowledge.

Origin of "White Elephant."

The king of Siam in years gone by would send a white elephant to a courtier whom he disliked and whose fortune he wished to destroy. The man could not sell the elephant and the expense of keeping it eventually "broke him up." From that custom was handed down our present day saying, "He's got a white elephant on his hands."

Artesian Wells.

The Chinese have obtained water through means of artesian wells for over 1,000 years. One of the most famous wells in existence is that at Grenelle, in the outskirts of Paris, where the water is brought from a depth of 1,798 feet. It yields 510½ gallons of water a minute. Many years ago a well in Petsh was sunk to the depth of 3,100 feet.

Effect Not Appreciated.

Instead of candles, Lucille's mother placed six large marshmallows on top of her birthday cake. When little Doris returned from the party her mother said: "Well, did you all have a jolly good time?" and she replied: "Yes, all but the cake. Oh, mother, that cake looked so bad, just like a cemetery. It had little tombstones on it."

Vast British Empire.

Including all her possessions, the British empire has the largest territory. It had at the beginning of the war a total area of 13,125,712 square miles, of which 121,512 are in Europe, 2,187,550 in Asia, 3,618,245 in North America, 8,690 in Central America, 12,200 in the West Indies, 1,257,900 in South America and 3,214,685 in Australasia.

First Printed Book.

According to Petigrew, the first book printed in type was the Latin Bible. It was printed by John Gutenberg at Mayence, about 1455. There are only 20 copies of this edition known to exist, and the workmanship in type, ink and paper, were better than in any subsequent edition for two hundred years.

Rice Culture Progress.

The culture of rice is alluded to in the Talmud, and there is evidence that it was grown in the valley of the Euphrates before 400 B. C. It was taken into Persia from India, and later into Spain by the Arabs. Thence its culture was introduced into Italy about A. D. 1468.

Quite Natural.

Bertha—"And do you believe that a woman always turns to the last page first when she picks up a book?" Percy—"Well, I have no reason to doubt it. I know it is the nature of the fair sex to want the last word."

Optimistic Thought.

Timidity in a young man is better than cool impudence.

Marylebone Woman—"I never pay my rent to my landlady by word of mouth; I send it in a letter.

Delicate Girls Need New Blood

Which Can Be Had Through the Use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills

Nature intended every girl to be happy, active and healthy. Yet too many of them find their lives saddened by suffering—nearly always because their blood is to blame. All those with colorless cheeks, dull skins and lusterless eyes are in this condition because they have not enough red blood in their veins to keep them well and in the charm of health. They suffer from depressing weariness and periodical headaches. Dark lines form under their eyes, their heart palpitates violently after the slightest exertion, and they are often attacked with fainting spells. These are only a few of the miseries of bloodlessness. When the blood becomes thin and watery it can be enriched through the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and the troubles that come from poor blood disappear. In almost every neighborhood you will find some formerly ailing girl who has a good word to say for this medicine. Among them there is Miss Ida M. Withrow, Hardwood Lands, N.S., who says :—"Dr. Williams' Pink Pills did more for me than all the other medicine I took, and I cannot praise them too highly. When I began the use of these pills I was in a terribly run down condition, very thin and very pale. My appetite was gone, and I had a tired, worn out feeling all the time. Doctor's medicine did not seem to improve my condition and I was getting greatly discouraged when a friend advised me to give Dr. Williams' Pink Pills a trial. After some urging I decided to do so. After taking six boxes I felt like a new person. I gained weight, had a good color, and an improved appetite, and the constantly tired feeling that had made me so miserable was gone. I took a few boxes more before I stopped, and by that time I had never felt so well in my life. I shall always feel very grateful to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and strongly recommend them to those who are run down."

You can get these pills from your druggist, or by mail at 50 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

PAINS ALL OVER BODY

Two More Cases of Feminine Illness Relieved by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Barrington, N. S.—"I had terrible feelings, headaches, back and side aches and pains all over my body. I would have to go to bed every month and nothing would do me good. My husband and my father did my work for me as I have two children and we have quite a big place. I read in the paper about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and then got a little book about it through the mail, and my husband sent to Eaton's and got me a bottle, and then we got more from the store. I am feeling fine now and do all my work and am able to go out around more. I tell my friends it is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound that makes me feel so well."—Mrs. Victor Richardson, Barrington, Nova Scotia.

Dull Pains in Back

St. Thomas, Ont.—"I took four bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and found great relief from the dull, heavy pains in the small of my back and the weakness from which I suffered for three years after my boy was born. After taking the Vegetable Compound and using Lydia E. Pinkham's Sanative Wash I am feeling better than I have for the past seven years, and advise my friends to take it."—Mrs. F. Best for Summer Cooking!

THINK of it! You can install a 3-burner Findlay Electric Hot Plate or Rangette, complete with portable oven, for less, in many cases, than the extra wiring necessary to install an electric range.

The Findlay Hot Plate does the same faultless cooking as the most expensive electric range. The elements are each adjustable to three degrees of heat. The oven, which is sold separately, is very efficient in roasting and baking.

Findlay Hot Plates are made with one, two and three burners, and in various styles and sizes. A size to attach to electric light socket, others to attach to base board or wall socket, and larger and speedier types that require extra wiring back to the meter. For sale at Electrical dealers and Hardware stores. Write for Hot Plate Booklet.

BAY CIRCUIT.

On Tuesday, June 15th, the North Fredericksburgh Township Sunday School Convention met in the Hay Bay Church at 2 p.m., and again at 7.30 p.m.

Rev. Roy Rickard was the Provincial Representative of the O. R. E. C. and he, with local ministers and laiety, put on a program that was inspirational and helpful to a very high degree.

The work of the Sunday Schools in the Township was reviewed, and the report was very encouraging. Plans also for the present year were laid before the convention and endorsed, which when carried out by the local schools will greatly enhance the value of our work throughout the year.

The friends of Hay Bay church, by kindly forethought and preparation, left nothing to be desired in the way of entertainment as to the buildings, refreshments and music, instrumental and vocal.

The officers elect for the ensuing year are :—

President—Rockwell Parks.
Vice President—Peter Huycke.
Secty.-Treas.—Mrs. J. R. Ackerman.
Children's Division—Miss G. Bowen.
Girls' Work—Mrs. L. Parks.
Boys' Work—W. Goodman, Jr.
Young People's Work — Geo. Burtch.
Adult Work—Wesley Cummings.
Home Department — Mrs. W. G. Joyce.
Missionary Work—Mrs. Leonard Parks.

The following resolutions were suggested and unanimously approved by the convention, and likely will assist in bringing our Sunday School up to a higher standard during the present conference year.

First, resolved that every Sunday School in the Township use the O. R. E. Standard Chart, and that it may be done consistently, we urge that each Sunday School Superintendent and Secretary secure a copy of the Standard Tests of efficiency issued by our O. R. E. Department, and that an honest attempt be made in each grade to grade according to the spirit of the requirements of the O. R. E. C.

Second, Resolved that each Sunday School have missionary instruction or missionary program once a month, and that in addition to a monthly collection for missions by the Sunday School, that we have juvenile collectors, and that the missionary objective for each school for this Conference year be $30.00.

The Loyal Orange Lodge of Bayside, along with visiting brethren from Napanee and district, will attend Divine Service at 2.30 p.m., at Bethany Church, June 27th. All members of the Order and friends of the Church and Order are cordially invited to attend.

Remember the lawn social to be held at the Parsonage, on July 15th, by the entire circuit, in aid of certain extra repairs about the parsonage property. A very high class concert, consisting of instrumental and vocal music, along with readings by popular artists, will provide a real entertainment. Further announcements later.

Quarterly Sunday services will be held at the Gretna Church on July 4th, at 10.30 a.m.

The first Quarterly Board will meet at Bethany Church on Monday evening, July 5th, to transact regular business.

POULTRY LICE AND MITES

(Experimental Farms Note.)

At this period of the year, vermin, unless controlled, multiply very rapidly.

The fowls at the Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa, are treated periodically for lice. Blue ointment, to which two parts of lard have been added, is used to kill the lice and nits. The addition of little tallow will give more base. This ointment is applied to the skin below the vent and under the wings. Fowls treated in this cheap and effective manner will remain free from lice for several months unless exposed to further infestation. Blue ointment should not be used on sitting hens until after the hatch. The fumes from the ointment will kill the germ in the egg.

Unsanitary poultry houses encourage the most troublesome of vermin, the red mite. These mites get their fill of blood at night and leave the fowl before dawn, to hide in cracks and crevices. the blood reddens the mite, hence the name, red mite. The houses at the plant are thoroughly cleaned, and sprayed each spring, summer and fall with a spray composed of one part of carbolic and four parts of coal oil. The roosts are painted twice each month during warm weather, with common crank case oil. The above treatment is very penetrating and plays havoc with the mites.

The cleaning and spraying is done during a sunny forenoon, which allows time for the house to dry thoroughly before evening.

Fresh air and sunlight are wonderful disinfectants for the poultry house and combined with cleanliness are preventives against most of the poultry yard ills. (Exhibition circular, No. 85, "How to rid the hen house of mites" may be had free of charge from the Publications Branch, Department of Agriculture, Ottawa.)

A good spray pump should be part of every poultry keeper's equipment.

The small girl was going to her first fancy dress party, and her mother was somewhat perplexed as to what she should wear.

"Could I go as a milkmaid, mummie?" suggested the child.

"I'm afraid not, dear, answered her mother, "you're too small."

"But I could go as a condensed milkmaid, couldn't I?"

Miller's Worm Powders will eradicate the worm evil that bears so heavily on children and is believed to cause many fatalities. They are an acceptable medicine to children and can be fully relied upon to clear the food channels thoroughly of these destructive parasites and restore the inflamed and painful surfaces to healthfulness. They are an excellent remedy for these evils.

Deep in our hearts there's a picture
Of a loved one gone to rest;
In memory's frame we shall keep it,
Because he was one of the best.

Our hearts cannot tell what to say,
God only knows how we miss him,
As we journey along life's way.

RELIGIOUS EDUCATION COUNCIL

ANNUAL CONVENTION OF RICHMOND TOWNSHIP

The annual Convention of Richmond Township Religious Education Council was held in Empey Hill United Church, on Friday, June 18th, with President, George H. Brooks, in the chair, and a majority of the Sunday Schools well represented.

The afternoon session was opened at 1.30, Rev. James Batstone conducting the Devotional Exercises. The President gave a concise outline of the work before the Council, and Secretary W. Frisken presented his annual report. The Department Superintendents were then called upon. Mrs. R. J. Smith gave an interesting account of the Children's Division, and offered a number of suggestions for increasing the efficiency of the school during the new church year. Mrs. G. H. Brooks pointed out the difficulty of carrying on Girls' Work in rural communities where mixed classes are the rule and in town where C. G. I. T. groups are functioning.

Mr. W. T. MacKenzie could not attend in person, but his report on Boys' Work was on hand, and read by Mrs. MacGregor, County Secretary. Mr. W. J. Winter presented a very encouraging report of the Adult Division, showing twenty-one Bible Classes in the ten township schools. Rev. C. J. Wilson, Superintendent Teacher Training, reported the town class in Trinity United Church experiencing a good year, and the rural class meeting in Roblin Parsonage another successful and interesting season.

Mrs. Burnelle Denison's report of the Missionary Department included the information that $514 was raised in the Sunday Schools for Missionary purposes. Mrs. Ben Denison reviewed the work of the Home Department, and Mrs. N. B. Miller, on behalf of the Temperance Department, was able to report decided progress with a Temperance Secretary in every school and 345 pledged members.

The Round Table Conference conducted by Rev. Roy Rickard, Representative of the Ontario Religious Education Council, was a feature of very great interest. The many pdoblems incident to Sunday School work in town and county were freely discussed. The Standard Chart was explained. Under his expert leadership everyone present spent an interesting and instructive time.

At the close of the afternoon session the ladies of Empey Hill church served a sumptuous tea to the delegates. The social hour and the choice viands were thoroughly enjoyed.

The evening session commenced with a number of selections by St. Andrew's Orchestra excellently rendered. Rev. Roy Rickard conducted a song service, and Rev. R. J. Merriam led in the Devotional Exercises. The Secretary read the report of the Nominating Committee, and it was received and adopted. The officers for the new Church year were installed by Mr. A. MacGregor, in his usual happy way. The following were elected:—

President—George H. Brooks.
Vice President—J. C. Hudgins.
Secty. Treas.—Wm. Frisken.
Supt. Children's Division—Mrs. R. J. Smith.
Supt. Boys' Work—W. T. MacKenzie.
Supt. Girls' Work—Mrs. G. H. Brooks.
Supt. Adult Department—W. J. Winter.
Supt. Home Department—Mrs. S. E. Baker.
Supt. Teacher Training—Rev. C. J. Wilson.
Supt. Missionary Department — Miss Grace Oliver.
Supt. Temperance Department — Mrs. N. B. Miller.

The report of the Resolutions Committee was read by Rev. C. J. Wilson, and every resolution adopted. The one referring to the Ontario Temperance Act was carried by a unanimous standing vote of a convention that filled the large church.

The resolutions were as follows:—

1. That each school be urged to secure the Standard Chart for the local school and have it placed in a prominent position in the school building, thus encouraging each school to measure up to this standard.

2. That all our Church Schools should have placed before them by their Executive a worthy missionary objective and endeavor to bring them to a higher missionary standard of contributions.

3. That we pledge our support to the County Girls' Camp at Varty Lake, July 7th to 17th, believing that this camp is in the best interest of the girls of our County.

4. That we pledge our hearty support to the Ontario Temperance Act.

5. That we urge each school to recognize the danger of the cigarette evil and suggest special education to warn against this destructive habit.

6. That we further urge the importance of pledge signing in all our schools against the cigarette and indulgence in intoxicating liquors.

7. That we recommend a collection be taken once a year in each school to provide a Temperance Fund to be used at the discretion of the Township Temperance Secretary in distributing Temperance literature.

8. That we express our appreciation to Mr. MacGregor and the other members of the Orchestra from St. Andrew's Church for the splendid music which they provided at the evening session.

9. That we wish to tender our thanks to the Pastor and officials of Empey Hill Church for the arrangements and use of the building, and also our very hearty thanks to the ladies of Empey Hill for the sumptuous supper served in connection with this Convention.

Rev. C. J. Wilson delivered a brief address on Temperance, emphasizing the importance of systematic instruction for the benefit of old and young re the evils resulting from indulgence in intoxicating liquors.

Rev. Roy Rickard held the undivided attention of the Convention as he eloquently pleaded the claim of the rising generation for an environment distinctly Christian as they prepare to discharge adequately the obligations of adult life.

The invitation from St. Andrew's Church, Napanee, to hold the next Convention there, was unanimously accepted.

The hymn, "Stand Up For Jesus" was sung, and one of the best Conventions in the history of Richmond Township was closed by Rev. James Batstone pronouncing the benediction.

Rub Campana's Italian Balm on your face and arms each day. It won't prevent you getting sunburned; in fact, it assists the sun in giving the skin a clear, healthy, desirable texture, instead of a garish redness, but it will prevent the roughness and soreness and irritation that comes from sunburn, or excessive perspiration.

Be sure to take a good supply of Campana's Italian Balm away with you on your vacation—because you can't buy it conveniently at many summer resorts.

FIELD DAY AT ODESSA

Ball Games and Races Are Keenly Contested—Large Crowd Attends. —Two Local Players Line Up With Newburgh.

The Field Day held at Odessa on Thursday afternoon, was one of the finest ever held in the Highway Village. A large crowd of people attended the games and races, and the Odessa Agricultural Society are to be congratulated on their fine work in preparing such a fine program. Odessa and Newburgh staged a fast and exciting ball game, and as these two teams seem to be the contenders for the Wagar trophy, the interest was keen. Odessa and Westbrooke girls put on a snappy softball game, which was greatly enjoyed by the fans. The horse races were very greatly enjoyed by the crowd and were all hotly contested. The Free-for-all was especially interesting, although the Green Race proved very exciting. Doubtless the people of the district will look forward to the next Field Day to be held in Odessa.

The Ball Game

Odessa forged still farther out in front in the L. and A. League, on Thursday afternoon, when they downed Newburgh by 3-0. Kilgannon worked the whole game for Odessa and hurled fine ball. He struck out five batsmen and allowed but three widely scattered hits. Byron limited Odessa to seven safe blows. Odessa tallied once in the first, second and sixth innings. Newburgh showed that they are still in the race, but a few weak spots on the team could be strengthened by a few more Napanee players. Daverin did not play, and with him and a few others, Newburgh will yet make the teams step. Jim Naphin and Harold Johnston, two local players, lined up with Newburgh, and greatly strengthened the team. However, there are half a dozen more players here who are just waiting for the word.

The teams:—

Newburgh—	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	R	H	E
Odessa	1	0	0	0	1	0	0	1	0	3	7	0

The Softball Game

At the Odessa Field Day on Thursday afternoon, Odessa girls defeated Westbrooke by 8-3. By bunching their hits, Odessa collected runs when needed. Westbrooke played fine ball, but were weak at bat.

OBITUARY

Mr. John P. Nolan.

On Friday evening, June 11th, 1926, at the close of the Feast of the Sacred Heart, one of our most respected citizens, Mr. John P. Nolan, passed peacefully to rest, after a lengthy illness. His funeral took place on Sunday afternoon. Barely has there been such a demonstration of sympathy and respect as that shown John Nolan and his bereaved family, both at the house and at the church. St. Patrick's Church was filled by a truly sympathetic body of people from town and country, who followed the deceased to the grave he loved and served, and joined in heartfelt sympathy in the impressive ceremony for the soul of him who never forgot to help the living in a life of disinterestedness, services and inspiring example of devotion and affection. Educated by God-fearing parents in holy Ireland, he led a God-fearing life. God's commandments were the laws of his long life, God's will his pleasure. God's peace his most precious gem, and God's grace his treasure of life.

The deceased has to his credit a laborious and honest past. His life in private and public was replete with deeds that will count for much when the score of life is hung up in the day of final reckoning.

As a tribute to the goodness and simplicity of the life of this old man of eighty-six years, the Reverend Pastor expressed some beautifully sympathetic and inspiring words that have proven a comfort to the family and an inspiration to all who heard him.

The following morning a large congregation assisted at the Requiem High Mass that was sung by the Reverend Pastor for the repose of the soul of the deceased, John Nolan.

This demonstration of sympathy was beautifully exemplified by the large number of spiritual and floral offerings.

Besides his devoted wife, he leaves to mourn his loss, one son, Patrick, of Hull, Que., and two daughters, Mary and Margaret, at home.

No holiday trip is quite complete without a Brownie or Kodak, and a box of Lutra Second Cut Candy. Wallace's are sole agents for both.

When 3 telephone orders can be taken in the time required for one order over the counter — as has been proven — and the amount of a telephone sale averages almost a third more, as it does, can there be any doubt in your mind that the merchant who uses the telephone consistently will win out over the rival who does not?

WISE AND OTHERWISE

Life in the twentieth century is going to be a purgatory for the man in a black coat.

Only the uninformed endure the agony of corns. The knowing ones apply Holloway's Corn Remover and get relief.

Fussy Lady—"Does your mother know you smoke?"

Small Boy—"Does your husband know you speak to strange men in the street?"

Recognized as a leading specific for the destruction of worms, Mother Graves' Worm Exterminator has proved a boon to suffering children everywhere. It seldom fails.

"Father," said Mabel, "do you enjoy hearing me sing?"

"Well," replied her father, "I don't know, but it's soothing in a way. It makes me forget my other troubles."

It Bids Pain Begone.—When neuralgia racks the nerves or lumbago cripples the back is the time to test the virtues of Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil. Well rubbed in it will still the pain and produce a sensation of ease and rest. A trial of it will establish faith in it.

"Has your husband been ill with the flue?" asked the parson.

"Yes," replied the little worried looking woman. "He has been feeling very badly. I do my best to please him, but nothing seems to satisfy him."

"Is his condition critical?"

"It's worse than critical," she answered with a sigh, "it's abusive".

For Scalds or Burns.—Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil is a standard remedy for the prompt treatment of scalds and burns. Its healing power quickly soothes the pain and aids a speedy recovery from the injury. It is also an excellent remedy for all manner of cuts, bruises and sprains, as well as for relieving the pains arising from inflammation of various kinds. A bottle in the house and stable saves many a doctor's and veterinary's fee.

Half-hearted.—Governor Robert of Delaware said in Washington the other day:

"Some European nations are going about the painful task of balancing their budgets and paying their debts in a way that reminds me of Jones.

Jones said to his secretary:

"Miss Mainwaring, call up my dentist, please, and see if he can give me an appointment for this afternoon. And—er—Miss Mainwaring ——"

"Yes, sir?"

"Don't insist."

While working on a scaffold in Glasgow, a man slipped and fell to the ground. He was picked up, and another man went off to warn his wife of his arrival home.

"I hae a sad duty tae perform, Mrs. Macdonald," he began, sympathetically. "Yer husband——"

"Is he off on the spree again?" demanded Mrs. Macdonald.

"Na. He's——"

"Mebbe he's got intae jail again?"

"Na, na. He's fa'en off the scaffolding an' broken his leg."

"An' why dae ye come roon' here wi' a face like a lum, and scare a puir body near to death, making her think something awfu' had happened?" cried the woman, angrily. "Jist ye bring him hame, and tak' care naethin' fa's oot o' his pockets!"

Her Whole Body Seemed To Be Affected

So Says Ontario Lady Before She Used Dodd's Kidney Pills

Miss L. A. Ross Suffered With a Severe Attack of Kidney Trouble and Found Relief in Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Ottawa, Ont., June 21st, (Special).—"I had a very severe attack with my kidneys about two years ago. So bad, I was laid up for over a week. My whole body seemed to be affected. I lost my appetite and was failing fast. At last I got a box of Dodd's Kidney Pills and got help right away. I have not been bothered since."

This statement comes from Miss L. A. Ross, who resides at 432 Nelson Street.

Other sufferers from kidney trouble tell of pains relieved and health restored through the use of Dodd's Kidney Pills. They strengthen the weak kidneys and remove the cause of the pain.

There is no reason why anyone should continue to suffer when Dodd's Kidney Pills can be obtained from druggists everywhere, or The Dodd's Medicine Co., Ltd., Toronto.

TO BUY OR NOT TO BUY

HORSE HAS SOMETHING ON THE TRACTOR YET.

Questions of Economy, of Convenience, and of Methods of Care and Operation All Considered.

(Contributed by Ontario Department of Agriculture, Toronto.)

First before paying out good cash for a tractor, we should be quite sure that some member of the family has sufficient mechanical ability to operate a tractor efficiently. Efficient operation means the keeping down or repair and fuel and depreciation charges along with getting work properly done on time. If this one question can be decided in the affirmative then there are five more questions to answer to Dad's satisfaction before he passes over the signed cheque.

(1) Will the tractor reduce the number of work horses?

(2) Will the tractor reduce the amount of labor required?

(3) Will the tractor farm an increased acreage, or the same acreage more thoroughly?

(4) Will the tractor reduce the cost of hired belt work?

(5) Will the tractor do some custom work in the neighborhood at a profit?

Generally there are other questions, that should be considered that are specific for each individual farm, before purchase is decided on.

Some farmers express themselves as follows: "I know it is costing me more to farm with a tractor, than if horses were used, but since the tractor enables me to get a lot of work done in a shorter time, so much so that I am willing to pay the increased cost."

Cost of Traction Operation.

The variation in the cost of operating tractors is as wide as the degree of efficiency in various operators and their tractors. Expressed in dollars and cents, for a tractor pulling a two bottom plough, it has been found to vary from 70 cents to over four dollars per hour. The skill and efficiency of the operator is the important factor in keeping down costs.

Oil and Water Very Necessary.

The careful operator, who goes over his machine with his eyes open, making adjustments where needed, supplying oil of proper grade, and making timely repairs, will get more done and have a very small repair bill for the year. Another man, using the same type of machine who never bothers to make adjustments or minor repairs, or who does not pay proper attention to oil and water, will usually run up a repair bill equal to half the original cost of the tractor each season.

Failure to remove carbon, grind valves, adjust gasoline feed, keep up oil and grease supply to bearings, keep nuts tight and renew piston rings, will reduce efficiency and consume excess fuel and oil. Keep the tractor working with full efficiency as many hours as can be done profitably each year. The tractor that works but twenty-five days does not show the same degree of efficiency in operating costs as does the tractor that is used one hundred and fifty days each year. Interest, taxes, insurance, shelter are the same no matter how many days the tractor is used and these charges go to make this difference. The average hourly cost of tractor operation on well-managed farms is given as 90 cents to one dollar per hour for tractors pulling two ploughs or equal work. This includes depreciation, supplies, labor, repairs, shelter, and insurance, where the life of the tractor is taken at five working years.

We have been talking about the iron horse why not change the subject and take a look at old Dobbin in the flesh. He starts himself, he has no clutch to slip, or gears to strip, his spark plugs never miss, he runs on, timothy, oats, and water. For Dobbin there is no gas or oil, or anti-freeze to buy, his wants are few and easily met. his labor cost per horse hour is certainly well under twenty-five cents per hour. I believe he has something on the tractor yet.—L. Stevenson, Dept of Extension, O. A. College.

BLACK ROT OF TOMATO.

Starts From a Puncture or Insect Bite.

This fungus disease takes its toll each year in proportion to the neglect that is permitted in the various gardens. The careful gardener does not lose, but the other fellow does. Large unsightly black areas of decay on the side or end of the tomato spoil the early work of someone, junk to gather up instead of fine fruits for the table.

The rot on the fruit usually starts from a puncture or insect bite, giving entrance to the fungus spore. Favorable conditions aid the spore development, the resulting rot spots increase in size and become black, leathery, sunken areas.

Control.—Spraying with Bordeaux 4. 6. 40. Two or three applications spaced about 10 days apart is sufficient. Cleanliness and proper rotation are very essential. Keep the garden clean, burn up all diseased fruit and vegetable material at the earliest possible moment. Grow the plants in disease-free soil and maintain good growing conditions throughout the season.—L. Stevenson, O. A. College.

Tree Planting In Ontario.

During April the nursery stocks of the Ontario Department of Lands and Forests were exhausted on the basis of orders received for trees. Last year the Department distributed 7,000,000 trees, three-quarters of which were allotted to individuals, chiefly farmers of the Province. This year, the number will be between 8,000,000 and 9,000,000. In the northern sections of the Province the Government has been planting coniferous trees, such as pine, spruce, etc. Out in Old Ontario the farmer has a pronounced preference for the more common hardwood, chiefly maple, oak, birch and ash.

A certain doctor in an old cathedral town had two extremely pretty children. One day a lady passing two small boys heard one say to the other: "Those pretty little girls over there are the doctor's children."

"Yes, I know," said the other, "He keeps the best for himself."

VITAMINS A. B. AND C.

INDISPENSABLE CONSTITUENTS IN NORMAL DIET.

Some Simple Facts About Nutrition Which Will Greatly Contribute to Growth and Health.

(Contributed by Ontario Department of Agriculture, Toronto.)

The vitamins are indispensable constituents of a normal diet. What is a normal diet? Well a normal diet must fulfil the following conditions:

(1) The diet must be quantitatively sufficient.

(2) The diet must contain a sufficient amount of protein, fat, and carbonhydrate.

(3) The diet must contain the necessary inorganic salts.

(4) The diet must contain a certain amount of various amino acids.

(5) The diet must contain the three vitamins A, B, and C.

The animal body is unable to manufacture vitamins and they are essential to its lite. Hence the animal body requires a fairly continuous supply of the vitamins, and the only way it can obtain them is by eating fresh vegetable foods or by eating the flesh or milk of other animals.

Vitamin A, is the most stable of the three, and animals possess considerable powers of storing this vitamin in their fat. Vitamin C is the least stable.

Young growing animals are the most susceptible to vitamin shortage, quick growing and pregnant animals require an abundant supply of vitamins. Fully mature animals do not feel vitamin shortage in their feed to the same extent as young animals do.

Vitamine A.

Vitamin A is synthesized by chlorophyll containing plants only, and the richest vegetable source are the green leaves and growing parts of plants. Seedlings grown without light do not produce Vitamin A. Animals feeding on green plants store Vitamin A in their fat deposits, so we find it abundant in meat fat, egg yolk and in milk fat. Marine animals feeding largely on the green growth of numerous water plants store large quantities of Vitamin A. Cod liver and shark liver oils are very rich in this substance. The amount of Vitamin A in the meat fat and milk fat depends entirely on the amount of vitamin in the feed consumed by the animal. The fat of grass-fed animals is rich in vitamin when compared with the fat of animals fed on the dry feeds of winter. It has been noted by all feeders that the summer milk is more satisfactory in the feeding of young animals.

The chief diseases produced in animals deprived of vitamin A are: (1) Arrested growth and Keratomalacia; (2) Lowered resistance to bacterial infection. (3) Marked effect on reproductive function, sterility. (4) Rickets and deficient dentition.

Vitmin B.

The body does not store this vitamin and certain animals, if deprived of foods that contain it, for a few weeks develop polyneuritis, or show a decline in body weight and muscular inco-ordination. In young animals deprived of foods containing Vitamin B the arrest of growth and the injurious effect on the nervous system is more marked than it is with older animals. Vitamin B is very widely distributed, being present in nearly all forms of plant life, particularly in seeds and yeast. The bran or husk of seeds and the germ are the portions where it is to be found. Highly-milled grain products are very poor in Vitamin B. Look to green vegetables, whole grain, unpolished rice, milk, for this vitamin.

Vitmin C.

Young animals deprived of foods containing Vitamin C develop tenderness and swelling of the joints, tenderness of the gums, loosening of the teeth and a marked wastage of all the lymphoid tissues. Vitamin C occurs in all growing vegetable tissue, as green vegetables, roots, grass and fruits. Small quantities are present in fresh meats and milk. The animal body cannot store Vitamin C so must depend upon supplies coming regularly in the feed. During winter, sprouted grains and roots are the two main sources of this vitamin for live stock as poultry and pigs.

General Effects.

Lack of vitamin in the food of animals produces effects that resemble starvation. Young suffer more than mature.

A cow cannot manufacture vitamins and put such in the milk. Hence the vitamin content of milk (which is the most important food of young) depends entirely upon the vitamin content of the cow's food. See that she gets a good liberal allowance of green alfalfa.—L. Stevenson, Dept of Extension, O. A. College.

Meet Miss Ontario

It's motor picnic weather now!

Do you know Miss Ontario—the alluring beauty of her lakes and streams—the colourful fascination of her woods and farmlands?

Miss Ontario is all about you—follow any highway and you will see her.

Get acquainted with Miss Ontario at this season. It's motor picnic weather now. Fill your car with a merry party—ask your friends to do the same.

Away from the more travelled highways you'll find many a beauty spot — rocky glens, nodding pines, the flash of cool water over sun-lit pebbles —places where nature comes very close to man.

Drive moderately, both on the main highways and on the county roads. Excessive speed wears away road surfaces. The repair bills must be paid by you and the other motorists. Remember the roads are yours.

The Government requests the assistance of all motorists in maintaining the good condition of the roads. To those who will not heed, it points out that the law against fast driving is being rigidly enforced by a numerous traffic patrol.

THE HON. GEO. S. HENRY, Minister of Highways
S. L. SQUIRE, Deputy Minister

Issued by the Ontario Department of Highways to secure the co-operation of motorists in abating the abuse of the roads of the Province.

Sixteen Years' Use of Baby's Own Tablets

Has Shown One Mother There is Nothing to Equal Them

A constant use of Baby's Own Tablets for their children has proven to thousands of mothers that they are without an equal for babyhood and childhood ailments. One mother, Mrs. C. W. Jackson, R.R. 1, Gilford, Ont., writes:—"We have used Baby's Own Tablets ever since our first baby was born sixteen years ago. We have seven fine healthy children and the Tablets is the only medicine they received in their early years. Our baby is one and a half years old, is walking and talking and weighs 25 pounds. Baby's Own Tablets is the only medicine he has ever had."

Baby's Own Tablets are guaranteed to be absolutely safe for even the newborn babe. They are free from opiates and narcotics; act as a gentle laxative on the stomach and bowels and thus relieve constipation and indigestion; break up colds and simple fevers and make baby healthy and strong.

You can get Baby's Own Tablets from your druggist or direct by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Exhausted from Asthma. Many who read these words know the terrible drain upon health and strength which comes in the train of asthmatic troubles. Many do not realize, however, that there is one true remedy which will usually stop this drain. Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Asthma Remedy is a wonderful check to this enervating ailment. It has a countless record of relief to its credit. It is sold almost everywhere.

Marriage is like every other job you've got to get used to it.

VARIETY SHOWER

The Constitution Adopted.

The Constitution was adopted by the states at different dates. Delaware adopted it on December 7, 1787; Pennsylvania, December 12, 1787; New Jersey, December 18, 1787; Georgia, January 2, 1788; Connecticut, January 9, 1788; Massachusetts, February 6, 1788; Maryland, April 28, 1788; South Carolina, May 23, 1788; New Hampshire, June 1, 1788; Virginia, June 25, 1788; New York, June 26, 1788; North Carolina, November 21, 1789; Rhode Island, May 29, 1790.

First Overhead Trolley.

The first practical overhead trolley line was built in Kansas City in 1884, in which double overhead conductors were used with a trolley wheel riding on top of the wire. In 1885 a third-rail line was constructed in Baltimore and the Van de Poele system was installed in Toronto, Canada, and the next year in Scranton, Pa. Prior to this time experimental systems had been in use in Chicago, New York and Boston.

Same Old Circus.

Member the old farmer woman with the umbrella and the funny clothes who wanders round the ring just after the show begins, looking desperately into the audience calling "Al-bert, Al-bert, where are you, Al-bert?" And the policeman tells her to move on and she beats up the policeman and her wig and petticoats come off (down to the red flannel one) and she isn't old or a lady either, after all! Well, she is still there.—Everybody's Magazine.

Ups and Downs.

Tourist—"Anything remarkable about this hill, driver?" Driver—"There's nothing peculiar about the hill itself, but there's a queer story connected with it. A young lady and gentleman went for a walk up here; they ascended higher and higher and never came back." Tourist—"Dear, dear me! What, then became of the unhappy pair?" Driver—"It is supposed that they went down on the other side, sir!"

The Wonderful Congo.

The Congo is the most wonderful system of waterway on the face of the globe. It has twice the extent of the navigable waters of the Mississippi and its tributaries and three times its population. Professor Dupont, once director of the Museum of Natural History at Brussels, said that its fertile valleys were destined to be the granary of the world.

Unworthy American Soldier.

In 1812, on the sixth of August, Detroit was surrendered by Gen. William Hull to the British, under General Brock. After Hull was released by the British he was court-martialed by the Americans, found guilty of cowardice and condemned to be shot. President Madison modified the sentence to dishonorable discharge from the army and allowed Hull to go free.

Oh, Be Careful, Girls!

Girl wooed by villain. He looks all right, but he is forty, wears evening dress and his hair is thinning. Oh, can nothing be done to warn our innocent girls that an unmarried man more than thirty-five who wears evening dress and has thin hair is a moral leper? Not while picture directors have anything to say about it.—Harry Leon Wilson in the Saturday Evening Post.

Turtle Unstops Sewer.

To open a stopped up sewer pipe, Frank Ward of Richmond, Mo., caught a small turtle and cut a small hole in its shell. Then he tied a string in the hole and started the turtle through the sewer pipe. Whenever the turtle stopped a pull on the string started it clawing its way forward again until the pipe was clear.

Of French Origin.

The prefix Fitz (the son of), so common in England, is supposed to have originated in Flanders. It is remarkable that it is now unknown in France, but it occurs in the ancient documents and chronicles of that country. It was brought to England by the Normans under William the Conqueror.

Historical Knowledge Important.

A man ignorant of the past of his nation is not qualified to have anything to do with its present or future. To work understandingly we must know what this nation of ours is for—what is the plan and purpose.—Myron W. Reed.

Ring Up the Gods.

In China many temples are provided with a bell at the entrance, and when a worshiper enters he gives the rope a pull to ring the bell in order that the gods may be notified of his coming and be at hand to attend to his prayers.

Watch the Exhaust.

A government bulletin is authority for the statement that the greatest single factor in the operation of the steam plant is the way in which the exhaust steam problem is handled.

What a Difference.

What a difference there is between a person who thinks and one who only says what has been thought.—Madame du Deffand.

Optimistic Thought.

A man of any honest trade may make himself respectable if he will.

The schoolmaster was giving his class a lecture on charity. "Willie," he said, "if I saw a boy beating an ass and stopped him from doing so, what virtue would I be showing?"

Willie (promptly) — "Brotherly love."

"Landscaping," Subject of Notable Lecture at Dominion Chautauqua

Edward A. Marshall, nationally known authority on landscape gardening, will be heard at the coming Dominion Chautauqua in July in an illuminating and helpful discussion on "Landscaping."

Mr. Marshall has made a lifelong study of landscape gardening in its relation to more attractive home surroundings. For the prospective buyer of property he gives important information regarding the selection of a home site; while for the renter, the home owner of average means, or the possessor of a large estate, his plans for making the grounds more attractive are thoroughly practical, and at the same time productive of highly artistic results.

To illustrate the various points of his lecture, Mr. Marshall arranges on a huge screen before his audience realistically painted pictures of a house, the grounds, trees, shrubs, walks, etc., until a well-landscaped ensemble is clearly depicted.

His talk on landscape gardening is one which everyone interested in home or civic beautification will thoroughly enjoy and from which they will derive immeasurable benefit.

SAD MOTOR ACCIDENT

WINNIFRED GALBRAITH, OF CROYDON, INSTANTLY KILLED

A tragic accident occurred on Wednesday morning, on Dundas Street, when a car owned by Mr. Johnson of Dale Avenue, Toronto, struck and instantly killed Miss Winnifred Galbraith, of Croydon.

The accident took place at Hooper's corner. The car, which was driven by Ernest Wills, chauffeur for Mr. Johnson, was proceeding East along Dundas street, towards Kingston. Eye witnesses state that the car, which was a heavy Cadilac, was moving slowly, when the Galbraith girl started rapidly across the street. The fender of the car struck her and she was thrown directly under the wheels. In a few moments life was extinct.

Winnifred Galbraith is fourteen years of age, the daughter of W. J. Galbraith, of Croydon. She and her mother had come into town in the morning to do some shopping, and were returning in the afternoon.

The remains were taken to Masters & Tierney undertaking rooms, from whence it was taken to Croydon. The funeral will be held this (Friday) afternoon, from her late home at Croydon.

Mr. Wills, who stopped his car in a very few feet, has been held by the local authorities. An inquest was ordered for Wednesday evening, but was adjourned until next Tuesday night.

WEDDING BELLS

Shannon—French.

On Wednesday, June 23rd, at 10.30 a.m., the United Church, Marlbank, became the scene of a beautiful wedding, when Mrs. Nettie Shannon, Marlbank, was united in marriage to Mr. Thomas French, Bancroft. The church was artistically decorated with a profusion of spring flowers and ferns. The pretty bride was gowned in pink satin with touches of turquoise. Her silk net veil, arranged in cap effect, with orange blossoms, was heavily embroidered and bordered with rose-buds. She carried a bouquet of Ophelia roses. Mrs. R. Perry, matron of honor, wore navy crepe de chene with insets of bois de rose and a chic hat of the same shade. Mr. Perry supported the groom. Mrs. Robert W. Asselstine, gowned in rose crepe and sand hat, played the wedding march. Miss Bessie Allen acted as chauffeuse in driving the wedding party to and from the church. Mrs. Sills, Napanee, sister of the bride, entertained the happy couple at luncheon after the ceremony. The bride travelled in a costume of grey and blue.

Many friends crowded the church to witness the ceremony, which was performed by Rev. Mr. Thornley. All join in wishing Mr. and Mrs. French a long and prosperous married life. They will reside in Bancroft.

Barn Burned.

Saturday evening, about 10 o'clock, a barn owned by Mr. W. R. Lott was completely destroyed by fire. The contents were also destroyed, and included a new Ford roadster, about 200 feet of lumber, and a quantity of other material. The cause of the fire is not definitely known. Mr. Lott drove up to the barn in his sedan for the purpose of storing it away for the night when he noticed the interior of the barn all lighted up. Quickly opening the doors he rushed in and attempted to extinguish the blaze, but was not successful, and the spread of the fire drove him from the barn. Mr. Lott burned one of his hands and had his eyebrows scorched. An alarm was sounded and the firemen were quickly on the scene, but the fire had gained such headway that nothing could be saved. The loss will be considerable.

SOFTBALL

Deseronto 16, Napanee 11.

The opening Softball game in the Bay of Quinte League was played at Riverside Park on Tuesday evening last, the visitors winning the game by a score of 16-11. The opening ceremonies were carried out by Rev. W. R. Tanton, Mayor Ming and Reeve Graham.

On Friday evening the much-touted Deseronto Ponies invaded Napanee with the idea of giving the local girls an idea of how softball ought to be played. However, they can thank their lucky stars that they won at all. The score was 21-19, but the errors of the local girls gave Deseronto the verdict. All of the local girls played far below their real form, and ought to trim Deseronto any old day when they're playing as they should. Marion Grass was the worst offender but they all made errors. Napanee enjoyed a 9-0 lead for four innings, but the girls began doing everything wrong and gradually the lead was trimmed down. However, when the Bay of Quinte League gets under way, the local girls look like sure winners. With a good diamond to play on and lots of time to practice, the girls ought to round out into a classy team. However, the fans must turn out more in numbers if Napanee is to be a success in softball. A provincial softball championship would put Napanee on the map. Also the fans must "open up" a little bit and put something in the hat which makes more noise than a nickle or a dime. "B" Co. are backing the girls, and the money isn't really needed, for the Club is by no means "broke". However, trips to Toronto, Belleville and Kingston cost something, and the fans ought to help fill the hat as a means of showing the girls that their work is appreciated.

The teams were :—

Deseronto—V. Whitton ss, J. Genereux 3b, A. Gaulin 1b, L. Wagar p, J. Normile 2b, E. Harvey c, J. Perry lf, P. Gaulin cf, I. Foote rf.

Napanee—M. Stinson ss, H. O'Neill 3b, M. Grass c, M. Embury cf, M. Bates rf, D. Richardson 1b, D. Johnston rf, D. Daverin cf, C. Taylor p.

It's about time the local girls were choosing a name for their team. A fan suggested the name "Frontenacs", because the team is backed by the Frontenac Club, or "B" Co. as it is more commonly known. This would be a fine name, but it's up to the girls to select a name for themselves.

If the present plans materialize, Napanee will have plenty of softball this year. A Mercantile League is being organized, and will include teams from Gibbards, "B" Co., Iron Works, Business Men, Bankers, Argyll Lodge, No. 212 I.O.O.F., Napanee Lodge No. 86 I.O.O.F., and perhaps a few others.

The officers are :—

President—Mr. M. Taylor.
1st Vice Pres.—Miss Marion Wales.
2nd Vice Pres.—Mr. W. P. McLaughlin.
Secretary—Miss Marie Paul.
Treasurer—Mr. G. L. Paul.
Advisory Committee—Messrs. H. L. Babcock, H. Skitch and F. Bell.

The schedule for the Bay of Quinte Softball League will be found in another column.

BASEBALL.

On Saturday, June 19th, Adolphustown nosed out the lowly Tamworth outfit by 8-7, in an L. and A. League fixture, in the Bay village. Adolphustown won the game in the ninth, when Cummings Daverin singled, was sacrificed to 2nd by Frank Hamm, advanced to 3rd on A. Allen's single and scored on George Dixon's hit to right. Daverin was the outstanding star on the Adolphustown line-up. He hurled masterly ball for the winners and singled four times and reached 1st on an error. He whiffed 10 batsmen and pitched superb ball, notwithstanding the wretched support accorded him by his team-mates. However, when the players round in form the other teams had better look out. Reede Roblin, as second-sacker, made a spectacular barehanded catch of a drive back of 2nd, while Jack Prout retired the last batter on a pretty catch in short left-centre. George Dixon helped himself to two hefty wallops. His first sent in two runs, and his second sent over the winning run. Anderson and Gandier whiffed 10 men between them, but were hit hard in the pinches. Pope hit a three-bagger and played well throughout.

Following is the line-up :

Tamworth—Erhect c, Galbraith cf, Harrison ss, Hetherington 2b, H. Harrison rf, Dillon 3b, Pope 1b, Anderson p and lf, Gandier p and lf.

Adolphustown—Prout ss, Roblin 2b, Gallagher 3b, Allison c, C. Daverne p, Hamm rf, R. Daverne cf, A. Allen lf, G. Dixon 1b.

ADDRESS AND PRESENTATION

On Wednesday evening, after the regular prayer meeting in Grace Church, Rev. Mr. Terrill, who has been Pastor of this Church for five years, was presented with a substantial purse of gold, by members of his congregation.

The address spoke in high terms of his work here, and particularly about his pastoral work, than which no minister could have been more faithful, or successful. He was also complimented on the fact that he is leaving the church in so good a condition, financially, numerically and spiritually.

Mr. Terrill was much affected by this unexpected token of the congregation's good will, and expressed his thanks in a very feeling way.

On Sunday next, the 27th, he preaches his farewell sermon here, and the following Sunday he will be in his new charge at Pontypool. He carries the best wishes, not only of his own congregation, but of the whole town, with him.

The address, which was signed by Geo. W. Gibbard, Chairman Supply Committee; Fred. L. Hooper, Superintendent Sunday School; C. A. Wiseman, Recording Stewart, was read by Mr. A. E. Paul, and the presentation made by Mrs. Geo. W. Gibbard.

Kellar, Deseronto Road, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Wm. McConnell, of this neighborhood, spent Friday at Beaver Lake.—Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Colling and Mr. and Mrs. Alex. Storring and daughter, Mildred, have been recent visitors at Mr. Arch Graham's.—Mr. Irvine Thompson, Deseronto Road, spent the week end at home with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Eli Thompson.—We were pleased to see such a good attendance at church last Wednesday evening. Hope it may continue. Come along, and always bring someone with you. — We expect to have splendid roads in the near future, there is so much work being done, ditching, tarring, etc.—Mr. and Mrs. Jas. A. Jaynes have returned home from Yarker, where they were guests at the home of their son, Mr. and Mrs. John Jaynes. — Mr. and Mrs. Ross McConnell and little son, Glenn, were recent guests at Mr. and Mrs. Harold McCaul's, Deseronto Road.—Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Bush, Mr. and Mrs. A. Graham, Mr. Jayne and daughter, Electa, attended the funeral service of the late Winnifred Galbraith, at Croydon, on Friday afternoon. We extend our sympathy to the parents and family in their very sad bereavement. — On Sunday evening, June 13th, Mr. John Bush, a life long and highly respected resident of Sharp's Corners, passed peacefully away, in his eighty-fifth year.

Although in failing health during the winter months, his condition was not considered serious until a couple of months ago, when the family began to realize he could not be with them much longer. The late Mr. Bush will be remembered by the residents of this neighborhood, where he lived so many years, as a kind neighbour, and by the members of Victoria Appointment, as a faithful church worker. He held the office of steward at this appointment for several years. He must have been nearly eighty when he resigned, realizing at his advanced age, that he could not carry the responsibility of this office any longer. He was a regular attendant at our church service until a few years before his death.

Deceased was frequently visited during his illness by his Pastor, Rev. J. Batstone, who always found him trusting in God's word and submissive to His Heavenly Father's will.

The funeral service, held at the house, was largely attended by relatives and friends from far and near. The comforting words of his Pastor, Rev. J. Batstone, assisted by Rev. C. J. Wilson, of Roblin, also a duet which was sung by Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Brooks, made the service very impressive. His remains were laid to rest in Riverside cemetery.

Deceased leaves to mourn his loss an aged widow, two daughters and one son, Mrs. Earl Deline and Mrs. Jas. McIlwaine, Napanee, and Mr. Geo. Bush, who resides near the homestead. The sympathy of the entire community goes out to the sorrowing widow and family in their bereavement.

Huyck, and family. Chautauqua Is Napanee's Premier Entertainment

5 Full Days—July 19-23—12 Major Attractions

Herrick Entertainers Are Popular Chautauqua Number

Fun and laughter will be the keynote of the scintillating numbers to be given by the Herrick Entertainers at the coming Dominion Chautauqua here.

Robert Herrick, who heads the company, was born with a talent for making people laugh. He sees the humor in daily life and presents it with such infectious enjoyment that his audience is soon rocking with laughter.

Ivora Andrus, the other member of the company, has a splendid contralto voice, is an excellent pianist and an admirable choice as a partner to Mr. Herrick.

The program numbers are sparkling, swift-moving and entail many changes of costume. A travesty on the famous Gilbert and Sullivan opera, "Pinafore," and "An Old-Fashioned Group" are two costumed musical sketches which are extremely popular. Other well-liked numbers are a group of "home-town" impersonations, humorous negro songs, pianologs and imitations of some of our leading feminine vocalists.

This is an outstanding company whose program abounds in variety, spice and verve.

MR. AND MRS. WM. WOODCOCK IN MOTOR ACCIDENT

Mrs. John Donnan, of Smithfield, was instantly killed; Mrs. Whitney received a broken leg; Mrs. William Woodcock received cuts and bruises, and the driver of the car, Mr. William Woodcock, had three ribs cracked when the motor in which they were riding was struck by a freight train on the crossing just west of the station at Smithfield on Thursday night.

Mrs. Whitney was taken to Belleville General Hospital and the other injured occupants of the car were taken to their homes.

Dr. Brown, Coroner, from Colborne, ordered an inquest, and Police Constable Spencer, of Brighton, empanelled the jury. The body was identified and the jury adjourned to meet later. Dr. Clarke, of Brighton, was early on the scene, and attended to the injured.

The party were returning home from a visit late Thursday afternoon, Mr. and Mrs. Woodcock being in the front seat and Mrs. Whitney and Mrs. Donnan in the back. They were proceeding to their home in Smithfield, a small village about four miles east of Brighton.

The freight train was going west and at this particular point in the road a train is visible for some considerable distance to the east, but Mr. Woodcock, in a statement made after the accident, said that he did not see the train until he was well on the track. Mrs. Whitney was able to extricate herself from the car, but in getting out stepped on a rolling stone and broke her leg.

The train hit the bumper of the car and swung it to the west on the south side of the track. Mrs. Donnan was unable to get out, but she was thrown out of the car by the force of the impact and dragged a considerable distance up the track. She expired almost immediately.

The car was thrown against the guard rail and wedged in tight, but the debris was scattered along the right of way.

Mr. and Mrs. William Woodcock were formerly of Napanee, having removed to Smithfield a few years ago, where he has charge of a canning factory.

HER 96th BIRTHDAY

On Monday evening, June 21st, about seventy-five guests gathered at the home of Mr. Frank Tompkins, Newburgh, to celebrate the 96th birthday of his mother.

Harriett Pearson was born in England, in 1830, and with her parents came to Canada when 4 years old. Her father first settled in Napanee, living on Piety Hill. From St. Johns, New Brunswick, came a young man to Ontario, Joseph Tompkins, and in 1855 he married Hariett Pearson. The young couple settled in Camden Township. Here Mrs. Tompkins has lived ever since. After the death of her husband forty years ago, she has made her home with her son, Frank, near Newburgh. One son, Charles of Watertown, was not able to be present, but her other children, John A. and Mrs. Tompkins, from Bath, with their children and grandchildren, Frank and his children, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Tompkins, Bessie, Earl, Mr. and Mrs. Allen Tompkins, from Oswego; one daughter, Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Rattan, with Mr. and Mrs. Clarence, their son, and Miss Beatrice. There were present also Mr. and Mrs. Frank Tompkins from Strathcona, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Drury, Kingston; Mr. Len Drury, Mrs. John MacDonald, Kingston; Mr. and Mrs. George Pearson, Deseronto; Mrs. Ball and daughter, Oswego; Mrs. Ferris, Newburgh; Mr. and Mrs. Hayes Wager, Miss Barrie, Newburgh; Mr. and Mrs. Smith, Pastor of the Free Methodist Church, Odessa; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Lewis, Bath; Rev. T. H. P. Anderson, Newburgh.

Mrs. Tompkins enjoyed the visit with her children, grandchildren, and great grandchildren. There were four generations present. After a bountiful birthday supper, Rev. T. H. P. Anderson for a while, took charge of the proceedings, when a number of congratulatory addresses were given by sons, grandsons, nephews, and friends. A great many songs were sung, favourite selections of hymns, which Mrs. Tompkins especially enjoyed.

After a very happy evening the guests took leave, wishing Mrs. Tompkins continued good health and happiness.

CONWAY WOMEN'S INSTITUTE

The June meeting of Conway Women's Institute was held on Tuesday, June 22nd, in the Union Church, Conway. A goodly number of ladies attended this meeting and all were delighted with the speaker, Mrs. Lowe.

The President, Mrs. A. P. Young, opened the meeting in the usual manner. Miss Rawlinson played the Opening Ode. The regular business of the Institute, reading of minutes and Secretary's report, were taken up. Mrs. Stainton sang sweetly a solo, then Mrs. Young introduced Mrs. Lowe to her hearers.

Mrs. Lowe first gave an inspiring talk on Institute work. The aim and object of each member must be to help to all pull together. She commended Conway Institute for her different committees, such as the flower committee and the food committee, etc., but thought there should also be a social welfare, one to organize clubs, etc., for young people, and chaperone their outings, etc., to provide amusement, and to look after the health of the schools in our community. In fact, her slogan is do all you can and then make an extra effort to do some more good. Be sure to visit the sick. She repeated an exquisite little verse, which runs something like this:—

A rose to the living, if given,
Is worth many wreaths to the dead.
If we have not the roses to send, let us gather the leaves and give a smile and a little cheer.

Mrs. Lowe then gave us a fine address on "The Value of Self Control", and "The Girl Wanted". Practise self control from childhood. You can make or mar your life. The self-controlled person has poise and ability, also health and good looks and power to rule others. They rise above circumstances, and their life is an example for others. She spoke a few moments on the girl wanted. The kind of girls we need to raise, the different ways and means of girls nowadays to earn their own money and be independent. The day is past when it was necessary for a girl to teach school, dress make, or get married. Education opens up a great field of work. Nursing is a fine profession, and girls who love country life are raising poultry, keeping bees, etc.

A hearty vote of thanks was tendered Mrs. Lowe for her inspiring talk. The roll call was well responded to by new members. After singing "God Save the King", all repaired to the basement. About fifty sat down to lunch. Flowers and daintily set tables added to the attraction of the goodies, and a very enjoyable social time was spent.

July meeting will be held on Tuesday, July 13th, at the home of Mrs. Eph. Fitchett. All members please come and bring each a friend.

SUNDAY SCHOOL CONVENTION

The Township of Ernestitown held its Sunday School Convention in Wilton United Church, on June 16th, 1926.

The afternoon session was opened by Devotional Exercises conducted by Rev. G. C. R. McQuade. The Township President, Mr. R. J. Brethen, was in the chair. Music was furnished by the Sunday School choir, assisted by the Church choir, under the leadership of Mr. Robert Asselstine. A vocal selection, entitled "If I Were a Voice", was given by Rev. Roy Rickard, the Provincial Representative. Reports were given by the Departmental Officers, showing a high record, reaching the standard of 83 credits for the township. Mrs. A. MacGregor, of Napanee, County Secretary Treasurer, gave a very interesting illustration, "Of the small est things in life through perseverance, we can attain our highest ambitions, as the grain of sand forms the receptacle of the King's Palace. Rev. Roy Rickard, the Provincial Representative, then gave a very instructive address on "Worship in the Sunday School". 1st, The Love of Worship. (a) a yearning after God, (b) an approach to God, (c) God is not far away. 2nd, The Value and Program in the Sunday School fundamental to Instructive and Service. 3rd, Leadership; (a) Loyalty, (b) Bibliography. To love, to follow truth, to help to do my best, to ponder, to keep my heart and answer.

Supper was served the visiting delegates, and a pleasant social hour was spent.

The evening session opened with a Song service, led by Rev. R. Rickard and the Choir, followed by the Devotional Exercises by Rev. A. G. Mc-Millan. A selection was given by the Choir, and report of Nominating Committee given. Installation of officers elect was conducted by Rev. G. C. R. McQuade. Vocal selection, "My Task", by Rev. R. Rickard. Address on "The Nector of Victory" by Rev. G. E. Ross, of Bath, was listened to with much appreciation. Selection of the Choir. Address by the Provincial Representative, Rev. Roy Rickard, gave an object lesson, taking as his subject, "The Furrow of Life". God will be with us as we plough our furrow in this world in which we live.

Session was closed with prayer by Rev. G. E. Ross, bringing to a close a very successful and beneficial convention.

BIRTHDAY ANNIVERSARY

On Thursday afternoon, June 10th, the Ladies' Aid of the Adolphustown United Church met at the home of Mrs. Cyrus Allison, it being the occasion of her eighty-ninth birthday. About fifty guests were present, including many of her friends from a distance.

After the business part of the meeting was dispensed with, a very enjoyable social hour was spent, a splendid programme having been prepared for the occasion.

Her Pastor, Rev. H. Stainton, gave an interesting address, basing his talk on the following words found in the 90th Psalm, "We spend our life as a tale that is told. He very ably illustrated life, from youth to old age, as a story.

Mrs. W. D. Roblin then presented Mrs. Allison with a beautiful bouquet of carnations on behalf of the Ladies' Aid.

During the afternoon she also received two cablegrams, one from Mr. and Mrs. J. Haycock, Jr., England, and the other from her niece, Miss Edna Allison, Honolulu, both expressing the best wishes of the senders.

The birthday cake, which was made by Mrs. C. A. Allison, was prettily decorated with lilies of the valley, and red and cream candles to represent the eighty-nine years.

After a dainty lunch was served, they all joined in singing "For She's a Jolly Good Fellow", and that Mrs. Allison might still be spared many years to cheer her friends by her inspiring words and kindly smile, was the unanimous wish of all present.

SICK ABED EIGHT MONTHS

After Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Could Do All Her Work and Gained in Weight

Melfort, Saskatchewan. — "I had inward troubles, headaches and severe pains in my back and sides. I was so sick generally that I could not get up and I was in bed most of the time for eight months. An aunt came to visit and help me as I was unable to attend to my baby and could not do my work. She told me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and after taking two bottles I could get up and dress myself. I am now using Lydia E. Pinkham's Blood Medicine. When I first took the medicine I only weighed seventy-eight pounds. Now I weigh twice as much. If I get out of sorts or weary and can't sleep I always take another bottle of the Vegetable Compound. I find it wonderfully good for females troubled, and have recommended it to my neighbors. I will be only too glad to answer any letters I receive asking about it." — Mrs. WILLIAM STRUSIA, Box 466, Melfort, Saskatchewan. C

IN MEMORIAM.

In loving memory of Sidney Samuel Wakelin, who died June 20th, 1920.

Sad and sudden was the call
Of him so dearly loved by all;
His memory still is very dear,
So soft is shed a silent tear.
He bade no one a last farewell,
He said good-bye to none.
The heavenly gates had opened,
A loving voice said "Come";
And with farewells unspoken,
He gently entered home.

St. Andrew's Church, Napanee, was the scene of a very pretty wedding, on Wednesday, June 16th, 1926, when Miss Elizabeth Brown, eldest daughter of the late Thomas Brown, and Mrs. Brown, Enterprise, became the bride of Harold Milligan, Tamworth. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Mr. Thornley, Tamworth, in the presence of the immediate friends and relatives. The bride entered the church, leaning on her brother's arm, and walked up the aisle to the strains of Lohrengrin's wedding march, which was sweetly rendered by Miss Eva Cronk, a friend of the bride. The bride was daintily attired in a gown of rosewood satin faced crepe, trimmed with gold lace, and sleeves of georgette. She wore a pretty sand crepe de chene hat. Her shoes were blonde kid and hose to match. She wore the groom's gift, a pearl necklace, and carried a shower bouquet of bridal roses. The bride and groom were unattended. The groom's gift to the organist was a gold onyx ring set with pearls. Mr. and Mrs. Harold Milligan left on the 2.45 train for Toronto, Buffalo, Niagara and other western points, amid showers of rice and confetti and good wishes. The many beautiful and costly presents were evidence of the great popularity of both bride and groom. After their return Mr. and Mrs. Milligan will reside at their home, near Tamworth, where the groom is a prosperous young farmer.

MOSCOW

The weather is becoming more summer-like, which is very welcome to the farmers. — The Institute lecturer, Mrs. Lowe, of Toronto, spoke to the Institute members and their friends, in the Methodist Church, on Monday afternoon. Her hints on Institute work were very helpful, as was also her address on "The value of self-control", which had the rare virtue of being intensely interesting as well as instructive. Community singing and music added interest to the meeting, and a hearty vote of thanks was tendered the lecturer. All who did not hear her missed a treat. Mrs. Lowe was entertained by Mrs. J. A. Amey, President of the Moscow Women's Institute, and by Mrs. E. Cline, 1st Vice President.—Miss Berniece Huffman is in Kingston General Hospital, suffering from appendicitis. All hope for a speedy recovery. —Mrs. W. A. I. Huffman.—Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Huffman were in Kingston on Saturday. — The L. O. B. A. of Moscow will hold a lawn social on the church grounds, on Saturday, July 3rd. Miss Jennie Mills, Grand Secretary of Ontario East, will give an address, and a good program will be given. Also an Orchestra in attendance. Come and enjoy the treat of the season. Admission 25c., children under 12 years free.

The sympathy of the whole community goes out to Mr. and Mrs. Galbraith and family in this their sad bereavement. Mr. and Mrs. Harold Galbraith and little son, and Mr. W. GORDON CHILDREN RECEIVE HONORS

Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Gordon again enjoy the honors awarded their daughters. Five years ago, at the age of sixteen, their oldest daughter, Miss Lulu Viola, graduated from Odessa Continuation School, after having attended three years. Since then she has taught school in New York State, and at present is enjoying a position as managing-editor of the Clinton Courier, in Clinton, New York. When asked how she likes her work, Miss Gordon says, "I'd rather work than eat."

The Gordon family having gone to the United States a year before Miss Viola graduated, the two younger daughters have received the greater share of their schooling there. Miss Marion graduated from Waterville High School, this June, at the age of sixteen, with a grading of 86½ counts, 72 being necessary. Miss Marion attended High School only three years and finished three years of French and Latin, receiving honor marks in both. She was valedictorian of her class, and has received the Lamb prize of $50.00 for two successive years, her freshmen and sophomore years, while her younger sister, Miss Helen, carried off the golden fleece of the Lamb prize this year in her freshmen year. Miss Helen is one year younger than Marion, and there was only .003 of a count difference in the count that won the prize this year. Marion has been on the programme for prize speaking twice in High School, has held highest percentage in the High School regardless of whether competing with freshmen or senior, and has won several prizes in art and essay work. She plans on attending college in New York City, where she will study commercial art.

Helen expects to follow in her sisters' footsteps, and if so will graduate in two years. Kenneth, the only boy, and nine years old, entered the fifth grade, equivalent to the Junior Third Class, this June."

CHEAPEST LAND IS TO BE HAD IN CANADA

Charles Vincent Sale, Governor of the Hudson's Bay Company, and known in Napanee as the husband of one of this town's most charming belles (Miss Maud Rose), has, in an address at the annual meeting of the company, in London, Eng., told of the lure of cheap lands in Canada, as appears from the following cablegram :—

London, June 29.—Speaking at the annual meeting of the Hudson's Bay Company today, Charles Vincent Sale, Governor of the Company, in referring to the heavy taxation of the Company, reminded the proprietors that it had all been charged to capital receipts in respect of land. Consequently 2,819,000 acres which still remained in possession of the Hudson's Bay Company were an entirely free asset.

The Governor pointed out that the present price of land in the Prairie Provinces of Canada was lower than that of similar land in any other part of North America, despite the fact that the average tax on farm land was lower in Canada than in the United States, and the average yield of spring wheat was high.

Available figures suggested that the price of farm lands in Canada were as low now as they ever would be, he continued. Here, then, was the great inducement which Canada offered to the immigrant farmer—the cheapest land with the highest yield on the North American continent.

SOFTBALL

Napanee 9, Deseronto 6.

On Friday evening the Napanee All Star Softball team defeated Deseronto Ponies on the latter's grounds by 9-6. The game was the fastest softball game of the year, and the locals deserved their win. Chris. Taylor started on the mound for the locals, but gave way to Mary Stinson, who pitched the team to a well earned victory. The locals presented a new line-up, and all hit and fielded well.

Following is the line-up :—

Napanee—D. Richardson 1b, M. Grass c, M. Embury 2b, H. O'Neill lf, M. Stinson ss, M. Bates rf, D. Daverin 3b, I. Embury cf, C. Taylor p.

Deseronto — W. Whitton ss, J. Genereaux 3b, A. Gaulin 1b, G. Wagar 2b, I. Normile p, E. Harvey c, I. Hoppings cf, M. Genereaux lf, I. Perry rf, P. Gaulin rf, T. Foote rf.

Umpires—Loucks and Ostrander.

The latest rumour in the softball world says that Napanee is to have two leagues this summer. It says that there is to be a Men's Church League, and a Mercantile League. Such a plan ought to be a success. A Church League game and a Mercantile League game could be both run on the same night. At the end of the season the winners of the two leagues could play off, and this ought to draw a big crowd.

Many fans are of the opinion that if the diamond was skinned at the new Riverdale Park that the girls would play better ball. The ground is terribly rough in some places and this seems to be the only way of getting it in the proper condition.

The game last Friday in Deseronto was only an exhibition game, but it shows that the locals are right in the race.

Lefty Curran, former Gibbard south paw, has bobbed up again. He is now twirling fine ball for Elginburg in the Inter-County League. Curran has played ball in quite a few places.

The Napanee Beavers lost their third game of the season to Kingston Dark Horses, on Saturday, by a 6-3 score, at the Cricket Field. The Beavers have now won seven, and lost three.

The teams :—

Napanee—Wilson cf, Ballard 2b, Wagar 1b, Fraser c, Gratton lf, Daverin p, Quinn 3b; Plumley rf, Vanalstine ss.

Kingston—McKee lf, Gowley c, Matheson rf, Elliott 1b, Day 3b, Patterson p, Pennock 2b, Lee ss, Hall lf.

At a meeting of the Softball Association held on Monday evening the following schedule was drawn up :—

Girls' League.

Friday, July 2nd—St. Mary's vs. Trinity.

Friday, July 9th—Leftovers vs. Grace.

All girls' games will be played in Riverdale Park, and must start promptly at 6.30 p.m.

MARIE PAUL, Secretary,
Napanee Softball Association.

BASEBALL.

Odessa seems to be the team to beat in the Lennox and Addington League race. They have won all games to date, both home and away. They have a team comprised of youngsters and veterans, and all are hitting. Kilgannan and Heath are pitching great ball and the fielders are backing them up. The other teams haven't hit their stride yet, and when they do, they'll make the league more interesting. Newburgh and Adolphustown are trailing in second place, with a .500 average, while Tamworth has yet to win a game.

Odessa slammed Tamworth farther into the cellar on Saturday by a 19-9 defeat. Tamworth were right in the game till the sixth, when Odessa let loose and put the game on ice. Pope twirled nice ball for Tamworth, but was given poor support. Holland succeeded him in the sixth and pitched nice ball. Kilgannon hurled nice ball for Odessa and was given good support. He whiffed eleven and allowed twelve hits.

The teams :—

Tamworth—Ehrett c, Galbraith cf, Harrison ss, Hetherington 2b, G. Harrison rf, Dillon 3b, Pope p, Anderson lf, Genderon 1b.

Odessa—B. Smith lf, McConnell 3b, Smith 2b, Cairns c, Heath ss, Reid 1b, O'Neil cf, Kilgannon rf, V. Kilgannon p.

Umpire—Fraser Smith, Kingston.

GOLF

A Young Member of the Hole-in-One Club

Although golf has been played in Napanee for thirty years, it remained for a school boy, Carson Graham, to be the first member to hole out in one shot. On Wednesday morning, while playing with Miss Mary Daly and Billy Vandusen, Carson found his drive from the fifth tee in the cup, the distance being 215 yards. At the present time Carson is the holder of the "Daly Challenge Cup," which he won last fall in the annual elimination contest.

TAMWORTH UNITED CHURCH

The sermon subject for Sunday is "David's Idea of an Acceptable Offering."

The lawn social held last Saturday night on the church grounds at Marlbank, was a decided success. The congregation are especially appreciative of the contribution made to the programme by the singing of Mr. and Mrs. V. R. McCallum, of Tamworth.

The Reidville congregation are still worshipping in the Community Hall at Croydon, and will continue to do so for a few weeks, pending the completion of the repairs on the Reidville Church. The attendance both at Sunday School and Divine Worship at Croydon is very gratifying.

Last Wednesday, at 6 p.m., at the home of Mrs. John Black, Napanee, the minister united in marriage Miss Ada Anna Dickson, of Southampton, to Thomas M. Donovan, of Tamworth.

After the wedding trip they will make their home on the groom's farm a mile and a half south of Tamworth.

The hearts of the inmates of the parsonage are gladdened by the home-coming of Kenneth Thornley, who has completed a year's teaching in Northern Ontario. He is planning to attend the Summer School at Queen's.

Paul, Willard and Kenneth Thornley start next Friday, with a party from Napanee, for a ten days' boating tour of the Thousand Islands.

O. R. E. C. CONVENTION

The O. R. E. C. annual Convention of the Townships of Camden and Sheffield was held at Tamworth, on Thursday, June 17th, opening at 9.40 a.m., and was a wonderful success.

The opening exercises were very ably conducted by Rev. Mr. Thornley, of Tamworth, taking his short talk from St. John the 21st chapter, touching on the re-appearance of Christ to his diciples, and His watchful care over them then is the same over us to-day. Also our need to assure our Saviour of our love for him in our work and the need to feed the lambs and life the fallen. The time for work and labor for the Master being when we are still young (as spoken of in the 18th verse of the chapter) when we can go whither we wouldest. For in old age we must stretch forth our hand for assistance and be led by others. Prayer was offered and a hymn sang, and the President, Mr. F. E. Purcell, gave a very brief and inspiring talk on the need and work of the S. S., it being the foundation of the church. The desire to change the parents' minds from sending their children to S. S. to that of coming themselves and bringing their children, thus learning to know the officers and teachers to whom they are entrusting the most important part of their children's training.

Reports from the Superintendents of Divisions were called for. The Temperance Superintendent, Mr. W. Embury, of Wesley, gave the report of his division, in which four schools out of twelve reported splendid work along temperance work.

Mrs. S. E. Shier gave a splendid report of the Children's Division, of which she is Superintendent, two schools providing special seats for little tots, seven schools using graded lessons for beginners.

Mrs. T. H. P. Anderson, Superintendent of Teacher Training Division, gave a brief report, only three schools out of the twelve reporting teacher training classes, and as yet none having passed examinations, but hoping to after September 1st.

The Superintendent of Girls' Division, Mrs. B. Finlay, of Strathcona; the Superintendent of Boys' Division, Mr. P. Asselstine, of Moscow; the Superintendent of Adult Division, Mr. Wilson Dopking, of Enterprise, and the Superintendent of Home Department, Mrs. S. D. Lockwood, of Enterprise, all of whom were unable to be present, thus reports from these divisions were given from the schools represented by delegates.

Mr. Rickard, the O. R. E. C. Representative, took charge of the meeting, and a very animated and interesting Round Table Conference, which was a great help to all S. S. workers and an inspiration to all those present, was conducted, touching on the work of every Division Superintendent. The great need of a cradle roll and better ways to conduct same to greater achievement. How to conduct the Home Department. The discussions were varied along this line. However, Mr. Rickard suggested to Superintendent of this Department the necessity of visiting the homes and teaching how to establish a family altar, etc.

The discussion of the Teachers' Training was ideal, and many of the schools will surely endeavor to organize classes in the ensuing year after hearing Mr. Rickard's ideas. We demand so much training of teachers for our children in our public and high schools, why not just as necessary for the S. S. teachers.

After appointing the Nominating and the Resolution Committees, the morning session was brought to a close by singing and prayer, at 11.50, and dinner was served in the Religious Hall.

After partaking of a sumptuous repast, Rev. Mr. Anderson moved a vote of thanks to the people of Tamworth for their hospitality, and was seconded by Mr. Dunwoody, of Newburgh, after which community singing was indulged in for a short time.

At 1.30 p.m. the Nominating and Resolution Committees met at the church, consisting of the Ministers, Superintendent of the S. S., and the present Executive of the O. R. E. C.

At 2 p.m. the afternoon session was opened by song service, led by Rev. Mr. Rickard, after which Rev. Mr. Bunt, of Enterprise, conducted the Devotional Exercises, opening with Hymn No. 13, reading from the 13th chapter of St. Mathem and giving a brief discourse on same. The parable of the seed sown by the reaper, some falling in stony places, is much the same to-day in the work of the S. S. The sins of the world choke the work of Christ. But when seed falls in good ground it springs up to an hundred fold. Hymn No. 224 was sang, followed by prayer.

A report of the Nominating Committee was read by the Secretary, and the officers were asked to form a circle at the front, and Rev. Mr. Anderson conducted the brief induction service. The officers are as follows:

President—Mr. F. E. Purcell, Colebrook.
Vice President—Mr. J. E. Huffman, Tamworth.
Secretary Treasurer—Mr. G. A. Wagar, Enterprise.
Supt. Children's Division—Mrs. S. E. Shier, Newburgh.
Supt. Boys' Division—Mr. Percy Asselstine, Moscow.
Supt. Girls' Division—Mrs. Bruce Finlay, Napanee.
Supt. Adult Division—Mr. W. Dopking, Enterprise.
Supt. Home Dept. Division—Mr. W. G. Richmond, Tamworth.
Supt. Teacher Training—Mrs. T. H. P. Anderson, Newburgh.
Supt. Missionary—Mrs. F. S. Martin, Yarker.
Supt. Temperance—Mr. W. Embury, Newburgh.

A solo, "My Task", was given by Rev. Mr. Rickard, after which he gave a short talk on points for sincere worship.

1. The need of a fine atmosphere. How can little children be expected to worship God in the furnace room of your church? The necessity of a comfortable atmosphere. Can any one sincerely worship God if in a freezing room or too warm? The need of an ideal janitor is fundamental to the church as any other officer in his own work.

2. Principals for service.

(a). Preparation on the part of all those taking charge of the S. S. service.

(b). Let the service be one that meets the various needs of those present, a hymn or story for the children, and a talk or hymn for the adults, etc.

(c). Let the different organized classes take charge of the entire service. It is a training for the young people especially.

(d). Have a theme in the worship. Love, service, devotion, prayer, etc., and always the music should be of the finest kind.

(e). Parents and teachers should interpret the hymns and Bible passage to the children.

The report of the Resolution Committee was given by Rev. Mr. Bunt:

Having listeren with interest to the discussion during the morning session of this Convention, we beg leave to introduce the following resolutions:—

1. That each S. S. secure an individual S. S. Standard Chart, so that it may understand what is required to become a one hundred per cent school.

2. That a Workers' Conference be held at least once in three months in each S. S.

3. That greater emphasis be placed on Teacher Training, and that every S. S. seek to have a class in same, that they they continue until the exams be taken.

4. (a) That graded lessons be used for at least the primary division; (b) That each S. S. have a definite missionary objective.

5. That greater emphasis be placed in the matter of training in Scientific Temperance, and that every endeavour be used to secure pledge signing.

6. That this Convention express its approval of the O. T. A. and urge all our people to enthusiastically support the same.

7. That systematic effort be carried out in every S. S. toward the securing of life decision for Jesus Christ.

8. That we appreciate very much the presence with us of Rev. R. H. Rickard, and the splendid contribution he has made to the success of this convention. We also wish to congratulate him upon his appointment to the staff of the new Albert College.

9. That whereas some are prevented from attending S. S. on account of having to draw milk on Sunday morning, and that whereas it is in the best judgment of cheese inspectors that where factories are provided with double equipment, there is no need for cheese being made on Sunday in order that a first class article may be produced, this Convention places itself on record as depreating the growing custom of manufacturing cheese on the Lord's Day.

10. That a vote of appreciation be presented the Board and people of Tamworth United Church for the use of their Church building for the holding of this convention, and for their generous entertainment.

Community singing was indulged in for ten minutes as a recreation and everybody changed seats. Those born in each month sitting together, after which Mr. Rickard gave a very inspiring address on parents and children, emphasizing the great precaution every one should use in their life, for unconsciously every person is setting an example for some child. Children are great imitators. They are apt to try to imitate even the facial expressions of some of their elders, and if they are so apt, how much more they will copy the example of higher ideals. He also told of the necessity of greater companionship between parents and children, most especially the father and his boys. Fathers need to be landmarks for their boys, and their guidance and companionship will always help to hold their eye on the highest ideal which so often becomes biased or topsy turvy.

The need to instil into the child's mind the ever guiding presence of the Great Captain whose companionship is never severed, and whose hand is ever on our shoulder ready to guide us through the difficult tasks unmarred.

The Convention was brought to a close by the singing of Hymn No. 85, "A Better Day Is Coming", and prayer.

WISE AND OTHERWISE

Wifey—"Isn't this a duck of a frock?"

Hubby—"I should call it a pelican, judging by the bill."

The poet wrote:—"I send you my latest poem, fused in the crucible of thought."

The editor wrote: "I refuse it."

Mum—"Is dad asleep yet, Johnny?"

Johnny—"Yes, mum, all but his nose."

Teeny Ted — "Daddy, why does Uncle call Mummy your better half?"

Dad—"To remind her that she's not the whole show, my boy."

Sweet and palatable, Mother Graves' Worm Exterminator is acceptable to children, and it does its work surely and promptly.

Freedom From Asthma. Asthma is one of the most distressing troubles, sudden in its attacks and prolonged in its agonies. Frequently many things are tried, but nothing seems to give hope of relief. Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Asthma Remedy is the one help which can be depended upon. If you have tried other remedies without success, do not fail to get at once a package of this uniformly successful preparation.

Young Poetress—"What do you think I ought to get for this poem?"

Editor—"Well, on account of your youth, they might let you off with a suspended sentence."

"You can always tell a lady by the way she dresses," says a society gossiper.

"Possibly; but we don't all have the opportunity of seeing her dress.

A Remedy for Earache.—To have the earache is to endure torture. The ear is a delicate organ and few care to deal with it, considering it work for a doctor. Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil offers a simple remedy. A few drops upon a piece of lint or medicated cotton and placed in the ear will do much in relieving pain.

Naturally, they teach patriotism in the schools in England, but it is doubtful whether the teachers realize the way the children apply their lesson to everyday life.

Little Doris Dunning, for example, was convalescent from a spell of influenza and had developed a clamorous appetite for the sweets that all children love.

But when a plate heaped with French pastries was placed before her, she balked.

"No, mother," she declared, "I won't eat French pastries until France pays her War debt!"

Miller's Worm Powders will purge the stomach and intestines of worms so effectively and so easily and painlessly that the most delicate stomach will not feel any inconvenience from their action. They recommend themselves to mothers as a preparation that will restore strength and vigor to their children and protect them from the debilitating efforts which result from the depredations of worms.

The policeman, hearing the shot, burst into the fashionable apartment. Cringing before him on the floor was the crumpled figure of a woman, weeping hysterically, a smoking pistol clutched in her trembling fingers.

"My husband! Oh, my husband!" she moaned.

"Control yourself lady," urged the officer. "Where is the corpse?"

"Gone," sobbed the woman. "He went out through the window. I — I missed him."

"My dear," remarked Jenks, who had been reading a massive tome entitled "The Wonders of Nature," "this is truly a remarkable work.

"Nature is marvellous! Stupendous! When I read a book of this description it makes me think how puerile, how insignificant man is."

"Hum!" remarked his wife, turning over the pages of the volume briskly. "A woman doesn't have to wade through nine hundren pages to discover that."

The Many Purpose Oil. — Both in the house and stable there are scores of uses for Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil. Use it for cuts, bruises, burns, scalds, the pains of rheumatism and sciatica, sore throat and chest. Horses are liable very largely to similar ailments and mishaps as afflict mankind, and are equally amenable to the healing influence of this fine old remedy which has made thousands of firm friends during the past fifty years.

Wax Your Floors Electrically
—Without Stooping, Kneeling or Soiling Your Hands

JOHNSON'S WAX
Electric floor Polisher

This wonderful new invention takes all the work out of keeping floors beautiful and makes this household task a pleasure. Ten times faster than hand methods, it enables you to polish all your floors and linoleum in the time it formerly took to do a single room.

Johnson's Wax Electric Floor Polisher gives a much higher, evener and more beautiful polish than can be obtained by hand. It actually burnishes the wax.

It reaches under davenports, buffets, beds, etc., without moving the furniture. Polishes the hard-to-get-at places as easily as the middle of the floor.

WEAK AND NERVOUS

A Condition Due to Watery Blood — Easily Corrected Through the Use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

Thin, pale girls lack the power of resistance to disease that rich, red blood gives. Nervous breakdown is the result of thin blood. So is indigestion, headaches, backaches, and many other troubles. Girls suffering from thin, impure blood need just the help Dr. Williams' Pink Pills can give. For many years Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have been a world-famous blood-builder and nerve restorer. They actually make new, rich, red blood which imparts new vigor and life to all the organs of the body. Their first effect is usually shown by an improved appetite; then the spirits revive and restlessness at night gives way to health restoring sleep. For sufferers from anaemia, nervousness, general weakness or physical exhaustion Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are a restorative of the utmost value. This is proved by the experience of Miss Sarah A. McEachern, R. R. No. 3, Brule, N.S., who says;—"About three years ago I became very weak and nervous. I had pains in my side and back. I also had frequent pains in the back of my head and neck. I was very pale and very weak. I had attacks of nervous irritability, and at times I was so nervous that life seemed hardly worth living. While in this condition a friend strongly advised me to take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I began taking these pills and used them for about two months with the result that there was such an improvement in my condition that friends would ask me what I was taking, and I was only too glad to tell them it was Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I am now enjoying good health and am glad to give this statement for the benefit it may be to some other sufferer."

You can get these pills from any medicine dealer or by mail at 50 cents a box from The Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

After a wonderful week-end on Ontario roads

No speed records were made—for it was a trip of wholesome enjoyment. Two days in the vigorous outdoors—in friendly farming country, through alluring woodlands, through fascinating villages and towns.

The trip will be remembered by what was seen, not by the speed at which the road was covered. With moderate driving, every beauty spot was enjoyed; every panorama was appreciated.

There is good sense and good business in moderate driving in the country. Good sense, because it enables you to see everything as you go along. Good business because excessive speed is dangerous and destroys the road surfaces. As the cost of road maintenance is borne by you and other motorists, you are interested in helping along this movement to preserve Ontario's roads.

Those who persist in breaking the speed laws will find a numerous traffic patrol on the highways, whose duty it is to rigidly enforce the law.

THE HON. GEO. S. HENRY, Minister of Highways — S. L. SQUIRE, Deputy Minister

Issued by the Ontario Department of Highways to secure the co-operation of motorists in abating the abuse of the roads of the Province. 58

New Session Ordained.

An interesting event took place on Sunday afternoon at Melrose, when a new session of ten elders for the Shannonville Circuit were ordained by Rev. A. J. Wilson, Chairman of the Presbytery. The church was well filled, and from all over the circuit people were gathered together. After the ordination the Pastor, Rev. H. P. L. Seymour, conducted the communion service, in which the newly ordained session assisted.

The New Pastor of Grace Church.

On Sunday morning and evening the Rev. Wendell P. Woodger will preach his inaugural sermons as the new Pastor of Grace Church. No young minister has come to Napanee with higher commendation. The officials of the church are hoping for a full attendance on the part of the congregation and visiting friends at both services. Special reception and social service on Monday evening at eight o'clock.

FORTIETH WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

A very happy event took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Ruttan, Odessa, Ernesttown Township, on Wednesday evening, June 23rd, when they celebrated the fortieth anniversary of their wedding day, and in honour of the occasion a large number of guests assembled, heartily congratulating the bride and groom upon their attaining the fortieth mile stone on life's journey together under such happy circumstances. Much was added to the cheerfulness of the occasion by the artistic decorations of both the rooms and tables. When the appointed time had arrived the bride and groom, with about fifty-five fortunate guests, sat down to a bounteous repast. One guest worth of special mention, was Mrs. Harriet Tompkins, of Newburgh, aged 96 years, mother of the bride. Her youthful spirit kept her alive to all the proceedings, and enabled her to enjoy the occasion to the utmost degree.

When all had done full justice to the bounteous wedding dinner, the customary toast was proposed to the bride and groom, by Rev. W. R. Merrick. The toast was followed by appreciative speeches by Rev. U. Smith, of Odessa; Mr. Drury, of Kingston; Mr. Tompkins, of Bath, and Mr. Fred Caton, of Odessa, speaking highly of the bride and groom during the many years of their happy acquaintance, and wishing the happy couple a long and happy future. This was followed with singing "Blest Be the Tie That Binds our Hearts in Christian Love", etc.

The bridegroom and bride responded very nicely to the toast and kind speeches made by their guests.

The remaining part of the evening was spent in social conversation, interspersed with singing of many of the old favourite hymns and stirring religious songs familiar to all. They were the recipients of many useful and beautiful presents, which were appreciated very much.

Among those from a distance were Mr. and Mrs. and Olive Drury, of Kingston; Mrs. Ray Ruttan and children, of Kingston, and Mr. and Mrs. Allen Tompkins, of Oswego.

RURAL DEANERY OF LENNOX AND ADDINGTON

A meeting of the Ruri-decanal Chapter of Lennox and Addington was held in the Parish of Camden East, on Thursday, June 24th.

At 10.30 a.m. there was a Celebration of the Holy Communion, at which the Rector of the Parish, the Reverend R. W. Spencer, was the celebrant, assisted by the Reverend Rural Dean Coleman and the Reverend H. Pringle. The sermon was preached by the Reverend C. E. S. Radcliffe, Rector of Deseronto.

After the short business meeting at 2 p.m., two papers were read, the first entitled "The Dangers of an Empty Life", by the Reverend J. A. Poston, Rector of Tamworth, and the second being "Our Sunday School Leaflets", by the Reverend W. G. Swayne, Rector of Bath.

FAREWELL SERVICE

Grace Church, Napanee, was filled on Sunday night last, when Rev. A. J. Terrill conducted his farewell service. St. Andrew's and Trinity had closed for the occasion, and the Pastors of these churches were on the platform, and took part in the service.

Mr. Terrill spoke kindly of his pastorate in Napanee, of the friends he had made, and of the co-operation existing between the various religious organizations and leaders in the town.

The sermon was on the theme "The faith once delivered unto the saints". Mr. Terrill showed that the faith once delivered was a divine and manifold thing. That it could be expressed in many different ways. There are various types of people, and congregations differ just as individuals do. Therefore it would be a calamity if in the church any attempt was made to make all men think alike or to make them conform to one type of worship. This theme Mr. Terrill elaborated and illustrated in many ways, as he stated it was an attempt in a short while to state what for five years he had been saying week after week, and he succeeded exceedingly well in that difficult task.

As Mr. Terrill leaves the town, after a five year pastorate, he carries with him the esteem and friendship, not only of his own church, but of the whole community, who wish him all good wishes in his new work.

DRIVER EXONERATED

The verdict of the Coroner's jury empanelled to investigate the death of Winnifred Galbraith, the thirteen year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Galbraith, of Croydon, who died almost immediately after being struck by an automobile on the streets of Napanee on Wednesday last, read as follows:—

"That Winnifred Galbraith came to her death at about eleven o'clock on the forenoon of Wednesday, 23rd day of June, by being struck by a motor car owned by Mr. J. S. Johnston, K.C., of Toronto, and driven by Mr. Ernest Wills, of Toronto, in front of Hooper's Drug Store, in the Town of Napanee.

"And we further find that we exonerate the said Ernest Wills from all blame in connection with the death of the said Winnifred Galbraith."

NEW CHURCH DEDICATED

POINT ANNE CHURCH FORMALLY OPENED

On Sunday atfernoon the new United Church at Point Anne was crowded to the door for the Dedication service. Besides the minister, Mr. Sharpe, there were present on the platform Rev. D. C. Ramsay, of Belleville; Rev. Dr. Mallott, of Belleville; Rev. F. S. Brown, of Barrie, and Rev. A. J. Wilson, of Napanee.

A regular diet of worship was held conducted by Mr. Ramsay. Dr. Mallott preached the sermon. Rev. A. J. Wilson, Chairman of the Belleville Presbytery, then conducted the dedicatory service and formally declared the church open.

Much credit for the splendid building is due to the indefatigable work of the minister in charge, Rev. Mr. Sharpe.

LENNOX DISTRICT MEETING OF WOMEN'S INSTITUTES

Representatives and delegates from seven branches of this organization held a very successful meeting at Wilton, on June 30th. The Institutes represented were Napanee, Adolphustown, Conway, Bay View, Maple Leaf, Wilton and Odessa. The Wilton Branch entertained with kindly courtesy and right good will the one hundred and twenty ladies present.

Reports were given from the different branches of a great amount of good work being done in numerous ways for home and country, each branch very much alive and working in the interests of its own community. This is well, but in the good work there is a great necessity to pull all together.

Mrs. J. B. Miller, the District President, called on Mrs. W. D. Roblin, of Adolphustown Branch, to give her report as District Delegate at Ottawa Convention last year. Mrs. Roblin gave a list of the different officers elected on the Federation Board, and those who were appointed heads of the different committees.

Mrs. F. W. Allison gave a short address on "Federation." The federation has existed for seven years, and she asks if there are any very great advantages to the branches in being affiliated with the federation. There is nothing compulsory about it. Each branch is left to decide if it will be in the federation or not. The federation has no lack of funds for doing good work as they have a large amount of money on hand. Co-operation is the one thing that will work wonders. Mrs. Allison quoted from Kipling to demonstrate this.

Next came a solo by a Bay View member; reading by Maple Leaf; song by Odessa; song by Wilton; reading by Odessa; violin music by Wilton.

Then came the reading of current events. Mrs. Wagar, of Napanee, was unable to be present, and Miss Thompson, of Napanee Institute, took her place. All the latest current events were given, and served to freshen up everybody's memory.

The same district officers were re-elected by acclamation, that is, Mrs. J. B. Miller, President; Mrs. W. L. Haight, 1st Vice President; Mrs. W. Fretts, 2nd Vice President; Mrs. A. P. Young, Secretary. Mrs. Wood, of Napanee, was named as district delegate to attend the Ottawa Convention.

In view of the fact that Napanee was the only branch to have paid in their federation fees, none of the other branches had a chance in sending a delegate. Right here I wish to say I think if the federation is to do any good, we must belong and pay our fees. We never know when some vital question will confront the women of Canada, and if we are affiliated with the Federated Women's Institutes, we may have a chance of having something to say on these questions.

Mrs. Reid Roblin and Mrs. T. Miller were appointed to audit the books and found them correct.

Mr. Wilfred Wilson and Mr. Robinson, of Napanee, each addressed the meeting in a short talk about the Chautauqua, and asked the help of the Women's Institutes to make it a success.

A vote of thanks was given to all who helped to make this meeting a success, and especially the Wilton ladies, who now served cake and ice cream to all.

The meeting closed by singing, "For They Are Jolly Good Fellows".

Dear Miss Barrie:

We, the undersigned, as you are about to leave us, wish to express our appreciation of your work as a teacher.

Not only have you taught us to know, love and appreciate the true and beautiful in art and literature, but you have unselfishly spent many extra hours in teaching us who are in the Entrance Class, so as not to give us undue attention in school hours.

We thank you very much for all your kindness, and even when it was necessary for you to reprove us we see now it was because of your anxiety for our advancement.

Please accept this gift as a small token of our love and thanks for what you have taught us.

We wish you success and prosperity, and your many friends in Newburgh assure you of their loving interest.

Signed by the Entrance Class and other Pupils of the Senior Department of Newburgh Public School.

The address was read by Ruby Switzer and the presentation made to Miss Barrie by Olive Shetlor.

INDUCTION SERVICE IN GRACE CHURCH

On Friday last the Rev. W. P. Woodger, the minister elect of Grace Church, was inducted into his present charge by the representatives of Presbytery appointed for the service.

At 7.30 o'clock the Presbytery met in the school room and was duly constituted. The members then proceeded to the body of the church, where Divine service was held. Rev. A. J. Wilson preached an appropriate sermon on the work of the church, and addressed the congregation on their duty and relationship to the ministry. That part of the service being ended, the officiating minister narrated the steps leading up to the induction, and then proceeded to instal the minister into his new pastorate.

The minister was asked the prescribed questions, and after answering them in the affirmative, the congregation by standing, signified their adherance and loyalty to the Pastor of their choice. The members of Presbytery then gave Mr. Woodger the right hand of fellowship.

The minister was then addressed by Rev. W. R. Tanton, who spoke of the happy circumstances under which Mr. Woodger takes charge of Grace, of the close personal relations between himself and Mr. Woodger, and concluded with an outline of the duties of a minister in relation to a congregation.

Altogether it was a most impressive and interesting service.

We all hope for a speedy recovery.

TAMWORTH UNITED CHURCH

The sermon subject for next Sunday is "Fighting the Good Fight."

The re-opening of the Reidville Church will be on Sunday, July 18th, with services as follows: Sunday School 10.30 a.m., followed by divine worship and communion of the Lord's Supper, and service in the evening at 7.30 o'clock. Refreshments will be served and a programme given on the church lawn on the following Monday evening, July 19th.

The Reidville congregation is duly appreciative of the courtesy of the L. O. B. A., of Croydon, in giving us the use of their Community Hall for the five Sundays during the time of the repairing of the church.

On Sunday, July 18th, the evening service at Tamworth will be withdrawn, on account of the Reidville re-opening. The Marlbank service will be in the afternoon on that Sunday, at which the Lord's Supper will be observed.

Our first Quarterly Official Board meeting for this conference year will be held at Tamworth, in the R. E. building, on Friday evening, July 16th, at 8 o'clock.

DOCTOR ADVISED OPERATION FOR MRS. PENN

She Escaped It by Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Windsor, Ont.—"After the birth of my first baby I was very much rundown in health and the doctor said I must have an operation as I was suffering from a displacement. A friend wanted me to try your medicine—Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound—and I took it steadily for a year. During this time I was carrying my second baby and I felt real well all the time and did not have a hard confinement. I feel sure the Vegetable Compound did me a lot of good, and all my people do, too. One sister in Leamington, Ontario, takes it, and both sisters praise it as a good medicine. I am more than pleased with the result."—Mrs. W. PENN, Windsor, Ontario.

Mrs. Corbin Relieved from Pain

Stewiacke, N. S.—"I had pains across my back and in my side for two years after my first baby was born. My mother had taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I read about it in the papers, so I tried it and the pains all left me. I have a family of three children now, and the medicine helped me during the months before they were born. I recommend it to my friends."—Mrs. CARY W. CORBIN, Main Street, Stewiacke, Nova Scotia.

overseas with the Canadian Expeditionary Forces. He set out on the return journey, but had gone only a short distance when he was overcome and fell unconscious in the snow. When he later regained consciousness and managed to stagger to the house of a neighbor, both hands were completely frozen. It was necessary to send the unfortunate man to Winnipeg for treatment, but the effect of his experience was such that amputation of both hands followed.

Under such circumstances and with such a severe handicap, the future was not very bright for Mr. Corbett, but the clouds did lift and what followed brought the sunshine back to his life.

After consultation with representatives of the Department of Colonization, Agriculture and Natural Resources, Canadian National Railways, the latter recommended that the most advantageous occupation in which to place Mr. Corbett would be poultry raising.

An up-to-date poultry house was erected last November, while this spring additions were made in the form of a modern brooder house complete with stove and feed hoppers. This building is large enough for three to four hundred young chicks. Mr. Corbett has found a ready market for eggs, and as the hens laid well all winter he has been obtaining some revenue right from the start. From this it will be seen that the project is now well established as a going concern.

Give Confidence To Young Mothers

By Always Keeping Baby's Own Tablets in the Home

A simple and safe remedy for the common ills of babyhood and childhood should be kept in every home where there is either a baby or a young child. Often it is necessary to give the little one something to break up a cold, allay fever, correct sour stomach and banish the irritability that accompanies the cutting of teeth.

Experienced mothers always keep Baby's Own Tablets in the home as a safeguard against the troubles that seize their little ones so suddenly and the young mother can feel reasonably safe with a box of these Tablets at hand and ready for emergencies.

Baby's Own Tablets are a mild but thorough laxative that acts without griping and they are absolutely guaranteed to be free from opiates or other harmful drugs. They are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

ROD AND GUN

Published for the first time, the official photographs and accounts of the Canadian Government Arctic Expedition of 1925 will interest readers of Rod and Gun. The story of the trip to the ice fields with its three full pages of unusual photographs is only one of the interesting features of the July issue of Rod and Gun, just published. Bourmont to Manitowaki is a yarn of a canoe trip in the wilds of Quebec, well told by J. Jenkins, while William E. Dalton has some good wrinkles for trappers.

Bonnycastle Dale this month tells something of the Exquisitely Furred Destroyers, namely the mink and the weasel. Fishing Notes has an interesting line-up for the anglers this month and Fishing Regulations for the current year are included in the issue. Outdoor Talk and Guns and Ammunition with Kennel and J. W. Wilson's article on the owl are of usual high standard.

Editorially in the June issue, Rod and Gun takes issue with Senator Belcourt's proposed bill to further restrict the sale of firearms. The magazine raises the contention that the bill is not in the interests of Canadian sportsmen and opposes its intention of fighting the proposed legislation on that ground.

Rod and Gun is published monthly by W. J. Taylor, Limited, Woodstock, Ontario.

Its Quality Sells It. — The fact that so many thousands of intelligent people continue to use Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil speaks volumes for its healing efficacy. Ever since it was first introduced it has grown steadily in public favor, owing entirely to its manifold usefulness in relieving and healing sickness. As a specific for cuts, burns, scalds, and various inflammatory pains its record is beyond reproach.

NATURE NEVER IN A HURRY

Taking Lesson From Wise Old Mother, Man Will Learn to Curb His Foolish Impatience.

We sometimes get impatient at the slowness of world improvement. We see the cruelties of a great war, cruelties beyond belief, and we are sick at heart to think the world is not in a mood overnight to abolish war. We see ignorance leading to poverty and wretchedness and we wonder that education is not made universal at once. We see preventable sickness producing disability and suffering and we are hopeless at the slow dissemination of modern medical knowledge and preventive measures.

And then it is borne in on us that Nature never is in a hurry. Out in Colorado the Rocky mountains turn a tumbling sea of peaks toward the sky. Standing on the summit of Pike's or Long's and looking off of that chaos of rock one naturally thinks some frightful convulsion of Nature threw up these mighty peaks.

But that thought is wrong. Geologists have learned that the mountain ranges were slowly and imperceptibly carved out by the action of rain and snow and frost and ice. First the highlands slowly emerged from the ocean. Then the rains and streams and glaciers made gullies and left the peaks. An observer returning at century intervals probably would have seen slight change. But eventually the work was done and the mountains made.

That is the way Nature operates. Man can afford to curb his impatience. —Kansas City Star.

INVENTOR MAKES WATER TALK

Contrivance Known as "Katie" is Hailed as a Most Valuable Aid to Navigators.

"Katie," one of the most wonderful inventions exhibited at the recent shipping engineering exhibition in London, is likely to prove the most valuable aid to sea captains and navigators yet discovered. "Katie" is the name given to the invention of an engineer, by which he makes water talk.

It is an automatic float, with a sensitive depth-finding mechanism connected telephonically, and is placed on the surface of the water. Another delicate instrument rests on the bottom, with a wire connection. When an engineer wants to know the depth of water at a particular spot he rings up "Katie" on the phone and she tells him the exact depth.

She speaks in soft, jerky buzzes in the manner of the Morse code, and when she gets out of her depth she chatters. If the current is too strong she becomes speechless. "Katie" will also warn a captain how much water has got into the hold or the engine room after a collision.

The floating ship's safe is another wonderful invention. It automatically casts itself adrift from a sinking ship, and will send up a distress signal every hour for twelve hours. A sound signal is also given, and it will burn a light at night for three months.

Hard Luck.

Friends of a certain automobile owner are having a lot of fun these days with a story that leaked out about him after a fire at a downtown garage recently.

This motorist carried $800 insurance on his car and had been trying to dispose of it for several weeks for about $100 more than the amount of the insurance.

He kept the machine in the garage that was burned and, when informed of the fire, confidently told his friends how fortunate he was in having $800 worth of insurance on a machine for which he had been offered only about $700.

On arriving at the garage to make a survey of the ruins he was met by one of the attaches of the place, who congratulated him on the fact that his machine was one of the three or four that were rescued.—Indianapolis News.

What She Desired.

"Why, Norah," said her mistress, "how nice you look in your new dress and hat. I hope you will meet all your friends this afternoon so that they may see you in your fine clothes."

"Me friends, mum?" returned Norah. "What'll I be wan'in' to see them for? Sure I don't care to make me friends jealous. It's me enemies I want to meet when I'm all dressed up."—Boston Transcript.

Academic Rooter.

"Your friend from Cambridge seemed to enjoy the game."

"So he did. At one stage of the proceedings he quoted 'Hamlet.'"

"How so?"

"When Larry O'Rourke poled a hot liner about three inches to the left of first base in the ninth inning the professor shouted, 'A hit! A hit! A palpable hit!'"—Birmingham Age-Herald.

Married at Five.

Infant marriages are still prevalent in India. The latest returns show that in 1911 there were 131,518 "married men" under five years of age and 302,425 "married women" of the same tender age. Of "husbands" between the ages of five and ten there were nearly a million, while "wives" between these ages numbered well over two million.

Pottery the Oldest Art.

Pottery is the oldest, the longest and most widely diffused of all human arts. Its history, if recorded, would be as old as the history of man; its recorded history begins with the building of the tower of Babel. The oldest pottery known is Egyptian, but every people, civilized or barbarous, has practiced the art in one or another form. All study in every department of art begins at a period not long after the Mosaic deluge, but pottery is the earliest of all forms of art.

Early American Diplomats.

The first American minister to France was Thomas Jefferson, who represented this country under the Confederation and during the revolution before the Constitution was adopted and the United States was organized. After the adoption of the Constitution the United States was first represented in France by William Short as charge d'affaires (1790) and then by Gouverneur Morris (1792) as minister.

Inseparable Musical Instruments.

In modern Spanish dances one finds the woman gracefully waving a tambourine, while her male partner agitates the bones, or "castanets." The two seem to go together. Indeed, it has been so for thousands of years. They were played together as an accompaniment of amorous, and particularly of bacchanalian, dances in ancient Carthage, in Athens long before the Christian era, and in Rome.

"Self."

If your house looks so and so, it is because you are so and so. There is no way of separating yourself from the envelope of appurtenances that you've chosen to surround yourself with. Your "self" is simply the cluster of circumstances that you have culled from the rich welter of the world to put into the make-up of your life.—Exchange.

The Difference.

Science is concerned with the names, distances and magnitudes of the stars; and with problems touching the "intestinal parasites of the flea." Art, literature and religion are concerned only with mankind; with the elemental, the universal, the eternal; with the dream, the defeat, the romance of life. —Dallas Lore Sharp, in Atlantic.

Alphabetical Possibilities.

All the inhabitants of the globe, on a rough calculation, could run to 1,000,000,000 years write out all the possible transpositions of the 26 letters of the alphabet, even supposing that each inhabitant wrote 40 pages daily, and each of which pages contained not less than 40 transpositions of the letters.

Naturally.

A new baby sister arrived at Freddie's house. Next day at kindergarten the teacher asked him what they were going to name his new little sister. Freddie thought deeply a minute and then exclaimed: "Oh, we're going to name it Mrs. Throckmorton, after my mother."

Eels for Canning.

Canned and oiled eels are new entertainment in Japanese fishing circles, as these fish are found almost everywhere along the coast. At present only a limited amount of each year's catch is eaten, by far the larger proportion being used for fertilizer.

Charitable.

"I shouldn't say in so many words that Mrs. Gabbalot is a liar," observed the lady who weighed well the words of her mouth and the meditations of her heart before releasing them to the public, "but I will say that she is remarkably well misinformed."

Browning Holds Record.

The first Browning gun was made by John M. Browning when he was thirteen years old. It was not a machine gun, as may be surmised. Mr. Browning invented more successful firearms than any ten other men in history.—Forum.

Malarial Scourge.

Malarial fevers are by far the greatest scourge of the rural districts of Venezuela. In the state of Carabobo, with a population of 198,396, there were 1,484 deaths from malaria last year.

May Be New Source of Oil.

It is believed that large quantities of an oil with many commercial uses can be obtained from the nuts of the coyol palm, which grows prolifically in central and tropical South America.

Electrics.

New York is estimated to have 2,500 commercial electric vehicles, Chicago 1,050, and Philadelphia 150.

Draw Rusted Nails.

First drive them in a little, which breaks the hold, and then they may be drawn out much easier.

IN MEMORIAM.

In loving memory of our dear husband and father, Albert E. Milligan, who passed away on July 10th, 1925.

He bade no one a last farewell,
He said good-bye to none;
Heaven's gates were opened wide,
A loving voice said, "Come".
Worthy of everlasting love,
To those he left behind;
A better father never lived,
Nor one so good and kind.
But we know that you are happy,
In the loving Master's care,
And that no more pain and sorrow
Will ever be your share.

Sadly missed by Wife and Daughters. 28ap

IN MEMORIAM.

In loving memory of our dear daughter, (Aleta), Mrs. Russell Holland, who went to sleep July 11th, 1923.

Three long and lonely years have passed
Since dear Aleta went to sleep;
God called her home to be with Him,
And make His angel band complete.
Those earnest eyes were wells of love,
From which my soul drank deep;
And sweet and soothing is the voice,
I still hear in my sleep.
We miss her kind and willing hand,
Her fond and loving care;
Our home is dark without her,
We miss her everywhere.
We loved her, oh, no tongue can tell,
How much we loved her and how well.
God loved her, too, and thought it best,
To take her home with Him to rest.

Ever remembered by Mother and Father and Brothers. 28ap

SOFTBALL

St. Mary's 11, Trinity 7.

The Napanee Girls' Softball League got away to a good start on Friday evening, at Riverdale Park, when St. Mary's defeated Trinity by 11-7. The youthful Anglicans, some of whom are playing for the first time, played better ball and deserved their win.

St. Mary's presented a new line-up from last winter's, two new players in the persons of Leonora Fraser and Dorothy Hagen playing stellar games in the outfield. These two are hardly as tall as a bat, but they showed some of the older ones how to play. Noreen Johnston, another midget, played a smart game at shortstop, and showed the fans that size or age doesn't account for much in softball. The two Dorothys, namely Johnston and Richardson, however, were the real stars of the game. The former pitched the best game of her career. She had nice speed and whiffed 8 batsmen. The latter played as though her life depended on the issue. She played errorless ball at 1st base, and slammed a mighty wallop to deep centre for a homer. Marion Grass brought her big bat into play several times and her ringing hits featured the contest. Doris Lucas and Aileen Lewis each played stellar games at their positions, while Florence Kinkley showed a vast improvement in her batting.

Chris Taylor is not pitching in her regular form. She can't seem to hit her stride, but doubtless will soon be the fine pitcher again that she was last winter. Mildred Rikely, as cool as ever, cavorted around 1st base, while Nina McKim, Winnie Drake and Ruth Dickson failed to play their usual good game. This was partly due to the fine pitching of D. Johnston and the fine fielding of the inspired Saints. The rest of the team, Nina McKim, Dorothy Daverin, Helen Drake, Kathleen Dixon and Lenore Black, did not play up to their usual form, probably because of not being used to playing outside yet.

212 Lodge 16, 86 Lodge 12.

The men's section of the Napanee Softball League got away with a bang on Monday evening, when Argyll Lodge defeated Lodge No. 86. The game was the snappiest of the season, and there wasn't a dull moment during the whole performance. The players all yapped their hardest and some of the expressions that one player came out with would surely land him in a house near Kingston, which is called Rockwood, or some name like that.

Cornelius Mills and Bill Barrett formed the 86 battery, and each did good work, although Mills persisted in aiming at a spot fully sixty feet above Barrett's head. Varying this performance he became insanely positive that the home plate was a target and registered several bull's eyes. Bill McLaughlin on 1st slammed a few hits in right field, but claimed that he was being cheated because every time he hit the elm tree and the ball rebounded. Frank Bell and Frank Mills cavorted around 2nd and each did some effective batting, although the latter had to be persuaded to make the circuit of the bases when he slammed the ball into the river. Frank said it wasn't fair to run in when 212 weren't looking.

Eddie Baughan and Ernie Lucas played nice ball in their respective positions as did Mr. Ham. Mac McGillvray complained about the mosquitoes in right field, while George Paul said they should oughta take the bumps off the ground so he wouldn't fall down when he tried to catch a ball.

Les Richardson and Arnold Rogers did battery work and each were responsible for some good plays. The latter tried to climb onto Jim Naphin's head after a fly, while Richardson persisted in taking a short run before each pitch. George Root swore to catch nothing but public attention at 1st base, while the chatter of George Ellis and Bill Galt around 2nd sounded like a zoo at dinnertime. Fred Huffman persisted in moving 3rd bag around so "86" hits would be foul and "212's" fair. Ray Huffman was mumbling something about a ball-storm in left field, while Authmire Pybus pulled the prize play of the game by spearing a high one with one hand. Mac Herrington said they oughta make the diamond smaller so he could knock one into the outfield, because he always got out and said he wouldn't play no more if Bill McLaughlin kept puttin' him out.

A large crowd of fans saw the game and everyone was satisfied. Doubtless a large crowd will turn out to see the girls in action to-night, (Friday), and on Monday to see the game of the season, Bankers vs Business Men.

St. Mary's came out on top in the Softball tournament held in the Driving Park in connection with the Anglican Church picnic. A large crowd turned out to see the games and to attend the picnic.

Bath defeated Deseronto in the opener by 9-4. There was some classy playing on both sides, although Bath clearly had the edge.

The teams :—

Deseronto—V. Whitton p, G. Stewart ss, T. Hoppings 1b, E. Harvey c, G. Harvey 2b, B. Wilkins 3b, R. Bowen cf, A. Strattran lf, M. Gaylord rf.

Bath—M. Young, M. Mulch, K. Laidley, S. Collupy, E. Young, M. Covert, G. Swayne, A. Collupy, L. Young.

St. Mary's 3, Tamworth 1.

St. Mary's downed Tamworth in the next game by 3-1. The game was the closest of the year, although the locals had a slight edge. The batting of Dorothy Richardson and Johnston, Marion Grass, Leonora Fraser and Mary Stinson featured.

The teams :—

Tamworth—N. Wiseman, L. Hannah, E. Lott, G. Poston, C. Lockridge, H. Hannah, M. Graham, L. Stinson, E. Clancy, B. Poston.

St. Mary's—M. Grass, L. Fraser, D. Richardson, D. Lucas, D. Johnston, H. O'Neill, N. Johnston, M. Stinson, F. Kinkley, D. Hagen.

St. Mary's 15, Bath 2.

In the nightcap the locals pounded Bath all over the field, and won easily by 15-2. Every local player got one or more hits. This win was St. Mary's third straight of the season.

WEDDING BELLS

Spencer—McTear

St. George's Church, Trenton, Ont., was the scene of a charming wedding at 1 o'clock on Monday, July 5th, 1926, when Margaret Brenda, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. A. L. McTear, became the bride of Reginald Clarke, only son of Rev. and Mrs. R. W. Spencer, of Camden East, Ont. The ceremony was performed by the bride's father, assisted by the father of the groom, the service being read from a white prayer-book, the gift to the bride from the Choir, of which she was a member.

The church was beautifully decorated for the occasion with a profusion of summer flowers, the work of the girl friends of the bride.

Preceded by the Choir, the bride entered the church on the arm of her cousin, Mr. Howard McTear, Toronto. She was a picture of girlish loveliness in a gown of ivory kitten's ear crepe, trimmed with real lace, and her bridal veil was arranged with a coronet of orange blossoms. Her only ornament was the groom's gift, a rope of pearls, and she carried a shower bouquet of sweetheart roses, lily of the valley and baby's breath.

The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Lucia McTear, as maid of honor, wearing a powder blue and silver shot taffeta frock with large picture hat, and carried a bouquet of sunset roses. The bridesmaids were Miss Marion and Miss Claire McTear, sisters of the bride, and were frocked alike in pink and silver shot taffeta, with mohair picture hats, and carried lovely bouquets of pink roses.

The groom was supported by Mr. Hugh Vallery, of Windsor. The ushers were Mr. Jack Creeggan, of Deseronto, and Mr. W. J. Judson, of Napanee.

During the service soft music was rendered by Mrs. E. Bates, while the register was being signed the Choir sang "The Voice That Breathed O'er Eden". Following the ceremony a reception was held at the Vicarage. The bride's mother received, wearing a gown of black French crepe with touches of gold, large black hat and corsage bouquet of roses and lily-of-the-valley. Mrs. Spencer, mother of the groom, was attired in beige flat crepe with corsage bouquet of roses and lily of the valley.

Later, Mr. and Mrs. Spencer left on a motor trip to Quebec, the bride travelling in a smart golden brown satin coat trimmed with fur, a dress of blonde georgette with touches of blue and gold, and small lace hat to match. On their return they will reside in Syracuse, N.Y.

The out-of-town guests included Rev. and Mrs. R. W. Spencer and Miss Martin, Camden East; Miss Katharine McTear, Detroit, Mich.; Mrs. E. W. McTear, Mr. H. McTear, Miss Erna McTear, Mr. and Mrs. F. Newlands, Mrs. G. Shepherd, Toronto; Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Haydon, Miss Fitzhugh, Kingston; Rev. and Mrs. F. G. Kirkpatrick, Carrying Place; Mr. H. Tyner, Montreal; Rev. and Mrs. B. F. Byers, Stirling; Rev. and Mrs. J. Lyons, Picton; Mrs. F. Hamm Bath; Mr. J. B. Creeggan, Deseronto, and Mr. W. J. Judson, Napanee.

A unique feature was the presence at the wedding of the bride's six sisters.

WILTON INSTITUTE

The Wilton Branch of the Women's Institute has had a very busy month —June.

From June 7th to 18th inclusive, a course in Food Values and Cookery was held under the very able management of Miss Grey, Toronto. There were thirty-two members to this class, and the average attendance was twenty-six. Anyone attending any of these classes was more than amply paid for their time.

On June 17th, Mrs. Lowe, Toronto, an Institute teacher and speaker, addressed about twenty-five ladies on "Institute Work" and "The Value of Self-Control". She stated how there are 7,000 branches in Canada and the Old Country, all working for the betterment of our Home and Native Land. On hearing what other Institutes are doing, to aid schools, hospitals, clinics and child welfare, and numerous other helps, we feel that there is no end of work for the Institute. Mrs. Lowe's talk on "Self Control", was splendid. Anyone, after listening to, and meeting her afterward, realized that she had fully learned the value, and was a living example in her charming personality. All progress is through control. Each moment we are kings or slaves, and the choice rests with us. Mrs. Lowe urged that each of us make perseverance our bosom friend; experience, a wise controller; caution, an elder brother; and hope, the guardian angel.

On Wednesday afternoon, June 30th, the District Annual Convention was held at Wilton. Every branch in the district was well represented, namely Bay View, Conway, Maple Leaf, Adolphustown, Odessa, Napanee and Wilton. There were about one hundred and twenty-five ladies present, every available seat in the hall being occupied. The meeting opened with "The Institute Carol", followed by the Lord's Prayer. Mrs. Jas. Miller, Napanee, President, was in the chair, and Mrs. P. A. Young, Secretary Treasurer, and Mrs. Wm. Fretts, Vice President, were also present. Different addresses were given on Federation, Co-operation, and Institute doings. The program consisted of several solos, two readings, a violin solo, and a paper on current events; each Branch contributing one or more selections toward the program. Each Branch also gave a report of last year's work. After hearing of the good work done, I think each Branch is much encouraged to go on in the future. Last year's officers were re-elected by acclamation. Mr. Robinson and Mr. Wilson, of Napanee, gave a short address on "Chautauqua", and very earnestly solicited the aid of the Women's Institutes in boosting Chautauqua. The meeting closed with "God Save the King". The Wilton ladies then furnished lunch of ice cream and cake, and each one took their departure, looking forward to next year's Annual Convention.

Adolphustown lost to the inspired Tamworth outfit on Thursday by 15-7, and Tamworth thus annexed their first win of the season.

—The Pleasant Valley school picnic held in Mr. George Dupree's woods, was a great success. The neighbours all turned out with well filled baskets and enjoyed the day's sports. We were pleased to have our District Representative, Mr. Laughland, and family join with us, Mr. Laughland acting as chairman and giving a good talk on Agriculture. The many friends of Miss Glenn regret that she cannot remain another year.

—Fred Bentley, well known local athlete, who emigrated to Iroquois Falls last spring, has already sprung into prominence in the Northern town as a ball player. Freddy was never known as a pitcher here, but the Falls team are using him in that role. He lost a game to Timmins by 9-8, but pitched a stellar game. He collected a 1000 batting average in his 1st game of the season. However, when old Jack Frost begins to steal around, Freddy will don the blades and show the Falls Juniors how hockey is played in Napanee.

THE LATE DR. SHOREY

Dr. S. J. Shorey, well known in Napanee and district, passed away at his home, in Picton, on Monday. Dr. Shorey began his early life in Napanee, being apprenticed to law with a local firm. Later he left that and studied for the ministry, and for forty years was a great influence in the Church in Canada.

His legal mind gained for him an important recognition in the courts and committees of the Church. He was an able preacher a beloved pastor and a generous friend. Twice he held pastorates in Trinity Church, Napanee, from which church he retired four years ago.

Shortly after retirement he suffered a stroke to the effects of which he finally succumbed.

No holiday trip is quite complete without a Brownie or Kodak, and a box of Laura Secord Candy. Wallace's are sole agents for both.

V. O. N. Pavement Dance, Napanee, Friday evening, July 9th, (weather permitting). Tickets 25c.

ANGLICAN PICNIC

The picnic held in the Driving Park on Wednesday by the Anglican Parishes of the Rural Deanery of Lennox and Addington, was an unqualified success. The proceedings were enlivened by music supplied by the Napanee Band. Several Sunday Schools of the Deanery were present in good numbers, and the children all had a happy day. A fine programme of races and sports had been prepared. The various events were keenly contested by large numbers of candidates for the attractive prizes. Some of the items on the list had to be cancelled for lack of time.

The booth was in charge of the Men's Club of St. Mary Magdalene Church, and did a flourishing and profitable business.

The one best way!

Each year there are more people you can sell. The finest kind of introduction to these new comers is to call them up on the telephone — by Local or Long Distance as the case may require. Many merchants always call up a new customer by Long Distance before sending a salesman to see him. Think how much difference it makes in the kind of reception the salesman gets!

All around you, in outlying towns, are customers who will be as glad to have you call them by telephone as you will be to sell them. Don't overlook the one best way of winning and holding their friendship — the telephone.

GREAT LOSS TO SHEEP

WATCH FOR THE STOMACH WORM.

Joint Ills of Foals Is Another Common Malady — Suggestions for Treatment of Both Troubles.

(Contributed by Ontario Department of Agriculture, Toronto.)

This parasite is probably responsible for the greatest loss to sheep breeders. Many flock owners do not know that their sheep are suffering from the invasion of this parasite, but take it for granted that the scrubby lambs, small unthrifty sheep are the result of other influences.

The stomach worm larvae are present on the blades of green grass awaiting the coming of the sheep or lambs. The sheep nibbles off the grass and takes in the larval form at the same time. On reaching the sheep's stomach it attaches itself to the mucosa and develops to maturity. A few cause no particular harm, but when present in thousands they make their presence apparent by causing digestive disturbance and a general unthrifty condition.

Preparation of Drench.

Copper sulphate crystals four ounces, dissolved in a quart of hot water and then add to three gallons of water. This is sufficient to dose 100 sheep.

Drenching is best done, with the aid of a three-eighth inch rubber tube, 3 or 4 feet long, one end to go in the sheep's mouth and one end connected to a funnel in which the liquid dose may be poured.

The dose for a sheep over 80 pounds in weight is 4 ounces of the solution, lambs weighing 60 pounds takes 3 ounces.

The sheep should be treated every four weeks during the pasture season until such time as the pest has been eliminated from the premises. The work well done for two seasons is sufficient to clean up the pastures. Remember the young worm spends part of its life on the grass and part of the time in thesheep's stomach.

In drenching be careful, there is a danger of the solution finding its way to the lungs. Two men are needed, one to handle the sheep and the other to do the drenching. Hold the sheep's head horizontal, not up, and give the animal a chance to swallow in as natural a way as possible. Don't hurry and be sure and keep the lips level, just so the liquid will not run out of the mouth. Lambs are not drenched until they are weaned. Temporary pastures as clovers, rape, rye, oats, peas, and turnips, are an aid in keeping the stomach worm under control.—L. Stevenson, Dept. of Extension, O. A. College.

JOINT ILL OF FOALS.

An Acute Infectious Disease of Young Animals.

A heavy toll is taken each spring from the recently-born foals by this disease which is as widespread as the horse industry.

"Joint ill" is recognized as an acute infectious disease of young animals, and it is characterized by inflammation and abscess formation, affecting the joints and limbs. The disease may develop as a result of infection either before or after birth.

Symptoms.

In most cases infection takes place shortly after birth and symtoms develop during the first three weeks of the foal's life. First there is fever, and breathing is rapid, and the appetite is lessened. The colt appears dull, is lame, close examination will show one or more joints to be swollen. This may be mistaken for injury. Soon, however, some other joints become swollen, usually the hocks and knees, stifle, fetlock and elbow may be also affected in severe cases. The colt shows general constitutional disturbance, by pain, rapid loud beat of the heart, panting, elevated temperature, and thirst. In severe cases the systematic disturbances are always serious, in that the swellings become very tense and painful involving the surrounding parts. Frequently the affected joints suppurate, abscesses form, joints break out in running sores, and citrous colored fluid exudes from the skin. The hair falls out from around the joints and the skin becomes bare and shiny. In many cases a severe diarrhoea develops and there is marked loss of flesh and the colt becomes too weak to stand. If the navel is examined it will be hot, painful, swollen, unhealed and dribbling pus. As the disease progresses the colt gets weaker, complications as pneumonia, pericarditis or a general septic condition hastens its end. Severe cases pass out in two or three days, average cases last about two weeks. Any colts that recover are left with large badly-formed joints.

Curative treatment is not always satisfactory and is best undertaken by the trained veterinarian.

Prevention.

The disease can be largely prevented by a system calling for the best use of hygienic and preventative medicine. The first consideration is an absolutely clean maternity stall for the mare, and proper attention to all details of disinfection for both the mother and foal. Hundreds of foals are lost by permitting them to lie around a manure pile or dirty barn yard. Get them out on clean green grass away from the infecting bacteria of the stable and barnyard. The navel requires attention, which can best be given by putting a 1/1000 bichloride solution in a shallow cup and holding it against the stump of cord. Dirty hands have infected hundreds so do not touch the navel with your fingers. After immersing the cord in the bi-chloride solution for 3 minutes, paint it with iodine or dust with astringent powder. The astringent powder may be repeated every half hour until the cord is dry.

Protective inoculation of the foal has been practiced with more or less success, but this should be administered by a graduate veterinarian immediately after the foal is born.—L. Stevenson, Dept of Extension, O. A. College.

BUILDING SEASON HERE

LAY OUT YOUR PLANS BEFORE YOU START.

Some Suggestions For the Construction of a Stable Which Will Prevent Waste and Inconvenience.

(Contributed by Ontario Department of Agriculture, Toronto.)

Building wastes on farms and elsewhere are enormous, no plans, no thoughts, we must have a barn or house, so we will put one up and think about it afterwards. Hence we see so many structures that cannot give efficient service for the money invested in them. Buildings hard to work in, waste space, unhandy and time-killers. Hours spent in careful planning will save years of time, to say nothing of the saving of money, temper or the giving of pleasure.

Site and Foundation.

Stables should be built on a slightly elevated site where there is ample air circulation and drainage. Dry, coarse gravelly or sandy subsoil is a desirable material on which to rest a stable foundation. Clay soils should be thoroughly drained. The material for the construction of a foundation must be compact and waterproof; stone, cement, hard baked tile, with the additional protection of asphalt where needd, are gention of asphalt where needed, are generally satisfactory.

Walls Ceilings and Floors.

Stable walls should be constructed of materials that are non-conductors of heat and cold, that such walls retain heat in winter and exclude it in summer. Wood, air spaces, heavy building paper, tile blocks, cement blocks and hard cement plaster are very desirable for wall construction. The outer and inner surfaces must be waterproof and free from cracks. The inner surface may be of smooth whitewashed or painted board, plaster board, glazed tile or hard cement plaster. Considering cost, the hard cement plaster is the best. Walls constructed entirely of cement or stone are too cold in winter, such, however, have the advantage of being cool in summer. Walls that are waterproof on both outer and inner surfaces and fitted with porous material between retain the heat and prevent sweating on the inner surface.

Ceilings require the same smooth and waterproof construction as walls. Avoid permanent openings through the ceiling to the loft above; if you desire to prevent losses from dust, stable gases and interference with ventilation.

Floors.—Concrete is the best available material for stable floors. It must rest upon a firm dry sub-soil or a well-tamped layer of cinders or coarse gravel, or broken stone. Upon such a base spread three inches of a mixture of one part cement, three parts coarse clean sand and three parts of finely broken stone or gravel. Cover with a finishing coat one inch thick made of two parts cement and three parts of clean sand. Cement floors upon which animals must stand all winter should be provided with a covering of boards—or cork brick.

Dimensions of Stables.

The space required by each animal, taking 1,000 pounds as an average weight, should be from 500 to 1,000 cubic feet. The smaller space (500 cub. ft.) is better adapted to cold sections or for stables provided with a very active system of ventilation. Double row cow stables are made 32 to 36 feet wide, single row stables 18 feet wide. The stall space for cows varies with the cow, it is usually 4.6 to 5 feet from manger curb to gutter, and from 3 to 4 feet wide. Stall partitions should be lower at the flank than at the shoulder so that the cow can turn when leaving the stall, and not have to step in the gutter. Ribs are often broken by the cow lying against single pipe partitions when the post is too far from the gutter, so that it comes in contact with the ribs instead of he flank of the animal when lying down. Gutters should be 18 inches wide and seven inches deep. The partition in the front of the manger should reach to about the level of the animal's nose to prevent throwing of feed out of the manger. The top of the manger for horses should be about the height of the elbow. The height of ceiling in cold sections may be as low as eight feet or as high as ten feet in farmer sections and where a lot of animals are kept.

Temperature.—For horses the stable temperature should be at 60°, for dairy cows 55° to 65°, sheep 40° to 45°, except at lambing time when 50° to 60° is more suitable. Feeding and beef cattle 40° to 45°.

Ventilation.—Moisture in stables is an indicator of the degree of impurity of stable air. If the walls are covered with frost or moisture it indicates poor ventilation, or damp floors, or both. Ventilate to keep the degree of inside moisture as near that of the outside air as possible.

Light.—Windows should be placed that the eyes of the animals will not be in the direct sunlight at any time. The total window surface should be equal to one-twelfth of the stable floor space. That is a stable 60 feet long and 36 feet wide should have 180 square feet of glass.—L. Stevenson, Dept. of Extension, Ontario Agricultural College.

Tapeworm and the Poultry Industry.

This parasite as long been a serious drag on the business of poultry keeping. Losses to half kept flocks have been heavy, even the best kept flocks have had their losses usually in a degree in keeping with the hygiene of the poultry house and yards. The greater the neglect in poultry keeping, usually the greater the loss.

Tapeworm injuries in poultry are unthriftiness, a condition simulating paralysis, in malnutrition and the occasional death of a bird.

The latest remedy for the tapeworm pest is the use of Kamala used in a one-grain dose after fasting. Experiments carefully conducted show this drug to be the most efficient yet used for the purpose of tape worm eradication in poultry.

World's Greatest Cataract.

What is set down as the greatest cataract in the world is on the Iguazu river, which partly separates Brazil and Argentina. The precipice over which the river plunges is 210 feet high, that of Niagara being 167 feet. The cataract is 13,123 feet wide, or about two and a half times as wide as Niagara. It is estimated that 100,000,000 tons of water pass over Niagara in an hour. A like estimate gives the falls of Iguazu 140,000,000 tons.

Safety Matches Cause of Disease.

"Four writers in turn," says the Ugeskrift for Laeger, Copenhagen, "describe cases of eczema which they were unable to explain in the otherwise healthy patients until they learned of Rasch's experience with local poisoning of the skin from the use of a certain brand of safety matches. In most of the patients the burn was on the thighs corresponding to the trousers pockets in which they carried the match boxes."

Peculiar Cause of Celibacy.

Celibacy is almost unknown among the Mordvins, and when it does occur it is nearly always the result of a vow, especially in places where Russian influence is strong. Sometimes a girl is not married in consequence of a vow to a deity—if hail, for instance, has ruined the crops or some misfortune has befallen the family. Such young women are termed the "wife of the hail king."

Would not be Without Zutoo Tablets At Any Cost

Mr. A. O. Norton, the millionaire Jack Manufacturer, of Boston, who recently died, was a great "booster" for Zutoo Tablets.

He suffered from headaches from childhood and when he found Zutoo Tablets stopped these headaches in a few minutes and left no bad effect, he began recommending them to his family and friends. In an unsolicited letter, Mr. Norton says in closing:

"My family use them when ever needed with equally good results. I have frequently given them to friends who were suffering from Headache and they never failed to give quick relief. I always carry Zutoo Tablets in my grip on the road and WOULD NOT BE WITHOUT THEM AT ANY COST."

Chautauqua Is Napanee's Premier Entertainment

5 Full Days—July 19-23—12 Major Attractions

Notable Concert Company Coming at Chautauqua

THE GREENFIELD ORCHESTRAL QUARTET

The Greenfield Orchestral Quartet will be a premier feature of the coming Chautauqua here. Each member is an artist of outstanding musical attainments, while ten years of playing together have given to the quartet a perfection of ensemble playing rarely attained.

Mr. Greenfield, violinist, saxophonist and manager, has been associated with the orchestra of the Chicago Civic Opera Company, and with the St. Paul symphony orchestra.

Mr. Greenfield, violinist, recently won first prize in a concert conducted by the Chicago Artists' Association. She has appeared extensively in recital and concert, notably in New York and Chicago, and has scored distinctive successes abroad. She was a pupil of the renowned Leopold Auer, who also taught Heifetz and Zimbalist.

Mr. Greenfield, pianist, has also a goodly number of New York and Chicago appearances to her credit in the course of many recitals and concert engagements. She has been soloist with the Chicago Philharmonic Orchestra.

The Greenfield, clarinetist, saxophonist and bass viol artist, has, like the members of the Quartet, an exceptionally successful record of public appearances.

The talented artistry the Quartet presents classical and semi-classical selections, varying with popular numbers.

One day a learned professor was accosted by a very dirty bootblack: "Shine your shoes, sir?"

The professor was impressed by the filthiness of the boy's face. "I don't want a shine my lad," said he; "but if you'll go and wash your face I'll give you sixpence."

"A richt, sir," was the shoeblack's reply, as he went to a neighbouring fountain and made his ablutions. Returning, he held out his hand for the money.

"Well, my lad," said the professor, "you have earned your sixpence. Here it is."

"I dinna want it, auld chap," returned the boy with a lordly air. "Ye keep it and get yer hair cut."

DENBIGH

The annual picnic under the auspices of the United Church, held on Dominion Day, was an unqualified success. A beautiful day, with a bountiful table, a good crowd and an excellent program, and—well, no wonder everybody went home happy. Net proceeds, about one hundred dollars. Rev. and Mrs. Scott, who worked like Trojans, deserve much credit.—Dr. Herbert Gage and son, of Paisley, Ont., arrived in Denbigh on Wednesday afternoon, by auto, and pitched their tent for a few days' outing. It is about thirty-nine years since the Dr. as a young man, taught school here. This is his first visit since leaving. He was delighted to see his old time pupils and the beautiful scenery in and around Denbigh once more. The Dr. delivered an excellent address at the picnic.—Our esteemed Reeve, Mr. Frank Rogers, is still in the Kingston General Hospital. He is recovering nicely and hopes to be home soon.—Mrs. Anna Lane left for Toronto to-day to visit friends and relatives. — School has closed, and the teachers, Miss Huyck, of Tweed, and Miss Hogg, of Preston, left to-day for their respective homes. They were very popular with young and old, and will be greatly missed.—Road work is nearly completed for this year, and our road engineer, Mr. E. W. Petzold, deserves much credit for the many splendid improvements. — Mr. and Mrs. Otto Fritsch and son, of Webb, Sask., are visiting their many friends and numerous relatives in Denbigh. — Miss Olive Bebee and sister, Mrs. Harvey, of Detroit, Mich., are visiting their mother, Mrs. Elsie Bebee, Vennachar, and other relatives. — Rev. Thomas McNaught and family, of White Lake, are spending a few days with Mrs. Nancy Ball, at Vennachar. Rev. Mr. McNaught gave a splendid address at the Denbigh picnic.—Tourists are saying, "My, what a beauty spot. Did you ever see anything more beautiful?" Come and ee.

BAY CIRCUIT.

On Saturday afternoon, July 3rd, Mr. Rockwell Parks took a party of the young people of Anderson Sunday School to the Thousand Islands. The party motored to Kingston, and from there went by the Str. Brockville down the left shore of the St. Lawrence to a point below Gananoque, then crossing to the American side, the party spent an hour on shore in Alexandria Bay. After lunch the steamer came home by the American side, giving the party an opportunity to see the islands and river from the Canadian and American side. The day was perfect and the party returned, reporting a most delightful time. — The girls of Anderson and Hay Bay Churches have each organized a softball team and are playing practice games. Anderson plays on Wednesday and Friday evenings, and Hay Bay on Tuesday and Thursday evenings. As the games last a week there were upwards of fifty young people out each night, and Thursday of this week Mr. Peter Huyck is treating the crowd to ice cream.—The Circuit Lawn Social at the Bay Parsonage on July 15th, promises to be one of the events of the season, as it is to be an outing for the entire circuit.

BELL ROCK

(For last week.)

The crops in this locality are looking good since the recent rains. — Mr. and Mrs. Edgerton Percy, of Niagara Falls, N.Y., spent last week at Mr. Percy's.—Miss Bessie Amey, of Rochester, N.Y., is spending her holidays at D. L. Amey's. — Charles Goudy and family have moved to the village from Kingston. — A number from here attended camp meeting at Sydenham, on Sunday. — Mrs. Mc-Master has returned to Verona, after spending some time at William Moir's.—Mr. and Mrs. G. Clark, of Moscow, are at C. Gonu's. — Mrs. James Meeks has returned home from the hospital, much improved in health.—Mr. and Mrs. E. Cronk, of Enterprise, spent Sunday at Edward James'.—Mr. and Mrs. Clair Meeks and family spent Sunday at Sydenham.—Mrs. Clarence Yorke and Mrs. James Vaness spent Wednesday in Enterprise. — William Moir, Eugene Goodberry and H. Vaness attended the Temperance Convention at Tamworth, on Wednesday. — Timmins, of Wilkinson, spent Sunday at Mrs. John Timmins'.—Mr. and Mrs. Edward Goudy, of Verona, and Mr. Charlie Goudy's, one evening last week.

GIRLHOOD DANGERS

Come Through a Weakening of the Blood—A Tonic is Needed

In their early teens it is quite common for girls to outgrow their strength, and mothers should carefully watch the health of their daughters at this time. It is when the strength is sapped by rapid growth that anaemia develops. The first signs may be noticed by peevishness, langour and headaches. The face grows pale, breathlessness and palpitation becomes apparent, with low spirits and depression.

Neglected anaemia often leads to a decline, but if you see that your daughter's blood is enriched, there need be no cause for anxiety. The finest blood-builder ever discovered is Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. They will build up your girl's health and prepare for her healthy womanhood. In proof of this Mrs. George Justason, Black's Harbor, N.B., says—"I think Dr. Williams' Pink Pills a wonderful medicine. My daughter, Margaret, was in such a badly run down condition that we feared she was going into a decline. Her face was pale, the least exertion would leave her breathless and she suffered from headaches. She had no appetite and lost a lot in weight. Up to the time we began giving her Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, no treatment had helped her. But thanks to the use of this wonderful medicine she is again well and strong, showing no signs of the trouble that had so weakened her."

In all troubles due to weak, watery blood, Dr. Williams' Pink Pills will be found a reliable remedy. Sold by all medicine dealers or sent by mail at 50 cents a box by The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

All in Well-Chosen Library.

Said Emerson: "Consider what you have in the smallest chosen library. A company of the wisest and wittiest men that could be picked out of all the civil countries in a thousand years have set in best order the results of their learning and wisdom. The men themselves were hid and inaccessible, solitary, impatient of interruption, fenced by etiquette; but the thought which they did not uncover to their bosom friend is here written, out in transparent words to us, the strangers of another age."

Essay on Geese.

The following composition on geese was written, according to Capper's Weekly, by a schoolboy in St. Louis: "Geese is a heavy-set bird with a head on one side and a tail on the other. His feet is set so far back on his running gear that they nearly miss his body. Some geese is ganders and has a curl in his tail. Ganders don't lay or set. They just eat, loaf and go swimming. If I had to be a geese, I would rather be a gander. Geese do not give milk, but give eggs, but for me, give me liberty or give me death."

Work Hard and Play Hard.

Regular daily relaxation and particularly relaxation through enthusiastic hobby riding has the advantage of promoting emotional control, an indispensable factor in the winning of success. To work hard, to play ardently, to live a decent, hygienic life in general, sums up pretty comprehensively the secret of business success. Following this plan, men of only average ability can and do advance by rapid stages, while without its aid more brilliant men falter and fail.

Rainbow's Formation.

While it is true that the beautiful colors displayed by the rainbow are due to the passage of light through raindrops, the popular conception that the drops are directly in line between the sun and the bow is incorrect, according to scientists. The light enters the raindrop and is refracted and reflected back to form the bow. In this passage through the drop the different colors are produced which, blended make our ordinary white light.

Quiet-Little-Dinner Note.

A minister was telling us the other day about hurrying around a hotel in Columbus with one hat on his head and another in his hand, not knowing any more than a rabbit where he got the second hat, and we told him not to mind that, as we'd often been that way in Columbus. And the good man seemed greatly comforted. A man should live that he can do some kindly act like this every day or so.—Liberty (O.) Press.

Raisin Grapes.

Ordinary grapes do not make good raisins. Leading varieties used are the Muscatel, Gordo, Blanco, Muscat of Alexandria and Malaga. The bunches are cut from the vines and placed on trays to sun-dry, being turned from time to time. The process is simple. Large growers have curing sheds to avoid risk in drying on account of rain. Seeding is done by machinery.

Value of Wrestling.

Only in Japan has the value of wrestling been universally recognized, and the result is that the average Japanese physique is unrivaled for power, agility and the internal health that so largely depends on the vitality and balanced development of the inner muscles of the lower part of the body.

Persian Cookery.

Cookery among the well-to-do classes in Persia is extravagant—partly because they are lavishly hospitable, partly because all house servants are fed from the leavings of the master's table. Tiny chickens, quails, pigeons and young partridges are handed hot, on the spit, to each guest.

Jewel Superstitions.

In olden time the sapphire was worn against the bites of venomous animals and to keep away apparitions; the emerald to prevent giddiness and strengthen the memory. The ruby was considered a powerful amulet to ward off plagues and had the "power of making the wearer cheerful."

Loyalty is First Demand.

Business presents untold opportunities, magnificent possibilities; but the only man who ever succeeds for himself or deserves promotion from anyone else is the man who is loyal.

Long-Lived Jews.

Jews can boast of an average longer life than any other race. They have always enjoyed remarkable immunity from tuberculosis, cholera and typhus.

As to Honking and Steering.

Honking your horn doesn't help so much as steering wisely.—Forbes Magazine.

More Difficult Task.

It's easy for any one to borrow trouble, but when it comes to borrowing happiness—well, that's different.

Daily Thought.

Aspiration sees only one side of every question; possession many.—Lowell.

I never stop to ponder
As to whether we
Have ancestral monkeys
On the family tree.
But I'm always striving,
As the swift years pass,
To live so that the future
Won't think that I'm an ass.

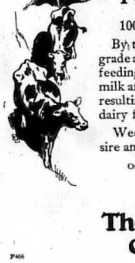
One Good Cow is worth Two Poor Ones



RELIABLE statistics show that the average cow produces only 3,000 lbs. of milk and 100 lbs. of butter in a year.

By the careful selection of better-grade animals for your herd and better feeding, the yearly production of milk and butter can be doubled easily, resulting in increased profit to the dairy farmer.

Weed out the culls, breed by a good sire and save your best heifers.

Our Farmer's Account Book provides for a record of your milk production. Ask the Manager for a copy.

Poultry Culling.

Elsewhere in this issue, announcements is made of several poultry culling demonstrations to be conducted in the County about the middle of July. A special representative from the Poultry Department, Ontario Agricultural College, will be present. These demonstrations should serve as a poultry culling school whereby everyone interested in poultry will have an opportunity of learning how to cull his or her own flock. Poor hens should be separated from the flock this month. They will lay very few eggs for the next six months, but they will keep on eating, hinder the development of growing chicks, and crowd good hens in winter quarters. Culling the flock for increase profit is the gist of the matter. The average person with some special training in culling can do the work satisfactorily. These demonstrations should be well attended by people who want to make more money from poultry.

L. Smith, J. A. Brown, C. Kellar and W. G. Wilson. The Board was honoured with the presence of Mistress Elizabeth Shortt, M.D., of Ottawa, Vice-President of Chief Executive of the Commission, accompanied by Mrss Maud Abernethy, Kingston, one of the Lady Investigators of applications to the Commission, and a most interesting discussion of Commission Work ensued, after which Mistress Shortt, very cleverly and distinctly reviewed the objects and attainments of the Commission and was listened to by the members very attentively, and was accorded a hearty vote of thanks, each member of the Board expressing appreciation of the presence and remarks of the visiting Vice-President. Each member of the Board expressed deep regret at her separation from its work and wished here every good fortune in her new sphere.

AN APOLOGY

Enterprise.

Mr. Editor,—A report was current in this neighborhood some time ago that the maple syrup offered for sale last spring by W. H. Vannest & Son of Enterprise, was adulterated. Knowing that the same was absolutely pure, I traced the report to its source, and found that H. J. Parkar, Food Inspector, of Belleville, had expressed the opinion that it was not pure. I demanded an analysis with the result that I now have the following apology:—

"I hereby apologize to Messrs. W. H. Vannest & Son for reporting to Mr. Lewis Whelan that the maple syrup made and offered for sale by them was adulterated. I find that I was mistaken, and that their syrup was pure, and I regret that my statement caused them any annoyance or inconvenience.

Sgd. H. J. PARKAR,
Food Inspector."

As our reputation has been injured by the spreading of this false report, we respectfully request that you publish this letter.

Yours respectfully,
28ap W. H. VANNEST & SON.

OBITUARY

Mrs. William Ham.

On Saturday last, after a lingering illness, there entered into the life eternal the soul of Mrs. William Ham. During her six years' residence in Sandhurst, Mrs. Ham, by her charm of manner, bright and cheery disposition, kindness and amiability, greatly endeared herself to a large circle of friends, who join with relatives in mourning her departure.

The funeral was held on Monday afternoon in S. Paul's Church, the Rector officiating, and was so largely attended that many were unable to gain admittance. Mrs. Ham was a devoted member of S. Paul's Church, and last year was the efficient President of the Women's Auxiliary, which position she regretfully relinquished on account of failing health. Because her character is aptly illustrated the good, the true, and the beautiful, her life among us will long be held in cherished memory. Requiescat in pace.

WEDDING BELLS.

Gibson—Wemp.

At Millhaven, in the old Wemp homestead, built over a century ago, a very pretty wedding was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick G. Wemp, on June 30th, at high noon, when their only daughter, Muriel Kathleen, was united in marriage to Charles Edward Gibson, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. William Gibson, Seeley's Bay.

As the clock was striking the hour the bride entered the drawing room on the arm of her father, who gave her away, to the strains of Lohengrin wedding march played by Mrs. Frederick Amey, aunt of the bride, and took her place under an arch of carnations and white bells. The drawing room was very prettily decorated with roses, peonies, syringos, snow balls and ferns.

The charming young bride was gowned in white radium lace over white silk, trimmed with white chiffon and white flowers, and wore the customary wedding veil, and carried a bouquet of pink roses, sweet peas and lily of the valley and maiden hair fern. Her little niece, Jean Wemp, preceded her to the altar, looking very dainty in a dress of pink mystery cloth, and carrying a basket of white, pink and mauve sweet peas.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. G. R. McQuade, Odessa. After the ceremony about thirty guests partook of a sumptuous repast. Rev. Mr. McQuade proposed a toast to the bride, the groom responding fittingly. The groom's gift to the bride was a Russian leather suitcase and silk umbrella; to the flower girl a gold bracelet.

The happy couple left on the 3.16 train for Toronto and other western points, the bride travelling in a dress of rust flat crepe with hat and stockings to match, and her wrap was of bedora velour. On their return they will reside at Seeley's Bay, where the groom is a prosperous farmer.

CAMP LE NID

In July, 1886, six law students from Toronto pitched their tents upon Ruttan's Point, opposite Glen Island, and remained there for four weeks. Each successive year has witnessed their return, with gradual additions to their numbers. They chose the happy title "Camp Le Nid" as the name of their organization. Although forty summers have passed since their first sojourn on the shores of the Bay of Quinte, four of the original number are expected to arrive this year. Mr. Gould, of Baltimore, was the first to put in an appearance. He has missed only one season out of forty-one. Other members from Baltimore, New York, Pittsburgh, Winnipeg, Toronto, Ottawa and Montreal, have signified their intention of being present at this session. Few bodies of fresh water possess the attractions of our bay, and strangers from a distance cannot understand why our own people do not make a better use of it for summer resorts.

Alban's Church will hold a garden party at "Dunworkin Camp", on the bay shore, of Mr. Chas. Brook's farm, Tuesday evening, July 27th. There will be a short, but good programme, and the Hayburn Orchestra will be in attendance.

The Traffic "Cop" is Your Protector

Ontario highways are policed for your protection. The traffic "cop" is your friend.

The traffic patrol is not to inconvenience the motorist, and not for the purpose of collecting fines. Its aim is to protect life and limb, and the public investment in the roads. Its work makes for the safety of yourself and your family.

Won't you do your part in this movement to reduce accident on the highways, and encourage your friends to do the same?

Do not fall into the temptation of speeding, because the road ahead is clear. Remember that excessive speed is one of the greatest agents of destruction of some roads. While reminding motorists that the traffic patrol will do its full duty in enforcing the law, the Government urges the co-operation of motorists in refraining from excessive speed. Each motorist is interested in road protection because each must contribute to road maintenance.

THE HON. GEO. S. HENRY, Minister of Highways — S. L. SQUIRE, Deputy Minister

Issued by the Ontario Department of Highways to secure the co-operation of motorists in abating the abuse of the roads of the Province.

Red Hot July Days Hard on the Baby

July—the month of oppressive heat; red-hot days and sweltering nights; is extremely hard on little ones. Diarrhoea, dysentery, colic and cholera infantum carry off thousands of precious little lives every summer. The mother must be constantly on her guard to prevent these troubles, or if they come on suddenly to fight them. No other medicine is of such aid to mothers during the hot summer as is Baby's Own Tablets. They regulate the bowels and stomach, and an occasional dose given to the well child will prevent summer complaint, or if the trouble does come on suddenly will banish it. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

The churches make a slip at times, as witness one where a notice was posted stating: "On Sunday night the minister will preach his last sermon prior to leaving for a vacation. The choir have arranged a service of praise for the occasion."

Equally entertaining was the notice from another church which read: "Sunday next, the Rev. Mr. Blank will preach. Subject: "Is There a Hell?" Mr. Dash will sing, "Tell Mother I'll Be There."

Zutoo Stops headache in 20 minutes by the clock. 25c per box.

He also was a member of the Masonic Order, under whose auspices the service was held at the home on Sunday. Many beautiful floral offerings spoke in a small measure of the esteem in which Mr. Cowie was held.

On Monday the body was brought to Kingston, where it was met by Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Conger. The body was accompanied by Mrs. Cowie, and son, Edmund and daughter Marguerite; also two brothers, Mr. Percy Cowie, of Sault Ste Marie, and Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Cowie, of Erie, Pa.

On Tuesday afternoon many of the friends whom Mr. Cowie had made while on visits to Bethany, met for service, after which the body was taken to the Riverside cemetery, Napanee, for interment. The Masonic Brethern of Napanee, being pall bearers, also holding service at the grave.

The following obituary is taken from a Schenectady paper:

Edmund W. Cowie, C., 18 Hawk street; Scotia, died at his home yesterday, after a week's illness of pneumonia. Mr. Cowie was born in Almonte, Ontario, July 11th, 1879, and came to Schenectady 23 years ago. For the past three years he has been living in Scotia. He was employed as foreman in the erec room of the American Locomotive Company, and had been with the company 23 years.

Mr. Cowie was a member of St. George's Lodge No. 6, F. and A. M.; St. George's Chapter, No. 157, R. and A. M.; St. George's Council, No. 74, R. and S. M.; St. George's Commandery, No. 37 Knight Templers and Oriental Temple and Nobles Mystic Shrine.

He is survived by his wife, a daughter, Margaret, a son, Edmund; five brothers, Norman and Percy, of Sault Ste Marie, Ont.; James, of Carbery, Manitoba; and R. J. Cowie, of Erie, also one sister, Mrs. L. Martin, of Cleveland.

The house will be open to friends to-night from 7 to 9 o'clock. A service will be held Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock by the Rev. H. Victor Fralick, of the State Street Presbyterian Church. The Commandery will hold their service at 4 o'clock. The remains will be taken to Napanee, Ont."

ADDRESS AND PRESENTATION

On Monday evening, July 5th, 1926, the friends and neighbours of Newmarket Road and vicinity gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Burgess to spend a few social hours with them, before their departure to their new home at Colebrooke, Ont. During the evening Mr. and Mrs. Burgess were called forward, and on behalf of those present, Mr. William Shannon presented Mrs. Burgess with a beautiful fern stand, and Mr. Burgess with an arm chair, and the following address was read by Miss Beatrice McGuire:—

Dear Mr. and Mrs. Burgess,—Learning with much regret, that you are leaving our neighbourhood to a new home, we, your friends and neighbours, feel that we could not let you go without assembling in your hospitable home to spend a last evening with you. As neighbours and friends you have never been found wanting, always present with help in any time of need, always ready to entertain each and all of us at all times. Your kindly and ready sympathy have made our neighbourhood a better and happier place; and although with much sorrow we see you go, we congratulate your new neighbours, for what is our loss is their great gain. We ask you to accept this fern stand and chair as a remembrance of your friends in this place. Wishing you all happiness and prosperity in the future, signed on behalf of your friends.

Mr. and Mrs. William Shannon.
Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Shetler.
Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Ballance.
Mr. and Mrs. Fred C. Lasher.

Mr. and Mrs. Burgess, although quite taken by surprise, responded very suitably, thanking all for their remembrance, and extended an invitation vitation to all, to visit them at their home in Colebrooke. They joined in singing "For They Are Jolly Good Fellows", and the remainder of the evening was spent to the amusement of all present.

Muscular Rheumatism Subdued.—When one is a sufferer from muscular rheumatism he cannot do better than to have the region rubbed with Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil. Let the rubbing be brisk, and continue until ease is secured. There is more virtue in a bottle of it than can be fully estimated.

Where Platinum Is Found.

Platinum is recovered principally from the beds of streams, the particles having been deposited there through erosion of large rocks, classified geologically as "tertiary conglomerates." The platinum grains are found with gold, the proportion varying from 5 to 50 per cent of platinum. The two metals are recovered by washing the sand and gravel of streams.

Washington a Free Mason.

That General Washington was an active Free Mason, in good standing is shown by the historic statement that "the southeast corner stone of the capitol was laid September 18, 1793, by Brother George Washington, assisted by the worshipful masters and Free Masons of the surrounding cities, the military and a large number of people."

Puzzling.

"Pa," said the young hopeless, "I can't understand you growed parents a tall. You and mother always tell me you ain't got no money whenever I want to buy candy or ice cream dainties, but I take notice you don't seem to have much trouble digging up a nickel for me to take to Sunday school."

Good Explanation.

Bob is attending the kindergarten. One of the children asked why it was that men take their hats off and women leave theirs on. The teacher explained that it was a custom, but that didn't seem to satisfy Bob, who said: "I know; because men are nice, but girls are nicer."

Savages Fond of the Banjo.

The banjo, in its primitive form, is found in use today by savage tribes in equatorial Africa. It is a calabash, or half a one, with strings of some sort across it, and is perhaps the most important instrument of music at cannibal feasts and on other joyous social occasions.

Coal Flows Like Water.

In a great steel works at Pittsburgh powdered coal flows like water through 1,590 feet of four-inch pipe under a pressure of 40 pounds to the square inch, and flows so rapidly that four tons have been put through a 550-foot line in five minutes.

Ancient Equipment.

Tillie Clinger says that the reason she will have to quit her present boarding house is because the dining room chairs are so low she sticks her head under the table when the blessing is said.

Poet's Many Qualities.

The poet must strike be polished by an intercourse with the world as with the studies of taste; one to whom labor is negligence, refinement a science, and art a nature

WEDDING BELLS

Eves—McGill.

On Wednesday, July 7th, 1926, at the Enterprise United Church Parsonage, a very quiet but pretty wedding was solemnized by the Rev. H. A. Bunt, when Henry Eves, of Simcoe Island, and Inez Louise, daughter of the late Robert and Mrs. McGill, of Centreville, were united in marriage. The bride was very becomingly attired in a dress of white crepe de chine with touches of georgette, and wearing a chic hat of white felt. The bride and groom were unattended, the witnesses being Miss Florabel McGill, of Toronto, and Mr. George McGill, brother of the bride. After a dainty luncheon was served at the home of the bride's mother, Centreville, the happy couple left for Watertown, N.Y., and other American points. Upon their return, they will reside at Simcoe Island.

PRESERVING AND STORING EGGS

(Experimental Farms Note.)

The economical housewife will take advantage of the season of heavy production and consequently low priced eggs to put by a supply of eggs for culinary purposes for use during the season of high prices.

For this purpose there are a number of preservatives that are satisfactory, but the two outstanding ones are "waterglass" and "lime water".

Waterglass is an excellent preservative, but it owes a great deal of its popularity to the fact that it can be readily procured at any drug store in convenient form.

Lime water is a much cheaper preservative, and experiments carried on by the Experimental Farms have shown it to be equal, if not superior, to waterglass. For, a number of years the Experimental Farm at Cap Rouge has been conducting tests in the storing of eggs. Some of the eggs are shipped to the Central Farm each season for examination and it is found that those preserved in lime water are best.

When eggs are to be held in a commercial way, cold storage is an absolute necessity. The guaranteeing process is one that is becoming increasingly popular. For a number of years the Central Farm has been carrying on tests with this process and the results obtained warrant its recommendation to commercial packers.

Literature on the preserving of eggs for domestic purposes or on guaranteeing will be sent on application to the Poultry Division, Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa.

GEORGE ROBERTSON,

Poultry Husbandman.

Skinem had invented a new hair restorer and had sent out a large number of sample bottles to various people in the hope of securing some testimonials for advertisement purposes.

"I don't know whether to publish the testimonial or not," he said to a friend who was calling upon him as he was opening the letter.

"What does it say?" enquired the other.

"Well, it says," said the proud inventor, "Before I used your hair restorer I had three bald patches, now I have only one."

Dread of Asthma makes countless thousands miserable. Night after night the attacks return and even when brief respite is given the mind is still in torment from constant anticipation. Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Asthma Remedy changes all this. Relief comes, and at once, while future attacks are warded off, leaving the afflicted one in a state of peace and happiness he once believed he could never enjoy. Inexpensive and sold almost everywhere.

On the Road to Success.

That young man in whom he makes a pen, organizes his ambitions and makes each day contribute something toward its fulfilment. Success often seems delayed, but it is surely on the way for those who are getting ready for it. Over the desk of the boy or girl struggling with hard lessons that may seem at the present quite useless, let it be written in letters of gold: "I will study and get ready, and maybe my chance will come."

Origin of "Algernon."

The name Algernon was originally "als Gernon," and was first applied to one of the crusading Percys. His name was William, but his fellow knights called him William als Gernon or Gernon, meaning William with the Whiskers, or just Whiskers for short. As Algernon the name has persisted in the family to the present time, and the tenth duke of Northumberland, who died recently, was Algernon Percy.

The Lute.

The lute has vanished. It was one of the oldest of instruments, and had a beautiful vibrant tone somewhat like that of the harp. But its size and complexity were against it. It had a long tail, and many strings, and while its size increased its power and range, it also increased its weight and made it cumbrous. The minstrel of today plays on the mandolin, the guitar or the banjo—and the lute is forgotten.

Washington Flag Etiquette.

The United States flag always is hoisted over the senate or house of representatives when in session. The flag floats from the flagstaff of the White House while the president is in Washington, and its absence indicates the absence of the president from the capital. It is displayed over the department buildings in Washington from 9 o'clock a. m. to 4:30 p. m. every week day.

To Calculate Interest.

A rule often recommended for calculating interest for short periods is as follows: To find the interest of any given sum for any number of days, multiply the principal by the number of days and divide as follows: At 5 per cent, by 72; at 6 per cent, by 60; at 7 per cent, by 52; at 8 per cent, by 45, and at 9 per cent, by 40.

Food Value of Fish.

The high worth of fish as a food is strongly upheld by the Journal of the American Medical Association, noting that fish must be better cared for than some other forms of animal food, but concluding "It is no just criticism of fish to say that they may be harmful unless properly cared for."

Goal Always to Be Sought.

The greater good lies beyond the eyes, to be reached for but not touched, impalpable, unattainable, never depreived of, never found, always in the prospect, never in the experience, something certain for the future, something unknown to the past.—Clifford Raymond.

Origin of Honeymoon.

To the ancients honeymoon was a luxurious beverage prepared with the sirupy secretion of the bee. It was the custom to drink of this diluted honey for 30 days, or a month's age, after a wedding feast. Hence arose the term honeymoon, which is of Teutonic origin.

Barley Long Known to Man.

Barley was originally a wild grass of western Asia. It is believed to be the most ancient cultivated vegetable food of mankind. Three varieties of the grain have been found in the prehistoric lake dwellings of Switzerland, dating back to the Stone Age.

Count Your Pulse.

A new-born baby's pulse should beat from 130 to 140 times per minute; a year-old child's 115 to 130; a fourteen-year-old's 80 to 90; an adult's from 70 to 75, and an aged person's from 60 to 75.—Woman's World.

Budding Diplomat.

"Willie," said his mother, seeing him eating a piece of candy, "didn't you could have a piece of candy?" "Well," said Willie, "you didn't say that I couldn't."

Reason for It.

A millionaire merchant says: "My success is probably due to the fact that at night I store my mind and during the day I mind my store."

Plenty of Room to Grow.

Australia, which is 23 times larger than the whole of the British Isles, has a population not exceeding that of London.

Few Whites in India.

Compared with India's 314,000,000 dark-skinned natives, that country has but about 300,000 white inhabitants.

Glory for the Conqueror.

The more famous the vanquished the more famous the victor.—Don Quixote.

Optimistic Thought.

Suffer not your faith to be shaken by the sophistries of skeptics.

A well-dressed lady was seated in a tram next to a small boy, who was sniffing audibly.

She bore it for some time, then said: "Have you got a handkerchief, little boy?"

The boy replied the child "but mummy said I wasn't to lend it to strangers."

WEDDING BELLS

Spencer—Bergenstock.

The marriage of Ralph O. Spencer, of this city, and Miss Sara Judith Bergenstock of Milton, Pa., formerly of this city, in Philadelphia, Pa., on Sunday, June 20th, was announced here to-day. They were quietly married at the Richardson Memorial Church in Philadelphia, by Rev. Dr. Arthur Phillips, an old family friend of the bride.

Mr. Spencer went to New York on a business trip and while he was away he went to Philadelphia where he met his bride and they were married. The marriage was kept secret until to-day, the only person to know it being an intimate friend of the bride, Miss Albena Bonno, who was in Philadelphia at the time.

The bride wore on her wedding day an attractive costume of all white, consisting of white georgette dress with shoulder cape, white slippers and hose and gloves, and a white broadcloth coat and felt hat to complete the ensemble. The couple were unattended, no witnesses to a marriage being required in Pennsylvania. After the wedding ceremony they went to Atlantic City on their wedding trip, where they spent a few days before Mr. Spencer returned to Watertown.

Mrs. Spencer will arrive in Watertown next Thursday, when the newly married couple will take up their residence at 310 Mullin street.

Mrs. Spencer was for two years deaconess of Faith Chapel for the First Presbyterian Church of this city, residing at 216 Trinity Place. She left here last August to take up settlement work in Philadelphia. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Bergenstock, of Milton, Pa.

Mrs. Spencer is a graduate of the training course of the Training School for Christian Workers of the Presbyterian and Reformed Churches in Philadelphia.

Mr. Spencer is assistant superintendent at Taggart Brothers, where he has been employed for the past five years. Previous to that he was on the office force of the New York Central. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James F. Spencer, 130 North Meadow St.

Announcement of the marriage comes as a complete surprise to the many friends of the young couple in this city, who were expecting the wedding to take place in this city sometime later in the summer.—Watertown Daily Times.

Stewart—Hodgins.

On Saturday, June 26th, 1926, at 4 o'clock, the home of Mr. and Mrs. Pearl Stewart, Richland, N.Y., was the scene of a very pleasant event, when their younger daughter, Sarah Irene, was united in marriage to Elias John Hudgins, only son of Mr. and Mrs. Elias W. Hudgins, Syracuse, N.Y.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. John MacLacklon, of Richland.

The bridal party entered the living-room to the strains of Lohengrin's Wedding March, played by Mrs. Ray Stewart, and took their places under a large wedding bell, suspended from an arch of ferns and bridal wreath, twined with vines.

The bride was given in marriage by her father, and looked lovely in a charming gown of Alice blue Georgette crepe. She carried a large sheaf of bridal roses. She was attended by her maid of honor, Miss Jennie Richardson, who wore a yellow embroidered georgette crepe, and also carried bridal roses. The groom was attended by Mr. R. Neil Filkins.

The ceremony was witnessed by a large number of relatives and friends and the young couple were showered with rice and good wishes. After the ceremony the company sat down to a sumptuous wedding supper in the charming dining-room, which was decorated with ferns, vines and bridal roses.

The out-of-town guests came from Syracuse, Pulaski, Orwell, Williamson and Redfield.

The bride received many costly and beautiful gifts, which testified to the high esteem in which she is held. Immediately following the supper, Mr. and Mrs. Hudgins left on a short motor honeymoon, after which they will reside at 317 Cherry St., Syracuse, N.Y.—Pulaski Democrat.

Ruthven McDonald and His Highlanders at Coming Dominion Chautauqua

An outstanding feature of the coming Dominion Chautauqua will be Ruthven McDonald and His Highlanders, one of the foremost singing organizations of modern day.

This popular company was organized in the Dominion of Canada, and critics everywhere have unqualifiedly endorsed it, praising the remarkable organ-like tonal quality of the ensemble work and the excellent individual artistry.

Splendid as the company is in the rendition of numbers of genuine musical worth, ranging from grand opera selections to old Scotch ballads, it also excels in the presentation of songs of a humorous character. As a matter of fact the program is calculated to bring many an uproarious laugh. Ruthven McDonald, who heads the company, is a noted basso cantante, and one of the most popular Canadian singers before the public.

This is a distinctive company whose appearance here will be one of the most enjoyable features of the entire Chautauqua.

STRATHCONA

Mrs. Geo. Bird has his sister-in-law, Mrs. F. Folkard, visiting her this week.

Mr. Geo. Dunlap is on the sick list.

Mrs. Tompkins, sr., had the misfortune to break her right arm near the wrist joint on Wednesday of this week. She had just returned from fishing, when she fainted in her door yard, and falling on the arm broke it. Mrs. A. Sutton found her. She called her neighbors, who decided the bone was broken, and Mrs. F. Robinson sent for Dr. Mounce, who is giving medical aid.

The Strathcona Young People are all sorry to part with Mr. Colling, the relieving agent. We wish him bon voyage, and would say call again as soon as you can.

S. S. next Sunday at 10.30 a.m.

On Sunday, July 4th, Strathcona United Church had reopening services conducted by Rev. E. Farnsworth, a former pastor, who gave two very appropriate messages. His morning subject was negative and positive elements in life—some things which must be avoided and others absolutely necessary in the Christian character. Text 6 Ph., 5, 18.

The choir also was a great help in the service of praise.

Mr. Farnsworth gave a good discourse in the evening on the true foundation on which character must be built. At both services the church was filled with devout worshippers who seemed to feel that Mr. Scantlebury had done the work of painting and decorating so well that the building looked neat and tidy, quite fitting for the purpose for which it was to be used—even a specially sacred meeting house for God and his people.

The Finance Committee of the Trustee Board wish to thank all those who helped them so liberally with money and labor. The Treasurer hopes to be freed from all financial worry when all the repairs are completed and subscriptions paid.

We have tried to gather all the information possible about conditions and congregations fifty years ago. Those were the days when two lime kilns furnished water lime for building purposes before the Cement Co. started their operations. In fifty years both those industries have had their day and ceased to be. But the old saw mill had just given place to the paper mill, which is still the industrial life of our burg, as the Strathcona Paper Co. employ about fifty men at the present time.

But the most important consideration is the character of the men and women who built the Church. Among those most prominent are the following families: Robert Madden and his family, Mr. Neely and family, Peter Miller and family, B. C. Lloyd and family, T. G. Lasher and family, Richard Rook and family, L. Lott and family, Mr. Stafford and family, Mr. Granger's family, and Mrs. Scouten and family. As far as we have been able to learn the above are the names of the principle leaders who felt over fifty years ago that there should be an appropriate house dedicated for God's worship.

Dame rumor has sent her voice echoing through the corridors of time repeating the merry laugh and bright cheer with which the neighbours gathered in Miller's quarry to provide the stones which Saul Brothers of Camden East dressed and built into the structure which defies the decay of time. They tell us there was considerable rivallry for the first place in furnishing voluntary labor to quarry and haul the material. Mr. Rockwell and son did the carpenter work. Then when the corner stone was laid with due ceremony, Rev. Mr. Smith was one of the happiest members of the great throng who met in Miller's grove to celebrate the happy event with a real good old-fashioned teameeting. Those were the good old days when everything was done heartily. The presentor stood before the congregation and "pitched" the tune.

But there were some defects even in those good old days, for they had no organized school for the study of the Bible, until about three years after the opening of the new Church, when Sidney Stafford organized a band of young people for Sunday School work, and was also class leader of a small band of young people who were seeking to cultivate the higher life.

But of all the congregation of fifty years ago only about half a dozen were present for the re-opening on July 4th, 1926.

A Prime Dressing for Wounds. — In some factories and workshops carbolic acid is kept for use in cauterizing wounds and cuts sustained by the workmen. Far better to keep on hand a bottle of Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil. It is just as quick in action and does not scar the skin or burn the flesh.

"Buy a car", said the doctor, "and get out more. You ought to take off pounds."

Speaking of the results obtained by this prescription, the patient says: "I got a car and got out more. I got out six times between London and Coventry, and took off flesh in four different places. Once I got out through the wind-shield. That seemed to take off the most flesh."

Laura Secord Candy grows more popular every day. Most people prefer them to Chocolates selling at double the price. Sold 60c. a lb., any assortment, at Wallace's.

On Sunday, June 6th, 1926, Charles H. Dopking entered into Life Eternal, at 9.30 o'clock, aged 80 years, at his home at the ferry, opposite Sackett Harbour, N.Y. Mr. Dopking had a severe cold, and death resulted from pneumonia. He was sick about six days, which caused his mind to wander. He was a loving and devoted father to his family. Mr. Dopking was born in Enterprise, Canada, on October 13th, 1845, and married Seneth Wagar, of Enterprise, on May 16th, 1869. He was a farmer at Wilson's Crossing for thirty years, then moved to Pillar Point, where he lived the last twenty-two years of his life. He was a lifelong member of the Methodist Episcopal Church, first at Enterprise, Ont., and at the Ferry, N.Y. He is survived by his wife, four daughters, Mrs. Grace Meadam, Watertown, N.Y.; Mrs. Olive McAdam, Bannockburn, Ont.; Mrs. Jennie Breman, Turin, N.Y.; Mrs. Ella Dingman, Dexter, N.Y.; four brothers, Reuben and Wilson Dopking, of Enterprise, Ont.; George, of Kingston, Ont., and William, of Pillar Point; one sister, Mrs. John Story, of Saskatchewan, Can.; twelve grandchildren and thirteen great-grandchildren.

The funeral was held from the home on Tuesday afternoon, at 1.30, from the Methodist Episcopal Church at 2 p.m., Rev. Mrs. Clark, Pastor of the Dexter and Pillar Point Methodist Episcopal Churches, officiated. Interment was made in Dexter cemetery.

THIS WOMAN NOW WELL

Her Suffering Relieved and Health Restored by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Toronto, Ontario.—"I am certainly very grateful for the benefit I have received from Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, also the Sanative Wash and the Liver Pills. In the early spring I was suffering so much from loss of blood that I thought I would never be any better as doctor's medicine relieved me only for the time being. I saw the Vegetable Compound advertised in the 'Toronto Star,' and I find the Vegetable Compound Tablets the best for me. I have been taking them since Spring, and I intend keeping them by me all the time. After reading your Private Text-Book I saw it was necessary to use Lydia E. Pinkham's Sanative Wash, and I can safely say I feel a different woman. My friends remark how well I look. I am a very busy woman, but I am ready at all times to boost your medicines."—Mrs. CHARLES GIFFIN, 949 Landsdowne Avenue, Toronto, Ontario.

You may be having an experience similar to Mrs. Giffin's and will be interested to know what she did. Every sick woman can feel confident that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will help her, since we are told that it does help 98 out of every 100 women who take it.

WISE AND OTHERWISE

Smith—Can you think of anything more disgusting than marrying a woman for her money?
Brown—Yes, that old Indian custom of marry'n 'em for beads.

"Darling," cooed the lover as he gazed at the flapper's ears, "have you never had these pink shells pierced?"
"No," she sighed, "but they've often been bored."

"Tommy," said his stingy uncle, "how would you feel if I were to give you a penny?"
"I think," replied Tommy, "that I would feel a little faint at first, but I'd try and get over it."

A Prime Dressing for Wounds. — In some factories and workshops carbolic acid is kept for use in cauterizing wounds and cuts sustained by the workmen. Far better to keep on hand a bottle of Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil. It is just as quick in action and does not scar the skin or burn the flesh.

"Buy a car", said the doctor, "and get out more. You ought to take off pounds."
Speaking of the results obtained by this prescription, the patient says: "I got a car and got out more. I got out six times between London and Coventry, and took off flesh in four different places. Once I got out through the wind-shield. That seemed to take off the most flesh."

Little Tommy was very derelict about folding up his clothes after he undressed for bed at night. When the mother came into the room she looked at the scattered clothes and said in a reproving way, "I wonder who it was that never folded up his clothes when he went to bed?"
Little Tommy pulled the covers over his head and a muffled voice answered: "Adam!"

CLEAN UP THE STABLE

MAKE SURE YOU DESTROY DISEASE GERMS.

Remove the Dirt, Let In the Sunlight and Use Some Lime and Be Rewarded by Better Health of Stock.

(Contributed by Ontario Department of Agriculture, Toronto.)

Disinfection of the farm stable depends on the destruction of the germs of disease. It also depends on the removal and exclusion of the carriers that may deposit infectious material in the stable—as reactors to the tuberculin test or discharges from animals harboring contagious abortion.

Old Stables Difficult to Disinfect.

The stable that is roughly constructed, containing open woodwork, cracks, crevices, and open or rotting wood floors cannot be separated from its infecting material. Firm, smooth, tight walls, cement flooring and iron work structures can be treated with a degree of thoroughness that results in the complete removal of the infecting agents.

Cleaning Up.

The first step in a complete disinfection of a stable consists in the removal of all loose dust and filth. Dirt must be removed from all cracks and crevices, everything scraped until the material of construction is fully exposed and clean. Sweeping, scraping the removal of decayed lumber from floors and mangers, followed by thorough scrubbing with hot soapy or lye water is a good preparation prior to the application of the disinfectant solution. This cleansing process is of equal or greater importance than the application of the specific germ destroyer. Filth protects bacteria. Ordinary disinfection does not penetrate a dried coat of manure or a wooden floor that has become porous by decay. Disinfection is complete when all exposed surfaces, as floors, ceilings, walls, stanchions and equipment are included. One cannot expect to promptly suppress any contagious disease as tuberculosis, white scours or contagious abortion unless the work is thoroughly done. All stables no matter how well kept should be given a complete disinfection once a year.

Application of Germ Destroyer.

Disinfectants should be applied under pressure in the form of a fine spray. Spray the surface until it is thoroughly soaked, do not spare the disinfectant, you are putting it on for a purpose.

In outbreaks of acute infectious diseases special attention should be given to the floors and mangers at frequent intervals. When animals can be isolated control is easier. Every farm should have its isolation pens, always ready for the possible outbreak.

Agents that Destroy Germs of Disease

Sunlight readily destroys bacteria that are exposed during the brightness of summer. Very weak in this respect during the winter when most needed. Like all other disinfectants the sun's rays cannot reach germs that are enclosed in filth.

Lime is a cheap and useful agent against the less resistant germs as hog cholera or anthrax bacilli, but it is not strong enough to destroy anthrax spores or tubercle bacilli. Stables should be whitewashed from two to four times a year.

Chlorinated lime, when fresh and dry is much stronger than lime, it is used in the same way. It is objectionable in dairy stables.

Carbolic acid in solutions up to 5 per cent. is widely used. It is rather expensive and not as efficient as a three per cent solution of a mixture of one part volume of crude carbolic acid and one part volume crude sulphuric acid. This is readily soluble in water, strong enough to kill tubercle bacilli and anthrax spores. It is cheap. Milch cows should not be returned to the stable until the vapor of carbolic acid has disappeared.

Creolin, in solution up to 5 per cent. is active against most forms of bacteria, but it is not strong enough for spores unless used in excess of 5% solution.

Cresol is highly efficient when combined with sulphuric acid or soap to render it soluble in water. One volume of cresol and one-half volume of sulphuric acid, made up in a three per cent. aqueous solution makes a very efficient disinfectant.

Corrosive Sublimate, one ounce to eight gallons of water or 1 to 1,000 is a very strong disinfectant. It is very poisonous to cattle and must be used with care. A little salt added (1 per cent.) is an improvement. The losses on the farms each winter through failure to clean up and use disinfectants, run into millions. Poor animal husbandry never made any money for anyone. Wild animals keep healthy, so if domesticated animals become diseased it is the fault of the domestication as practiced by too large a number of our farm people. —L. Stevenson, Dept. of Extension, Ontario Agricultural College.

Why Chickens Die.

An autopsy record kept on 1,013 post mortem examinations conducted on birds over six months of age gave the following interesting results:

Roup killed 279 or 27.5 per cent. of all specimens.
Intestinal worms killed 129 or 12.7 per cent.
Tuberculosis killed 25 or 2.4 per cent.
Peritonitis killed 66 or 6 per cent.
Leukemia killed 19 or less than 1 per cent.
Pneumonia killed 1 or less than one-tenth of one per cent. of total.
Liver troubles killed 19 or less than one per cent.
Paralysis killed 46 or less than five per cent.
Tumor killed 15 or less than one per cent.
Pericarditis killed 10 or less than one per cent.

It is interesting to note that Roup and Parasitism were by far the most destructive. It is also well to note that both conditions are the most easily preventable of poultry ailments. —L. Stevenson, O. A. College.

"Poetry doesn't pay nowadays," remarked the long-haired lodger.
"Neither do poets", replied the landlady, coldly.

She—Why are you always reading the printed side of blotters?
He—Oh, I find them quite absorbing.

Conserve Enthusiasm.
Are you a boy or girl who becomes very enthusiastic about some nice thing you want to do? Be careful not to be so enthusiastic in starting a new undertaking that you have no energy left for carrying it through to completion. Enthusiasm is an important factor in success, but it must be a steady flow, and not burst forth like some of the geysers which send a spout of water skyward, and then are quiet for 24 hours.

Testing Pleurisy With Coins.
A novel method of diagnosing pleurisy is described by P. Lereboullet in the Paris Medical Journal. The examiner applies his ear to the patient's chest, closing his other ear, while coins are clinked at the patient's back. The sound of the coins coming through a healthy, normally aerated lung seems distant and dull, while through an affected lung, through solid or homogeneous tissue a clear, silvery metallic ring is heard.

Disillusionment.
"When yo' sees a cullud puhfessah rise up and pick at dem crinkly side whiskers o' his'n and smoove down dat fancy vest you' am amazed at de ponderosity o' de spettacle," said old Brother Buckaloo. "But when yo' listens to his transplavication yo' finds dat when yo' beheld dem whiskers and dat vest yo' seed it all. Ain't dat 'bout so, Brudder Jurdan?"

Possible Source of Tresses.
The other day I, with a neighbor's child, went to a hairdresser's establishment. The child has red hair. While I was buying various things the child was busy looking about. She finally discovered some false hair the color of her own and came to me with this question: "I wonder if my red hair was boughten here when I was borned."

Could Not Live Without Birds.
The value of birds to man is based principally on their feeding habits. Their greatest help is through their activity in eating harmful insects, their eggs and larvae. Without this constant aid, we would be powerless to protect our trees and crops from the ravages of caterpillars, beetles, borers and such creatures.

Universal Electricity.
The increasing use of electricity for household as well as business purposes has led to the prediction of universal water. The cost will be reduced to a minimum and it will be as unheard of to charge even a stranger for a nominal amount of electricity as to charge a water tax to the person who asks for a drink.

Always Have Danger Signal.
From the beginning of railroads in Great Britain a red necktie has been part of the uniform of trainmen and station employees. The object was that every railroad servant might have always something at hand to improvise into a danger signal when a red flag was not available.

Spanish Sulphur Deposits.
In the province of Murcia, Spain, there are a number of sulphur deposits. One of the most important of them is that of La Surata de Lorca, near the town of Lorca, the bed of which extends over a length of ten kilometers and a width of one to two kilometers.

Standard Specific.
Some facetious persons want to know what we polish the seat of our pants with to make them so bright and shiny. It's no "get-slick-quick" preparation, but an intangible and natural element known as tempi attritus.

When Americans Were Heathen.
The first foreign missionary society was established at London July 27, 1649, being a corporation under the title of "The Society for the Propagation of the Gospel in New England and the Parts Adjacent in North America."

Something New in Divorce Cases.
Mrs. Johnson—"Sistah Martha has jest got a divo'ce f'um her husband."
Mrs. Jackson—"You don't say. How much ammonia did de cou't grant her?"

Using Plaster of Paris.
If you wish to use plaster of paris for filling cracks in walls, mix with vinegar instead of water, then it can be handled like putty.

That's Right.
Men seldom, or rather never for a length of time and deliberately, rebel against anything that does not deserve rebelling against.

Two Extremes.
When the world is inclined to favor it overrates as much as it will underrate when it disfavors.

McCoy's Cod Liver Extract Tablets Fine For Thin Underdeveloped Kids

Children Love Them Because They Are Sugar Coated and as Easy to Take as Candy.

It's your duty, Mother, to see that the frail, peaked, sickly youngster grows up to be strong in body, keen in mind and robust in health.

Extracted from the livers of the lowly codfish are the health, weight and strength producing vitamines that are found in McCoy's Cod Liver Extract Tablets, which are sold by pharmacists all over North and South America.

Doctor's know about them and so do all druggists, and if your children need building up ask for these tablets to-day if you want to give your loved ones a good appetite and put pounds of good healthy flesh on their bones. But be sure and get McCoy's.

They are not expensive—60 tablets 60 cents—and if you are not pleased with the improvement after 30 days—your money back.

A very sickly child, age 9, gained 12 pounds in seven months and is strong and healthy.

One skinny woman gained 9 pounds in 24 days.

SOME WALKER

The Professor's turn in the story-telling factory has come again, and the following is the latest output:—

A Professor, who was very absent-minded was spending a few days at the residence of his married niece, and had listened long to the praise of her first-born. When she paused for breath, the Professor felt that he mustt say something.

"Can the little fellow walk?" he asked, with every appearance of interest.

"Walk!" cred the mother. "Why, he's been walking now for five months."

"Dear me!" exclaimed the Professor, "what a long way he must have gone!"

PILES GO QUICK

Piles are caused by congestion of blood in the lower bowel. Only an internal remedy can remove the cause. That's why salves and cutting fail. Dr. Leonhardt's Hem-Roid, a harmless tablet, succeeds, because it relieves this congestion and strengthens the affected parts. Hem-Roid has given quick, safe and lasting relief to thousands of Pile Sufferers. It will do the same for you or money back. Wallace's Drug Store and druggists everywhere sell Hem-Roid with this guarantee.

This New Brunswick Woman Restored by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills

Mrs. James Belyea, Brown's Flat, N.B., says:—"I am writing to tell you the great good I had through the timely use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills My health had failed and I was troubled with great weakness. I had no appetite and frequently had dizzy spells. The least exertion would make my heart palpitate violently and I felt tired at all times. I had doctored a great deal without getting much relief, and was feeling greatly discouraged when I finally decided to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. The happy results following the use of this medicine can best be summed up by saying that I am again perfectly well, able to do my housework and enjoy life once more. I feel it a duty to recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to all weak people."

If you have any, or all, of the symptoms above noted, do not delay, begin treatment at once with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. "Yes," said the second girl. "Bill heard it, too."

EMPEY HILL

On Wednesday evening, July 7th, about 40 friends and neighbors gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Barnes, it being the occasion of their thirtieth wedding anniversary. After a time spent in social intercourse, the following address was read by Mrs. Clarence Pinney:—

Mr. and Mrs. Barnes.

Dear Friends,—We, your friends and neighbors, have met here to-night to spend a few happy moments and to remind you of thirty years ago to-day. Time makes changes, but a few of your old friends are here to-night who were with you then. We have always found you good neighbors, ready to help in time of trouble or sickness. We would like to show our appreciation by asking you to accept these few tokens of remembrance, and hope you will live to enjoy many more years of married life.

Signed on behalf of your friends and neighbors.

MRS. WILBERT WINTERS
MRS. WM. PINNEY.
MRS. J. N. MOWERS.

Then the four grandchildren, who were present, Beatrice, Irene, Geraldine and Teddy Mowers, Harold Winters and MacGillivray McMath, presented them with gifts of silver.

Mr. Barnes, in behalf of his bride of thirty years ago, and himself, thanked the friends who had remembered them so well.

Refreshments were served, and after singing "For They Are Jolly Good Fellows", and again wishing them the best of luck, the happy gathering broke up. All were sorry that two of the bride's children, Mrs. W. J. Gibson, Gananoque, and Mr. Frank Mowers, Upland, Cal., were unable to be present.

Good Alibi for the Bee.

That bees injure fruit is a common belief in some quarters, but investigations recently carried out in Italy prove it to be without foundation. Bees cannot perforate the skin of fruit, and the damage attributed to them is really due to birds, wind, hail, hornets, wasps and certain other insects. Bees are, in fact, of much benefit to the orchardist, because they effect the cross-pollenization of fruit trees.—Popular Science Monthly.

Why He Would Not Build.

It is in a Jewish legend that Methuselah declined at the age of six hundred or so to go to the trouble of building a house because the Lord answered his question as to how much longer he had to live, and the patriarch decided that three hundred years was too short a time to warrant him in making the exertion. Undoubtedly Methuselah preferred his tent and was ready to grasp at any excuse for sticking to it.

Adds Life to Railroad Ties.

Railroad ties last about eight years under normal conditions, when they have to be renewed, which costs a good deal of money and calls for a large force of labor, says Popular Science Monthly. It is estimated that treated ties which are first kiln-dried and then immersed in hot creosote until saturated, last twice as long. They are absolutely waterproof and impervious to rot.

Clears the Head.

Many colds in the head are relieved, particularly that heavy, dull feeling, when breathing through the nose is impossible, by employing as a throat and nasal douche half a teaspoonful of baking soda to a glass of warm water. Fill the passages with as much of the liquid as possible; this will clear the passages of obstruction and in a little while breathing through the nose is possible.

Short Life In Prospect.

A girl in Riverside City, a Muncie suburb, was singing loudly one evening, "I Would Not Live Always." A woman next door, trying to put the baby to sleep, sent the following note by her six-year-old son to the young singer: "If you don't stop that noise on receipt of this, you won't even live a few minutes."

Road of Frights.

In the central part of China there is a very strange road, which leads to the famous Ming tombs. On each side of the avenue are huge figures of elephants, camels and giraffes, lions, etc. Each animal is carved out of a solid piece of stone. They are probably more than 500 years old.

Old Idea of the "Far West."

The citizens of Albany, N. Y., experienced a thrill on February 28, 1795, when 500 emigrants' sleighs passed through that city on their way to the distant and little-known Genesee country of western New York. The Genesee valley was then considered the "far West."

Carbolic Acid for Carbuncles.

In an article in the New York Medical Journal Dr. Edward H. Ochsner reported very favorable results in the treatment of carbuncles by injections of carbolic acid. The injection gives immediate relief from pain and the sore heals rapidly.

The Summer Solstice.

June 21 is the day of the year when the sun is directly over the equator, and for several days about that time there is no observable difference on his position, or his hours of rising and setting. It is the longest day of the year.

GOLF

On Wednesday afternoon of this week a team of seventeen players from the Cataraqui Golf and Country Club, Limited, Kingston, were entertained by the Napanee Golf Club to an eighteen hole game over the local course and to dinner in the evening at the Paisley House. The Kingston team appreciated the immense improvement in the Napanee Course during the last few years. Unfortunately, the new Club House was not ready for use in this game, but it is expected that the Kingston players will visit us again when we can offer them the conveniences of a well-equipped and up-to-date Club House. The President of the Club hopes to have committees arrange for a programme on an opening day to be held about the end of this month. It is expected that there will be mixed competitions during the day, and in the evening a dance.

SOFTBALL

The Napanee Leafs lost their third straight in Belleville on Thursday, when they ran into some hard luck and were nosed out by 28-22. The Leafs have been playing in hard luck all season and can never seem to chase the jinx. Belleville Beavers were rated as the best team in the league, but the locals forced them to the limit. The Leafs pounded Miss Lee hard, and four of the local players banged out circuit blows. The Leafs are second to no team in the league and will be heard from yet.

Deseronto 13. Napanee 8.

Hard luck again sent the Leafs to defeat at Deseronto on Wednesday evening by a 13-8 score. The Leafs played equally as well as the Ponies and deserved a better fate, but fortune decreed otherwise. Some of the Leaf batters pounded the ball hard, but were robbed of several hits. Marion Embury was the local star, her fielding being spectacular. Mary Stinson was off form at shortstop, and Hazel O'Neill failed to play her regular game. Marion Douglas was also one of the local stars.

Alma Gaulin, Ileen Normile and Ivy Hoppings did the heavy clouting for the Ponies. Miss Wagar pitched a masterly game.

Following were the batteries :—
Leafs—D. Johnston and M. Grass.
Ponies—L. Wagar and E. Harvey.

Napanee 21, Tamworth 9.

The Leafs, or an outfit wearing the Leaf's colors, defeated Tamworth on Monday, by 21-9. The Leafs used only a few of the regulars and filled in with prospects.

Kathleen Ungar is slumping badly in her playing with the Leafs. She is not playing her best ball by any means, and the fans are hoping to see her round into form again.

What should be the best game of the season will be staged Monday evening at N. C. I. grounds, when 212 Lodge tackles "B" Co. Both teams are strong in every position, and a great game is being looked for.

A fair-sized crowd turned out on Wednesday evening to see St. Andrew's and Grace play at the N.C.I. grounds, but the teams failed to appear. This must not go on if the league is to prosper.

BASEBALL.

Odessa received their second defeat at Adolphustown in a Lennox and Addington League fixture, by 8-7. The game was one of the best of the season. Kilgannon and Heath did the flinging for Odessa, while Daverne did round duty for the Bay village.

Odessa defeated Tamworth Wednesday, by 18-2.

TAMWORTH UNITED CHURCH

The sermon subject for next Sunday will be "The Christlike God." The order of services on the pastoral charge will be: Tamworth, Sunday School 10 a.m., Divine Worship followed by Holy Communion 11 a.m.; Reidville, Sunday School followed by Divine Worship beginning at 2 p.m.; Marlbank, Sunday School at 10 a.m., and Divine Worship at 7.30 p.m. There will be a Preparatory Sunday service in the R. E. building at Tamworth on Friday at 8 p.m.

On the morning of the 12th of July, at the parsonage, in Tamworth, the minister united in marriage Miss Margaret A. Kellar to Mr. Noel A. Parker, both of Mountain Grove.

The re-opening services at Reidville were well attended, both morning and evening. Seventy partook of the Lord's Supper at the morning service. The congregation received many congratulations on the beautiful appearance of the church, all of which are richly deserved. One very pleasing feature of the morning service was the presence of a former minister, Dr. R. L. Ballantyne, of Riverfield, Que., accompanied by his wife and son, Melville. Mr. Ballantyne was minister of the pastoral charge of Tamworth and Reidville for eight years some thirty years ago. He was ordained and inducted as minister of the charge when a young man of 20, and during his pastorate was united in marriage to Miss Elizabeth Brown, of the Tamworth congregation. Dr. Ballantyne, although a minister of the continuing Presbyterian Church, brought hearty greetings to his former congregation and would have preached for us had he been in good health. On Monday night all arrangements had been made to have refreshments served and the programme given on the church lawn, but as we were singing our grace before refreshments we were refreshed by a shower of rain and had to take refuge inside the church. The building was well filled and the programme well carried out. Both Enterprise and Tamworth were generous in their assistance. Revs. Messrs. Bunt, of Enterprise, and Wilson, of Roblin, were present, and were very happy in their remarks.

The minister has been granted four weeks' vacation, which, together with his family, he is planning to spend at Capac, Mich., with his son, Dr. G. A. Thornley. They are planning to start on their trip on Tuesday, July 27th. The Session has arranged to supply the pulpit for the first two Sundays and the last two worship with neighboring congregations.

MORVEN

On Friday afternoon, while entertaining Mrs. W. R. Smith, also their two grandsons, Masters Wilfrid and Morley Lake, of Oshawa, there motored to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lake, Mrs. Percy Daniels and daughter, Helen, and Miss Lawrence, of Ottawa, enroute for Toronto to join Mr. Daniels, who is spending a short time in the city.—The strawberry festival was a grand success, the proceeds at the door amounting to $108.00. — The Woman's Missionary Society and Ladies' Aid met at the home of Mrs. James Curran on Wednesday afternoon. A collection of $10.00 was received by measuring the waistline of the W. M. S. members present, then taxing them one cent for every inch they measured. Mrs. Curran served refreshments for the benefit of the Aid and a splendid sum was received. — Mrs. William Wood and daughter, of Amherstburgh, are spending a few days visiting Mr. and Mrs. Roy Miller and other friends in this community.—Mr. and Mrs. George Fralick and Harold spent Sunday at Mr. Henwood's. — Mr. and Mrs. D. R. Hicks and Mr. and Mrs. Fisher motored to Harrowsmith and attended the camp meeting recently.

FATALITY AT LEVEL CROSSING

Harry Watts Failed to Hear Warning Shouted by Man Driving Behind Him

The whole countryside was shocked on Monday afternoon, when the news was spread of the tragic accident at Ernesttown, which resulted in the death of Harry Watts, a farmer of Sharpton, who was instantly killed when an eastbound C.N.R. express train struck his wagon at the railway crossing through Ernesttown village at 12.45 p.m.

The coroner, Dr. H. S. Northmore, of Bath, empanelled a jury Monday evening to enquire into the man's death, but after the remains of the late Harry Watts had been viewed, and the crossing had been visited the inquest was adjourned to meet again on Thursday afternoon at 2 p.m. (Standard Time).

Mr. Watts had just completed the task of unloading pressed hay from his wagon to a freight car at Ernesttown and was returning to his home near Sharpton. He had been accompanied by a neighboring farmer, Mr. Morris Lawler, who also drew a load of hay to the station.

Warned the Victim

Mr. Lawler's wagon was only a few feet behind Mr. Watts' wagon on the return trip and as Mr. Watts started to make the grade at the crossing Mr. Lawler heard the whistle of the approaching express, and also heard the ringing of the bell at the crossing.

When he noticed that Mr. Watts continued to drive on Mr. Lawler screamed a warning but Mr. Watts did not stop his wagon and had apparently failed to hear any sign of the on-rushing train.

Crash Was Terrible One

The crash was a terrible one; the express caught the wagon fairly in the middle and sent the driver's body hurling through the air. The shock of the crash and the throw he received resulted in Mr. Watts' instantaneous death. The two horses were also thrown by the impact of the blow and were killed instantly. Pieces of the wagon were found dozens of feet away from the actual scene of the accident and the strong beams of the lumber wagon were completely in splinters.

Dr. H. S. Northmore, of Bath, was summoned to the crossing, but medical aid was of no avail.

Two Eye Witnesses

The two eye witnesses to the terrible tragedy were Mr. Lawler, of Sharpton, and Mr. Gideon Garrison, of Napanee, who was visiting in Ernesttown on business. The main evidence at the inquest on Thursday will be received from these two men who were the only ones known at present to have been present when Mr. Watts was killed. Others, however, were at the crossing only a short time after the accident occurred.

Mr. Garrison happened to be in a position which enabled him to witness the whole accident.

Shock to Family

When the news of her husband's death was conveyed to Mrs. Harry Watts, she was almost overwhelmed with grief and shock. It is said Mr. Watts was bringing some toys back to the children.

There are four children surviving. Bessie is the oldest child, and the others are Wesley, Gordon and the baby, "Pud".

Mr. Samuel Watts, of Kingston, is the father of the late Harry Watts. He is also survived by three sisters, Mrs. Redpath, Vancouver, B.C.; Mrs. Reid, Richmond, Ont., and Emily, of Kingston; and four brothers, Stuart, Ira and Ernest, of Kingston, and Frank, of St. Alban's, Vermont.

Mr. Leo Crowe, the station agent, was at lunch when the express passed and did not observe the accident. When the news of the man's death reached him, however, he rushed to the crossing to render aid. A section man happened to be several hundred feet away at the time and he, too, came to the crossing.

Large numbers of people visited the crossing during the afternoon and evening.

The jury empanelled Monday night is made up of the following men: Fred Ham, Malcolm Hogle, Henry Hogle, George Forward, Fred Hudson, Joel Keller, Milton Thompson, H. T. Laidley and Harry Laidley. Dr. Northmore will preside at the inquest on Thursday.

Funeral on Wednesday

Mr. John Cornelius, Undertaker, of Kingston, took charge of the remains Monday night, and the funeral was held on Wednesday, at 2 p.m., standard time.

A member of the United Church, the late Harry Watts, a man of about thirty-seven years, was well-known and generally liked throughout the whole district. He was a former resident of Wolfe Island, and his wife also lived on Wolfe Island for a number of years.

TOWN COUNCIL

Council met in regular session on Monday evening, Mayor Ming presiding.

Members present—Reeve Graham, Councillors Dunbar, MacGregor, Simpson and Howitt.

The minutes of the last regular and special sessions were read, and on motion were confirmed.

Mr. K. S. Ham was present on behalf of the carters of the town, asking that some kind of a shed shelter be provided for the protection of their horses from the sun. He stated that the carters would be willing to pay a license fee of $5.00 per year for the use of the shed.

Referred to the Streets Committee and Market and Police Committee to investigate, ascertain what can be done, and report at next meeting.

Councillor Simpson, Chairman of the Finance Committee, reported that the Committee had met and prepared a statement of the estimated receipts and expenditures for the current year, the figures being embodied in a by-law which will be considered later in the evening.

Councillor MacGregor, Chairman of Streets, reported that the sewer on Robinson street had been completed, and the men are now working on John street. In reference to the question of Mr. M. B. Mills erecting a building on the street at the foot of John street, there were strong objections against it, and the committee recommended that no action be taken.

Councillor Howitt, Chairman of Market and Police, presented a report of Chief-of-Police Barrett, which was adopted.

Moved by Councillor MacGregor, seconded by Councillor Howitt, that the Streets Committee be authorized to purchase such signs as they may need for the enforcement of the new Highway Traffic Act, which will be in force in Napanee in a short time. Carried.

DON'T SPOIL BEAUTY

All motorists are urged to get behind the program of the Ontario Motor League to stop vandalism, for cleaner camps and roadsides and for the preservation of wild plant life in the 1926 touring season, according to appeal broadcasted from provincial headquarters in Toronto.

"It is superfluous to say that the Ontario Motor League is strongly behind the movement for the maintenance and enhancement of the beauty spots and against ruthless destruction of wild shrubs and flowers", said George Hodgson, past president and director of the O.M.L. He declared that the conservation and beautification campaign which brought such good results last year will be extended. While the Motor League is taking a leading part in the movement, many other organizations including chambers of commerce, boards of trade, women's clubs, girl guides, boy scouts and other bodies interested in outdoor recreation are doing their bit.

"This work should be regarded as one aspect of the safety program in which the country is engaged", Mr. Hodgson said.

Every one of the forty odd branches of the O. M. L. is asked to launch a campaign in its own territory. The radio will be used to promote plant conservation, roadside cleanliness and camp sanitation. Posters and pamphlets will be issued emphasizing the urgency of a national conservation policy in regard to the outdoors, and the government will be asked to scatter flower seeds in certain localities.

"Be good to your country", is the slogan that the Motor League is co-operating with the A.A.A. in "carrying on". Under this slogan the following notice will be carried on hundreds of thousands of maps, publications including camp manual, etc. :

"Don't pick too many wild flowers."

"Holly, dogwood, mountain laurel and many other plants and flowers are being rapidly exterminated because of unlicensed and ruthless gathering."

"Be good to your country and let all enjoy it !"

"Extinguish camp fires when leaving."

"Burn or bury all rubish."

"Leave your camp or picnic grounds in as good order as you would like to find it."

"Observe the courtisies of the road and keep your country looking as lovely as God intended it to be !"

"There are few motorists," said Mr. Hodgson, "who would not commit themselves to the observation of there few simple rules. And yet in actual practice thousands disregard them. This is due to heedlessness rather than to wanton desire to destroy. Hence we may hope to accomplish much through education. In the communities where a campaign was waged last year, fewer cars were seen loaded with the product of the despoiled woods or orchards."

"Nature provides us with so much beauty that we took profusion for granted and dealth with this profusion with lavish hands. But to-day we stand in danger of extermination much that contributes so much to the charm of the trail. Many plants and flowers have been practically exterminated.

"Of course motorists have often been blamed unjustly. But there is no doubt that they have been careless in the past and there is plenty of room to-day for writing a new chapter in the creed of a good motorist. After all, the motorist himself is the one who stands to lose the most from the desecration of the camp and the roadside and from the spoilation of wild plant life. A blossom on the bush is worth ten in the hand, for hundreds will see it.

"Our observation in the past has shown that the long distance motor traveller is by no means the one who causes the most damage. The picnicker and the nomad travelling in the small car are as a rule the worst offenders."

The farmer's pink-cheeked daughter was coming up the lane. She was clad in a grimy pair of overalls, from the pockets of which bulged huge bunches of waste and sundry wrenches and pliers. In her hand was a dirty satchel rattling with an assortment of iron tools.

"Where are you going, my pretty maid?" I asked.

"I'm going a-milking, sir," she said.

"But why the tools?"

"Trouble," she said, "with that old milking machine again."

Metropolitan Jealousy.

It is characteristic of New York that it has to have a name of its own for that part of the Hudson which washes the shores of Manhattan. Doughty old Hendrick Hudson's name would seem an appropriate one for any river, and that part of it which lies between the Battery and The Bronx is not north of anything in particular, except possibly New Jersey or Florida; none the less, New York calls it the North river, apparently unwilling to share even a name with "upstate."

Burial in Old English Churches.

The places of burial beneath many of the old churches in England are arranged in different ways. In many cases the burial is made in a grave dug in the soil, as is done in an open graveyard. In some cases there is a crypt beneath the main floor, the crypt being practically one large vault, and here the coffins are deposited on shelves of stone. Sometimes the crypt is divided into separate vaults which are really small rooms enclosed on all sides by stone walls.

Wasted Knowledge.

"How is Jibway getting along?" "He tells me he is having a great deal of trouble keeping a cook." "Why, I thought he married a graduate of one of the most noted schools of domestic science in the country." "So he did, but you ought to know that there are a great many people in this world who don't make any use of an education after they get it."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

All She Could See.

Recently a neighbor's girl was knocked down by an automobile, but only slightly injured. Not long after the child had to go on an errand, so her mother warned her to what might happen if she wasn't careful, adding that the good Lord might not be with her this time. The child quickly answered: "The good Lord wasn't there, mamma; just the man and me."

Use Furs as Money.

The Loyalty islands, which lie in the Pacific to the east of Australia, are famous for their fur money. The fur, which is taken from behind the ears of the so-called "flying fox," in reality a large fruit-eating bat, is woven into cords of various lengths, and these constitute the ordinary currency of the islanders.

Removes Ink Stains.

Stains caused by indelible ink on linen may with patience be made so faint as to be scarcely perceptible. First of all, moisten the stain with iodine, then use hyposulphate of soda. Next rinse in clear water and dry well, and the stain, if a new one, will often entirely disappear and even an old one will grow very faint.

Fate of the Cliff Dwellers.

It seems that there can be no doubt that the cliff dwellers were exterminated by their more savage and warlike neighbors, the men being killed and the women being adopted into the tribe of the conquerors, though in some cases migrations may have become necessary as a result of drought or pressure from outside tribes.

Full, True and Particular.

A girl was asked to parse "kiss," and this was her result: "This word is a noun, but it is usually used as a conjunction. It is never declined and is more common than proper. It is not very singular, in that it is usually used in the plural. It agrees with me."

Screen the Waste Can.

The waste can which is effectively screened in with a circle of wire fencing, over which vines have been trained, saves its own particular corner from unsightliness. The vined circle should be large enough to admit free handling of the can it conceals.

The Indian Crow.

Persons who have traveled in the Orient have much that is interesting and amusing to say about the Indian crow. This canny black creature is full of pranks; he makes much trouble, but also calls forth much laughter.

To Clean Painted Woodwork.

Peel, wash and grate a half-dozen potatoes. Put them into a pail of water. Let stand half an hour, strain and apply to the woodwork with flannel. For white woodwork and mirrors use whiting in the water.

The Right Word.

"She's very high and mighty. I don't like her altitude." "You mean attitude?" "Altitude fits this case," interposed a third member of the party.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Don't.

Never tell a city girl that she has a complexion like strawberries (advises Materfamilias). She knows that strawberries come in a box, too.

Helping Out.

And sometimes if you give the stranger rope enough he'll string you. —Dallas News.

Daily Thought.

The richest minds need not large libraries.—A. B. Alcott.

Luncher (to a man who is making off with his overcoat)—"I beg your pardon, sir, but in case we don't meet again, may I have a couple of cigars out of the pocket?"

No holiday trip is quite complete without a Brownie or Kodak, and a box of Laura Secord Candy. Wallace's are sole agents for both.

SAVE THE CHILDREN

In Summer When Childhood Ailments Are Most Dangerous.

Mothers who keep a box of Baby's Own Tablets in the house may feel that the lives of their little ones are reasonably safe during the hot weather. Stomach troubles, cholera infantum and diarrhoea carry off thousands of little ones every summer, in most cases because the mother does not have a safe medicine at hand to give promptly. Baby's Own Tablets relieve these troubles, or if given occasionally by well child they will prevent their coming on. The Tablets are guaranteed by a government analyst to be absolutely harmless' even to the new-born babe. They are especially good in summer because they regulate the bowels and keep the stomach sweet and pure. They are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Matters of Importance.

"Tompkins woman, I have waited here three-quarters of an hour to see Mr. Wadson. How much longer will I have to wait?"

"I can't tell you, sir. He's very busy."

"Won't you mind finding out?"

"Indeed I would, sir. Mr. Wadson is chairman of the grounds committee at the country club. He and the other members of the committee are discussing plans for improving the golf links. I wouldn't dare to interrupt him now if a million dollars were at stake."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

Politics and Statesmanship.

"A politician is a statesman out of a job," remarked the superficial cynic.

"Not these days," rejoined Senator Sorghum. "A politician is a statesman who is willing to get down to shirtsleeves and hustle for what he regards as his country's best interest."

When a mother detects from the writhings and fretting of a child that worms are troubling it, she can procure a reliable remedy in Miller's Worm Powders which will expel all worms from the system. They may cause vomiting, but this need cause no anxiety, because it is but a manifestation of their thorough work. No worms can long exist where these Powders are used.

HELD IN MOCKERY

"Kangaroo Courts" Instituted by Australian Convicts.

Prisoners at Botany Bay Said to Have Invented Idea to Relieve the Monotony of Their Existence—Spread to United States.

Kangaroo court is an expression which, however strange it may be to the layman, is familiar to most United States marshals, post office inspectors and the police forces of large cities, remarks a writer in the Detroit News. What it really stands for is explained by a post office inspector who has had much experience with offenders and criminals.

It appears that in a number of the larger prisons in this country the prisoners, from time to time, are accustomed to hold what they call kangaroo court, and that every notorious criminal in the United States is probably not only familiar with the term, but has no doubt presided often enough as judge or prosecuting attorney in this relation, or perhaps has been tried for some of the numerous mock charges that are preferred against those who have the misfortune to be haled before such a tribunal.

Such a court is held only in the great prisons of the country, being entirely unknown in the country jails.

The institution of kangaroo court seems to date back some 40 years in the United States.

In the days when Australia was a penal colony the convicts at Botany Bay, by way of amusing themselves and relieving the monotony of prison life, used to organize a sort of mock court at which the shrewdest and often the worst criminals of the lot presided as judge, while others acted as jurymen, prosecuting attorneys, bailiffs, criers and the like.

At such trials the prisoners were wont to take on recent arrivals from England on all manner of mock charges, such as snoring too loudly, washing their faces with soap, and so on. It was found that among the batch of new-comers, convicts just from the old country, there were several who possessed money, court was immediately convened and the ones suspected of having funds were haled up on the charge of having red hair or wearing box-toed shoes.

The trial was held with mock gravity and decorum, and in the end the prisoner would be found guilty and fined whatever amount he was known to have on his person for the offense charged. The money thus obtained would be divided among the old, long-term convicts, who would buy tobacco and other luxuries with it, while the victim of this form of extortion would have no recourse except to await the time when he himself got a chance to preside as judge or sit on the jury at the trial of some new arrival.

It was called kangaroo court because in those days the Botany Bay convicts spoke of themselves as kangaroos, an animal very abundant, as everybody knows, in Australia.

The institution, as well as the term, traveled from Australia to England, whither it was brought by returning Botany Bay convicts, whose terms had expired. It had a short life in England, however, where it was speedily discovered by the jailers and turnkeys and broken up; but it was not long afterward that it found its way into the prisons of the United States, where it has remained ever since.

Girl Advertises for "Dates."

An advertisement which, the advertising department of Columbia university's daily newspaper, Spectator, says is the legitimate appeal of a young woman, appeared recently in the publication as follows:

"Are you bound by convention? A Columbia girl from out of town, cultured, well bred and fairly good looking, wishes to make the acquaintance of several men in order to be introduced at Columbia functions. She is entirely unconventional and is willing to meet the men half way by paying all expenses. Strictly confidential. Address H 36, Spectator."

The students who publish Spectator, the New York World says, profess ignorance of the identity of the young woman or whether the number 36 had any reference to the age or figure of the advertiser.

Hundreds of masculine students are awaiting replies from her, the advertisement having been well answered.

First Sight of a Pig.

Along the hard, dry, wind-swept road in a suburb came a drove of pigs—most unusual spectacle in London of recent years. From the by-streets the children of the poor came hurrying to see, and it was clear from their comments that many of them had never seen a pig before.

"Look, Lizer!" cried one of the smallest among them. "Look, there's a piebald one."

"Course there is, stoopid," said Lizer, who was clearly well versed in natural history. "Where else do yer think they get streaky bacon from?"—London Chronicle.

China's Industrial Future.

In 1918, regardless of the great world war and unsettled internal and political conditions, China's foreign trade increased, keeping the grand total well above the billion-dollar mark. Observing commercial investigators agree that, industrially, and as a manufacturing center, China has a great future.

Employer (listening to same old tale)—"Let me see, it was just this time last year you had the day off to attend your grandmother's funeral?"

The Incorrigible—"Yessir — she very nearly got buried alive that time."

What Do You Think of That?

There is an aspect of spider and fly relation which fabulists and naturalists alike have overlooked. An observer has brought the microscope to bear on many house flies and finds that the parasite upon that hateful insect is often an immature spider. Two weak yet to spin its web it makes the fly its winged pulfrey, and courses from place to place at the will of its captive; either until Pegasus perishes naturally or presumably until the rider has grown up and is able to make a meal of his charger.

Gordon's Defense of Khartum.

For sheer duration General Gordon's heroic defense of Khartum excelled all modern sieges, for it lasted 317 days, or just nine days shorter than the Russian retention of Sebastopol. Unfortunately, as we all know, its termination was a tragedy, embittered by the fact that a very few days later the would-be army of relief arrived, only in time to pick up the threads of a pitiful disaster.

A New Dodge.

To a Natal Kaffir belongs the credit of inventing a labor-saving device for chimney cleaning. One of the colony journals says: "A native in Weenen had been asked to sweep a chimney, which he undertook to do. Later he was seen mounting the ladder he had got for the purpose with a couple of fowls under his arm. These he allowed to flutter down the flue, and the job was done.

French "Immortals."

The French "immortals" are the members of the French Academy, which is part of the Institute of France. The institute was founded by Cardinal Richelieu in 1635 and reorganized in 1816. The membership of the academy is limited to forty, and new members are elected by the old membership.

Fog Magnifies.

If you see a person in a fog he seems to be much bigger than usual. The same thing happens when you see men or cattle on the top of a hill against the horizon in twilight. In both cases you judge them to be farther away than they really are, and consequently they appear uncommonly large.

Modern Version.

While little Helen was at Sunday school they repeated the Twenty-third Psalm and when she got home her mother asked her what she had learned that day. Helen replied without hesitation: "The Lord is my chauffeur, I shall not walk."

COLLINS BAY

The weather is fine at time of writing, the recent rains doing a great amount of good, as the gardens were getting very dry. — The miscellaneous shower held for Miss Julia Smith, on the 2nd inst., was largely attended. Miss Smith received a large number of beautiful gifts, testifying to the esteem in which she was held.—The dances being held twice a week in H. R. Clark's Pavilion, are well attended. — Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Baker, also Mr. Lewis McGibbon, of Belleville, and Miss Emma Lockwood took tea Sunday evening at Ross Revell's. — Mrs. G. Henderson spent Sunday at her home in Westbrooke, accompanied by Miss Lena Babcock.—The many friends of Miss Mary Leonard are pleased to hear that she is recovering nicely from her recent fall.—A very pretty wedding took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Smith, on July 6th at 12 o'clock, when their second daughter, Julia E., was united in the bonds of matrimony to Mr. Raymond Bustard, of Cleveland, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Bustard, Kingston. The bride looked lovely in a gown of white flat crepe, with shoes and stockings to match, and wore a bridal wreath of orange blossoms, and carried a bouquet of sweetheart roses and lily of the valley. Mrs. Cochrane played the wedding march from Lohengrin, as the bride came forth leaning on the arm of her father, in an evergreen arch. Miss Violet Smith, sister of the bride, acted as bridesmaid, attired in a tea rose flat crepe dress, and carried an old fashioned bouquet of flowers. Robt. Bustard, the groom's brother, acted as best man. The marriage was performed by Rev. Dr. J. R. R. Couper, of Cataraqui. During the signing of the register Miss Lashford sang "Oh Love". After the ceremony a dainty wedding dinner was served to twenty of the nearest relatives of the bride and groom. The tables and rooms were decorated in pink and white. The bride travelled in a grey tailored tweed suit, with grey hat and blonde shoes and stockings. The groom's gift to the bride was a silver and pearl bro[och], to the bridesmaid a fountain pen, the best man a set of cuff links, and to the pianist a gold bar pin set with pearls. Mr. and Mrs. Bustard left on the 3 p.m. train for Ottawa, carrying with them a wish from all that their life may be a happy, long and prosperous one together. After the honeymoon they will reside in Cleveland.—Mrs. P. Greenwood and son Sidney, arrived on Thursday night from Toronto, to spend some time with her sister, Mrs. George Clark.—Much sympathy is extended to Mr. Ellerbeck over the crossing accident at Cataraqui, on Saturday, July [illegible] when her sister, Mrs. Harry Sm[ith] was killed.

A shepherd was sleeping peacefully through a thunder-storm one night. His wife, however, was trembling with fear, and as flash after flash and peal after peal filled the valley around them, she seized the shepherd and shook him violently.

"John, John," she cried, "the last day has come!"

John's eyes opened slowly, and in a sarcastic tone he demanded, "Wha ever heerd o' the last day in the meedle o' the nicht?"

An American, a hundred per-center, took an English friend to see a Broadway revue which was characterised by its lack of clothing. At the end of the show he said: "What d'ye think of that? Great, eh? Smart, slick and full of pep. Bet you've got nothing to touch it on your side." "Well," replied the guest candidly, "for once I'm willing to admit that America has outstripped England."

A Prime Dressing for Wounds.—In some factories and workshops carbolic acid is kept for use in caustering wounds and cuts sustained by the workmen. Far better to keep on hand a bottle of Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil. It is just as quick in action and does not scar the skin or burn the flesh.

SOFTBALL

On Monday evening, before a large crowd at the N.C.I. grounds, "B" Company trounced 212 I.O.O.F. by 17-3, and thus tied Business Men for the leadership of the Mercantile League. The game was full of excitement till the fourth, when "B" Company led by 4-3. After the fourth the superiority of the soldiers became more evident as they piled up the score. Daverin twirled nice ball for the winners, whiffing 10 men, and was given splendid support. His victims were Rogers, Richardson, Ellis 2, Galt, R. Huffman 2, Pybus and Vine. Even in defeat the 212 players found time to make sensational plays. Pybus started it with a stab in centre field, but Bill Galt made the premier catch of the game, when he stabbed one while on the dead run. He also made another nice catch. Fred Huffman caught half a dozen at third, but a catch with his back to the ball stood out. The superior stick-work of the Militia boys decided the verdict. None of them struck out and their heavy clouts were generally good for extra bases. Jim Naphin hit three doubles for a 1000 average, while Kirby, Garratt, MacDonald and Daverin accounted for some lusty wallops. Harry Babcock made a nice catch.

Next week's Softball card shows 86, I.O.O.F., are slated to tackle Bankers on Monday evening, at the N.C.I. grounds. On Wednesday evening St. Andrews and Trinity will try conclusions at the N.C.I. grounds, in a Junior Town League fixture, and on Friday Trinity girls will endeavour to take a fall out of the Leftovers in a Girls' League fixture at Riverdale. To-night (Friday, 23rd), St. Marys will take on Leftovers in a Girls' League fixture. This battle ought to draw a big crowd, as both teams are playing great ball.

Now it is up to some of our enterprising and generous merchants to donate a prize for the various leagues. A silver cup or shield would greatly stimulate the interest in the game both on the part of the players and fans.

Belleville H. S. 25, Napanee Leafs 3

On Thursday evening the Leafs suffered an overwhelming defeat at Riverdale Park, at the hands of Belleville High School. The defeat was the worst the locals have suffered. The Leafs couldn't do a thing right and were plainly tired.

Miss Adams, Belleville twirler, had the Leafs completely at her mercy and fanned twelve batsmen. The locals couldn't connect at all, and failed to exhibit the usual pep to their play. That they were tired after playing six games in nine days, there is no doubt. They looked and acted tired. The only bright tight in the local's play was the fielding of Marion Embury at second base. Marion Douglas made a few nice putouts at third base, and Hazel O'Neil caught two difficult flies in left field. The locals failed to play for the batter and many a bingle went through for a hit when a Leaf was out of position. The Belleville girls generally hit into right or left field, although some of them were erratic hitters in that one right-handed hitter constantly hit over first base.

The locals are by no means a finished team, but when they learn to play for the batter and use a little more judgment in how to prevent scores, they will be heard from. Messrs. Babcock and Skitch have a hard job on their hands, but will doubtless have the Leafs as fine a team as there is around here. Some thoughtless fans began razzing the girls on Thursday evening, and when one girl made a slight error in judgment, the word "saphead" was loudly heard, and was shouted by one of the best known young men of the town. The fans must remember that this is the first year the girls have played softball and such remarks are very unsportsmanlike especially from a young man who is so well thought of. This young man's team was beaten 17-3, by "B" Company, on Monday evening, and how would he have felt if the girls had razzed him and his team while they were suffering an overwhelming defeat.

The batteries :—

B. H. S.—J. Adams and I. Wilkins.
Leafs—D. Johnston, M. Stinson, and M. Grass and H. O'Neil.

JUNIOR LEAGUE

Apparently Trinity Church Juniors are the only team interested in the Junior League. They turned out in force on Wednesday, but "B" Company failed to appear. If the other teams do not show more interest in the future, Trinity ought to be declared champions of the league. They turned out twice, but both times the opposition failed to appear. It's about time someone was appointed to look after the Juniors. No one appears to umpire the games and see that the teams are ready to play. There are plenty of young men around the town who would like the job, and someone ought to be appointed. Also someone should be appointed to look after the bags, cutting of grass, etc., at the N.C.I. grounds.

SILLSVILLE

Mr. M. B. Whyte is improving nicely, after having been badly bitten by a dog. Mr. Whyte called at a neighbor's house one day about a fortnight ago and was attacked by the dog, who lascerated his hand and elbow. Mr. Whyte soon secured medical help and has since been under the doctor's care. The owner of the dog keeps the animal as a watch dog and for her own protection, as she is an aged lady and lives alone. — Mr. F. Galt has returned home, after spending a few days with his brother, Mr. L. Galt, Big Creek. — Several families attended Conway church on Sunday evening, where Rev. Mr. Stainton preached on "The Religion of the Turk." Although the evening was very warm the service was very much enjoyed. Very few people who have heard of the terrible Turk have any idea why he is so called. In the last twelve years they have murdered nine million Armenians, and may yet be a menace to the western as well as the eastern world.—Last week a number of our residents were visited by some men driving a truck. They were buying fowl and lambs and claimed to be from Kingston, but represented a large wholesale firm in Montreal, we understand. They offered the highest prices and paid by cheque. One man disposed of fowl to over $100.00 worth and another sold all his lambs at a splendid price. The next day or two later, when the cheques were presented at the bank, only one man could draw any money, and he was called on very soon after to hand it back. The police were notified and it is sincerely hoped by all concerned, as well as many others, that these rascals will be captured and get all they deserve.

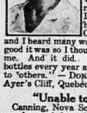
YOUNG WOMEN SUFFER MOST

These Two Found Relief by Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound



Ayer's Cliff, Quebec. — "I have been teaching for three years, and at the end of the year I always feel tired and have no appetite. I was a w f ul sick each month, too, having pains in my back until sometimes I was obliged to stop working. A friend recommended Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to me and I heard many women telling how good it was so I thought it would help me. And it did. Now I take six bottles every year and recommend it to others. — DONALDA FANTEUX, Ayer's Cliff, Quebec.

"Unable to Work"

Canning, Nova Scotia.—"I had irregular periods and great suffering at those times, the pains causing vomiting and fainting. I was teaching school and often for some hours I would be unable to attend to my work. Through an advertisement in the papers I knew of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and it has been of great benefit to me, the troubles have entirely relieved. —LAURA J. EATON, Canning, King's County, Nova Scotia. 6

WISE AND OTHERWISE

"There are two sides to every question," proclaimed the sage. "Yes," said the fool, "and there are two sides to a sheet of fly paper, but it makes a big difference to the fly which side he chooses."

Nearly all children are subject to worms, and many are born with them. Spare them suffering by using Mother Graves' Worm Exterminator, an excellent remedy.

Please don't think we want to scold Just because we're growing old, But the truth is you look cold, Little girl.

Won't rheumatics get your knees?
Won't you start to cough and sneeze?
Aren't you 'fraid your legs 'll freeze, Little girl?

Internally and Externally It Is Good. — The crowning property of Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil is that it can be used internally for many complaints as well as externally. For sore throat, croup, whooping cough, pains in the chest, colic and many kindred ailments it has qualities that are unsurpassed. A bottle of it costs little and there is no loss in always having it at hand.

An American, a hundred per-center, took an English friend to see a Broadway revue which was characterised by its lack of clothing. At the end of the show he said: "What d'ye think of that? Great, eh? Smart, slick and full of pep. Bet you've got nothing to touch it on your side. "Well," replied the guest candidly, "for once I'm willing to admit that America has outstripped England."

Asthma Victims. The man or woman subject to asthma is indeed a victim. What can be more terrifying than to suddenly be seized with paroxysms of choking which seem to fairly threaten the existence of life itself. From such a condition Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Asthma Remedy has brought many to completely restored health and happiness. It is known and prized in every section of this broad land.

"Oh, George," wailed the frail and tender-looking young woman, "I have found out that you were devoted to no fewer than five girls before you finally proposed to me. How do I know that you didn't make desperate love to all of them?"

"I did," answered George.

"You did?" she asked, horrified.

"Certainly," he returned. "You don't suppose for a minute I should be so foolhardy as to try for such a prize as you without a little practice, do you?"

A confirmed hypochondriac, meeting his personal physician in the street, said to him, "Doctor, I have just come from a popular medical lecture, and I am much afraid that I have kidney trouble."

"But, my dear fellow," said the doctor smiling, "the curious thing about that disease is that the victim does not appreciate the least pain or discomfort."

"By Heaven!" gasped the hypochondriac, "My symptoms exactly!"

GETTING SKINNIER EVERY DAY

Something Must Be Done and Done Right Now — Quick

Hollows in Cheeks and Neck Growing Deeper Every Week

Tens of thousands of thin, run-down men—yes, and women too—are getting discouraged—are giving up all hope of ever being able to take on flesh and look healthy and strong.

All such people can stop worrying and start to smile and enjoy life right now for McCoy's Cod Liver Extract Tablets which any druggist will tell you all about are putting flesh on hosts of skinny folks every day.

One woman, tired, weak and discouraged, gained 15 pounds in five weeks and now feels fine.

We all know that the livers of Cod Fish are full of vitalizing flesh producing vitamines and these same vitamines of the highest class are found in McCoy's Cod Liver Extract Tablets—sugar coated and as easy to take as candy.

And this shows what faith the makers have in McCoy's for they say: If any thin person don't gain at least 5 pounds in 30 days your druggist will give you your money back—and only 60 cents for 60 tablets. Ask any live pharmacist anywhere in North or South America.

But be sure to get McCoy's, the original and genuine.

HURT BY "DOUBLE"

Englishman Victim of Unusual Circumstances

Reduced to Penury Through the Operations of Man Who Bears Him With a Fidelity That Must Be Remarkable.

Somewhere in England flourishes a brilliant scoundrel who is committing fraud after fraud in the name of Herbert Leslie Perkins, "an impoverished herb seller of Wolverhampton, writes a foreign correspondent of the Kansas City Star.

He is said to look exactly like Perkins, even to a tendency to stoop. He dresses like him, has the same mannerisms and voice, and is sufficiently familiar with Perkins' past to assume his identity before acquaintances—but he cannot write like him.

For this theft of his personality Perkins has paid painfully. He has been imprisoned for three years, being acquitted each time at the subsequent trial. Four warrants are now out for his arrest, and a cloud of suspicion hangs over him that may result in other warrants. His savings of $500 have been spent to earn his freedom, and most of his furniture and his wife's keepsakes have been sold to support his family of six children while he has been in jail.

He was first arrested October 15, 1919, for fraud at Gloucester. Five days after his release he was arrested again and taken to Chesterfield, in Derbyshire, where he was remanded for trial on the declarations of four persons that there could be no doubt he was the man who had defrauded them. Yet he never had been in Chesterfield before in his life. At the Derbyshire assizes he proved that on the day of the fraud he was at the Uttoxeter market in Staffordshire. Fourteen old specimens of his handwriting were produced. None of them was anything like the criminal's.

The jury promptly acquitted Perkins. While his friends were congratulating him in the courtroom a policeman pressed forward and arrested him for other alleged frauds. They dragged him off to Hull police station, where Perkins says he lay that night wondering if he was "mad or only dreaming." In Hull he was again positively identified, and he had to remain 18 days in Hull prison before his trial. This time he had 14 witnesses to prove his presence at various markets distant from Hull on the dates that the frauds were committed.

"I could have produced sixty witnesses," said Perkins, "but it took my last cent to pay the fares of the fourteen."

The operations of the "slick" double hurt the police nearly as much as Perkins. They have four warrants for his arrest for a number of other frauds committed at Burton-on-Trent, Peterborough, Bristol and Leicester. The warrants are pigeonholed for the time being. The police are running.

Penniless, Perkins busily is digging up his herbs again and trying to sell them—but after the trial all start with the shadow of prison bars still hovering over him he has little peace of mind.

Future Rapid Travel.

Mr. Lindsay Bashford, writing in the Edinburgh Review, foreshadows a London to Calcutta journey by rail in a fortnight.

"The Bagdad railway," he says, "begins at Konia, in the heart of Asia Minor, where, by means of the Anatolian railway, it connects with Constantinople. From Constantinople to Aleppo the distance is some 850 miles. From Aleppo, the line proceeds to Jerablus, on the Euphrates, and thence by Nisibin to the important center of Mosul on the Tigris; thence southwards to Bagdad, 250 miles away. The distance from Aleppo to Bagdad is about 650 miles.

"Carry the imagination further, and we may reasonably picture, under the new political arrangements between Great Britain and Persia, the extension of the Bagdad railway to Teheran, and thence to Quetta and India. That done travel 'overland' between London and Calcutta should be a matter of less than a fortnight."

Revenge.

Sucking a stick of candy, the small brother of the village belle eyed the visitor. The belle aforesaid had been fit to administer severe punishment, and the small boy was seeking vengeance.

"I know why Gwendoline wears her hair bunched down over her ears," he breathed between the sucks and grins sardonically.

"Do you?" asked the young man, to whom any news concerning his adored one was welcome. "Won't you tell me?"

"No," he replied; "I daren't tell anyone. But if my ears were as big as Gwendoline's are I'd do it, too."—Houston Post.

Another Use for the Airplane.

Eclipse observation by airplane is declared by Prof. W. Merrill to be not chimerical. A modern plane could readily surmount any ordinary fog or cumulus cloud, though cirrus is usually too high, and, aside from cirrus clouds, the observer would have a wonderfully clear dark sky. And photographic observations are not out of the question. A Dellenbaugh plane with a Liberty motor, at 10,000 feet altitude, rides more smoothly than a train, and should permit direct photographs on a small scale, especially if the plane were equipped with a gyroscopic stabilizer.

GAMBLED WITH GRIM DEATH

The old overland journey from Edmonton, Alta., to the Klondike was a trail of tragedies. A weather-beaten skeleton of an old wagon of the prairie schooner type, the woodwork rotted and only fragments of the wheels remaining, recently was found in the rugged Liard river country. On a piece of tattered canvas that once had been the wagon cover, printed in black paint in letters a foot high half effaced by the rains and snows of years, were the words "Klondike or Bust."

Many stories are told by old-timers of the argonauts who found tragedy instead of gold on the north trail which began at Edmonton. Thousands of men from all parts of the world flocked to the town in 1896 during the Klondike rush. They outfitted at the Hudson Bay company's two-story frame store which then was considered the greatest store in western Canada. Today, when the company has thrown open all its lands to farm settlement and is centering its energies on the fur trade and general merchandising, a big modern department store rises on the site of this ancient emporium in the heart of Edmonton.

Coming into Edmonton from the Yukon, the gold seekers struck out on a perilous journey of 2,000 miles across an untracked wilderness of forests, muskegs, mountains and mighty rivers. Of the thousands who started, only a few ever reached their destination. More than half never returned to Edmonton. Many beat back to civilization by way of the British Columbia coast. Still greater numbers were swallowed up in vast unknown northern land never to be heard of again. They gambled with death who traveled that trail.

From time to time in succeeding years the bleaching bones of the adventurers who followed their dreams over the rim of the world, the battered relics of old camp outfits and the wrecks of wagons and pack saddles have been found in lonely northern places, grim reminders of the old days when men went mad for gold.

Omens of Good Luck.

It has been explained that we need to be prepared for bad luck, but that good fortune does not require to be guarded against.

All the same, it would certainly add to the cheerfulness of life in general if lucky omens were more widely known, says a writer in London Tit-Bits. How much brighter things look to us if we have reason to hope that something good is coming to us!

Everybody, of course, knows that it is lucky to pick up a bit of iron or coal. So it is to pick up a pin if its head is toward you; if not, let it lie.

It is a sign of good fortune to put on some garment inside out, but only if it is done by accident and the garment is allowed to remain reversed during the day. William the Conqueror put on his mail shirt back in front on the morning of the battle of Hastings, and we all know what luck he had on that occasion.

If you find your keys or other steel articles rusting, do not be annoyed about it; it only shows that somebody is putting money by for you.

It is luck to be followed home by a stray dog. Still better is it if a strange cat comes to stay at the house. Speaking of, cats, pessimists, of course, assert that when it tears the furniture with its claws it is a sign of rain; but others hold that she is "scratching luck" to her masters.

Female Trees.

After nearly twenty-five years of argument and discussion about the abatement of the cotton nuisance, the city commission of Albuquerque, New Mexico, has ordered the cutting down of all female or cotton-bearing cottonwood trees within the city limits.

A large proportion of the shade trees of many western cities are cottonwoods, writes Aldo Leopold in the American Forestry Magazine of Washington. The individual trees are of two sexes and the female trees bear annually a most prolific crop of cotton, which acts as a mechanical irritant to sufferers from hay fever, and which during the months of June and July litters the streets, screen doors and plastering with unsightly masses of soiled cotton.

Seek American Rule.

The people of the Virgin islands are begging to be Americanized. Now that they are under the American flag they have a right to be dissatisfied with the old Danish laws and customs. One of these makes it necessary for a man to have an income of $300 a year in order to vote. This law gives only about 300 people in the islands a chance at controlling legislation.

Strictly Correct.

Ernest and Henry go to a minister's home every day to do little odds and ends for him. One day Ernest came home and said: "Mother, me and Henry were over to the minister's house today." "Ernest," I said, "you should have said, 'Henry and I,'" to which he quickly answered, "Well, I got there ahead of him."

Get Him Worrying.

Barber Shows Customer.

This stuff about the talkative barber is all wrong, it appears. A barber writes Seattle Post-Intelligencer protesting about further misrepresentation. It is the customer who insists upon opening his heart, he writes, and the poor barber is obliged to listen to the manner of confidential patter, home troubles, scandals, and occasionally the customer spills a buzz tip on the stock market and the barber goes broke. It is this latter contingency that impels him to protest.

With Self Forgot.

Greatness is achieved, not by direct and eager chase, but while we are looking for something else. It is the little things we get by hot endeavor. The great things come to us, as it were around a corner. We never become beautiful, or eloquent, or popular, or happy, or intellectual, or even good, by hard labor. Whatever we get of such things will come to us when we are at the Hudson Bay company's two-story frame store which then was considered the greatest store in western Canada. Today, when the company has thrown open all its lands to farm settlement and is centering its energies on the fur trade and general merchandising, a big modern department store rises on the site of this ancient emporium in the heart of Edmonton.

At Our Best.

There are some men and some women in whose company we are always at our best. While with them we cannot think mean thoughts or speak ungenerous words. Their mere presence is elevation, purification, sanctity. All the best steps in our nature are drawn out by their intercourse, and we find a music in our souls that was never there before.

Old Chinese Industry.

Experts differ as to how long ago the Chinese began to make rugs. There are some who think it is one of the native arts of China and others maintain that it is acquired. Nevertheless, it is safe to say that, like the other arts of the Flowery Republic, Chinese rugmaking is of very great antiquity.

Dietetic Habits.

Some people seem to think that a vegetarian is a curiosity. A rough calculation shows that the population of the world, now estimated approximately at 1,000,000,000, is said to be divided as to dietetic habits about as follows: Strict vegetarians, 250,000,000; practically vegetarians, but eating a little fish or flesh, 450,000,000; eating meat about once a week (on high days and holidays), 500,000,000; eating meat daily and sometimes more than once a day, 400,000,000.

Queer epitaphs are frequently false; but the following really appears in a Salop churchyard: "Elizabeth, the wife of Richard Barklamb, passed to eternity on Saturday, 21st of May, 1797, in the seventy-first year of her age. Richard Barklamb, the Antesponse Storiorum, interred here, 26th Jan., 1806, in his eighty-fourth year." What an antespeuse uxorious may be is not explained.—

John was visiting his grandmother, who lived in the country. One day his grandmother found that John had but a few clean clothes left, so she told John to write to his mother and tell her to send him some new clothes. John obeyed immediately, and in a few minutes returned and showed her the letter, which was as follows: "Dear mamma, please send me a reenforcement of clean clothes."

Combs.

Combs have been used in the toilet since very ancient times. The Greeks, the Egyptian and the Roman ladies used them to arrange and hold up their hair; even ladies among the Swiss lake dwellers seem to have been familiar with them. Some of these were made of wood, some of bone, of horn or of ivory. Specimens have often been found in recent years.

That Golden Tomorrow.

It is easy to believe in that golden tomorrow. To young people particularly, the future seems bright with promise, no matter what the complexion of the present. But it should be remembered that tomorrow is likely to have a strong resemblance to today, and that the future is made golden by ardent work in the present.

Erectness.

Sit, stand and walk erect. This keeps our circulation in order and also expands our lungs to the fullest. Be straight like the Indian who believed in being erect, and in reaching his highest stature that he might the better listen to the voice of the Great Spirit

Swift-Running Animals.

The swiftest dog in the world, the borzoi, or Russian wolfhound, has made record runs that show 75 feet in a second, while the gazelle has shown measured speed of more than 70 feet a second, which would give it a speed of 4,200 feet in a minute if the pace could be kept up.

PILES GO QUICK

Piles are caused by congestion of blood in the lower bowel. Only an internal remedy can remove the cause. That's why salves and cutting fail. Dr. Leonhardt's Hem-Roid, a harmless tablet, succeeds, because it relieves the congestion and strengthens the affected parts. Hem-Roid has given quick, safe and lasting relief to thousands of Pile Sufferers. It will do the same for you or money back. Wallace's Drug Store and druggists everywhere sell Hem-Roid with this guarantee.

QUALITY AT LOW COST

On the Crest of Every Hill

—opens a panorama of beauty unexcelled

Stretching off below is a country of woodland or farmland—perhaps a river stealing through—perhaps a placid lake—perhaps a nestling village or busy industrial town. But everywhere is beauty, variety, colour.

Stop and enjoy such scenes as you motor through Ontario. Look on them as you would enjoy paintings in a picture gallery.

By driving moderately, you will derive far more enjoyment from motoring. Half the delight of country driving is lost through excessive speed.

The highways are yours. Do your part in taking care of them. The cost of repairs and renewals will fall on you and other motorists. Excessive speed grinds road surfaces. In your own interest, therefore, as well as for your safety and pleasure, keep within the speed law.

Those who are careless about speed limits are reminded that a numerous traffic patrol is rigidly enforcing the speed law on all highways.

THE HON. GEO. S. HENRY, Minister of Highways

S. L. SQUIRE, Deputy Minister

Issued by the Ontario Department of Highways to secure the co-operation of motorists in abating the abuse of the roads of the Province.

SOME SYMPTOMS OF THIN BLOOD

Everybody Should Be Able To cognize Them Because Early Treatment Is Important

Anaemia, or lack of blood, is a stealthy disease and is often quite advanced before it is recognized. It is much easier to correct in its early stages, but if unchecked causes weakness, loss of weight, lack of vigor and ambition.

Some symptoms of anaemia are loss of appetite, indigestion, headaches, sleeplessness, shortness of breath after slight exertion, and often extreme nervousness. If you have any or all of these symptoms begin treatment now with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, the tonic which will make the blood rich and pure again. Every part of the body will respond to this treatment as is shown by the case of Mrs. Isaac Bell, Sr., Port Anson, Ont., who says :—"A few years ago I was a very sickly woman. I was all run down and my nerves badly shattered. I had taken doctor's medicine, but as I got no help from it, I tried other medicines, but with no better results. One day while reading a newspaper, I came across an advertisement of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills describing a case very much like my own. I decided to try them, and by the time I had taken two boxes I could feel the benefit I was getting from them, so I cheerfully continued the treatment and was soon a well woman in better health than I had enjoyed for some years. In view of what Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have done for me I cheerfully recommend their use to all weak, run-down people."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all druggists, or may be had by mail at 50 cents a box by writing The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont. A free booklet, "Building Up the Blood," will be sent to any address on request.

Efficient Roguing Methods Imperative to the Control of Certain Potato Diseases

(Experimental Farms Note)

The following recommendations for roguing potato fields are made as a result of practical tests carried on by the Division of Botany of the Dominion Experimental Farms.

Roguing should not be attempted where the amount of disease in a field exceeds five per cent, and this is particularly applicable in the case of mosaic or leaf roll. Any plants showing symptoms of blackleg, wilt, leaf roll, mosaic or spindle tuber should be removed from the field and destroyed, not, left between the rows, because such a practice only leads to further spread of these diseases. When aphids or plant lice are present, which spread mosaic, leaf roll and spindle tuber, it is advisable after removing an infected plant to place it in a receptacle provided with a lid or drawstring to prevent the insects falling from the diseased plant to healthy ones, thereby further spreading the disease. A sponge saturated with a solution of Black-leaf 40 (nicotine sulphate) placed in the bottom of the receptacle will ensure extermination of all plant lice placed therein. Once tubers begin to set, the task of roguing becomes more difficult, for not only must care be taken to remove the vines of diseased plants but all the attached tubers as well. This is particularly important in the case of blackleg to prevent infection of healthy tubers from other hills coming in contact with diseased tubers at digging time or subsequently while in storage. Removal of all tubers in the case of such diseases as mosaic and leaf roll is even more imperative as it is impossible to detect these diseases in the bin.

Roguing can be most satisfactorily done on a dull day or when the sun is partially obscured by clouds. The operator will do well to shade the plants from the sun with his body as this will very materially assist in readier detection of such diseases as mosaic. Where riding cultivators are used an excellent opportunity is afforded to scrutinize and detect disease while passing between the rows. When the growth becomes dense, diseased plants are often swamped between adjacent healthy ones, hence it is a good practice to part the tops that none may be overlooked.

Great Rejoicing by Rheumatic Cripples

If So Crippled You Can't Use Arms or Legs, Rheuma Will Help You or Nothing to Pay.

Get a bottle of Rheuma to-day and wear a satisfied smile on your face to-morrow.

It's a remedy that is astonishing the whole country, and it's just as good for gout, sciatica and lumbago as for rheumatism.

It drives the poisonous waste from the joints and muscles—that's the secret of Rheuma's success.

But we don't ask you to take our word for it; go to Wallace's Drug Store or any druggist and get a bottle of Rheuma to-day; if it doesn't do as we promise get your money back. It will be there waiting for you.

A shepherd was sleeping peacefully through a thunderstorm one night. His wife, however, was trembling with fear, however, was trembling with fear, however, at each flash and peal; after peal filled the valley around them, she seized the shepherd and shook him violently.

"John, John," she cried, "the last day has come!"

John's eyes opened slowly, and in a sarcastic tone he demanded, "Wha ever heerd o' the last day in the meedle o' the nicht?"

A Power Of Its Own.—Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil has a subtle power of its own. All who have used it know this and keep it by them as the most valuable liniment available. Its uses are innumerable and for many years it has been prized as the leading liniment for man and beast.

Candles From Human Fat.

Among soap anomalies may be mentioned human-fat toilet soaps, known over continental Europe the past century or more and indicated by some medicos as a superior emollient. This sounds callous, but the art of soap making is not particularly noted for fine sentiment. The fat stock was obtained from cadavers of hospital and morgue derelicts and tried out like any other fat. Candles for special purposes have also been made from human fat.—Scientific American.

Monkey's Valuable Discovery.

A literary discovery has just been made at the monastery of Mekhitarists, in the island of St. Lazarus, at Venice. A pet monkey had climbed to the top of a bookcase, where it seized hold of a bundle of papers, and, breaking the string, showered down a number of letters, the ink of which had become yellow with age. They proved to be a long correspondence between Lord Byron and the monks of St. Lazarus, with whom he had once resided.

Co-operation.

On a southern plantation were two small negro boys, Berry and Wesley, who did the milking. Wesley was industrious, but Berry was lazy and always tried to make Wesley do the work. One evening the lady of the house went 'out to the kitchen and said: "Berry, have you brought the milk in?" "Yas'm, I fotched it in, didn't you, Wesley?"

Majesty of the Law.

"Here, now!" sternly commanded Constable Sam T. Shacklette, the redoubtable sleuth of Petunia. "You fellers move on there! Scatter out! You're blocking the sidewalk so folks can't get along. And, besides all that, I want to see a little of that these dog fight myself before it is all over."—Kansas City Star.

Simply the Only Thing to Do.

"Do you think it is proper to use profanity to a mule?" "So far as my own feelings are concerned," declared the expert teamster, "it is highly improper. But when you are trying to get along with as sensitive and exacting an animal as a mule you've simply got to humor him."

Man's Handicap.

"Mere man was placed under a handicap shortly after creation," said the resentful wife. "Eve had the snake to fall back on when she wanted to make her husband jealous, but poor Adam didn't have a soul." Which makes us positive that Eve was the original snake charmer.—Indianapolis Star.

First Museum.

The first museum was part of the Palace of Alexandria, where learned men were maintained at the public cost, just as eminent public servants were in the Pyramids of Cairo. Its foundation is attributed to Ptolemy Philadelphus about 280 B. C.

Another Type.

Another type of American that gives us an awful pain is the constructive critic whose attitude seems to be that he isn't going to be proud of his country until he has to.—Ohio State Journal.

Cleaning Wax Candles.

Wax candles which have become dusty can be made perfectly white by rubbing them with a clean piece of flannel dipped in spirits of wine.

Metallic Gab.

Silence is golden; oratory is silver-tongued; conversation is usually lead and confab on the telephone is a nickel arrangement.

Heredity.

Some people never get over their birth and raising. The higher in a tree a monkey climbs the more of a monkey he becomes.—Paterson Call.

Woman's Tribute to Man.

A more or less extended experience as a bread-winner has taught me a noble charity for man.—Martha E. Holden.

Isn't It Possible That

The original New Year's resolution must have been made when Adam said he would turn over a new leaf?—Indianapolis Star.

What Allied the Man.

"Oh, ma," shouted little Elsie, "look out the window quick. There goes a man all broken out with whiskers."

Weather Prognostication.

Tradition holds that a morning rainbow is a sign of rain and an evening rainbow a sign of fair weather.

Keep Out the Dust.

Have window shades that will run up and down over your pantry shelves and a lot of dust will be saved.

Poor Pattern.

The trouble with the average self-made man is the poor selection of his pattern.

Optimistic Thought.

Safety built upon vengeance contains the seeds of its own destruction.

Very Much Out of Place.

Among the guests at a reception was a distinguished man of letters. One of the ladies present suggested to the hostess that he should be put out of place at such a party. "For," replied the hostess, with a bright smile, "you see, he can't talk anything but sense."

The Trull Picnic.

The afternoon of Saturday, July 17th, was the happy occasion of the annual Trull picnic. Members of the clan to the number of one hundred and five gathered at Oshawa-on-the-Lake, in spite of threatening skies and falling showers. Tots who had not yet reached a second birthday hobnobbed with men who ten years ago had reached the allotted three score years and ten, and each one seemed to be in his most sociable mood. Popule came from St. Thomas on the West, to Napanee on the East. The arrangements of the Sports Committee were somewhat upset by the capers of the weather-man, but he had no power to dampen the ardor of those who sat down to the sumptuous repast spread by the capable Refreshment Committee. Different branches of the family tree contributed greatly to the pleasure of the company by providing music, and there were on exhibition pictures of the earliest picnic groups. The same committees were appointed to carry on until the next picnic, the first Saturday after July 12th, 1927, at Oshawa-on-the-Lake.

WEDDING BELLS

Scott—Brown.

A very pretty wedding ceremony was performed at the Vicarage, Napanee, on Wednesday, June 23rd, 1926, at 9.30 a.m., by Rev. J. J. H. Coleman, when Hattie Irene, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Brown, Port Colborne, Ont., was united in holy matrimony to Walter Percy, only son of Mr. and Mrs. King Scott, Forest Mills. The bride was very becomingly attired in a dress of peach canton crepe embroidered in gold, with hat and shoes to match. She also wore the groom's gift, a flexible bracelet. The bridesmaid, Miss Ethel D. Scott, sister of the groom, was gowned in rosewood canton crepe, with hat and shoes to match. The groom was attended by Mr. Roy E. Brown, brother of the bride. The groom's gift to the bridesmaid was a string of pearls, and to the groomsman a fancy belt and belt chain.

Immediately after the ceremony the happy couple left for Port Colborne and Niagara Falls. The bride travelled in a dress of whirlpool canton crepe and a coat of taupe chameline. On their return a reception was held at the home of the bride's aunt, Mrs. Nelson Richmond, when about 70 guests partook of a sumptuous repast. Mr. Ray McKeever proposed the toast to the bride, the groom responding fittingly. After a social evening the guests returned to their homes, wishing the bride and groom bon voyage through life. The presents were numerous and costly, a list of which will be published next week.

PAVEMENT DANCE

One of the jolliest affairs of the summer was the dance on Friday evening last, in aid of the Relief Committee of the V. O. N.

The merchants kindly lighted their stores, and the street was prettily decorated with flags and colored lights.

Visitors came from all parts of the County, not only to enjoy the dance, but to give their co-operation to so worthy a cause.

The Order is greatly indebted to the Mayor, Dr. Ming, and members of the Town Council for allowing the dance; to the Citizen's Band for rendering such delightful music entirely without fee; to the Hydro Electric for their courtesy to the Order; to the ticket sellers, and all others who in any way helped to make the evening a success.

Miss Josephine Leamy, who had charge of all the arrangements, has wonderful executive ability, and her unselfish devotion to social service work, makes her a valuable member of the Executive.

The gross receipts of the dance amounted to $285.00.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Napanee, July 17th, 1926.

Dear Mr. Editor,—If you will allow me a small space in your paper, I would like to explain to the Mayor and Chief what is going on in your town every day. We farmers are beginning to harvest our peas, and it is almost impossible to get through the streets of Napanee for the children. They simply come in droves and carry away peas by the armsfull, and it is getting worse each year. Any farmer would give a child if they would ask a few peas to eat. Even some mothers are seen shelling peas on their porches which her boy or girl has taken. I wonder what Chief Barrett would say if he saw a country boy going from store to store helping himself to oranges or bananas? It's all the same thing; and we think it is high time our Chief was on his job.

Thanking you for your most valuable space.

A FARMER.

THE LATE MRS. FULLER

On Thursday last Mrs. M. J. Fuller, of Clarksville, passed away. Mrs. Fuller was, before her marriage, Miss Henry, a sister of the late T. S. Henry, for long a prominent merchant of the town. After attending public and high school in Napanee, Miss Henry attended Normal school, and became a public school teacher. For a time she taught in Napanee, and then in Stirling. When she married she took up her home in Florida, and remained there until the death of her husband. She returned to Napanee and made her home with her sister, Miss Bella Henry, at the old homestead in Clarksville. Since the death of her sister some seven years ago, she has continued to occupy the home.

For some time Mrs. Fuller had been in failing health, and finally passed quietly away on Thursday.

She was a woman of the finest character, had a large circle of friends and acquaintances, and for years an active and interested worker in St. Andrew's United Church.

The funeral was held from the home in Clarksville, on Saturday, with Rev. A. J. Wilson conducting the service. Of this large family only a sister residing in Michigan now remains.

Odessa Women's Institute.

The ladies of the Institute were entertained at the home of the President, Mrs. Nelson Smith, on July 7th. The roll call was something we learned at the convention at Wilton or from Mrs. Lowe's talk at the extra meeting in June. As there was considerable business there were not any papers prepared. Several committees were formed, among them being Social, Flower, and Welfare, also a Press Reporter. Several members took material to cut out for children's clothes, to be made at the next meeting. The sewing is for Christmas baskets for the needy. The hostess served delicious refreshments at the close of the meeting. The next meeting is to be held in the Library the first Wednesday in August. The roll call, will be some method of canning or preserving that you have used successfully. You will need your note book as well as your thimble.

POLITICAL COMMENT

This is a most critical period for the Dominion. Industry has been frightened out of its seven senses long enough—indeed, far too long. It should at least know what to depend on for a full five years.

Immigration has been at a standstill. No vigorous or at all adequate effort has been made to attract to Canada the tens of thousands of home-seekers in the Old World whom the War wrenched loose from their familiar surroundings.

Our crushing debts—railway and war—must be resolutely dealt with. We were never more in need of a strong Government, strongly supported and entirely able to create and push through constructive policies.

The electorate have only eight weeks in which to make up their minds how to do it.

It will not accomplish this purpose if it permits itself to be diverted by local issues or sectional prejudices. If our various provinces vote in watertight—or thought-impervious—compartments, there is no guarantee that their divided delegations when they get to Ottawa will be able to combine in a stable government majority for any set of leaders.

We should vote as Canadians on broadly Canadian issues, and surely there is no doubt that Quebec is in favor of—

Adequate and stable Protection.

A sane railway policy.

Moderate taxation which will not drive our people into the United States.

An honest Customs service.

Fair play but not "pap-feeding" for the West.

Rigid economy in expenditure.

A sound financial system.

No branch line or Hudson Bay Railway "gambles".

And surely it is plain enough that, taking the Senate with the House of Commons, Quebec is far more likely to get most of these wishes from the Conservative party than from a Liberal "rump" which must ever be dependent on precarious and exacting Progressive support" — Montreal Daily Star.

The personalities of the new Federal Cabinet are described elsewhere but there are two or three of its characteristics considered as an ensemble worthy of special attention. To those who are acquainted with all sections of Canada the essentially business like status of the administration is apparent. Almost every member of the cabinet is a man who has made a success of affairs entirely unrelated to party interests: and not one of them is a man who need live by politics. In fact in most instances the new Ministers are men whose participation in public life involves financial sacrifice. Saturday Night has no prejudices in favor of business men as such. In fact the writer has often thought that a leisured class devoting itself to the study of public questions as a hobby, and politics for the love of the pursuit, would be a distinct advantage to this country. The latter condition is no doubt true of a number of the members of the new Meighen Cabinet. They are in most instances men who have made a success of life in a material sense, and who have in middle life turned to public service as something that provides more exhilaration than golf or bridge. Their knowledge of Canada's problems is unquestionable, and it is a national advantage that we have able executives willing to devote themselves to the furtherance of constructive policies of progress and development at a time when Canada is in sore need of such service.—Toronto Saturday Night.

"In our opinion, the accident that has happened to the Canadian Liberal party is the finishing stroke to the political career of the Honorable William Lyon Mackenzie King. The party of Blake and Laurier should survive—it will survive, but the political trickster who profited by the embarrassment of the Liberal party to obtain the leadership has never measured up to the position he usurped. Fielding or Gouin, there lay the choice the Liberal party ought to have made in 1920 to find a successor to the illustrious leader they had recently lost. With a leader like Fielding or Gouin, the Liberals could have won a real and practical victory at the 1921 elections. If Mr. King has any personal pride, he ought to realize at the present moment that there is only one thing he ought to do, and that is to retire."—Quebec L'Evenement.

"Mr. King has done a service in explaining why the Governor-General did not accept his advice to grant him dissolution. He said Lord Byng "conceived it to be his duty in the circumstances of the late Parliament to act as a sort of umpire between the political parties in Canada. Indeed, I think I use his Excellency's own words when I say that he held the view that I had had a chance to govern and that Mr. Meighen had not been given a chance of trying to govern or saying that he could not do so, and that all reasonable expedients should be tried before resorting to another election." And for this, as The Globe has stated, "the esteemed and beloved 'Byng of Vimy' is being made the storm centre of what threatens to be one of the bitterest and most acrimonious political campaigns in the history of the Dominion." If the Governor-General erred in essaying to appoint his adviser, he was not responsible for the unprecedented and stressful conditions under which he was called upon to act, and it will be difficult to convince the man on the street that he was actuated by any motive other than the good of the country, or that self-government is threatened, or that Canada is in danger of reverting to a Crown colony."—Toronto Globe.

"It is unnecessary to recapitulate for readers of Saturday Night all that Hon. H. H. Stevens recently told the Liberal Conservative Business Men's Club of Toronto of what the smuggling scandal had meant to this country in loss of business and public revenue and demoralization of governmental services. Readers of this publication have long since been made familiar with this national disgrace and know of the handicap of at least $200,000,000 which it created against the Canadian business man. Traffic in stolen motor cars by which the Customs Department of Canada practically assumed the position of a "fence" was a minor detail.

There seemed to be as many old time supporters of Sir Wilfrid Laurier as of straight Conservatives in the audience that heard Mr. Stevens and every listener must have been impressed by both the modesty and honesty of his address. He does not regard the Customs scandal as the paramount issue, although the corruption and negligence involved should be enough to damn any Government. Rather does Mr. Stevens hold that the paramount issue in the coming election is whether Canada is to have stable government after five years of insecurity. But nevertheless honesty of administration is as important a factor in attaining stability and material progress as forward policies. The effect of moral reform in the Customs department seems to have been immediate. Mr. Stevens had been acting minister of Customs for exactly ten days when he delivered his speech. During that period the preventive services, including those of the Mounted Police were restored; and the fear of God put into the breasts of customs officials possibly infected with the prevailing demoralization. One of the most significant facts mentioned in Mr. Stevens' speech and on which naturally evoked cheers from a business audience, was the allusion to a manufacturer of overalls who was forced to close down his factory two years ago because he could not face the competition of American prison-made goods smuggled into Canada. Since Mr. Meighen came back to power that manufacturer has reopened his factory and has received enough orders to carry on."—Toronto Saturday Night.

"In dealing with the Customs report Mr. King contends that if the Government deserved censure because of the disclosures it should have come from the committee instead of through an amendment to the report. His Government accepted the report in full, and was prepared to carry out its recommendations. Would it also have accepted it if it had called for censure of the Administration? The committee wanted the report accepted by all parties. How could it have reached a unanimous decision, with reasonable assurance that its long and arduous task would not prove fruitless, if it had introduced a contentious political feature? The report and the so-called vote of censure must be considered as two different matters. Mr. King should not try to confuse them. The Customs scandal will live in history as one of the country's bitterest experiences. It was the failure of the Government to meet it promptly and courageously which called forth condemnation. It was this which caused the Government loss of support, and it is this which gives it a foremost place as an election issue."—Toronto Globe.

JOHN HUBBS, M.P.
Who was again nominated to contest the Riding of Prince Edward-Lennox.

Mr. John Hubbs, M.P., of Picton, the Conservative candidate for the Federal Riding of Prince Edward-Lennox, is a descendant of Robert Hubbs, a U. E. Loyalist settler, who landed in Picton Bay and first settled near Picton, and built his home on the land which later became the True Blue Orphanage.

John Hubbs was born on a farm at Hubbs' Creek, in Hillier Township, Prince Edward County. He attended Public School and Picton High School. After leaving school he spent some time in Picton, and then went to Western Canada, where he engaged in farming for a number of years, at Indian Head and Cupar, Sask. After several years of successful farming he entered the insurance and loan business at Cupar, where he remained for a number of years and built up a large business.

In 1910 he sold out his business in the West and returned to his old home county and directed his energies and financial resources with great success towards the canning business. He was actively engaged in that business until 1923, when he disposed of his interests, and the same year built a new dehydration plant in the Cherry Valley district, which is the only privately owned plant of its kind in Canada.

Mr. Hubbs has been a member of the Picton School Board for a number of years, and has served on the Picton Municipal Council. He has for many years been a member of the Official Board of the Picton Methodist Church. In 1921 he successfully contested Prince Edward County as a Conservative candidate and has since then creditably represented his constituency in the House of Commons at Ottawa.

Since redistribution of the Counties of Prince Edward and Lennox, Mr. Hubbs contested the new riding in October, 1925, and defeated E. J. Sexsmith, the Progressive candidate, with a majority of 734.

They are an absolute safe medicine, being guaranteed to contain neither opiates nor narcotics or other harmful drugs. They cannot possibly do harm—they always do good. Good Fees in the Old Days.

About 1675 Helvetius came from Holland to Paris to practice medicine. A drug merchant whom he had attended gave him as fee a packet of Ipecacuanha root, imported from Brazil. Helvetius empirically discovered that the root had the virtue of healing dysentery. By curing that disease he accumulated no less than 100,000 crowns, and, in addition, became a favorite at the court of Louis XIV. It is opined in the Medical Record that the old days were not as bad as the ultramodernes paint them.

Exposition in 1926.

Plans are under way for holding, in Philadelphia, in 1926, an international exposition to be designated as the sesquicentennial exposition. Sesqui is a Latin word meaning one-half more or one and a half times as much. As centennial means a hundred years, sesquicentennial means a hundred and fifty, as 1926 will be, counting from 1776. The word is an expressive coinage but rather hard for the American tongue to get around. It is pronounced seskwi.

May Raise Monkeys.

Los Angeles and southern California may become famous as a great monkey-raising section, if the hopes of animal fanciers come true. They believe that climatic conditions there are favorable for the development of an industry that will make a specialty of raising monkeys, parrots and other wild pets that dealers now find it difficult to secure from their regular sources, because of war conditions.

Beauty and Service.

A real woman can make a home in a desert out of a dry goods box or in a canteen in France. But do not think that she does it by the wave of a magic wand. She does it because she gives her heart and hands and head to it; because she respects and works hard; because she loves beauty as she does her own life, and because she realizes that service is its handmaid

Had Improved on Phrase.

An aged banker once said to a friend: "Yes, I expect to marry one of the proudest and most beautiful girls in New York. You see, a young suitor sings to his sweetheart, 'Love Me—and the World Is Mine.' But I've got a better method, by jingo. I sing, 'Love Me—and the World Is Thine.' I'm bound to win out, don't you think so, George?"

Not Frightened.

Private Jones was doing his first guard duty. An officer approached and Jones failed to salute. The officer halted and said pompously, "My man, do you know who I am?" Jones admitted his ignorance. "I'm a colonel," the officer said. Jones grinned and said, "Gee, you was lucky. They made me just a private."—Judge.

Unknown Human Qualities.

Fortune, good or ill, as I take it, does not change men and women. It but develops their characters. And there are a thousand thoughts lying within a man that he does not know till he takes up the pen to write, so the heart is a secret to him (or her) who has it in his own breast.—Thackeray.

To Remove Rust.

Steel needles which had been put away in a box for some time had a number of rusty spots on them, so were wiped first with kerosene, then pumice stone and rubbed with it a few times and they were as smooth as when new—so trace of the rust was left.

Of Small Account.

Spitting, when one is conversing with somebody whom one regards as one's social superior, does not convey that impression of ease and self-command in one's social relations which many seem to think it does.

A Moving Tale.

A Yarmouth pork butcher notified his customers that he had sold out by hanging in his window a pig's tail with a card bearing the words: "This is the end of our pork this week."—Pittsburgh Chronicle-Telegraph.

Jews in New York's East Side.

The lower East side of New York is made up of many races, but the Jews predominate. They come from all quarters of the globe to find a home in New York's most crowded spot.

Add, Palindromes.

When asked by a friend if he had any coal, Rogers gave a reply that is the same spelled backwards or forwards: "Not a ton, Bob, not a ton."

See as Good Example.

If you would add to your wealth, and contribute a delicious, healthful product to the world of consumers, consider the busy bee.—Exchange.

New Drill for Oil Wells.

A submersible electric motor which grips the sides of the well casing features a new rotary drill for oil wells.

Daily Thought.

Thought once awakened does not again slumber.—Carlyle.

Sores Flee Before It. — There are many who have been afflicted with sores and have driven them away with Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil. All similarly troubled should lose no time in applying this splendid remedy as there is nothing like it to be had. It is cheap, but its power is in no way expressed by its low price.

Until Shirts are cheaper than Soap ~ Use Sunlight

Mrs. Experience says ~

"To me, the purity of Sunlight Soap is an assurance of scrupulously clean and long-wearing clothes."

HOW quickly even the best shirts wear out, especially at the cuffs where the hardest washing comes.

How easy it is to prolong the life of a shirt.

Any expert laundress will tell you that whether it is to wash shirts or sheets, soap should be chosen for combined cleansing power and protection to fabrics. She will tell you she feels absolutely safe with Sunlight Soap because it is backed by a $5,000 guarantee of purity.

Sunlight Soap harms nothing but dirt. It cleanses thoroughly and beautifully and prolongs the life of fabrics.

To save mending and make the "clothes allowance" go farther, use Sunlight.

Made by Lever Brothers Limited, Toronto

The largest selling laundry soap in the world.

WISE AND OTHERWISE

Suitor—"I can't live without your daughter, sir."

Rich Parent—"All right, I'll pay for the funeral."

Corns are painful growths. Holloway's Corn Remover will remove them.

"Did you enjoy your holiday, Mrs. Smith?"

Mrs. Smith—"I was not away on holiday, dear."

Little Mary—"Mother said you were at loggerheads with Mr. Smith."

Mother Graves' Worm Exterminator will drive worms from the system without injury to the child, because its action, while fully effective, is mild.

Father—"Well, John, I'm disappointed in you. I thought you would have got married years ago."

Eldest Son—"Well, you see, it's this way, father. Marriage is like throwing a stone in the water—it starts with a small ring and ends in a family circle.

The lady candidate was making a house-to-house call with the object of trying to obtain votes. "Good morning, Mrs. Jones," she said sweetly, as the door of one house was opened to her knock; "may I hope that your husband will support me?"

"Support you?" echoed Mrs. Jones with a sniff, "why 'e ain't supported me for over a year."

The Oil of the People. — Many oils have come and gone, but Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil continues to maintain its position and increase its sphere of usefulness each year. Its sterling qualities have brought it to the front and kept it there, and it can truly be called the oil of the people. Thousands have benefited by it and would use no other preparation.

One of the troubles that boys have is the constant advice they are given by an older generation. One gruff father said to his son, "Why don't you get out and find a job? When I was your age I was working for $3 a week in a store, and at the end of five years I owned the store."

The son had the wit to reply. "You can't do that nowadays. They have cash registers."

The Kansas City lawyer, whose office was on the 10th floor of the skyscraper, was expecting a client from the country. The door opened and the client entered puffing violently. "Some walk up those 10 flights," he gasped.

"Why didn't you ride up on the elevator?" asked the lawyer.

"I meant to, but gol darn it, I just missed the blamed thing!" was the answer.

Asthma No Longer Dreaded. The dread of renewed attacks from asthma has no hold upon those who have learned to rely upon Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Asthma Remedy. So safe do they feel that complete reliance is placed on this true specific with the certainty that it will always do all that its makers claim. If you have not yet learned how safe you are with this preparation at hand get it to-day and know for yourself.

The newly-weds were spending their honeymoon in the Cumberland Lake region, and found a canoe trip before breakfast a delightful starter for each day. The bride addressed a postcard to her mother, with a picture of the lake, and the inscription, "We had a grand row before breakfast."

"Well," sighed the mother when she received the card, "all married folks do it, but they have certainly started early."

Johnny was in the habit of swearing mildly when anything did not please him. One day the minister heard him and said:—

"Johnny, don't you know you must not swear. It is naughty of you to do so. Why, every time I hear you swear a cold chill runs down my back."

"That's nothing," said Johnny. "If you'd been at my house the other day when my dad caught his nose in the clothes wringer, you'd have froze to death."

Internal parasites in the shape of worms in the stomach and bowels of children sap their vitality and retard physical development. They keep the child in a constant state of unrest and, if not attended to, endanger life. The child can be spared much suffering and the mother much anxiety by using a reliable worm remedy, such as Miller's Worm Powders, which are sure death to worms.

The little girl entered the shop and enquired—"Please, sir," (she began to the shopman), "do you keep fresh eggs?"

"Certainly we do, missy," responded the shopman.

"Well," she continued, "mother said you didn't and dad said that you did."

"Well, missy," continued the shopman, "your dad is quite right and your mother wrong."

"Yes," said the little one. "Dad always said that you kept the good ones and sold the bad ones."

Jimmy was in disgrace.

He had told a lie that had been found out, and his father, after whipping him, had sent him to bed with "The Life of George Washington" to study.

"Try to follow his example, my son", was the advice of Jimmy's parent.

Next morning, at about seven o'clock, Jimmy rushed into his father's bedroom.

"Daddy," he cried, "I've started! I couldn't find any cherry trees, so I've chopped down all the gooseberry bushes."

If You See It In The Beaver It's So

Most Famous of Thrones.

The peacock throne formed part of the interior decoration of a costly building in Delhi, the ancient capital of the Mogul empire in India. The throne had the figures of two peacocks standing behind it, their tails expanded and the whole so inlaid with sapphires, rubies, emeralds, pearls and other precious stones as to represent real peacock plumage. The throne, valued at several million dollars, was carried off by invading armies and now figures in a palace in Persia.

Beeswax for Cracks.

Cracks in furniture may be filled in with beeswax. Soften the wax until it is like putty, then firmly press it into the cracks and smooth over with a thin steel knife. Sandpaper over the surrounding wood and work the dust into the wax. This gives a wood finish or color, and when the furniture is varnished the cracks will disappear. Beeswax is better than putty, for putty soon dries, crumbles, and falls out.

Couldn't Have Worried Much.

Before he died at the age of ninety-six years, the oldest member of the British parliament said that he had no secret formula for the prolongation of life, except it might be that he never bothered about his health, he smoked and he ate and drank what pleased him most. It's quite evident that he was an honorary member of the Don't Worry club.

Had an Alibi.

A party of tourists were discussing the Darwinian theory, and one of them, turning to the guide, said: "And what, my friend, do you think of the matter?" "Well, sir," said the guide, "you gentlemen may have come from apes. It's not for me to contradict you. But, as for me, I can say that my folks came from Wales."

Things Worth Knowing.

Guard within yourself that treasure kindness. Know how to give without hesitation, how to lose without regret, how to acquire without meanness. Know how to replace in your heart by the happiness of those you love, the happiness that may be wanting in yourself.—F. W. Faber.

Really Great Victory.

It is a conquest when we can lift ourselves above the annoyances of circumstances over which we have no control; but it is a greater victory when we can make those circumstances our helpers, when we can appreciate the good that is in them.—Lucy Larcom.

For Postal Card Users.

According to decisions of the post-office department, anything written or printed on the address side of a government postal card, except the address itself, that is, anything in the nature of a message on the address side, renders the card unmailable.

Worryin'.

Mah boss sayes folks ginally worries de mos' bout de things whut don' nebuh happen—Ah reck'n da's right—Ah bin worryin' de longes' case he don' nebuh raise mah wages!—Memphis Commercial Appeal.

Friday Day of Ill Omen.

The Talmud, the book containing the civil laws of the ancient Jews, says that Adam was created on a Friday, sinned on a Friday and was thrust out of Eden on a Friday.

No Appreciable Loss.

In New Jersey a man recently smoked cigarettes an entire day without any particular harm resulting. The only visible effect was the death of the smoker.—Boston Transcript.

And the Hobo Left.

"Semper fidelis," announced the hobo. "Dat's me." "Sic semper," chirped the head of the house, and the bulldog promptly responded.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

British Possessions.

The smallest British possession is Gibraltar, with an area of two square miles; the largest India, with an area of 1,802,629 square miles.

Mistaken Feeling.

Sometimes we feel like we are real snappy and positive, when we are only impatient and disagreeable.—Our Boys' Magazine.

The Only Time.

"Some people," observed Colonel Beanfugle, "never stay at home except on election day, and then they overdo the thing."—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Passions.

Passions are likened best to floods and streams, the shallow murmur, but the deep are dumb.—Sir Walter Raleigh.

History.

James imparting his knowledge to his younger sister: "Rome was founded by Romeo and Juliet."

Daily Thought.

Our duty is to be useful, not according to our desires, but according to our powers.—Henri Frederic Amiel.

Aunt—"Why don't you eat your egg, dear?"

Niece—"I don't want it."

Aunt—"When I was your age I should have been glad to eat that egg."

Niece (gently)—"But perhaps it was fresh then, Auntie dear."

QUICK RELIEF FOR RHEUMATICS

If you suffer from torturing rheumatic pains, swollen, twisted joints, and suffer intensely because your system is full of that dangerous poison that makes thousands helpless and kills thousands years before their time, then you need Rheuma, and need it now.

Start taking it to-day. Rheuma acts at once on kidneys, liver, stomach and blood, and you can sincerely exclaim: "Good riddance to bad rubbish."

Many people, the most skeptical of skeptics right in this city and in the country hereabouts, bless the day when Wallace's Drug Store and other druggists offered Rheuma to the afflicted at a small price and guaranteed money refunded if not satisfied. If you have rheumatism get a bottle of Rheuma to-day.

Moses (meeting Woodrow Wilson on the Golden Streets) — "Well, Woody, I understand your countrymen rejected your Fourteen Points."

"Don't chide me, Moses. They're certainly playing havoc with your Ten."

Automobile Insurance

Every time your car is driven you expose yourself to a danger, which in an instant may imperil your entire financial resources.

Records show that the most disastrous claims frequently fall upon those who have blameless driving records.

Why take any chances? Let us issue a policy that will protect you from damage claims due to any auto accident while driving your car. You will be surprised to find out just how much these auto rates have been reduced.

IN MEMORIAM.

In sad, but loving memory of Elmar D. MacArthur, who departed this life on August 5th, 1924.

The world may change from year to year,
And friends from day to day;
But never will the one I love
From memory pass away.

The rolling stream of time rolls on,
But still the vacant chair
Recalls the love, the voice, the smile,
Of one who once sat there.

The silent grief that in the heart
No human eye can trace,
For many an aching heart is hid
Behind a smiling face.

SATISFIED WITH DOG'S MEAL

Westerner in New York Proved He Knew a Good Thing When He Saw It.

A man and wife moved to New York from the West—a sane, conservative American man and wife, used to money and knowing the worth of it—and brought the family dog along, paying $5 extra fare for the dog, by the waggon the train. They went to a large and gorgeous hotel and in the due course of time the dog needed sustenance.

"Ring for a waiter," said the husband, "and we'll get the dog some scraps."

The floor waiter came and when asked to bring some food for the dog explained with some hauteur that he was the floor waiter and not the dog waiter, but would inform the dog waiter of the desires of the dog. The dog waiter arrived in course of time and the predicament of the dog was explained to him. The dog waiter wrote down the order carefully and departed. Presently he returned bearing a silver tray on which were displayed daintily various articles of food—some vegetables, some meat and a cracker or two.

"What's that?" asked the husband, examining the contents of the tray with interest.

"The service for the dog, sir," the waiter replied.

"How much is it?"

"One dollar, sir."

The husband took the tray.

"Get the dog a bone," he said. "I'll eat this. It's the best-looking meal I have seen in the place, and the cheapest."—Samuel G. Blythe, in Saturday Evening Post.

"Keep kallopin'," said Mose, "them ain't flies. Them's buckshot."

KNIFE ENDED ALL SQUAWKING

Pets of Clemenceau No Longer Created Disturbance, After Undergoing a Slight Operation.

M. Clemenceau's love of pets, of which much has appeared in the press since his recent visit to London, once involved him in trouble with his neighbors. Twelve years ago, during his first term as premier, he had a number of peacocks and storks installed in the gardens attached to the ministry of the interior. There are no trees in these gardens, only lawn and flower beds, which in M. Clemenceau's opinion lack animation—hence the peacocks. But other people living in the Place Beauvau complained that these birds were too animated, their cries being so persistent as to render sleep impossible.

Things reached such a pass that the prefect of police was asked to inflict his official superior for disturbing the peace of his neighbors, who were all the more indignant because M. Clemenceau went home every night to sleep at his flat in the Rue Franklin, far out of the range of the peacocks' cries. However a scandal was averted by the premier allowing a slight operation to be performed on the vocal chords of his pets, which, without otherwise injuring them, rendered them incapable of squawking.

The Expanding Stone.

In the rock of St. Gowan's chapel, in Wales, was a natural cavity upon which the name of the "expanding stone" was bestowed by popular tradition, because the strange fancy prevailed that this stone automatically adapted itself to the size of any one who entered the cavity.

The legend ran, as quoted by Mr. George F. Kunz in "The Magic of Jewels and Charms," that once, during the pagan persecutions, when a fugitive Christian, hotly pursued, reached this rock it opened up of its own accord so that he could slip into it and then closed about him so as to hide him effectually from his enemies. This expanding stone was believed to manifest its magic power by bringing to pass the wish expressed by any one who entered it, provided he did not change his wish while he turned around within it.

Henpecked Sparrows.

Female sparrows are especially tyrannical toward their partners, especially at nest building time, when they frequently attack their husbands fiercely on account of their laziness. At such times the female voice can always be detected, both louder and shriller than that of her mate, as she pecks and tousles him until he beats an ignominious retreat. Hen blackbirds and thrushes are often very overbearing and even spiteful toward their mates when their houses are in course of construction.

Winning Both Ways.

The Zulu young lady, when suitors are not forthcoming, takes the matter in hand herself. She leaves home, takes a discreet friend of her own sex and presents herself at the home of her favored swain. If he regards her with satisfaction his parents receive her as his future bride. Should he, however, be unwilling to accept her he makes her a handsome present instead.

Corns are painful growths. Holloway's Corn Remover will remove them.

ADOLPHUSTOWN

A quiet wedding was solemnized in S. Alban's Church, at 8.30 Monday evening, when Lulu Beryl, younger daughter of Mr. George White, became the bride of Frederick Ambrose Wilson, son of the late William and Mrs. Wilson, Kingston. The bride was charmingly gowned in flame colored silk crepe, her only ornament worn being a rope of pearls, the gift of the groom. She carried a white prayer book, and was attended by Mrs. Pringle as matron of honour, while Mr. Frank Ham assisted the groom. After the ceremony, which was performed by the Rector, Mr. and Mrs. Wilson left by motor for Kingston and the Thousand Islands, where the honeymoon will be spent, and on their return will reside in Dorland.—A largely attended and most enjoyable garden party was held at "Dun-workin Camp" on Hay Bay, on Tuesday evening, under the auspices of the W. A. of S. Alban's Church.—Dr. Grizwold and family have closed their cottage at Thompson's Point, and have left for their home in Hartford, Conn.—Miss G. ALARMED AT DREAD DISEASE

Spread of Sleeping Sickness Threatens Entire World, According to Scientists of Prominence.

Sleeping sickness, called encephalitis lethargica by the doctors, seems now to have become a domestic evil, says the Medical Record (New York), in quoting a study of this formerly rare disease by Doctor Lhermitte in a French medical journal.

It appears that the disease is epidemic all over the world and that it manifests itself in many forms, the only symptom possessed by all in common being that of deep and prolonged sleep.

In true encephalitis lethargica there are four cardinal symptoms—ocular paralyses, hypersomnia, fever and the general state. The ocular paralyses may be absent at the outbreak of the disease, but once present they are characteristic. So, too, is the type of hypersomnia. It is a narcolepsy, but the subject does not arouse quickly, as in the condition which commonly goes by the name and in which the seizures may be only momentary. However, the permanent sleep may be preceded by narcoleptic crises.

Doctor Lhermitte notes hypertension of the muscles and a state suggesting catalepsy. Tremors are often manifest; the temperature goes to 104 degrees F. He says a Wassermann test and examination of the spinal fluid should always be made.

Compensation for Dark Days.

"There are not many happinesses so complete as those that are snatched under the shadow of the sword." Some of life's brightest blossoms bloom along its hardest ways, and looking back on days of poverty, sickness and hardship we often see the choicest treasures of love and loyalty that we have ever known. Anyone may share our joys with us, but the one who shares our trials comes close in a friendship that will never be forgotten. An outsider, pitying the weary attendants in a sickroom, cannot know how near to heaven its companionships often lie, nor what blessed bits of happiness are snatched under the shadow of the suspended sword. The dark days have their compensations.—Montreal Herald.

OLD FISH MARKET MUST GO

London's Famous Billingsgate Forced to Succumb to the Inexorable March of Time.

Billingsgate, London's old-time fish market, is about to move. The course of time and the modern difficulties of transport are responsible for the plan to remove to another site more easy of access, and in which space will not always be at a premium.

Billingsgate was the most important quay on the Thames in late Saxon times, and fish, among other things, were landed there. By the time of Edward I the market was fully established, and the king, who was a confirmed food controller, fixed a tariff of maximum prices. This list included one dozen best soles, 6 cents; best mullet, 4 cents; best haddock, 4 cents; best Thames or Severn lamprey, 8 cents; gallon of oysters, 4 cents, and best porpoise, 12 to 16 cents. The best fresh salmon, after Easter, were to be sold at four for $1.25. That was in the days when the Thames was full of salmon, and one could catch flounders and flatfish on a line dropped over London bridge. The water is still salty during high tide, but the sea fish do not come up any further than Gravesend, which is 20 miles lower down.

Varieties of Potatoes.

One potato may be big enough to provide a meal for a good-sized family. People in Virginia like them that way. In northern markets, however, the demand is for potatoes of a modest size. In Europe potatoes are grown of different kinds for different purposes. Certain varieties are raised for cooking and others for starch making and distilling. Over there they have a so-called "stock potato," which is not used for human food at all. It is very large and coarse of texture. The yield to the acre is twice the ordinary, and the tubers, being exceedingly rich in starch, are great alcohol producers.

Paderewski's Handshake.

It is stated that after the signing of the Austrian peace treaty in Paris, Paderewski, who represented Poland, shook hands with the other allied plenipotentiaries, using both hands for the operation. The celebrated pianist was not always so free with his magical hands. Some years ago, while shaking hands with a friend, his fingers came into contact with the lighted end of a cigar, and for a day or two he was unable to play. Thereupon he heavily insured each of his fingers, and to reduce the chances of such a happening again he made it a rigid rule not to shake hands with anyone.

Explained.

Henry's father was a golf enthusiast; therefore Henry knew all about the game. One time he was asked:

"Henry, why is it that men that play golf always yell 'fore' instead of 'look-out' or some such thing?"

Henry thought for a second before an inspiration came from looking at his young sister, who was diligently getting her arithmetic.

"You see," he replied, "it takes too long to yell 'toot-toot,' and that sounds so much like 'two-two' that they just add them together and yell 'four.'"

Nathaniel's "Jinx" Active.

Nathaniel Ripple had a terrible experience one afternoon when he was about twelve years old. He opened the doors of the buggy house and was backing the buggy in when the wind blew both doors shut. He propped them open with small sticks, but just as he reached the buggy tongue one of the sticks fell and the doors came around far enough to stop the buggy. A moment later Grandpa Ripple, who had just come down to the barn, said: "What's that you are saying, Nathaniel?"

Homing Instinct Supreme.

Science cannot explain the wonderful instinct which brings the pigeon to its home, but it is stronger than fear or any other obstacle. Liberated in the face of the heaviest barrage, it circles in the air to get its bearings, rises swiftly to a height of half a mile, then is off with the speed of a bullet. For a distance of 30 miles they are capable of making two miles a minute, and have flown 800 miles on a single flight.

Marble Caves of Oregon.

Amid the wilds of southwestern Oregon, almost unknown to the world at large, is situated a series of underground chambers and passages remarkable for their size and for the beauty and unusual character of their decorations, says F. E. Tuck in Popular Mechanics Magazine. Within the last few years they have been made a national monument and are now known as the Marble Caves of Oregon.

Symptoms of Death.

The usual procedure in warfare to determine whether death has occurred is to inject fluerescine, according to the method of Dr. S. Icard of Marseilles. In the living the eye will take a vivid green color, as though an emerald had been set in the socket. If no coloration is observed within an hour or two after injection, it may be stated positively that the person is dead.

Slippers.

In many respects orientals can give us lessons in hygiene. It is true they eat out of a common bowl with their fingers, which is neither sanitary nor pleasant; but on the other hand they do not tramp into a house, bearing on their footwear all the miscellaneous filth of the street. At the door they remove their shoes and put on slippers.—Exchange.

Gets Along Without Nest.

The whippoorwill doesn't build a nest. It lays two large, round eggs in a slight depression in the ground—say in a cow's track in the pasture, or even upon the top of a dead and rotting log in the woods. If the eggs are discovered the bird will carry them away in its mouth and deposit them somewhere else, and it will do the same thing with its young.

Explaining Falling of Leaves.

The shedding of leaves in autumn may be due to physiological drought. The soil contains sufficient moisture, but the temperature of the soil may be too low to enable the trees to absorb it. "June drop" of oranges and many similar losses may be due to similar causes.

THRILLS ON ALPINE PEAKS.

The Pope on His Mountaineering Adventures.

The Pope, as most people are no doubt aware, is a mountaineer of distinction; but the true nature of the remarkable and adventurous climbs which he has carried out in the Alps has just been disclosed by the publication of a book, "Climbs on Alpine Peaks," by Fisher Unwin, in which his holiness relates some of his exploits.

On one occasion the Pope and his party had to spend two nights out on the mountains. The occasion was the ascent of Monte Rosa, in the Alps, from the Italian side.

On the journey up the mountainside one of the party lost his axe. He was afterwards obliged to use his hands on the cold rocks and the snow, with the result that his gloves were soon torn to pieces and his hands were so frostbitten that it was many months before he was cured.

After reaching the summit the climbers were forced to spend the night on a projecting rock, and the Pope declares:—

"The spot where we were was not, indeed, one of the most comfortable. On the other hand, it was perfectly safe for anyone who was reasonably sure of himself, though it was extremely small. Anyone sitting down found his feet dangling in space; we had, however, every facility for stamping them, provided we were careful not to lose our balance. The cold was intense; without being able to reckon the exact degree, I may mention that our coffee was frozen hard, and our wine and our eggs resembled it, in that they were neither respectively drinkable not eatable."

Before the party succeeded in reaching safety they had to spend the following night also on the mountain-side. The Pope, in his enumeration, declares that whole nights have been passed with impunity on the very summit of the Matterhorn, and even on Mont Blanc.

It was in the course of this expedition that the Pope visited the gold-mines at Pestarena, which are worked by British capital.

"It is noteworthy," the author remarks, "how the English, with their practical ability and characteristic courage, contrive to employ profitably considerable capital in that outlying part of Italy. I say considerable capital, not only on account of the importance of the works and the number of men employed, but also (to the praise of the English, be it said) because of the liberality with which they ensure the safety of our workmen."

The Pope, by the way, when a small boy, first heard the English language spoken on the Alps, and the party consisted of a Church of England clergyman and his family. He was immediately fascinated with the sound of the strange language. He had just been reading Milton's "Paradise Lost" in an Italian version, and soon made up his mind to learn the English language in order to read the great masterpiece of literature in the original.

The author also describes his conquest of the Matterhorn and Mont Blanc, and adds that mountaineering is not a breakneck pursuit, but merely a question of practice with a little courage, of love of nature and her most secret beauties.

Perhaps the most frequent complaint which mountaineers experience is frost-bite, and the Pope gives the principal remedies for this trouble which, he says, is alternate massage with snow and compresses of spirits of camphor, followed by bandaging with cotton-wool and india-rubber.

Another form of trouble, and one which is often adopted by doctors in Alpine centers, and which is usually successful, was given by the Pope to effect a complete cure in the case of a friend, though it was applied after two days' delay and though the patient's condition was very serious. This treatment consists of continual compresses of spirits of camphor, as well as vaseline and baths of cold salt water.

Knotty Legal Problem.

A British lawyer in Siam is trying to unravel a most unusual family tangle. A Brazilian multi-millionaire died and bequeathed a million dollars to the first grandchild born in his family. The first to arrive were twins, a boy and a girl, and the question under debate is which was born first. The mother declares the girl was born first, but the father denies this. Two doctors, who were in attendance, disagree, one contending the mother is right, the other supporting the father. The final decision is to be left to the referee, who knows no one involved. If his decision is adhered to, the matter will be kept out of the Brazilian courts, but there are few who believe that it will stand if the loser feels dissatisfied in the future. The congregations that the inheritance be divided equally between the twins is firmly refused by both parents.

Hospital for Animals.

The University of Philadelphia has a hospital fully equipped for the treatment of animals of all sorts and sizes. The operating table can handle horses and cattle. The patients are dieted and treated in the same as human beings in their own hospitals, only on a bigger scale. It takes a quart of chloroform to get a horse into a sleep ready for an operation. Operations are not the only part of the hospital's work, for horses, cows, pigs, mules, and dogs are treated for, indigestion, nervous breakdown, skin infections, and even for being "run down." It is from that infection is made to be of use to the animals themselves, and it is said that through the "serum" thus acquired thousands of valuable animals have had their lives prolonged to their natural span instead of being destroyed after an accident.

Henry E. Buermeyer, who lived to be eighty-four years old, held more than 50 medals which he had won in athletic events.

"Why don't they have oxlums in Arabia, dad?"

"Because there are nomad people there, I expect, son."

Old Story Discovered.

Most persons know the story told of Cleopatra, to illustrate her luxurious habits of living, that she dissolved in her wine a precious pearl. No one seems yet to have questioned what must have been the effect upon the drink, but scientists scoff at the possibility of such solution. The fact is pearls are not soluble in wine. The most powerful vinegar affects them slowly and never entirely dissolves them, for the organic matter remains behind in the shape of a spongy mass that is larger than the original pearl.

"Corps" of Latin Derivation.

Corps is a French word, derived from the Latin corpus, a body, and means an organized body of men, either civil or military, as a police corps, marine corps, etc. It does not signify any particular number, but an organized body. In the United States army a corps consists of two or more divisions, each containing three brigades and each brigade three regiments. The term first came into use in this country during the Civil War period.

The Walk-in-the-Water.

The first steamer, we believe, that was ever operated on Lake Erie was named the Walk-in-the-Water, and was built just 100 years ago, near Black Rock and Buffalo. On her first trip to Detroit the Walk-in-the-Water stopped at Cleveland, where a grand reception was given to her officers and crew and a series of feasts was held to commemorate the awe-inspiring even The Whippoorwill.

The favorite hunting ground of the whippoorwill is about the edges of a forest, or over the tops of the trees, where the big, fat moths are to be found at night. It makes no noise as it flies, because its feathers are soft and fluffy, but as it darts past you sometimes it utters a sort of groan. The nighthawk occasionally gives vent to a loud "yawk" as it flies through the evening air.

Women That Men Like.

"What we men want for the most part," says Thackeray, "is a humble, flattering, smiling, child-loving, tea-making being who laughs at our jokes, however old they may be, coaxes and wheedles us in our humors and fondly lies to us through life. In other words, the more essentially feminine woman is, the more irresistibly does she appeal to and attract our sex."

To Battle Gipsy Moth.

Human efforts to exterminate the gipsy moth have failed and the United States government is importing insect parasites of this pest to aid in the war of extermination. In order to hasten the importation the government is going to provide a home and encourage the development of an industry that makes a specialty of fighting pest that makes

Great Britain comprises England, Scotland and Wales, all parts of one island, and the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland includes Ireland as an addition. The British empire consists of all these and India, the colonies, other islands, protectorates and dependencies.

Use of Oxalic Acid.

In using oxalic acid to remove any ink stains always follow with a few drops of javelle water, which counteracts and neutralizes the oxalic acid. Then rinse with boiling water to remove both of these chemicals so that the fiber will remain untouched.

Proofs of Wisdom.

The first characteristic of a good and wise man at his work is to know that he knows very little; to perceive that there are many above him wiser than he; and to be always asking questions, wanting to learn, not to teach.—Ruskin.

Not Scared by Cry of "Fad."

The wise man—the man who thinks—is not afraid of anything, new or old, because it may suspiciously be referred to as a "fad." He examines it to see if it is a good fad or a bad fad and accepts or rejects it accordingly.

A "Call."

"What have you got?" asked the person of the chauffeur who rang his doorbell. "One pelagi replied the chauffeur, beckoning to the eloping couple to come forward.

A Prime Dressing for Wounds. — In some factories and workshops carbolic acid is kept for use in cauterizing wounds and cuts sustained by the workmen. Far better to keep on hand a bottle of Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil. It is just as quick in action and does not scar the skin or burn the flesh.

Turtle's Instinct.

It has long ago been ascertained that the eggs of the loggerhead turtle are laid in the sand at some distance from the sea. As soon as the young are hatched, however, they move with unerring instinct to the water. It is found that newly hatched loggerhead turtles move away from red, orange and green, but are attracted by blue. Under normal conditions, then, the blue gleam of the sea may be supposed to attract them, while they will turn away from the reds and greens of the land.

Saline Plants.

Saline plants are plants such as saltworts, seaweeds, grasswrack, seakale and asparagus, which grow on the seashore, or by the side of salt lakes, or in the beds of lakes which have dried up. They are rich in saline constituents, and, when burnt their ashes were formerly used in the production of barilla, an impure carbonate of soda. This used to be employed in the manufacture of soap, glass and other products.

Never Molest Dragon Fly.

The dragon fly is a tireless hunter and eater of mosquitoes. This is his one purpose in life. He and his children from the day they are born until they die are busy with the praiseworthy fight of mosquito extermination. The big dragon fly pursues the adult mosquitos and the little ones hunt and eat the young mosquitoes—a splendid family arrangement. Nobody should ever injure a dragon fly.

Some Famous Cats.

Southey declared that a house was not complete unless it contained a child rising three and a cat rising six weeks. He wrote "The Chronicle History of the Cattery of Cat's Eden" for his numerous progeny, and among the famous cats of Greta Hall, Keswick, were those named Lord Nelson, Bona Marietta, Pope Joan, Othello the Moor (as black as coal), Pulcheria and Mme. Bianchi.

Learn Road Building From Romans.

Good and properly permanent roads are still something of an unsolved problem. It has been suggested in Scientific American that road engineers might get much useful instruction in road building by studying the roads built by the Romans a thousand years ago, which, except for neglect of the surface, are still giving good service.

To Make Ivory Look Like Silver.

Immerse the ivory in a dilute solution of silver nitrate after having thoroughly cleaned it. Then put it into a solution of common salt until it assumes a deep yellow color. Dip it in water, and expose it to the sun's rays until it becomes black. On rubbing, the black surface will soon change to a brilliant silver.—Popular Science Monthly.

Cork.

The outer spongy bark of the cork oak, which grows in the south of France and Spain, constitutes the substance known as cork. This outer bark is periodically stripped off the tree, soaked for a time in water, and the surface subsequently charred to close the pores.

Valuable Brick Material.

The slime which accumulates at the various mines in the Kolar gold fields, in India, is now being mixed with clay and made into bricks, instead of being treated as a waste product, as heretofore. The bricks made in this way are said to be superior to those acquired from outside sources and are used extensively in lining circular shafts and other construction work carried on by the mining companies. Later on it is proposed to make fire brick, clay crucibles, and artificial stone.—Popular Mechanics Magazine.

How Betty Helped.

Betty heard her father say at the breakfast table, after having sat up late the night before, writing for a lecture: "I could have filled another page with ease if I hadn't been so tired, but I guess this will have to do." In a few moments Betty emerged from the library with a piece of paper covered with the letter "E." "Now, daddy," she exclaimed, "don't worry; I filled the page for you!"

Comb Old Toilet Adjunct.

Combs have been used in the toilet since very ancient times. The Greek, the Egyptian and the Roman ladies used them to arrange and hold up their hair; even ladies among the Swiss lake-dwellers seem to have been familiar with them. Some of these were made of wood, some of bone, of horn or of ivory. Specimens have often been found in recent years.

You Understand This?

Not to perceive is the gift which softens the prospect for man who in his present, in his intimacies, in his necessities, sees more than suits his happiness, but who for his prospects finds radiance only softening and in its mellowing gaining glory, who looks for his greatest good in the west and seeks the deep purple with an illusioned soul.—Chicago Tribune.

Plants Travel by Air.

In Porto Rico, where the atmosphere is moist and balmy, air plants often lodge in the most unusual places and produce some weird effects while growing. Frequently they establish themselves on telephone and telegraph wires. The insulation rots in places and the plants take root, grow and thrive.

Robinson Crusoe's Will.

The "last will" of Alexander Selkirk, the original of Robinson Crusoe, was sold at auction in London for $390. The will begins: "Being now bound out on a voyage to sea, and calling to mind the perils and dangers of the seas and other uncertainties of this transitory life—"

One Thing Man Must Do.

Nature never provides for man's wants in any direction, bodily, mentally, or spiritually, in such a form as that he can simply accept her gifts automatically. She puts all the mechanical powers at his disposal—but he must make his lever.

Time for All Things.

There is a time for all things, and we believe that the young man should select twilight, after he has put in fourteen hours hoeing the crops, for writing love songs and war poetry.—Houston Post.

Simple Recipe for Happiness.

Optimistic Thought.

There is the greatest safety in the things that are the most honorable.

Two colored gentlemen, who had just reduced the population of a farmer's henroost, were making a get-away.

"Laws, Mose," gasped Sam, "why you s'pose them flies follows us so close?"

"Keep gallopin'," said Mose, "them ain't flies. Them's buckshot."

One of Ontario's Best Investments

Highways contribute greatly to people's welfare and pleasure

By making transportation easy, Ontario's good roads foster business, assist the farmer, and bring pleasure to hundreds of thousands of our people. Good roads are one of our best investments.

These roads have cost $180,000,000 of the people's money. Many more millions will be required to keep them in repair and to renew them. This money must come from those who use the roads.

You, as a motorist, are invited to take an interest in the highways. They are yours to use, not to abuse — yours to enjoy, not to destroy. Excessive speed grinds away road surfaces. Drive moderately and you will help to protect the huge investment which you and the other motorists have made in the good roads of your Province.

While confident that the majority of motorists will heed this request for co-operation in preserving the roads, the Government gives warning to the careless that the speed laws are being rigidly enforced.

THE HON. GEO. S. HENRY, Minister of Highways — S. L. SQUIRE, Deputy Minister

Issued by the Ontario Department of Highways to secure the co-operation of motorists in abating the abuse of the roads of the Province.

DRAGGING-DOWN PAINS RELIEVED

Woman Suffered Nearly a Year. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Brought Her Health

Moose Jaw, Sask.—"I am going to try to tell you what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. I suffered very badly with dragging-down pains and inflammation, also pains in my right side over my hip and down my whole side into my leg. I had it nearly a year when I went to a doctor and he said I would have to have an operation. But my mother said to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound as it saved her life years before. I took two bottles and I found I was better, so I kept on taking it and also used Lydia E. Pinkham's Sanative Wash. I have had two more children since then and am perfectly well. I used to have to lie down two or three times a day, and now I do all my housework without trouble. I always keep the Vegetable Compound in the house as I find a dose now and then helps me. I am willing for you to use this letter any way you see fit and I will answer letters. If I can help any other woman I'd be only too glad to try."—Mrs. Esther Houghton, 712 Athabasca W., Moose Jaw, Saskatchewan.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a dependable medicine for all women.

OBITUARY.

Catharine Cook.

Catharine Cook, daughter of the late John and Elizabeth Cook, of Camden Township, died at her brother's residence, in Richmond Township, on Saturday, July 10th, in her 75th year. For a period of almost 70 years her life had been spent without the blessing of sight. From a child the intense desire of her heart was to walk worthy of her Saviour. In early life her memory was stored with the precious words of the Bible, and in the long period of solitude she found great consolation in recalling the promises of guidance and help contained therein for the children of God. Naturally of a bright and cheerful disposition she was a blessing to all who had the privilege of her acquaintanceship. A large circle of friends will miss her kindly interest and wise counsel. She loved her church and was ever ready to bear testimony to the joy experienced in communion with her Saviour.

On the morning of July 12th, after a short service at the home of her brother, John, where she had resided for the past nine years, the funeral procession was formed and proceeded to Forest Mills Church, where a very impressive service was conducted by her Pastor, Rev. C. J. Wilson. The text and special musical numbers were of her own choosing. The sermon was based on 2 Tim. 4:6-8. Mr. and Mrs. George Brooks sang very feelingly, "The Last Mile"; and the Choir sang as the remains were removed from the church, "Going Down the Valley". The burial was in White Church cemetery, Hinch Street.

Deceased leaves to mourn her loss, one surviving sister, Mrs. Wm. McKeown, of Camden Township; six surviving brothers, John, of Richmond Township; Richard, Simon, Robert, and Thomas, of Camden Township; and Daniel. Deceased spent the larger portion of her life on the old homestead on Hinch Street, now occupied by her brother, Simon.

—The death occurred at Binghamton, N.Y., of Jessie I. Oswell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Lindsay, Napanee. The funeral was held from her parents' residence, on Wednesday afternoon.

SOFTBALL

In the queerest game of the season St. Mary's downed Leftovers by 25-12 score at Riverdale Park last Friday. The game was featured by heavy hitting on the part of the Anglicans, and some equally heavy hitting and weird playing on the part of Grundy Paul's Leftovers, imbued with the spirit of their carefree manager, the Leftovers played ball as if they hadn't a care in the world. Marion Embury did the pitching, but some spasmodic laughing fit completely put her off her game. Irene Embury acted as catcher and was evidently affected by her sister's laughing for she forgot she was playing several times. An error brought a burst of laughter from the Leftovers, and a good play shared the same fate.

For the winners Dorothy Johnston and Dorothy Richardson and Marion Grass hit homers. The Anglicans displayed the smallest trio of outfielders in the history of the sport in Napanee, with Norene Johnston, Leonora Fraser and Francis Fox doing the fly-chasing. At that these three youngsters were up with the best of them. Dorothy Richardson was the fielding and batting star of the game, with two homers and several other lusty wallops. Leftovers trotted out some new players in Alma Wales, Elsie Moore and Fern Booth, and all did good work. Miss Booth especially will bear watching.

The teams:—

Leftovers—I. Embury c., M. Embury p., E. Mills 1b., J. McGraw 2b., A. Wales 3b., F. Booth l.f., G. Hall c.f., E. Moore rf.

St. Mary's—M. Grass c., D. Johnston p., D. Richardson 1b., M. Loucks 2b., F. Kinkley ss., N. Johnston lf., L. Fraser cf., F. Fox rf.

The teams used only eight players each.

Next Week's Softball Card.

Monday, August 2nd, in the Mercantile League, "B" Company and Business Men will clash at the N.C.I. grounds. The fans have seen "B" Co. in action, and the Business Men are reputed to be a fast team. They are composed of ball players, and this ought to be the best game of the season. Both teams are out to win, and the largest crowd of the season is expected.

On Wednesday evening, Grace and "B" Company Juniors will cross bats at the N.C.I. grounds, and this game ought to be a hummer. By the way, it's time somebody was appointed to see that the Juniors turn out. So far the schedule has been ignored, and the fans, who turn out for the games, want action. If the Juniors fail to show interest in the League, the schedule should be dropped and the mercantile schedule given two games a week.

On Friday, August 6th, Grace and Leftovers provide the twinkles at Riverdale Park in the Girls' League.

To-night (Friday) Trinity and Leftovers will play at Riverdale in the Girls' League, and this game should be a hummer.

86 I.O.O.F. 16, Bankers 15.

On Monday evening, Lodge No. 86, I.O.O.F., defeated Bankers 16-15, when Bill McLaughlin's timely single with 2nd and 3rd occupied, sent over the winning run. The game was a fair exhibition of softball and was characterized by flashy plays on both sides. The win for 86 ties up 212 and 86 for second place.

The teams:—

No. 86—Barrett c., Mills p., Fraser 1b., Paul 2b, Rogers ss., Baughan 3b., Wallace l.f., McLaughlin c.f., MacGillvray r.f.

Bankers—Jackson c., Dickson p., Joyce 1b, Black 2b, McGarry s.s., Cavanaugh 3b., Lawrence r.f., Gleeson c.f., McGraw l.f.

Umpires—Naphin and Reot.

Belleville H. S. 13, Napanee 5.

On Tuesday evening the Leafs dropped another game by 13-5, to Belleville H. S., at Riverdale Park. The Leafs started off by winning in scoring three runs in the first innings, but poor fielding allowed Belleville to shove over six counters in the fifth. The game was the best of the season, and aside from the fifth innings was a snappy game. The locals trotted out a new first baseman in Margaret Douglas, and she did some good work. Her fielding was faultless, but she failed to get a hit in three trips to the plate. However, she'll bear watching. Marion Douglas contributed a three-bagger to the hit column, and Kathleen Ungar was back in the game. Dorothy Richardson made three nice catches in right field and scored the first run. The rest of the team played good ball all through.

The Belleville girls are a real classy bunch of ball players and all know the game. Jean Ramsay is undoubtedly the best pitcher seen here in a long time, and Miss Wilkins, the catcher, has a peg to 2nd that would make a boy envious. The infielders are fast and accurate players and the outfielders certainly know how to play softball.

The teams:—

B.H.S.—A. Kellisher 2b., P. Jarrell rf., M. Adams 3b., P. Holloway 1b., M. Wilkins c., L. Ridley ss., J. Adams lf., J. Ramsay p., L. Weir cf.

Leafs—Marion Douglas lf., D. Richardson rf., M. Stinson ss., M. Grass c., M. Embury 2b., Margaret Douglas 1b, D. O'Neil 3b., K. Ungar cf., D. Johnston p.

Score by innings:—

Belleville .... 0 3 1 1 0 6 0 0 2—13
Napanee .... 3 0 0 0 1 1 0 0 0—5

Umpires—Vernon | Weir, Belleville, at plate; James Naphin, Napanee, on bases.

POLITICAL COMMENT

One thing comes out quite clearly from the historical survey presented by Mr. King, and that is that the form of government in which the Progressive group held the whip hand has shown itself to be a very unsatisfactory arrangement. Canada will not want to repeat the experiment by which it is possible for a minority faction to assume and retain the reins of office with the help of a third party which, for a consideration, is willing to accord its support. Mr. King himself speaks of the "intrigue and uncertainty" to which such a situation inevitably gives birth. In the present campaign the one thought in the mind of electors will be to restore to the country a form of government which is free from these disturbing factors of "intrigue and uncertainty", and which is able to pursue a strong, independent course, because it has a definite mandate from the people. — Hamilton Spectator.

* * * * * *

Doubtless the political situation in Canada is highly interesting to American newspaper men who delight in providing sensations and stunts for their readers. But we can assure the editors of United States newspapers that there are not going to be any very sensational political developments in Canada. The people of this country in the mass are devotedly attached to their Mother Country, and even more devotedly attached to their own country. They have effected a change of Government, and although there is some talk in irresponsible quarters of a constitutional crisis, there is no crisis at all; there is a determination to effectually dispose of the issue that has been raised by a comparatively insignificant coterie of deeply disappointed and completely discredited politicians. The political situation in Canada has been unsatisfactory to a majority of the people for a short time. We believe a large majority of the people are determined, that after the election the political situation will be satisfactory and tranquil for a long time.—Victoria Colonist.

* * * * * *

"Let those who affect to believe that the Customs scandal is of no importance put their hands in their own pockets and tell us how much they are willing to turn over to the public treasury to make up for the millions filched from it by the smugglers. Let those who incline to the belief that the question of the tariff is only an old see-saw, look into the matter of the permanency of their employment and see whether to-morrow or soon they will not be forced to leave the country owing to the factory at which they earn their living closing its doors. Mr. Bourassa declares that these material questions do not merit attention. Truly this fine gentleman has a happy flow of speech."—Montreal La Patrie.

* * * * * *

It seems highly probable that the great majority of the people of Canada look upon this tremendous pother over the "constitutional question" as a conspicuous example of the tendency of hard-pressed politicians to discover some sort of a herring to draw across the trail.

They cannot for the life of them see that there is any such animal as a constitutional question". No one really believes that the constitution of Canada is in the smallest danger —not even Mr. King. He is merely playing a game with whatever cards Fate has dealt him. It is safer at all events to discuss the constitution than to discuss the Customs disclosures.

The Governor-General is being abused for dissolving the House and bringing on an election—when this is the very thing that Mr. King asked for.

Does all the complaining that we hear mean that Mr. King is willing that the people should be led to infer that the party in office, however improperly or insecurely, has it in its power to do something atrocious to affect the polling, and that he is whining because he did not get this opportunity? Mr. King is in a position to know about this, for he was in power and did control the elections last autumn.

What is it that he is afraid of? What does he think he has lost? What did he have last time that he will not have this time? It would be very interesting to hear him come down to facts and details.—Montreal Daily Star.

* * * * * *

The present political crisis raises some interesting questions concerning our constitution as established by law and by precedent. Much loose thinking adn looser speaking is being indulged in, to the detriment of clear vision, exact understanding, and just appreciation. It is worth while to glance at the confusion in the light of exact statement.

In the case before us the question is whether the Governor-General had any constitutional knowledge that the person offering advice when Mr. King advised dissolution was at that time a minister qualified according to the constitutional requirement. Mr. King says that his government had been undefeated throughout four years. But in saying this he does not cover the whole situation. The question which concerned the Governor-General was whether at the time of offering advice the prime minister thus commanded the confidence of the House. To this the sufficient answer is that Mr. King admittedly informed His Excellency that he no longer had such command of the House as enabled him to carry on the King's Government with dignity. The moment that admission was made his authority was subject to question. It is utterly beside the mark to ask whether the crown may give to one minister what it refuses to another regardless of their actual authority at the time of asking. Conceivably the one may be clothed with the confidence of the House which is required, while the other minister is not in that position. This is not a case when we may say simply that one equals one, one minister is the equivalent of another minister. The issue concerns two ministers in very different situations. The precise nature of that difference does not for the moment concern us—we will deal with it presently. What does concern us at this moment is the fallacy of assuming that the advice of one prime minister is always equal in authority to that of another.

It is therefore futile to say that no prime minister has in our day been refused what Mr. King asked for. No prime minister in our day has ever dared to ask it, but always recognized that the verdict of the House elected on his own appeal settled his fate. So when Mr. King went to His Excellency to inform him that the House which had been elected on his own appeal would no longer support him, and asked for a second appeal by the same government to the same electorate and on the same issue, namely, an opportunity to govern without dependence on a small third party, he elicited a refusal. This refusal is unprecedented only because the request itself was such as no prime minister in our day even under much graver provocation, has even suggested.

Mr. King thereon resigned and, instead of awaiting the advent of the new ministers and holding them responsible in the constitutional manner for the act of the crown, definitely challenged the action of the crown by presenting it as a denial of something which the minister believed to be a proper request. Moreover, when as the result of his resignation it became needful to wind up the session, his prospective successor, according to well-established usage throughout Victorian days, sought assurances that facilities for such winding up would be forthcoming. Mr. King thought fit to scorn the proposal for conference. Nor apparently did he, according to the Liberal precedents cited, give the crown such assurances as were needed to meet the crisis produced by his resignation. So, it now appears, that the Governor-General—again, according to well-established usage—sent for another leader in the House of Commons to ascertain what support he could offer to the effort to wind up the public business. The Progressive party met and adopted a resolution which in express terms was intended to guide that leader in his conversation with His Excellency. After this interview with Mr. Forke His Excellency was in a position to entrust Mr. Meighen with the task of carrying on and Mr. Meighen was able to accept at the hands of His Excellency the trust offered him. Neither the Governor-General nor the incoming prime minister deviated by a hair's breadth from the established constitutional usage. The political wisdom and expediency of trusting to such assurances concern politics, not the constitution. The new government met the House and on presenting for final action the pending vote of censure against their predecessors were sustained by a majority such as their predecessors would at any time have found matter for great joy. The policy of the new government was then formally challenged in vain and on that issue the new ministers were well sustained. But on a point of law, highly disputable and sharply contended, they were technically defeated by a majority of one—that one vote being admittedly cast in forgetfulness of an obligation to refrain from voting unless the one with whom he was paired returned to the House. There was nothing to show that on the ground of its policy the government could not carry on, but there was enough to show that the King's government could not be carried on with dignity in such a chamber so constituted. Here was a prime minister accorded support by the very House which had formally condemned the previous government and he now asked for a dissolution and was granted it in the interests not of his party but of carrying on the King's government. Granting the dissolution to one minister and with one kind of status was in no way inconsistent with refusing it to another, with different relation to the House. Nor is there anything inconsistent between refusing to a prime minister a second appeal to the electors from the House which they gave him on a first appeal, and the granting to a new prime minister whose general policy had been sustained by the House a first appeal to the electorate.

Our Governor-General, it is true, is appointed by the crown on the approval of the Canadian Government. He speaks like the King, not for the present wearer of the crown, but for the continuous constitutional life of the nation under British parliamentary institutions. Were he selected from among our own retired politicians as some now suggest he would at every turn be exposed to suspicion of partisan sympathies. Thus to suspect him now is a gratuitous affront. The present discussion concerns his powers and these are in no way to be confused with the method of his appointment. Canadians who are steeped in the constitutional ideas of the United States tend to merge the Governor in a political leader. Some, too, for momentary gain, seek to awaken prejudice on the ground that His Excellency won the love of Canadians as a soldier. Surely this is irrelevant. His action in the present case is not taken under orders from the War Office but as a strict parliamentarian. Mr. Mackenzie King reminds us by his antecedents, at least, that politicians in turn may become fighters. But all such personalities ought to be excluded, and the King's government must be carried on. — Edward Trelawney, in "The New Outlook", published by The United Church of Canada.

TOWN COUNCIL

The regular meeting of the Council was held in the Council Chamber on Monday night.

Those present were Reeve Graham, Councillors Dunbar, Howitt, Fitzpatrick, MacGregor, Roy and Simpson. Mayor Ming presided.

A communication was received from the Minister of Public Works, Ottawa, re petition of the coal dealers of Napanee, and others who have occasion to use the Napanee river, for the dredging of the latter.

A Government Engineer was sent here, so the communication read, and he estimated the cost of dredging a channel at $15,850. Funds provided for dredging in Ontario had been exhausted, and the work could not be undertaken, at least, this year.

A letter was also read from John Hubbs, M.P., in the matter of dredging the river. Mr. Hubbs took it up with the Acting Minister of Public Works. The Government, the Minister said, could only consider work of immediate necessity this year.

From the Secretary of the Eastern Ontario Chamber of Commerce, Belleville membership in this organization is placed at $5.00. This entitles Council to send three delegates to the annual convention.

The Council decided to take out membership and pay the fee.

From the Department of Public Health, Toronto, enclosing a copy of the regulations governing tourist camps. According to the communication the District Inspector will be in Napanee within two weeks, accompanied by a Provincial Sanitary Engineer. If the camp is approved of a large sign will be given, reciting the approval of the Ontario Department of Health.

Coun. MacGregor, Chairman of Streets, reported work on the curb on Robinson Street was well under way and would be completed shortly, and that the cemetery road was being graded up. Also that his committee was in receipt of quotations for stop signs, no parking signs, and signs for the schools.

On motion Mr. Chas. Loucks and other property holders on Robert St., between Graham and Isabella Sts., were given the privilege of building their own curb, under the supervision of the Street Committee.

Moved by Coun. Hewitt, seconded by Coun. Graham, that the property in the rear of Nick Castaldi's premises on John St., be secured at a rental of $50.00 per year, and used as a carters' stand, and that a by-law be prepared licensing carters. Carried.

Reeve Graham, Chairman of Town Property Committee, recommended engaging Sam Smith as caretaker of the Disposal Works, at a salary of $175.00 per year.

Tax Collector Fennell handed in the assessment roll. The taxes uncollected amounted to $1667.35. On motion the roll was accepted as returned.

Spraying Logs.

As a safety measure, logs at a Northwestern mill are given a vigorous spraying under several jets of water before going to the saw. The reason for this process is that bits of rock or gravel may become attached to the bark of the log while it is being transported to the mill, and if the swiftly revolving saw strikes one of these obstructions trouble is likely to follow. The abrupt checking of a circular saw may cause it to fly in a score of pieces that are hurled in every direction like a burst of shrapnel.

Saving Expensive Ink.

An economy in expensive drawing ink, ordinarily used with a ruling pen, is effected by substituting common writing ink for the drawing ink on many kinds of work in which permanence is not a special factor, says Popular Mechanics Magazine. A convenience, in using this substitute ink in the ordinary ruling pens, is to insert a pen point by the pointed end into the bottle cork. This provides a handy ruling-pen filler, similar to the usual quill stoppers.

Female Micawbers.

"I was standing on my doorstep." This is the stock observation of nearly all ladies who bring their little differences into the Cardiff police court. It was repeated by more than one lady in the stipendiary magistrate's court and it would seem that there are many ladies in Modern Athens who are perpetually upon the front doorstep waiting, like Micawber, for something to turn up

Glanders in the Cat Family.

Glanders is an ailment usually associated with horses, but an outbreak of this disease among the lions and tigers of the Rome Zoological garden is reported in the Annali d'Igiene. The disease is known to have been transmitted from horses to lions, tigers and leopards, and the domestic cat was shown susceptible by laboratory inoculation.

How Chinese Preserve Eggs.

The Chinese have a method of preserving eggs in somewhat the same manner as milk is preserved in cheese. "Chessified" eggs are called pidan, which is made by placing ducks' eggs in a solution of black tea, salt, lime and wood ashes for nearly six months. The eggs are then drained, coated with rice hulls and placed upon the market.

WORLD'S LARGEST UNCUT GEM

"Black Opal," Found in Nevada in 1917, Was a Quarter the Size of a Brick.

What is believed to be the largest uncut gem in the world has come to light in a recently opened mining district in Nevada, where it was discovered in the spring of 1917. The stone is a "black opal," so-called because dark tones predominate in it. It shows mostly dark peacock blues and emerald greens, with a considerable amount of red, and several less prominent shades.

In size this great gem approaches a quarter of an ordinary brick, being three and fifteen-sixteenths inches in length, three and one-eighth in width, and two and one-eighth thick at the bulkiest point. Its weight is eighteen and six-tenths avoirdupois ounces, which expressed in gem diction is 8,186 grains, or 2,560.56 carats. More than a pound of opal is surely some stone! And it is all solid, uncracked, flawless gem material, free from matrix or adhering rock except for a paper thin skin encrusting the two major surfaces. Little specks broken from this skin here and there reveal the brilliant play of colors within, while the exposed ends and edge exhibit the full refracting radiance of the mass.

This stone is about half again as large as the largest of the noted gems of the world. The Cullinan diamond was roughly the size and shape of a small fist, and, if it had been an opal, would have weighed but 1,729 carats. It is compared with the new opal on this basis since the specific gravity of the diamond is 75 per cent greater than that of the opal.—Archie Rice in the Scientific American.

Hamilton, Ontario.—"I have taken several bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I cannot speak too highly of it as I was at the Change of Life and was all run-down and had no appetite. Flit spray clears your home in a few minutes of disease-bearing flies and mosquitoes. It is clean, safe and easy to use.

Kills All Household Insects

Flit spray also destroys bed bugs, roaches and ants. It searches out the cracks and crevices where they hide and breed, and destroys insects and their eggs. Spray Flit on your garments. Kills Flit moths and their larvae which eat holes. Extensive tests showed that Flit spray did not stain the most delicate fabrics.

Flit is the result of exhaustive research by expert entomologists and chemists. It is harmless to mankind. Flit has replaced the old methods because it kills all the insects—and does it quickly. Get a Flit can and sprayer today.

Locusts a Palatable Food.

The Greeks valued grasshoppers very highly as a delicacy, according to Pericles, and many tribes of Indians eat them with relish and profit. Scientists on field work have dined with natives on locust dishes and report them edible and nourishing.

Music's Value on National Life.

GROW WINTER WHEAT

NOW IS THE TIME TO PLAN FOR FALL SEEDING.

Something of Its Advantages and Something of the Methods Which Should Be Adopted.

(Contributed by Ontario Department of Agriculture, Toronto.)

The seeding of winter wheat comes in September, while the seeding of spring wheat comes at a time of the rush of spring work. Where help is scarce this is a factor decidedly in favor of autumn sown wheat.

Winter wheat excels as a nurse crop. It is harvested earlier than spring grown grains and thus gives the clover crop a better chance to compete for food and moisture.

Winter wheat is able to use plant food in the soil more efficiently than spring grains. Fall sown crops utilize plant food material which otherwise would be leached out by autumn rains.

Winter wheat outyields spring wheat in old Ontario from 10-20 bushels per acre. It also gives a great bulk of straw, so useful where live stock are wintered.

Preparing the Soil for Wheat.

Soils for winter wheat should be ploughed two weeks or more before planting time in order to allow settling before seeding. Wheat requires a firm, well compacted seed bed, such brings the seed in close contact with the particles of soil and enables the roots to get a perfect contact with the soil. A heavy rain following ploughing is desired as an aid in compacting the soil. When a lot of vegetation has been ploughed under or if the weather is dry it is necessary to roll, cultipack and harrow following the plough.

The surface of the seed bed should be loose and crumbly, with enough fine soil to give perfect cover and contact to the seed. Small lumps —up to the size of a man's fist are not objectionable on the winter wheat field, as the frost action pulverizes the lumps and leaves the surface soil in good condition in the spring. The lumps of soil also hold the snow over the field giving protection to the wheat plant against freezing and thawing.—L. Stevenson, Dept. of Extension, O. A. College.

Injury From Chemical Fertilizers.

When chemical fertilizer is applied in the hill or drill, careful consideration must be given to the possibility of injuring the germinating seedling. Chemicals high in readily available plant food such as nitrate of soda or ammonium sulphate or muriate of potash are most injurious, while phosphates and organic nitrogen are less so. Large seeds such as corn, beans and others that germinate quickly, are more apt to be injured than those that germinate slowly. The soil moisture also has an influence when chemicals are applied as it determines the degree of dilution, hence there is less danger on clay or muck, than there is on the drier sandy soils. The sandy soils hold so little moisture that the chemical goes into a more concentrated solution, and hence is more injurious to the germinating seed. Best results are secured where the fertilizer is applied in two streams to the sides and a little below the level of the seed.

On light soils where heavy applications are made it is often desirable to apply a portion of the fertilizer at planting time, the balance to be applied as a side dressing later. —L. Stevenson, Dept. of Extension, O. A. College.

Warm Water for Laying Hens.

Ice in the water pan will not help egg production.

If trouble is experienced during the very cold weather, in keeping the poultry drink, water or milk from freezing, it may be overcome by using any one of several devices. The vacuum water fountain so constructed that warm water put in it will keep warm until used, lasting all day, gives very good service. If the house is equipped with electric light there are a number of devices such as "hot points" and "carbon bulbs" that may be suspended partly in the water or milk to give the necessary heat to keep the drink palatable. There are kerosene heated fountains available that are generally satisfactory when given close attention as to adjustment and cleanliness. The birds must drink if they are to produce, and snow or ice water are, not generally palatable to high producers.—L. Stevenson, Director of Extension, O. A. College, Guelph.

Keeping Track of the Farm Income.

In every other line business worthy of a name, record is kept of the receipts and expenditures. A study is made of these business records. Knowledge is accumulated and improvement made. The farm business cannot make much progress toward providing an increased income until the farmer adopts a system of record keeping, and studies his balance sheet, every week, every month and every year. Such study reveals the reasons for profit and the cause or causes of loss on operations. It is only once in a great while that we meet a farmer making much progress without keeping records of his farm operations. The great majority need to do it for their own and the farm's sake.—L. Stevenson, O. A. College.

A Poultry Loss.

The egg-eating habit once acquired by members of the poultry flock is difficult to stop. Prevention is better than breaking the birds of the habit. Birds that have an abundant supply of oyster shell or lime before them at all times and are fed a liberal balanced ration, with abundant green feed seldom develop the egg-eating habit. Arrange the nests at least eighteen inches above the floor and have plenty of them so that if a hen wants to lay there will be a nest for her. This prevents them crowding two or three into a nest box and there breaking the eggs. Keep the nests dark and well supplied with straw. Any birds caught in the act of breaking or eating eggs should be consigned to the feeding crates.

FIRST AID TO ANIMALS

ACCIDENTS WILL HAPPEN ON THE FARM.

Some Suggested Remedies and Hints as to the Handling of Hogs—Why Do Pigs Cough?

(Contributed by Ontario Department of Agriculture, Toronto.)

Accidents will happen on the farm and it is well to be prepared to give first aid to the victim of the accident, while waiting to secure professional help. Nail wounds, calks, barb wire cuts, injuries from runaways, injuries from coming in contact with farm tools and machines or any other injury where the skin is broken should receive treatment at one, that the animal may not suffer. Some people still apply turpentine to wounds of animals, doing more injury than good, since it weakens and devitalizes the tissues and retards healing rather than promoting it. Others use large volumes of antiseptic solution in water to bath the wound, this also weakens the tissue and removes the protective serum that nature supplies for the repair of the injury, so should not be used other than during the first cleansing should such be necessary. The application of tincture of iodine to the wound after removing the dirt and loose tissue is the best practice. The application of tincture of iodine will destroy any of the common bacteria that may gain access to the wound, it stimulates healing and tends to stop minor hemorrhage.

In nail and calk wounds there is no agent that will give better results than iodine. Keep the injury clean. If there is hemorrhage, soak clean sterile absorbent cotton with iodine, apply over the wound and bandage. Early attention to wounds will save your horse much needless suffering, and make it easier for the veterinarian to complete the treatment. Don't be afraid to pour on the tincture of iodine. Keep your fingers off the wound, and see that everything that touches it is sterile. A supply of iodine and absorbent cotton should be at hand on every farm where live stock is part of the farm equipment.—L. Stevenson, O. A. C.

Keep the Pigs Cool.

The pig, that is comfortable all the time, is a profit maker. The pig that is uncomfortable from any cause, particularly overheating will not do well. Going in weight cannot be made while he is using up energy looking for comfort. Pigs kept in open lots with no shelter from the hot sun other than that afforded by the fence, cannot make the same gains as are made by pigs that enjoy the shelter of trees or a sunshade. A sunshade can be easily made by setting four fence posts in a square eight feet apart on each side, to support a roof frame of 2 x 4's or 2 x6, which is covered over with hay, straw or boards. Hay or straw roofing is cooler than boards. Dust can be kept down by the use of oil or stock dip. Give the pig comfort or he will sweat, walk and squeal. There is no profit in the sweating will help.—L. Stevenson, Dept. of Extension, O. A. College.

Cutting Down Farm Expenses.

The farmer must meet his own problems in a masterful way. Failing to do so, all efforts by the Department of Agriculture in his behalf will avail no progress. To keep up the desired standard of living on Ontario farms the labor income must be increased. Should the farm be earning all that it can, then the possibility of increased income must come from saving effected on operating. Can feed bills be eliminated by growing better feeds on the farm? Some Ontario farmers have done so. Can waste of labor, stable space, and feeds be avoided by getting rid of poor producer cows? Many Ontario farmers have done so, and now use the machine wherever possible. They also plan their work so that they do not weary busy themselves and everything is done in its proper time. Every dollar saved in operations is a dollar added to the labor income.

Minerals for Swine.

1 part common salt.

They are to develop a bony framework and make the best use of the feeds given. Minerals are necessary at all times, winter and summer, indoors and out, on pasture or in the pen.

The following mixture has given good results, all ingredients by weight:—

10 parts wood ashes
10 parts ground limestone
10 parts acid phosphate
1 part common salt.

Pigs should have access to such a mixture and also to rock salt. The blood of a normal pig contains nearly one per cent. of salt, this supply must be kept up and the man that carries the feed to the pig is the one to do it.

Why the Pigs Cough.

Thumping, cough, unthriftiness and digestive disturbances in pigs from one to six weeks old are usually symptoms of the presence of lung worms. Treatment of the affected ones is of little value. If the number of ascarids present in the lung is large the little pig will soon turn up his toes. If the numbers are limited the pig may outgrow the malady. Proper sanitation coupled with proper cleaning of the sow prior to farrow will effectively prevent the thumpy condition caused by the young worms in the lungs and bronchioles of the little pig.—L. Stevenson, Dept. Extension, O. A. College.

Do not sell good young pullets—learn to tell the sex.

"Why did Joseph's brothers put him in the pit?" barked the teacher.

"Because he had a coat of many colors," suggested one bright lad.

"And what had that got to do with it?" snapped back the master.

"Well," spoke up the bright lad, "if he had on a dress suit they might have put him in the stalls."

J. L. Boyes & Son

IS THE CONSTITUTION IN DANGER?

Once upon a time a school boy had transgressed, and was promised punishment at three o'clock. He at once rushed off to the Chairman of the School Board and asked him to order the school dismissed at noon. But the Chairman, having in mind the good of the school, said, "No, Billy, you will have to take your medicine. If I were to do as you want me, I would be unduly interfering with the discipline of the school. The only way I can see for you to get out of your scrape is for you to quit the school." So Billy quit the school, and he forthwith started going from house to house in the section telling things about the Chairman of the Board, and the other boys in the school so that he might turn people's attention away from his own delinquencies.

But many of the people knew the circumstances, and said to him, "But what did you do?" Like all boys of that type, he replied, "I didn't do nothin'."

They said to him, "That is where most of the trouble comes in, you certainly did not do anything for yourself, for the school, or the institution, and the things you tried to do were a damage."

Readers of The Beaver will recognize the likeness in this case to that of the late Premier, W. L. M. King, who is busy now trying to place discredit on the chairman, Lord Byng, for not dismissing Parliament at his bequest.

Mr. King will find that the people of Canada are not concerned over hair splitting technicalities, but they are mightily concerned about having clean and stable government, and if he is able to prove that he conducted such a government in this country, it will take him all his time, and then some. He may be assured that most of the people are in no humor for side-stepping, at which he is an adept.

BATH HARBOR TO BE DREDGED

Hon. Dr. J. W. Edwards, who has been in Europe for six weeks, has just returned to Kingston in excellent health and announced that Hon. E. B. Ryckman, Minister of Public Works, has given authority to the Randolph Macdonald Company, of Toronto, for dredging required at Bath.

The work is to cossist in the removal of the bar in the entrance channel to the creek in order to permit canal boats to enter with full cargo, and entails the removal of some 1,100 cubic feet of material to give a depth of 12 feet.

Hon. Dr. Edwards has been continually seeking to have this work done, and it was through his efforts that the work has been finally authorized.

OBITUARY

Robert Johnston.

Robert Johnston, aged 71 years, one of the pioneers of the Sparling District, died at his home, 328 Tenth St., Brandon, Man., Friday night, June 11th, 1926. Mr. Johnston came to Elton municipality in 1882 and lived there until 1919, when he went to live in Douglas. He came to Brandon last autumn. He was a well-known Orangeman of 53 years' membership, joining the Order at Lime Lake, Ont., in 1873, and was a charter member of Elton Lodge, No. 150, which group built the Orange Hall in 1882. He always took a very keen interest in the work of the Lodge. Deceased was also a Steward of Sparling Church. The bereaved are the widow, four daughters, Mrs. H. Earl, Justice; Mrs. F. Wyton, Douglas; Mrs. R. Keddy, Justice; Miss Muriel, at home; and one son, Robert, Justice; also two brothers, T. J. Johnston, in the city, and W. H. Johnston, Florida. The funeral was held Sunday afternoon. After a short service at the residence, conducted by the Rev. Mr. Hellyar, and a sympathetic solo by Miss Nutter, the cortege proceeded to Sparling Church, where a great many friends had gathered. Mr. Hellyar and Mr. Gregory spoke of the sterling qualities of the late Mr. Johnston, and the members of the Orange Order concluded the services at the grave side. The pall-bearers were the son, Robert, three sons-in-law, R. Keddy, H. Earl, F. Wyton, and two nephews, J. Johnston and C. Johnston. Interment was made in Sparling cemetery.

BUSHNELL WILL OPPOSE EDWARDS

At a convention of Frontenac-Addington Progressives in Kingston on Saturday, R. J. Bushnell, of Bath, market gardener, was chosen as the candidate in the coming Federal election.

Only two names were submitted, the other nominee being G. A. Aylesworth, of Newburgh, brother of Sir Allan Aylesworth, of Toronto.

A resolution was adopted at the convention expressing gratification with the way in which Robert Forke, Progressive House leader, had handled the party in the House of Commons, especially during the last session and predicting that the time would come when Progressives would not only hold the balance of power, as they had in the past, but would have control of power with Mr. Forke as Premier.

Frontenac-Addington constituency was represented in the last Parliament by Hon. J. W. Edwards, Conservative, who defeated W. S. Reed, the Progressive candidate.

Uncertainty may exist as to cause, but there can be no uncertainty regarding a remedy which has freed a generation of asthmatic victims from the scourge of the branchial tubes. RETAIN YOUR VIGOR

This Can Only be Done by Keeping the Blood Rich and Red

If you would regain your vigor and ambition, keep your blood and nerves in good condition. Anaemia, or thin blood lowers the vitality, starves the nerves and causes a general run-down condition. When the blood is thin the skin loses its color, the shoulders droop and weight is lost. The victim of anaemia loses appetite, suffers from indigestion, headaches and sleeplessness, and is nervous and exhausted after slight exertion. If you have any of these symptoms do not delay but begin treatment now with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and you will be gratified with the prompt improvement in your condition. Among the thousands who have found new health through the use of this medicine is Mrs. Herbert Hagle, Ludlow, N.B., who says:—"I had not been feeling well for some time and was gradually growing weaker. I would take dizzy spells and often faint. I was subject to severe headaches and found it hard to do my work. I took doctor's medicine for some time, but it did me no good, and I was still growing weaker. In this condition I began the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and in a short time found they were helping me. I continued the use of the pills for a while longer, and found that the trouble that had bothered me was gone and I was once more a well woman."

Get Dr. Williams' Pink Pills at your druggist's or write The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont., and the pills will be sent post paid at 50 cents a box.

The GREATEST McLAUGHLIN-BUICK EVER BUILT

An Engine Vibrationless Beyond Belief

The McLaughlin Motor Car Company, Limited, today presents the 1927 McLaughlin-Buick, with an engine vibrationless beyond belief.

This achievement, we earnestly believe, will rank as one of the most important in all motor car history.

Our engineers, working in conjunction with the engineering staffs of General Motors Research Laboratories and General Motors Proving Ground have divorced the annoyance of vibration to a point never before attained.

They have given McLaughlin-Buick motor cars a new luxury of quietness at every speed, exceptional among all cars, no matter what their price.

Never in all the twenty-two years of McLaughlin-Buick success has there been offered such convincing proof of engineering and manufacturing leadership. McLaughlin-Buick offers you today a brilliant example of the quality of McLaughlin-Buick craftsmanship.

Confident that acquaintance with performance and value will fix in mind the conviction that money can buy nothing finer—

Certain that you will discover, in this great new car, further evidence of the deep meaning in the longstanding pledge: "When Better Automobiles are built, McLaughlin-Buick Will Build Them."

Four Vital Engine Improvements

To produce the silent power-flow in the 1927 McLaughlin-Buick, McLaughlin-Buick engineers have made four fundamental improvements in the structure of the famous McLaughlin-Buick Valve-in-Head engine, including a Counter-Poised Crankshaft and a Torsion Balancer; new light-weight pistons; and then a Completely Cushioned Engine insulated and isolated by rubber mountings, fore and aft, from all metallic contact with the chassis.

Other Vital Improvements

Another revolutionary improvement in the 1927 McLaughlin-Buick is the vacuum-cleaned crankcase. Crankcase moisture, the vicious foe of engine efficiency, is now drawn out of the crankcase before it has an opportunity to do harm. The crankcase is cleaned and kept free of dilution by the McLaughlin-Buick Vacuum Ventilator, a new device, operated by the air flow; positive and certain in action, and without a single moving part. The oil in the crankcase of the 1927 McLaughlin-Buick need be changed only four times a year!

McLaughlin-Buick performance is now made more certain, more pleasant and more economical by thermostatic control in the cooling system. Water circulation is prevented and the heat held in the engine, until the proper operating temperature is reached.

Gear noise is removed by McLaughlin-Buick's new giant-tooth transmission, which is quiet in all of its speeds. Further quietness has been obtained by a new muffler design.

And in this remarkable new car McLaughlin-Buick introduces balanced wheels, another contribution to better driving.

The princely beauty of the new Fisher bodies is in thorough keeping with the unusual and incomparable performance standards now attained.

The Most Remarkable Fact of All—Value

This Greatest of all McLaughlin-Buicks is the Greatest of all McLaughlin-Buick values. McLaughlin-Buick volume has permitted engineering, research and development on a scale far beyond the reach of most manufacturers.

Constant improvement has leveled one price barrier after another, until now you are offered, in this new McLaughlin-Buick, a car as fine as money can buy, at the price of cars of very ordinary quality.

This car will convince you, as no other car can, that money can buy nothing finer—no matter how much you may be able to spend!

The Old Greek Cuirass.

The Greeks had a cuirass made of linen or woolen fibers which was impenetrable to the shortest darts or spears. That, by the way, is one of the discoveries that have not been rediscovered, for we do not know the secret of its manufacture.

The Worm Turns.

"How much are your four dollar shoes?" asked the smart one.

"Two dollars a foot," replied the salesman wearily.

Bored.

"I say, your ears have never been pierced, Alexy?"

"No, but they're being bored."

Two Extremes.

There are no congrius so venomous as the chagrins of the idle, no joings so sickening as the satieties of pleasure.—Ruskin.

History's Limitations.

History tries to portray occurrences just as they actually took place; but, when most successful, it can only portray them as they were perceived.—Ruskin.

Right Thing to Find Out.

At every moment of our lives we should be trying to find out, not in what we differ from other people, but in what we agree with them.—Ruskin.

Relieves Coughing.

Oftentimes milk scalded to the boiling point and slowly sipped will correct an inclination to cough.

"Why, certainly," said the magistrate. "When did he call you that?"

"About three years ago."

"Three years ago! And you only start your action to-day?"

"But, sir, yesterday I saw a rhinoceros for the first time."

AFTER ALL There's Nothing To Equal Zam-Buk FOR THE SKIN!

Squirrel's Pathetic Search.

In moving some quilts in the cottage of Fred Hayden of Northwest Abbot, Me., five little squirrels were spilled on the floor, one of them being killed. The mother squirrel was quickly on the scene, taking one at a time and hastening upstairs with it. The fourth one she dropped at the foot of the stairs and rushed back with frantic haste, thoroughly looking over the contents of the room for the fifth one. She even climbed to the waists of the men and smelled their hands in her search for her lost baby.

Horses Knew Allotted Task.

In the mines of Hainault horses that travel back and forth over a certain road exactly thirty times each day go to the stables of their own accord after their last trip, and refuse to take another step. In Montaigne's Essays it is stated that the oxen employed in the royal gardens of Susa for turning the wheels to which the water pails were attached refused to make more than the hundred rounds that constituted their daily task.

Made Money From Dandelions.

Collecting dandelions an Italian woman living in Philadelphia has been able to save $2,000 during the last 40 years. It appears that about forty years ago the woman's husband died, leaving his widow unprovided for. She started to collect dandelions, and sold them to her countrymen in the city. A few days ago she died, and it was found that her savings had accumulated to a little more than $2,000.

One Spot Was All Right.

Robert was promised a nickel by his aunt if he kept clean when he went out to play, as company was expected and they wanted him to look his best. The tiny chap, however, got into a coal pile and was a sight to behold. His aunt said such a dirty boy would not get the nickel. Wistfully pulling out the lining of his wee pocket he said: "My pocket is clean, anyhow."

Peculiar Form of Cruelty.

Telling ghost stories was the charge brought against her husband by a woman seeking a divorce in Tichnock, County Waterford, Ireland. The woman asked for a divorce on the grounds of cruelty. Questioned as to what her husband had done, the wife explained that her husband was always telling her stories to the effect that the ghost of his former wife haunted the house.

Watch Your Knees.

In a long fast the brain is the only part of the body that does not lose anything in weight. So when the body is on the decline the brain remains active and alert. This leads many brain workers to believe that they are all right, when they are all wrong. Watch your knees rather than your brain, if you want to know your physical condition.

It Takes Nerve.

It takes a lot of nerve to stand behind a counter and charge a man two dollars for a necktie out of the same stock you were sellin' off for twenty-five cents four years ago, and explain to him that the advance in price is due to the scarcity of material

In Primitive New England.

In the early days of New England history when there were no stoves in the churches, and women took hot potatoes in their muffs, men sometimes brought their dogs to church to serve as foot-warmers. For this privilege a charge was made of six-pence a dog.

Water Weeds of Value.

It has been found that the water lettuce and water cabbage that frequently interfere with navigation of the Panama canal channel across Gatun lake contain sufficient potash to make them valuable as fertilizers.

Penalty for Disobedience.

Obedience is economy, disobedience, extravagance. He who disobeys the laws of nature has a doctor's bill to pay. He who disobeys the laws of his country has a lawyer's bill to pay.

Kitchen Oilcloth.

When oilcloth is used about the kitchen on shelves or around the sink, paste it on instead of tacking. A much neater appearance is the result and it wears better.

CLEAN POULTRY HOUSE

PROPER SANITATION IS MOST IMPORTANT.

Formula for Whitewashing the Buildings — All Utensils Should Be Carefully Cleaned.

(Contributed by Ontario Department of Agriculture, Toronto.)

Sanitation is doubly important with poultry, since domestication generally requires them to take their food from the same floors where their body wastes are deposited. This practice creates a real problem in sanitation, leaving the birds exposed to an auto-infection of pathogenic bacteria and parasites, both internal and external.

Method of Cleaning a Poultry House.

Remove all the loose litter and dirt. The fixtures as roosts, nest boxes, dust box, etc., should be removed, thoroughly scrubbed with hot lye water, and then exposed to the sun. With fixtures out, the ceiling and walls should be thoroughly swept. If water under pressure is at hand the scrubbing out can be greatly facilitated by turning on a powerful stream of water. Should water pressure not be available a good scrubbing can be given all woodwork of walls and floors, using hot lye water (3 pounds of lye to 25 gallons of water). Follow the scrubbing with lye water. A good formulae for whitewash is as follows:—

Unslaked lime, 2 pecks.
Spanish whiting, ½ pound.
Salt, 1 peck.
Glue, 1 pound.
Rice flour, 3 pounds.
Crude carbolic acid, 2 quarts.
Water enough so that it can be applied easily and thoroughly.

Keeping Yards Clean.

It is highly desirable to alternate yards in such a way that they can be used for garden crops every second year. If this can not be done frequent ploughing and applications of lime is the next best way of aiding the soil purification processes. Without proper care of the yards, it is only a matter of time until they become polluted, with parasites, coccidiosis and pathogenic bacteria.

Disposal of Manure.

The dropping boards should be cleaned daily and the manure removed to a closed storage box. The practice of using sand on dropping boards is a good one. Failure to keep the birds safely away from manure of all kinds favors the transmission of disease and intestinal parasites. All dead birds should be destroyed by burning, burial is usually not satisfactory unless the person doing the undertaker work will bend his back enough to make a deep grave and thereby put the carcass down below harm's way.

Cleaning Utensils.

All pans, troughs and fountains that can become contaminated, should be thoroughly cleaned and disinfected each week. Roosts may be sprayed weekly with a mixture of equal parts of crude carbolic acid and coal oil, such practice will aid in keeping the louse pest in check.

The establishment of conditions favorable to the health of the poultry flock may seem a lot of work, but success and profit cannot be expected if the work is not done in a thorough and practical way. The practice of letting things go from day to day or week to week will not go in the poultry business and has written the word failure across the efforts of many a would-be poultryman.—L. Stevenson, Dept. Extension, O. A. College.

FEEDING OF RAPE.

Good for Chickens, Lambs, Pigs and Steers.

This crop, now grown quite extensively in the counties where large numbers of steers and lambs are fed, requires some care in feeding. Very young cattle and lambs are frequently affected by too liberal use of this crop and results have not always been profitable. But properly handled this crop makes a valued addition to the autumn feed supplies of the farm, being green and palatable, it is relished by all farm animals from the chicken to the cow.

When cut for soiling it should be fed at once, wilting spoils the flavor and it heats quickly if piled. Cutting has an advantage in that three crops may be obtained in a season giving a very large tonnage.

Rape cannot be fed to milking cows if the product is to be sold as milk, cheese, or butter. An undesirable cabbage flavor will stick to the dairy product. For dry cows and young stock on the dairy farm it is a very desirable feed.

For lambs, rape is excellent, but care must be taken to prevent bloat, which is very likely to follow. Have the lambs pretty well filled with drier feed before turning them on the rape patch, and give them a part time run on grass in an adjoining field if possible. Rape wet with rain or heavy dew is dangerous to a hungry animal, either sheep or cattle; pigs do not seem to be affected. Frozen rape has its dangers and rape as the sole feed is not always satisfactory. Use it rationally in that the animal is given other feeds each morning before being turned into the rape field that they may become used to it and not overeat of this bulky easily-fermented feed. Once the stock are used to rape they can remain on the field without danger, nevertheless it is good policy to watch them closely for evidences of bloat or rape poisoning.—L. Stevenson, Dept. of Extension, O. A. College.

Do not sell thin chickens—fatten or kill and cremate.

Little Ethel had been sent out to get some fly-paper. She was a long time in returning, and her mother began to feel anxious. Going to the door, she saw the little girl coming up the street, and called out:

"Ethel, have you got the fly-paper?"

"No, mother," said Ethel, "it's got me; but we're both coming together."

Highway Oiling Completed.

The oiling of the Provincial Highway between Deseronto and Napanee and Napanee and Kingston, has been completed under the supervision of the local engineer, Mr. Drew. The work this year was done with some thought for the motorist, only one side of the road being oiled at a time, and then thoroughly covered before the balance was oiled. Mr. Drew is to be congratulated on the splendid condition of the road, and we are sure all the local motorists are grateful for the consideration shown them.

Opening of Napanee Golf and Country Club

A splendid community spirit has been evidenced this summer by the Napanee men who purchased the fortyeight property, upon which golf has been played for so many years, and erected such an up-to-date club house. This club house is modernly equipped in every way, and it is hoped that it will be appreciated generally by the citizens of Napanee as a country club.

On Friday evening last the members extended the privileges of the club to the guests of Napanee and vicinity at a dance given in the spacious reception room. Excellent music was supplied by the Charlie Walters' orchestra, and all those who attended pronounced this a most pleasing event and are looking forward to another such enjoyable evening. The management committee have decided that other dates will be given this season, which will be for the entertainment of the members only, and it is expected that the first of these will be held next week.

Application for membership may be made through Mr. A. L. Dafoe, the Secretary of the Club. At the present time there are about one hundred and fifty members.

The ceremony was conducted by Rev. H. Stainton. The bride looked charming in a gown of white satin, with woite satin hat, shoes and stockings to match, carrying a bouquet of sweet peas, baby breath and maiden hair fern. The bride was attended by her sister, Mrs. A. Allman, in a gown of blonde crepe de chene, with shoes and stockings to match, while the groom was supported by Mr. Arthur Allman. After a dainty wedding dinner at the home of the bride, the happy couple left by motor for Cobourg, Oshawa, Niagara Falls, Rochester, and Buffalo.

SOFTBALL

On Monday evening "B" Company increased their lead in the Mercantile League by taking a 15-7 decision from the Business Men. A large crowd turned out to see the game, and for a few innings the lead changed hands. Gradually the soldiers found their batting eye and piled up the score. However, the Business Men were right in the hunt and they earned what runs they got.

The teams :—

Business Men — Edgecombe c, Skitch p, Hendricks 1b, Sinclair 2b, Johnston ss, Marshall 3b, Loucks lf, Daverin cf, Knox rf.,

"B" Company—Harrison c, Daverin p, Fraser 1b, MacDonald 2b, Garrett ss, Kirby 3b, Howie lf, Naphin cf, Reid rf, Wilson rf.

Umpires—Rogers at plate; Pybus on bases.

Mercantile League Standing.

	Won	Lost
"B" Company	2	0
212, I.O.O.F.	1	1
86, I.O.O.F.	1	1
Bankers	0	1
Business Men	0	1

Girls' League.

	Won	Lost
St. Mary's	2	0
Leftovers	1	2
Trinity	0	2

Junior—No games played.

The fans are hullering for more games a week in the Mercantile League. The Juniors are failing to turn out, so the Seniors should be given two nights a week. As it is the teams play one game, and then wait two weeks for another. The interest is keen in the Senior series, and more games should be played.

Next Week's Softball Card.

On Monday, August 9th, No. 212, I.O.O.F. will take on Bankers at the N. C. I. grounds. The interest is keen in the Senior series, and Bankers will try to oust 212 from 2nd place. Both teams have a strong lineup, although 212 are favoured to win. The game is a Mercantile League fixture.

On Wednesday, August 11th, St. Andrews are scheduled to meet "B" Company in a Junior League fixture. It's about time the Juniors were made to turn out or the schedule dropped. As it is, the fans want more action in the Mercantile League, and many want the Seniors to perform on Mondays and Wednesdays. The schedule could very easily be revised, only the dates need be changed. The teams want more action, and two games a week could be played.

On Friday evening, August 13th, Leftovers are scheduled to play Grace Church in a Girls' League fixture, at Riverdale Park.

To-morrow afternoon (Saturday), the hard ball fans will have a chance to see two of the strongest teams in action in the County League. Newburgh and Odessa will stage a benefit game at the Driving Park, for the benefit of Fraser Smith, Kingston umpire, who was injured in the game at Odessa, last Saturday. Newburgh is composed principally of Napanee players, so the fans will have an opportunity to see some of their old favorites in action. Joyce or Byron will likely do the hurling for Newburgh, while Kilgannon or Heath will do likewise for the Highway Village. The fact that this is a benefit game ought to draw a big crowd, and the fans will have a chance to compare the relative strength of the two teams.

The Napanee Leafs won their first game of the season against Deseronto Beavers on Thursday, by 22-18. The Leafs had a 10 run lead facing them in the 1st innings, but plugged away and finally won out. Mary Bates pitched in the box for the Leafs and did very well, considering it was her first time. Dorothy Johnston relieved her and won the game. Both pitched good ball. As usual Marion Douglas and Marion Grass were the heavy hitters, although Mary Stinson and Marion Embury did some lusty clouting. The latter played the worst ball of her career, but even that was good enough. It seems very queer that the team wins when she is off form (which is very seldom) and lose continually while she stars at 2b. Margaret Douglas did some nice fielding at 1b., and Hazel O'Neill, Kathleen Ungar and Dorothy Richardson were prominent in the win.

Misses Adams, Miles, Curry and Whalen did nice work for Belleville.

Following is the line-up :

Napanee—M. Grass, c.; M. Bates, p.; D. Johnston, p.; Margaret Douglas, 1b.; M. Embury, 2b.; M. Stinson, s.s.; H. O'Neill, 3b.; Marion Douglas, lf.; H. Ungar, c.f.; D. Richardson, rf., 1b.

Beavers—R. Fox, R. Miles, F. Adams, R. Currie, H. Adams, M. Holloway, E. Whalen, M. Lynch, V. Bey.

On Tuesday the Leafs continued their losing streak by bowing to Deseronto Ponies by 15-8. Deseronto, however, had to step to do it, and the Leafs gave them a bad scare in the last of the 9th and scored 5 runs.

BASEBALL

On Wednesday, at Newburgh, Adolphustown defeated the homesters by 12-4, and put Newburgh out of the running for the 1st and A. Lenox title. Byron was pounded hard throughout, while Daverin for the visitors was invincible. The championship now is in dispute between Odessa and Adolphustown, and the series will shortly be arranged. The standing of the League :—

The bride was accompanied by her elder brother, Mr. J. H. C. Anderson, B.A., Oshawa, and looked very sweet in her simple white canton crepe dress and bridal veil, with orange blossoms, which were worn by her mother twenty-five years ago, and carrying a pretty sheaf of roses and lilies-of-the-valley. Little "Bill" Anderson, son of Mr. F. A. D. and Mrs. Anderson, Kenora, carrying a silver basket, made a charming little ring-bearer, and was the sole attendant. The vows were received by the bride's father, Rev. T. H. P. Anderson, and the wedding music was played by Mr. Egerton Boyce and Mrs. Boyce, Hamilton. The guests, who were the near relatives, heartily congratulated the young people, after which a happy hour was spent while a dainty and well appointed luncheon was served. OBITUARY

Jane Richmond.

On July 28th, 1926, Mrs. Jane Richmond died at her daughter's residence, Mrs. George Brown, Ebenezer, having attained the great age of 91 years and 8 months, with all her faculties well preserved to the end.

The late Mrs. Richmond was born in County Tyrone, Ireland, and when eight years old came to Canada with her parents. Her childhood days were spent on the old homestead in the 5th concession of Richmond.

On March 4th, 1858, she was married to Thomas Richmond, and practically all her married life was spent in the 8th concession of Richmond. Her husband predeceased her by 25 years.

Mrs. Richmond was a faithful member of the former Methodist Church, and since the union of Ebenezer United Church. Naturally of a cheerful and sympathetic disposition, she leaves to mourn her departure the surviving members of her family: Daniel, Nelson, James, Mrs. Alonzo Dewitt and Mrs. George Brown, also a very large circle of friends. Her helpful interest will keep her memory cherished throughout the township.

On July 29th, after a short service at the house, the funeral procession was formed and proceeded to Forest Mills United Church, where a very impressive service was conducted by her pastor, Rev. C. J. Wilson. The sermon was from the text, Psa. 90, 9-10. The choir rendered excellent service. The procession was then reformed and proceeded to Riverside cemetery, Napanee, where the mortal remains were interred.

TOWN COUNCIL

Council met in regular session on Monday evening, Mayor Ming presiding.

Members present—Councillors Dunbar, Roy, Simpson, Fitzpatrick and MacGregor.

The minutes of the last regular session were read and confirmed.

The Streets Committee reported that they were having the surplus earth from John and East streets placed on several of the streets in town needing it, also that considerable of this surplus dirt was being used at Springside Tourist Camp, making a much needed improvement. It was the opinion of the chairman that the Council of the Township of Richmond should be asked to contribute something towards the cost of the work done on the road leading into Riverside Cemetery, as part of this road is in the above mentioned township.

Mr. C. H. Lapum presented to the Council his resignation as Treasurer of the Town of Napanee, said resignation to take effect on August 31st.

The Finance Committee presented the following report:

Report of Finance Committee.

Owing to the resignation of the Treasurer, Mr. Lapum, which is in the hands of the Municipal Clerk, this committee has surveyed the possibilities for filling the vacancy.

This committee scarcely needs to comment upon the fact that this position is one of the most important public positions under the control of the Council, and to say that in filling the position the best interests of the public must be kept foremost in the minds of the Council.

It is the opinion of this committee that the position can be best filled by Mr. P. M. Graham, the present Reeve of the town, who for many years has devoted a generous share of his time and ability to the public business of the town and who through the years of experience has gained a thorough insight into the many intricacies of public financing. It has been suggested to Mr. Graham that he take over the care of the Town Treasury, and we believe that he has been persuaded to accept the appointment, which this committee are pleased to recommend be made.

The filling of the vacancy in this way will necessitate the resignation of Mr. Graham from this Board, but it will assure this and other Councils of the permanent assistance of our most mature and able men. The position should be filled with a young man, as owing to the increasing amount of painstaking work which municipal officers are called upon to do, owing to changed standards and methods of business, and the development of affairs generally, we should be assured of a permanent and regular officer, particularly in this position.

This committee further recommend that in order to protect the outgoing and incoming officers, that an audit be made of the books of the town by R. Easton Burns, of Kingston, in order to satisfy bonding concerns holding Mr. Lapum's bond, and who will hold the new treasurer's bond.

J. M. SIMPSON,
ED. J. ROY,
EDWARD MING,
Committee of Finance.

August 16th, 1926.

Report adopted.

On motion of Councillors MacGregor and Roy, the resignation of Mr. C. H. Lapum was accepted.

Mark P. Graham tendered his resignation as Reeve of Napanee.

On motion of Councillors MacGregor and Dunbar, Reeve Graham's resignation was accepted.

A by-law was passed appointing Mark P. Graham to the office of Treasurer for the Town of Napanee, the appointment to take effect on the 31st day of August, 1926. The salary in connection with this office to be $780.00 per annum.

On motion the Chairmanship of the Town Property Committee, of which Reeve Graham was chairman, was turned over to Coun. E. J. Roy.

On motion the Mayor named a committee, composed of Couns. Roy, Dunbar, and MacGregor, who shall have jurisdiction over all public parks in the corporation for the year 1926.

POLITICAL COMMENT

The people fix their minds upon what is done or left undone by a cornered Government, not upon what that Government begs them to believe when it comes trembling before them. The one issue that is haunting the minds of the people to-day is the awful showing up of the King Government by the Customs Investigating Committee. That issue so profoundly moved the House of Commons which had maintained the King Government in power as to wring therefrom a vote of censure that makes a precedent in our parliamentary history. That fact of itself stamps the report as the overshadowing issue in the present election campaign. Mr. King denies the issue, refuses to recognize it, shuts his eyes to it and beseeches his hearers to dismiss it from their minds as an unreality. But his very worrying about it convinces them of his Government's guilt.

But denial was vain, and it is bootless for Mr. King to ban the Customs scandals in which his Government was involved. Embarrassing to him as it is, freedom of discussion is a fundamental right of democracy. What are the wild waves of publicity saying? Is it not that the King Government has been convicted of being a party to collossal long-continued operations of a criminal gang that has made huge fortunes at the cost of the tax-paying masses of Canada? Who is not a tax-payer? The man, woman or child who takes a cup of coffee or tea with sugar in it pays taxes both on the beverage and on the sweetener. The man who smokes a pipeful of tobacco, a cigar or a cigarette pays a stiff tax. How much against the grain it goes to find that these and other taxes are turned into sources of wealth for a band of daring criminals who prospered greatly under the shelter of the King Government! Why should not Mr. King squirm in the pervading presence of the Customs scandals of which the whole Canadian people are the victims? — Toronto Mail and Empire.

* * * * * *

The United States is the most protected country in the world. All American industries are efficiently protected against foreign competition. Business rarely slows down. Has Canada done as much for herself? Have we, particularly in the last few years, made the least attempt, taken the simplest steps to revive activity in industry, trade or even agriculture? Is our home market sufficiently protected to make expansion possible and to become a greater source of riches for everyone? How many factories and shops are shut or only remain open part of the time? Are not farmers, market gardeners and all those who work the land with the object of reaping a harvest from it suffering from foreign competition? Protection is essential to the prosperity of our country. That has been demonstrated as clear as daylight to every citizen of common sense since 1878. Fine phrases of Liberal theorists and free traders cannot prevail against established economic truths. — Quebec L'Evenement.

REV. A. B. BELL RESIGNS

Announcement Comes as Complete Surprise — Has Filled Local Pulpit Nearly Five Years — Mrs. Bell Was Pastor at Genoa City.

Rev. A. B. Bell presented his resignation as pastor of the Elkhorn and La Fayette Congregational churches Sunday morning. This was the first service following a month's vacation, and the announcement came as a complete surprise. He has accepted the pastorate of the First Congregational Church of Rochester, N.Y., and will enter the new field September 1st.

Rev. Bell and his family came to the two churches from Benson, Minn., November 1, 1921, and the churches have grown and prospered under his leadership. The membership of both churches have materially increased, and both have been rebuilt and the facilities enlarged and extended. In the Elkhorn church about $21,000 was spent in improving the building, while at La Fayette, the basement was excavated, and a diningroom and kitchen installed, which has made a popular center for social activities.

The pastor has taken an active part in the musical activities of his churches, in the community, the Kiwanis Club, and has been called many times for solos or to lead mass singing, in other places. He has been generous with time and talent.

Mr. Bell is a charter member of the Elkhorn Kiwanis Club and during the past year has held the office of district trustee. Last year he attended the International Kiwanis Convention at St. Paul as a delegate from the local organization.

He served one year as moderator of the Beloit Association of Congregational churches, and was a member of the program committee of that body for one year. He is also a member of the Emerson Club of Beloit, and this year holds the office of Vice President.

Mrs. Bell has also enjoyed a wide field of activity. She organized the Amafurnaia Circle of the local Congregational Church, and has held office in several church organizations, and in the W. C. T. U. She also has marked ability as a reader, and has been called to many organizations and places to appear on programs. During the past few months she has occupied the pulpit of the Genoa City Congregational Church, preaching there every Sunday.

A business meeting of the church was held Monday evening and Dr. F. G. Taylor, L. W. Swan and Alfred A. Godfrey were appointed a committee to fill the pulpit during the interim, and to make a preliminary survey of the church relative to securing a new pastor.—The Elkhorn Independent, Elkhorn, Wisconsin, August 5th, 1926.

OBITUARY.

Michael Corrigan.

One of the few remaining links with the past was severed on Wednesday, July 28th, when death claimed Michael Corrigan, one of the oldest residents of Tyendinaga.

Deceased was born in Richmond Township on December 10th, 1840, and came to Tyendinaga when a boy where he has since resided. He was a devoted member of St. Charles' Church, Read, and having received the rites of the church he loved, he passed peacefully away, surrounded by the members of his family. Always a staunch Liberal, deceased was well known in political circles, being a member of the County Council for many years.

His life in public and private was replete with deeds that will count for much when the score of life is hung up on the day of final reckoning.

The funeral, which was largely attended, took place on Saturday morning to St. Charles' Church, Read, where a solemn requiem mass was celebrated by Rev. Father McCarthy, after which the remains were laid to rest in the family plot by the side of those of his three sons who predeceased him. The pall bearers were John Hunt, Joseph Candon, Joseph Williams, Denis Meagher, Jas. V. Walsh and John Delaney. The many spiritual offerings testified to the esteem in which deceased was held.

Besides a devoted wife, he leaves to mourn his loss four sons and four daughters, Thos. J. and John, of Marysville; Frank, of Belleville; Denis, of Frankford; Mrs. P. Donovan, Mrs. M. J. McLaughlin, of Belleville; Mrs. Joseph Egan, of Read, and Mrs. Hugh J. Kilfoyle, of Erinsville. He also leaves three brothers and two sisters, John Williams and Thomas and Mrs. Donoghue and Miss Annie, all of Tyendinaga.

SANDHURST

(For last week.)

The congregation of S. Paul's Church gave a well attended and very enjoyable garden party last Friday evening. The programme was given by Mr. and Mrs. Heathcote, the Misses Heathcote, Miss Meredith and Mrr Brownjohn, and their selections were well rendered and much appreciated. Hayhurn orchestra also very kindly helped with the programme, and played for the dance that followed.—Miss Edna Morrow, who has been spending a few weeks in Toronto, has returned home.—Miss Marjory Ham is leaving soon for Toronto, where she will enter Wellesley Hospital as nurse-in-training.—Miss J. Spearing is visiting in the west.—Mr. and Mrs. E. Feegel were recent visitors of Mr. and Mrs. D. Morrow.

WEDDING BELLS

Instant—Smith.

An event of considerable local interest took place in S. Alban's Church last Saturday morning at eleven o'clock, when Agnes Gertrude, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Smith, became the wife of Reginald Hugh, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Instant, the Reverend Herbert Pringle, Rector officiating. The church, in which the bride is a valued member, entered the Church singing the Reverend John Keble's well known wedding hymn, "The Voice That Breathed O'er Eden", and at its conclusion to the strains of the wedding march from Lohengrin, the bride entered with her father, who gave her in marriage. She was indeed a picture of winsomeness in her gown of oak-wood cut velvet with touches of cream silk lace, neck piece of ermine, and carrying her bouquet of sunset roses, baby's breath and maidenhair fern. She was attended by her little niece, Miss Helen Compton, Cataraqui, as flower girl, who wore a dainty frock of white silk with ribbons of pale green, and carried a basket of sweet peas. Mr. George Smith was master of honour, and wore her wedding gown of rosewood crepe, while Mr. George Smith assisted the groom. During the signing of the register, the choir and congregation sang "O Perfect Love", and the bridal party left the Church during the playing of Mendelssohn's Wedding March. The music for the occasion was beautifully rendered by Mrs. George Chalmers. After the ceremony a delightful luncheon was given to about thirty guests at the home of the bride's parents; and later in the afternoon Mr. and Mrs. Instant left, amid showers of confetti and many good wishes, for a brief honeymoon by motor to points east, and on their return will take up residence in Adolphustown.

SUMMER HEAT HARD ON BABY

No season of the year is so dangerous to the life of little ones as is the summer. The excessive heat is when the little stomach out of order so quickly. That unless prompt aid is at hand, the baby may be beyond all human help before the mother realizes he is ill. Summer is the season when diarrhoea, cholera infantum, dysentery and colic are most prevalent. Any of these troubles may prove deadly if not promptly treated. During the summer the mothers' best friend is Baby's Own Tablets. They regulate the bowels, sweeten the stomach and keep baby healthy. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

The railroad porter was a very careful and truthful man. In his youthful days he had been severely reprimanded for inaccuracy, and ever since he had been painstakingly correct.

An old gentleman approached on the platform and asked genially:

"Is this my train, porter?"

"No, sir," replied the careful one; "it belongs to the company, sir."

"Don't be funny" snapped the old man testily. "You know I didn't mean that! I want to know if I can take this train to San Diego?"

"There's no need, sir," answered the porter; "that's what we've got an engine for."

LIFE WAS A BURDEN

Restored to Health Through the Use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

"It is a pleasure," says Mrs. Ross Boulter, of Victoria, P.E.I., "to tell you of the new health and strength I got through the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Before taking the pills life was a burden to me. I was so badly run down that I did not know what to do. My blood seemed to have turned to water, I was very pale, constantly tired, and was losing flesh. It was a trial to attempt housework. Added to this I had a bad cough and my husband and friends thought I was going into consumption. The medical treatment I was taking did not appear to do me any good, and I had about given up hope when a friend urged me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I got six boxes and found so much benefit from them that I got six more boxes. Before these were all taken I was a new woman restored again to good health. I gained in weight, the cough left me, my appetite returned and I once more had a good color. Better still, I was able to do my housework without fatigue. Needless to say I always recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to my ailing friends, and I hope this will be the means of pointing the road to good health to some other sufferer."

Try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for anaemia, rheumatism, neuralgia, nervousness. Take them as a tonic if you are not in the best physical condition and cultivate a resistance that will keep you well and strong.

If you will send us your name and address a little book, "Building Up the Blood", will be mailed you prepaid. This book contains many useful health hints.

You can get these pills through any medicine dealer or by mail at 50 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

You're behind the times if you don't know that Cod Liver Extract is one of the greatest flesh producers in the world.

Because it contains more vitalizing vitamines than any food you can get.

You'll be glad to know that McCoy's Cod Liver Extract Tablets come in sugar coated form now, so if you really want to put 10 or 20 pounds of good solid flesh on your bones and feel well and strong and have a complexion that people will admire—ask any druggist for a box of McCoy's Cod Liver Extract Tablets.

Only 60 cents for 60 tablets and if you don't gain five pounds in 30 days your druggist will hand you back the money you paid for them.

It isn't anything unusual for a person to gain 10 pounds in 30 days, and for old people with feebleness overtaking them they work wonders.

Two Fatalities.
The freight train caused the explosion by hitting a truck loaded with acetylene tanks. The truck and driver was killed.—Buffalo News.

Four Into One.
"A monthly holiday, closed all day every Wednesday is also to be observed from April to September."—Glasgow Evening Times.

New Meter Records Steam.
A recording meter has been invented to measure the amount of steam used in an industrial plant and check waste.

Optimistic Thought.
What a glorious creature was he who first discovered tobacco.—Fielding.

Spasmodic Sermon.
The world may owe every man a living but most of us have a good deal of trouble in making the collection.

Ain't It Funny!
When we say a man lives under his income, we mean that he lives on it.

Umbrella Improvement.
It is the little things which make for perfection, as we are told. An inventor has perfected a device which certainly shows a taste for perfection. No one is unfamiliar with the strip of tape with a catch which is used snugly to wind up closed umbrellas. When the umbrella is open this piece of tape dangles and pendulates in a way that undoubtedly is offensive to the dignity of some. The inventor in question has made an invention which provides means of stowing away the pendant into the interior of the opened umbrella by means of a snapping device.

Dominoes for the Blind.
Dominoes for the blind are rather ingenious. Recognizing the need of something that would not easily be displaced as the fingers of the blind passed back and forth reading the numbers on the face of the dominoes, the inventor has given us a set of interlocking pieces. The mortise joint makes them hold together no matter how much they are brushed around. The number on each piece is indicated by the raised heads of brass tacks, easily read by the touch.

Old Name for February.
The old Britons gave the nickname "Fildyke" to February, not because it is a particularly wet month, the average rainfall being the least of any month in the year, but because the melting snow on the hills causes the rivers and dykes to overflow. When there is a superabundance of snow and rain in February there is too much of what would be a good thing in moderation, and floods where they are least welcome.

Canada's Water Power.
An important feature of the water powers of Canada is their fortunate situation with respect to existing commercial centers. Within economic transmission range of practically every important city from the Atlantic to the Pacific, except those in the central western prairies, there are clustered water-power sites which will meet the probable demands for hydro-power for generations.

Enjoyment Spoiled.
A little girl's mother had just bought her a bright red coat which she had never worn. There being a death in the family her mother dressed her and decided it not best to wear such a bright coat, so put on an old black one. As the child noticed this she began to cry and said, "If I can't wear my new red coat I sure won't have a good time at the funeral."

Steel and Iron.
Steel is a kind of iron which can easily be hammered out thin without cracking and can be made extremely hard by being heated and then cooled quickly. It is different from ordinary iron because of the amount of carbon in it. Wrought iron contains less carbon than steel and so it cannot be made so hard; cast iron contains more and so is brittle.

Founding of Siberia.
In 1582 Yermak, a Cossack chieftain, with chosen warriors set out to subdue a powerful Tartar tribe east of the Urals. Tsar Ivan IV sent orders for the expedition to return. But it was too late; Yermak and his men captured the city of Sibir, the stronghold of the Tartar chief, and this city became the nucleus of Siberia.

Natural Curiosity.
Nature has placed one of her curiosities on the location of a former sugar mill on the island of Trinidad. The plant has since been reduced to ruins and is overgrown with vegetation. The old solid chimney is intact and up through its center one of the quick growing trees of the tropics has sprung, spreading its branches out of the top of the huge chimney and is now in full bloom.

How Criticism Helps.
Censure and criticism never hurt anybody. If false they can't hurt you unless you are wanting in manly character; and if true they show a man his weak points and forewarn him against failure and trouble.—Gladstone.

Why Many Fail.
We limit the success of our own work by our indolence and lack of faith more than any outside circumstances limit it for us. It is not lack of talent as much as lack of courage and effort that circumscribes our usefulness.—Exchange.

African Idea of Beauty.
In Africa a crop of the blackest, curliest, closest hair imaginable makes a girl the belle of the kraal, especially if she be plump, with piggy eyes, thick lips, a nose like an India rubber shoe, and a skin that shines like a cooking stove.

Best Method of Rising.
Some trust to luck—some rely upon influence—some expect promotion without self-assertion—but the persevering rise upon the wings of will.—Herbert Kaufman.

Spasmodic Sermon.
By this stage of eternity the tooth of time must show some evidence of decay.—Indianapolis Star.

IN MEMORIAM.

In loving memory of our dear sister, Amy Davis, who passed away August 16th, 1925.

Worthy of the lasting love
Of those she left behind,
A better sister never lived,
Nor one more good and kind.
But we know that she is happy
In the loving Master's care;
And that no pain or sorrow
Will ever enter there.

Sadly missed by Brothers and relatives. 34a

SOFTBALL

On Monday, August 9th, 212 I. O. O. F. defeated Bankers at N.C.I. grounds by 20-11, before a fairly large crowd. The game was snappy at times, but lagged at other times. The Bankers owe their defeat to their failure to try to hit safely rather than try to knock the cover off the ball as they did. Every man hit the ball as hard as they could, and though a few fell safe, others were turned into easy outs..

The fielding of George Root at 1b was the feature in the triple links play. Ray Huffman made a nice running catch in left field, while Authmire Pybus contributed some nice catches. Richardson twirled a nice game. McGarry was Banker's best.

The teams :—

Bankers—Jackson c, Dickson p, Joyce 1b, Crowe 2b, McGarry ss, Cavanaugh 3b, Black 3b, Clute lf, Lawrence cf, McGraw rf.

No. 212—Rogers c, Richardson p, Root 1b, Ellis 2b, Galt ss, Huffman 3b, R. Huffman lf, Pybus cf

Umpires—Daverin Bros.

It is rumboured that a new team, called the Unclaimed Treasures, managed by Messrs. Ambrose Killorin and Wallace Perry, is being organized, and will soon be ready for games. This team should be entered in the Mercantile League, and the schedule revised, and Mondays and Wednesdays be the Mercantile nights.

Rumour has it that there is to be two Town Basketball Leagues this fall. It runs that there is to be a Girls' Inter-Church League and a Men's Mercantile League. The girls' league will be composed of the various Church teams, and the mercantile league of "B" Co., Gibbards, a town team, and possibly the N.C.I. The latter league ought to be a considerable success. One night could be set aside for basketball and one for softball.

Or if this conflicts with the duties of the N.C.I. pupils, there could be one softball game and two basketball games in one night. Then, too, if there is to be a Mercantile Softball League, the Softball games could be restricted to five or seven innings duration and two basketball games played after or in between.

However, the fans will welcome such a league, and doubtless will turn out to help the teams along. Basketball is new to the fans and should go over big.

Odessa won the championship of the Lennox and Addington League, and the right to enter the O.B.A.A play-offs, by defeating Adolphustown 18-12, on Saturday at Newburgh.

On Tuesday Adolphustown won in Odessa by 6-3, but lost at home on Friday by 14-2.

Odessa will likely meet the winners of Frontenac County League.

On Monday evening, 86 I. O. O. F. defeated Business Men at N.C.I. by 9-8, in five innings. A fair sized crowd witnessed the contest, but darkness made it necessary to cut the game short. The hitting feature was a homer by Ted Daverin, with one on, and a triple by George Root, with the bases full. Ed. Daverin's homer was the result of Mac McGillvray's Annette Kellerman in centre field.

The teams :—

Business Men — Scrimshaw c, Loucks p, Hendrick 1b, Sinclair 2b, Daverin ss, Johnston 3b, Woodcock lf, Perry cf, Marshall rf.

No. 86—Rogers c, Mills p, Bell 1b, Root 2b, McLaughlin ss, Huffman 3b, Baughan rf, MacGillvray cf, Lawrence rf.

Umpires—Holder and Fraser.

Some fan remarked after Monday's game that a rule ought to be made, making "six fouls and you're out". Freddy Huffman garnered a total of 7 or 8 fouls in one turn at bat on Monday night, so a rule like that would help out the other team, eh? Ha ! Ha !

Joe Marshall was heard to crack this one on Monday night, when 86 failed to produce nine men. "They call every game we play an exhibition game."

Apparently the Girls' League and Boys' Junior League was a failure. The Juniors didn't turn out at all, and the girls only played three or four games.

Fresh from their victory over Kingston Treasures, the Leafs snowed Belleville Beavers under an avalanche of hits an won handily by 14-2. Dot Johnston allowed the Beavers but seven scattered hits and yielded but two runs. The Leafs pounded the Belleville hurler hard in the pinches and piled up a big score. Marion Douglas propelled the ball to deep centre with two on, and a wonderful hook-slide to the plate gave her a homer. Mary Stinson landed on one of Miss Curry's shoots and the blow saw her around the sacks. Kathleen Ungar made the best catch of the game when she raced far in to snatch one out of the air. Her effort drew rounds of applause, and came just after the umpire had disallowed a shoe-string catch. As usual Marion Embury got in her one-handed catch and it was a pretty one. Hazel O'Neil had a busy night at 3rd base, and accepted eight chances, besides lining out some hard drives. Margaret Douglas continues to hold down 1st base, and when she gets to "know the ropes" she'll be one of the best 1st sackers in the league. Dorothy Richardson and Marion Grass were very prominent at bat, and their work in the field was good.

For Belleville, Miss Fox did some good work behind the bat, and Miss Curry did some nice twirling. Miss Holloway made several nice catches in left field. The Beaver shortstop, whose nickname is "Happy", was quite painfully injured and had to be removed from the game. Her knee was severely wrenched, but, notwithstanding the great pain she was suffering, she was sitting on the bench, and her face was swathed in a huge smile shortly after the accident. The 3rd baseman also received a nasty bump but continued in the game.

Umpires—Meagher, of Belleville, at plate; Naphin, of Napanee, on bases.

Next Week's Softball Card

On Monday, August 23rd, the fast-travelling "B" Co. Club will tackle the Bankers. The soldiers will present their regular line-up, while the Ledger Leopards are reported to have been considerably strengthened. "B" Co. needs this game to stay in first place, but the money kings will give them a hard tussle. The game is a Mercantile League fixture, and will be played at the N.C.I. grounds. This game is the only game scheduled, so the fans had better turn out and see a wonderful game.

Rock Dust to Save Miners' Lives.

Perhaps the oddest, yet one of the most effective, means for preventing —or, at all events, minimizing—disasters in coal mines is the use of rock dust.

A lot of it is placed on boards hung by chains from the roofs of mine tunnels. Obviously in case of an explosion the boards will swing and the dust will be thrown off.

Following an explosion a roaring flame, let us say, is coming through the tunnel. The air is filled with coal dust (or possibly with inflammable gas) to feed it. But it meets a curtain of non-inflammable rock dust (discharged from the board shelves) and is thereby stopped. Rock dust will not burn under any provocation. Suspended thickly in the air, it acts like an asbestos curtain. The flame cannot get through it.

Lost Arms Without Pain.

Our story of a man being blown away, unhurt, by the explosion of a bomb which he did not even mind seem incredible to many people. Here is something like an analogy.

King Edward once brought together at his dinner table Rustem Pasha, who had had half his right hand and part of his arm torn off by a bear, and Sir Edward Bradford, who had had his left arm up to the elbow munched away by a tiger.

The two men compared notes. Neither had felt the least twinge of pain at the time. They imagined that their intense desire to save their lives chilled all other senses. — London Chronicle.

PILES GO QUICK

Piles are caused by congestion of blood in the lower bowel. Only an internal remedy can remove the cause. That's why salves and cutting fail. Dr. Leonhardt's Hem-Roid, a harmless tablet, succeeds, because it relieves the congestion and strengthens the affected parts. Hem-Roid has given quick, safe and lasting relief to thousands of Pile Sufferers. It will do the same for you or money back. Wallace's Drug Store and druggists everywhere sell Hem-Roid with this guarantee.

WISE AND OTHEWISE

People will often give three cheers for something they wouldn't give anything else for.

Let our civilization "develop" a little more and almost everybody will need a lawyer.

Mother—"Johnnie, see what the baby has in his mouth."

Johnnie—"It's all right, mother, it's only a safety-pin."

Many have been relieved of corns by Holloway's Corn Remover. It has a power of its own that will be found effective.

Magistrate—"So you want a divorce, madam? On what grounds?"

Woman—"On any, sir, as long as he ain't allowed on them."

Worms in children, if they be not attended to, cause convulsions, and often death. Mother Graves' Worm Exterminator will protect the children from these distressing afflictions.

"Want a job as night watchman, eh? Have you any references?"

"No, but I've got a doctor's certificate showing that I've suffered from insomnia for the last five years."

There is nothing repulsive in Miller's Worm Powders, and they are as pleasant to take as sugar, so that few children will refuse them. In some cases they cause vomiting through their action in an unsound stomach, but this is only a manifestation of their cleansing power, no indication that they are hurtful. They can be thoroughly depended upon to clear worms from the system.

"I complimented Phyllis on her voice once and she hasn't spoken to me since."

"What did you say?"

"I only told her I thought she was a howling success."

To Asthma Sufferers. Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Asthma Remedy comes like a helping hand to a sinking swimmer. It gives new life and hope —something he has come to believe impossible. Its benefit is too evident to be questioned—it is its own best argument—its own best advertisement. If you suffer from asthma get this time tried remedy and find help like thousands of others.

A man in Rome attempted to commit suicide because he could not buy Christmas presents for his family. I know a man who is in an equally low state of mind because he cannot pay for the Christmas presents his family have given him.

It Has Many Qualities. — The man who possesses a bottle of Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil is armed against many ills. It will relieve a cough, break a cold, prevent sore throat; it will reduce the swelling from a sprain, relieve the most persistent sores, and will speedily heal cuts and contusions. It is a medicine chest in itself.

"You plead guilty, of course," said the judge. "This silver was found in your possession."

"That silver does look familiar," confessed the prisoner. "But I'm pleading to plead not guilty. My lawyer has convinced me of my innocence."

A Corrector of Pulmonary Troubles. — Many testimonials could be presented showing the great efficacy of Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil in correcting disorders of the respiratory processes, but the best testimonial is experience and the Oil is recommended to all who suffer from these disorders with the certainty that they will find relief. It will allay inflammation in the bronchial tubes.

Suitor—"Sir, I would like to marry your daughter."

Father—"I absolutely forbid you to do so."

Suitor (surprised)—"Why, what's the matter with her?"

Great Rejoicing by Rheumatic Cripples

If So Crippled You Can't Use Arms or Legs, Rheuma Will Help You or Nothing to Pay

Get a bottle of Rheuma to-day and wear a satisfied smile on your face to-morrow.

It's a remedy that is astonishing the whole country, and it's just as good for gout, sciatica and lumbago as for rheumatism.

It drives the poisonous waste from the joints and muscles—that's the secret of Rheuma's success.

But we don't ask you to take our word for it; go to Wallace's Drug Store or any druggist and get a bottle of Rheuma to-day; if it doesn't do as we promise get your money back. It will be there waiting for you.

REACHING FOR WORLD TRADE

Every Nation Wide Awake to the Possibilities That Have Opened, Following the Great War.

A more cosmopolitan document could hardly be imagined than the weekly list of trade chances which is nowadays gathered from all sources by the United States department of commerce, and published for the information of American business interests. An agency in Spain wishes to sell agricultural machinery and mechanical tops; a company in Egypt wishes to handle American cardboards and all kinds of paper; a firm in India is eager to come in contact with exporters of general merchandise; agriculturists in South Africa are interested in caterpillar tractors; a man in Switzerland would fain become an agent for yarns and fabrics; another in Belgium wishes to deal in food products; an engineer in Lettland would like to represent exporters of agricultural tools and automobiles, but perceives the wisdom of having more than one string to his bow, for he wants also an agency for the sale of lard. An interesting medley of commercial ambitions, with items that have already counted up to more than 1,500, the lists reveal how, all over the world, individuals and companies are hoping for opportunity to share in international trade.

Crown Dating From 1000 A. D.

The rumor, current in the European press some months ago, when the Bela Kun administration ruled in Hungary, that the Hungarian crown was to be sold, seems to have disappeared, and the later government apparently means to keep it. It was an odd circumstance, says a writer commenting on that rumor and its disappearance, that, with so much talk of discarded insignia of royalty, the one crown actually mentioned as being for sale should have been the most ancient one, with a single exception, in Europe. For whereas the German crown, for example, is comparatively modern, and was made no longer ago than 1871 for the former kaiser's grandfather, this crown of Hungary traces back, at least in legend, to the year 1000, and the sum of 100,000 Swiss marks, about $19,000, which, last summer, was circumstantially reported as the price for which it was to be sold, does not seem particularly exorbitant.

Depressing "Flying Dream."

In the flying dream, you suddenly leap off your feet and undergo the experience of rising to great heights and skimming over innumerable obstacles. If the dream only embraces this and nothing more, it may be taken to augur some kind of a surprise, usually of a more or less pleasant nature; but if, as so often happens, one imagines one flies to escape some peculiarly evil presence, then the dream may be regarded as a warning against some sinister person or plot. Flying dreams generally occur to people with marked psychic tendencies.

Painter's Fame Came Slowly.

August Renoir, seventy-eight years old, the famous French impressionist, died recently at Cagnes, France, on the day that his picture of the Pont Neff fetched 100,000 francs at an art sale. In his youth he often paid for his dinner with a picture. Renoir was one of the first of the impressionists. He worked to the last and died with his palette in his hands. "I feel I am just beginning to know my trade," he said when he was well over seventy.

Ancient Gambling Games.

It is known that from the earliest Roman times the games of tali and tesseræ were played with dice, but dissention has been attributed by the Grecian poets and sophists to Palamedes, who in 1244, B. C., joined the Greeks in their expedition against Troy, where, by some writers, Palamedes is said to have been slain by an arrow from the bow of Paris. In addition to the invention of dice, Palamedes is said to have invented lighthouses, measures, scales, the discus, the alphabet and the art of regulating sentinels.

The Stormy Petrel.

The birds known to sailors as Mother Carey's chickens, whose appearance is supposed to foretell a storm, are otherwise known by the term stormy petrel (Thalassidroma pelagica). The bird seems to run in a remarkable manner along the surface of the sea, where it picks up its food. The petrel is a small bird of dusky plumage, nocturnal in habit, most abundant in the southern hemisphere. The name Mother Carey is supposed to be a corruption of the "Mother Cara"—dear mother—of Levantine sailors.

Perfume Their Dead.

Natives of Torres Strait islands, to the north of Queensland, have some peculiar burial customs. One is the anointing the bodies with cheap perfume, the remainder being corked in the bottle and left on the grave. In some cases a cheap stone is set on the grave and the ceremony is usually marked by a three-days' gorge on the part of the relatives of the departed, pig, yams and turtle being shaken down to make room for more by vigorous dancing and singing.

What is a Mofussil?

"Mofussil" is a Hindoo word meaning "the provincial or rural districts" as opposed to the towns. The Gangetic delta is the land deposited by the river Ganges in India at its mouth, forming an extensive tract of very rich soil. The whole phrase refers to those rich, fertile districts near the mouth of the Ganges, where great quantities of rice are grown.

"The Sick Man of Europe."

A collector of old prints proved that the expression, "the sick man of Europe," persistently applied for years to Turkey, dates back to the seventeenth century, when John Sobieski drove back the Turks from the gates of Vienna. A print of the period shows the Turk on his sick bed and doctors, representing the nations of Europe, gathered about him.

Make Themselves Clothes.

Among the animal tailors are the smooth caterpillars. Naked and unarmed, their extreme vulnerability places them at the mercy of numerous enemies; but many families of them are remarkable for making little sheaths or garments for the protection of their bodies, notably the silkworm, than whom the lilies of the field are not more gorgeously arrayed.

Those With Enterprise.

The enterprising person is the person who is always learning and then putting that learning to use, who is making the very best of opportunity, and creating all the opportunities which seem to offer themselves to his or her molding. In other words, what is enterprise but a busy mind and a busy person properly directed by a sane soul.

Named Front Saint's Day.

On the tenth of April, 1534, Jacques Cartier sailed from France with two small ships and 122 men to found a colony in North America. In May he arrived in Newfoundland. Cartier entered the Newfoundland waters in the fete day of St. Lawrence, and called the gulf St. Lawrence in honor of the patron saint of that day.

Tumblers, fruit dishes, lamp chimneys, globes, etc., can be mended with the following preparation: Take five parts of gelatin to one of a solution of bichromate of potash. Cover the broken edges with this and press together, then place in direct sunlight for a few hours.

Comets and Stars.

Comets are erratic members of the solar system moving in orbits. Stars may be classified as fixed stars and planets, the planets revolving about the sun, while the position of the fixed stars relative to other heavenly bodies seems unvarying.

Best of All Fertilizers.

I believe that the best fertilizer for any soil is a spirit of industry, enterprise and intelligence. Without this, time and gypsum, bones and green manure, marl and guano will be of little use.—Henry Ward Beecher.

And Then They Worked Hard.

V. O. N. Tag Day, Aug. 25th.

Every person in town will be given the opportunity to contribute to this cause. Our Victorian Nurse has proven beyond a doubt that her services are a great benefit to the town, and it is earnestly hoped by the committee in charge of the Tag Day that every one will deem it a privilege to contribute as generously as it is possible for them to do. There is no set price. Just give as much as you can. Every little bit helps. Meet the taggers with a smile, and show them that you appreciate what they are doing towards a good cause. 34a

The Paradie Burned.

On Thursday morning as the boat Paradie was making a trip from Picton to Napanee, it caught fire when a short distance south of Watercombe Camp, and was burned to the water's edge. What would surely have been a tragedy was prevented by the prompt assistance rendered by the young people of the camp, who at the first call, took boats from the camp and brought the passengers to land. The fire started near the engine and is supposed to have originated by backfiring in the carburetor. Six women passengers were on board, besides the crew, and the boat also carried about $2,500 worth of freight, principally groceries. All the freight was completely destroyed by fire and water, as the craft burned so quickly that it was impossible to remove any cargo, and there was also the danger of the gas tanks blowing up. The boat was, up to a couple of weeks ago, the property of Capt. Ward, of Napanee, who had her built for himself ten years ago, and had been sold to Messrs. Hepburn & Hudgins, Picton, who had taken possession of the boat, but had only paid a deposit on her, awaiting the transfer of the papers. There was no insurance on the craft or cargo.

DECORATION DAY

Despite the intense heat, the annual Decoration Day service by the Independent Order of Oddfellows which was held Sunday afternoon, was the most largely attended of the many which have been held in the years that are gone. Three years ago, the custom of decoration was entirely changed and instead of decorating the individual graves, memorial plots were laid out at the entrance of both Riverside and Riverview cemeteries. The plots are formed into three large links and early in the season plants are set out which present a beautiful appearance all through the summer.

Promptly at 2.30 p.m. the procession left the rooms of Napanee Lodge No. 86, the order of march being as follows: The Napanee Citizens' Band, Belleville Cantons, Kingston Cantons, Past Grand Master, Dr. Ross, of Kingston, Past District Deputy Grand Master, Rev. W. R. Tanton, and Bro. Geo. T. Walters, Chairman of the Committee, the members of Napanee Lodge No. 86, Argyll Lodge No. 212, Mount Ararat Encampment No. 16, and the members of Queen of Sheba Lodge No. 254, Daughters of Rebecca in cars.

On arriving at the cemeteries the members formed a circle around the plot and the order of service was then proceeded with, the first number being an overture by the Band.

After the singing of a hymn, the names of the deceased brothers were read by Bros. F. W. Garrett, P.D.D.G.M., and E. J. Walters, representing Napanee Lodge No. 86 and Argyll Lodge No. 212 respectively. Following the reading of the names, the Band rendered another selection, after which the members of the Rebekah Lodge deposited large bouquets of gladiolas on the plot.

P.G.M. Gen. A. E. Ross was then introduced to the brethren and gave a very interesting address on the great principles of Oddfellowship, after which the closing hymn was sung, this being followed by the benediction by Rev. W. R. Tanton.

This concluded the service, the members returning to the Lodge Room where a vote of thanks was unanimously tendered to Dr. Ross, the visiting Cantons, and to the Committee which had charge of the proceedings.

SPECIAL ANNOUNCEMENT

WE wish to announce to our friends and customers that we are the Sole Agents for the NORDHEIMER GRAND PIANOS and supplies in Napanee. This is not a new venture, as we have been more or less attached to this celebrated company for several years, but have not handled their instruments in connection with our regular stock.

For the information of the general public we would like to remind you that the house of Nordheimer is practically the pioneer, and is the oldest piano and music establishment in Canada. For over three-quarters of a century the ideals of character and quality of goods, integrity and industry originally inculcated by the founders have remained the guiding principles of this old established organization.

We have for your inspection in the store one of their Pianos in plain walnut. This Piano possesses a richness and volume of tone rarely found in an instrument so compact in design. We have complete illustrations of all Pianos, and all we ask is a call from you to inspect this instrument.

POLITICAL COMMENT

For a long time, too long perhaps, the Liberal party enjoyed the favors and the confidences of the electors of the Maritime Provinces. Sure of e popular and Parliamentary majority, the leaders neglected, obviously, those who elected them, and failed to give sufficient consideration to the new needs and the fresh grievances of this part of the Dominion. The time came when the storm roared in a way that left no further doubt about the havoc that it caused. In power for a quarter of a century in Nova Scotia, not so long, but still for a good period in control of the Government of New Brunswick and in Prince Edward Island, the Liberals suddenly saw their majorities snatched away. We ascribe this sudden change to the recklessness of the leaders. —Le Droit, Quebec.

* * * * * *

Commercial travellers are, perhaps, in closer touch with political sentiment than any other group of men in the country, and it is, therefore, not without significance that they are giving it as their opinion that the election next month promises to be a repetition of the 1911 election, and that it would not be surprising to see a Conservative landslide.—Kingston Standard.

* * * * * *

The idea that progress depends above all on foreign competition disappears as fast as the public realize that the encouragement of home industries assures it a supply of goods of the best quality at attractive prices. Private enterprise, which is not lacking in Canadians, is the first requisite of success. Let business men of the country find the necessary capital and let the tariff be raised sufficiently to inspire the confidence of foreign capitalists and in a very short time we shall see industrial Canada in the throes of a boom without precedent in our land. Countries which have based their fiscal policy on Protection have accomplished greater advances than Free Trade countries. In Quebec there is a strong sentiment in favor of developing the home market.—Nouvelliste, Montreal.

* * * * * *

We often boast that our dollar is at par, but the only reason for its standing at par is that United States investors are buying our bonds, stocks and mortgages every year to the amount of hundreds of millions of dollars. If these purchases should cease our dollar would be immediately depreciated. In this way we mortgage our country year by year until we are today the most highly mortgaged country in the whole world. That is the price that we are paying to keep our dollar at par and this condition is brought to pass by our stupid trade policy which puts a tariff against Uncle Sam only about one-third of that imposed by the United States.—L'Evenement, Quebec.

* * * * * *

At this particular juncture in the nation's affairs nothing better could happen to Canada than the return to power next September of the Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen with a dependable majority of Conservative members. That is an unescapable conclusion to Canadians, of independent mind and clear judgment, who put the interests of the country before those of party and who feel that four years of muddle, trafficking for power and inefficient and mal-odorous administration in the most important collecting Department of Government, have forfeited any claim which the King Government had once to the confidence of the people of Canada. If the Rt. Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King comes to power in September succeeding administrations will be justified in believing that Canadians can be bamboozled to let them get away with anything short of murder. The Customs scandal smells to high Heaven and no Canadian can remain unaware of it unless he breathes through his mouth or has an abnormally insensitive nose.

"Saturday Night" is not a party organ. It is tied neither by tradition nor interest to the Liberal-Conservative party or to the Liberal party. It is an independent journal which is making a fight for stable government in Canada at the present time. It cannot be stated too emphatically that "Saturday Night" is now and always will be an independent journal which will express its views honestly and fearlessly on great public issues. It will not, just to avoid a charge of partisanship from offended partisans, make itself the medium of a wishy-washy "neutral" journalism without opinions, back-bone or conscience. "Saturday Night" has a platform of its own and we have only to state here its three most important planks to make it evident why our attitude is so definite and uncompromising just now. The planks are:

The maintenance of the policy of protection and tariff stability as essential to Canada's prosperity.

The maintenance of Imperial connection as essential to Canada's future in world affairs; and

The maintenance of honesty in the public services as essential to the moral and economic well-being of the community.

It is the misfortune of the King Government and of the Liberal party that its recent actions seem to have put all three interests in jeopardy. The address of Premier Meighen at Ottawa on July 20th, viewed in the light of his known record as an administrator, promises the furtherance of all three planks. That is why we advocate in this election the return of Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen to power, why we believe Canada will consult its best interests if it turns a deaf ear to the blandishments of the Rt. Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King.—Toronto "Saturday Night."

LENNOX COUNTY FAIR DRAWS GREAT CROWDS

FINEST RACING EVENTS IN THE HISTORY OF THE SOCIETY

MANY IMPROVEMENTS IN THE GROUNDS AND THE EQUIPMENT

On Tuesday morning the sun shone brightly to welcome the first day of the four days annual fair of the Lennox Agricultural Society, and everything was set to make the 1926 exhibition the biggest and best ever given here. In the words of the immortal Robert Burns "The best laid plans of mice and men gang aft agley". The management were in no way responsible for the heavy rains of the three previous days, but it was impossible to use the track for horse races and other events. However, it was Children's Day and the kiddies were admitted free of charge as the guests of the Society, and they had a good time on the switch-back, the ferris wheel and the wonderful attractions of the side-shows in the Midway.

A contingent of the R. C. H. A. from Kingston were on the grounds. Charming music was dispensed by the splendid Cobourg Kilties Band. Then there were two excellent games of Softball played by girl teams, which drew a large and interested audience. Following is the result of these games:—

Selby.	Hayburn.
Batteries.	Batteries.
P. Denison	G. Roblin
H. Gray	H. Lazier

Score,—

Selby	3	3	1	3	2	0	1	2	—15
Hayburn	0	0	0	3	0	0	5	10	— 9

Belleville Beavers	Napanee Maple Leafs

Napanee	3	0	5	3	0	4	3	3		—21

Many improvements, since last year, have taken place and are appreciated by visitors to the fair and all concerned, noticable amongst which are the lengthening of the grand stand by an addition of fifty feet; the improvement of the poultry house by making double the former dimensions and by putting glass windows all around. Another move in the right direction is the large tent bought for the purpose of housing automobiles. This change gratifies both vendors and prospective customers as well as casual visitors.

In entering the Palace one is impressed with a sense of brightness by the fine display of fruit and flowers on the centre table running the length of the building, and by the tastefully displayed articles in the booths on either side.

The booths on either side of the main entrance are occupied by a fine exhibition of ladies' fancy Work, etc. On the right side of the building are the following: Webster's Grocery, excellent display; Hydro Electric exhibit, bright and illuminating; James MacGillivray, charming and most artistic; Arthur A. Sills, hardwood flooring, with specimens of the finished product; Paul's Bookstore, a tasteful showing of the merchandise they carry in the store; Deseronto canned goods, put up by the Metcalfe Canning Co. At the end of the building by the western entrance, is a fine showing of home-made pastry, bread, buns, butter, cooked meats and dressed poultry. Continuing around the building, we come to the magnificent display of furs by John McKay, Ltd., Kingston. Then the very fine showing of pianos and other musical instruments by H. L. VanLuven. Next comes the Art exhibits, which are particularly fine this year. A fine display is made in the Churchwoman's Aid booth, of articles beautiful and useful. And last, but by no means least, the fine fur display of Goudier, Kingston.

The Napanee merchants are not in evidence here as they should be and some of those who exhibited in former years have dropped out. Perhaps the fault is in the method which has been in vogue here of setting up a nice attractive exhibit, with nobody to look after it, and then expect to get results—like the man who advertises "please come in and look over my stock before buying elsewhere". At Toronto Fair and at other fairs expert salesmen are put in charge of the exhibits—and they make sales. Napanee Fair offers a fine opportunity to keen business men to largely increase their turn-overs. Think about it—and act.

The exhibits of all classes throughout the grounds are good. The poultry showing is particularly fine and the variety numerous. Owing to the earlier date of the exhibition and the lateness of crops maturing this year, vegetable exhibits are not up to the mark in quantity, but what is shown is of excellent quality.

A large crowd was on the grounds for the fine concert and other good items, including a performing troop of trained ponies and dogs; and also a fine fireworks display was given in front of the grand stand. There was a large number of very fine babies contesting at the Baby Show, and they looked as if each and all should have been prize winners. But of a certainty Dr. Duane Hall and Miss Robertson, V.O.N., could make no mistake and their judgment is final.

The winners are:—

Boys, 3 to 12 months—Franklin Connor, Leslie Cooper.

Boys, 12 to 18 months—Duane Whitmarsh.

Girls, 3 to 12 months—Rita Shannon, Marjorie McTaggart.

Girls, 12 to 18 months—Margaret Hendricks, Helen Thompson.

Special Prize, Twins—Mr. and Mrs. Milton Lasher.

WEDNESDAY.

The principal items in this day's programme were the judging of cattle and horses, two horse races, and a baseball game by teams from Odessa and Adolphustown, in which the latter won by a score of 20 to 14. Fine exhibition of horsemanship by R. C. H. A., and music by the Cobourg Kilties Band, afternoon and evening. A fine concert was given in the evening and a grand display of fireworks. Weather fine, race track good, and over five thousand people in attendance.

THURSDAY.

This the third day of the Fair the attendance was even greater than anticipated, as there were at least seven thousand five hundred people on the grounds. Splendid weather prevailed all day until about 5 o'clock, when a small shower occurred at the close of the last racing event of the day. Everybody had a good time.

The outstanding events of the day were the judging of single and double driving horses and there was a grand array of fine turnouts. The fine music of the Highlanders' Band was duly appreciated, as were the fine exhibitions of horsemanship given by the R. M. C. Riding Academy. A good game of baseball between Kingston Circle Six and Newburgh was won by Newburgh, score 3 to 4, and the game secured a large audience.

The evening programme included a concert by the Maple Leaf Quartette, Cobourg Band, Scottish dances, Riding Academy, fireworks.

THE EXHIBITS.

The following special reports of some of the finest displays at the Fair will prove interesting reading, and should repay readers for the time expended upon their perusal:—

Jas. MacGillivray.

The display of Linoleum and Congoleum Rugs and rolls of these useful and attractive floor coverings in the booth of Jas. MacGillivray, better known to his many friends as "Mac", is a distinct artistic achievement, and draws many admiring glances and expressions of approval from the large number of visitors to the Fair who pass through the Palace. The Linoleums and Congoleums are manufactured in Canada and are so well known as to need no comment here on their sterling qualities for wear and appearance, but anyone who wants further information, on application to Mac, will be furnished with pamphlets, telling all about them.

"Mac" is the proprietor of the Housefurnishing business on the second floor of MacGregor's Departmental Store, where will be found a full stock of the above mentioned goods, as well as oilcloths, carpets, and rugs of all kinds; also upholstering materials, curtains, mats, etc., etc. In addition to the foregoing lines you will find in his warerooms a full stock of crockery, dinner and tea sets, general tableware, and glassware. He extends an invitation to view his goods to all who are interested in extra good quality and good value in the lines he carries.

John McKay, Limited.

In a beautifully arranged booth, under an illuminated sign of their registered trade-mark "From Trapper to Wearer", this old and reliable firm have on display a splendid showing of the most attractive specimens of fine fur skins and fur coats in Hudson Seal, Persian Lamb, Silver Racoon, Muskrat, and many other varieties. There are also in evidence most tempting chokers and stoles in all the fashionable and popular furs.

The walls are decorated with Alaska Seal, Hudson Seal, Kolinsky, Martins, Mink, Fisher, and Foxes, in natural colors, from Labrador Reds to fine Canadian Silvers.

This well known firm have been established for nearly three-quarters of a century and can be depended upon to serve their customers with Furs and Fur Coats exactly as represented. They buy their furs directly from the trappers and make them up in their own work rooms in Kingston. They invite correspondence, and will gladly send catalogue and all information required. If you are interested write to John McKay, Limited, The Fur House, Kingston, Ont.

Paul's Book Store.

The well displayed and most attractive exhibit of this enterprising firm drew the attention of visitors to the palace and elicited praise for its generally tasteful appearance. Many fine samples of latest designs in Wall Paper were in evidence, as well as all the other items in the shape of books, stationery, pictures and so forth. The booth is in charge of Grant L. Paul, who is so popular with the young people of the town, as he devotes a large amount of time in connection with their sports. But for his efforts, girls' softball, basketball, baseball and other games played here would not have achieved their enviable standing. In his stock will be found all the latest in school books and school supplies, and he invites the patronage of all his friends.

Willys Overland Cars.

Willys Knight and Overland display of Automobiles by the local dealer, R. H. Paul, drew great comment from all those who viewed the exhibit. The new European Light Type car, "The Whippet", which surpasses all other light models, was the centre of attraction to all of those coming in the Automobile tent. This car was shown in two models, the Coach, priced at $1,065, fully equipped, and a snappy touring priced at $895, fully equipped. The Overland Six was shown in a four door Sedan, and drew praise and comment from all; it was priced at $1,725 with all equipment and is a splendid purchase in its price class. The Willys-Knight was shown in two models. The Intermediate Six, priced at $2,300, drew a large crowd at all times, and the Great Six Willys-Knight was by far the centre of attraction. This car is priced at $3585, fully equipped. These two cars have the famous sleeve valve motor, the only motor known today that improves with use; no carbon to clean, no valves to grind. Before purchasing see these models. Mr. Paul deserves all credit on his exhibit. His showing in price from $895.00 to $3,600.00 proves to the buying public that he has an automobile to fit the pocket of any purchaser.

Trials of Indigestion

Errors About This Trouble Into Which People Fall

Many people so far misunderstand the digestive system as to treat it like a machine; neglecting it until it works sluggishly, then irritating it into work again by the use of purgatives. The stomach needs help at all times, but a study of the process of digestion will show that purgatives, as commonly taken, are seldom necessary and often harmful.

To safeguard your digestion the diet must be controlled. Over-eating is always harmful, but one must assimilate enough food to supply the needs of the blood. Remember, the blood has to carry nourishment to all parts of the body and find fuel for its energy. Hence when the blood becomes weak and fails to do its work, indigestion arises. Therefore the sure remedy for indigestion is to build up the blood. If you suffer from any form of indigestion choose your diet carefully and take wholesome nourishment. Above all, start building up your blood by taking a course of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Then under the influence of the new blood supply, your digestive system will respond naturally, your appetite improve and your food will do you good. So begin to improve your digestion by starting to take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills now.

You can get these pills from your druggist or by mail at 50 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

BED BUGS—the most disgusting of all insects! Get rid of them with Flit.

Flit spray destroys bed bugs, roaches and ants. It searches out the cracks and crevices where they hide and breed, and destroys insects and their eggs.

Kills All Household Insects

Flit spray also cleans your home in a few minutes of disease-bearing flies and mosquitoes. It is clean, safe and easy to use. Spray Flit on your garments. Flit kills moths and their larvae which eat holes. Extensive tests showed that Flit spray did not stain the most delicate fabrics.

Flit is the result of exhaustive research by expert entomologists and chemists. It is harmless to mankind. Flit has replaced the old methods because it kills all the insects—and does it quickly. Get a Flit can and sprayer today.

POLITICS

This seems an opportune time to introduce the subject of politics, for it seems to be in the air, in fact since before the 29th of October last politics has occupied the ground floor. Hon. Mackenzie King has kept it well to the front. With him it is politics rather than policy.

With a large number of people politics has more to do with tradition than with policy. There are many Liberals who do not love Mackenzie King or his ways and means, who feel impelled to vote on that side to keep up the family tradition.

Fortunately there are some who are not guided by that principle, but who are guided by the merits of the case, otherwise we would not have had the turnovers that have taken place in our political history. It is not the purpose of the writer to have or even to intimate that traditional politics is an exclusive possession of the Liberals, for many Conservatives follow the same line of action. If, however, we look fairly at the facts that are presented to us in the political history of the country, particularly since confederation, it has been the Conservative party that has presented all the policies leaving to the Liberals the negative side, and their traditions.

We might not feel inclined to flip a coin between the governments we have had, Grit or Tory, as far as honesty or even administrative ability is concerned, but these things, while good in themselves, do not make up for lack of policy in governing a great and growing country. We need something positive, something stable, something comprehensive.

Let us briefly review what we have had in that regard. Immediately after confederation the Conservatives were in power, and the Liberals, led by Hon. Alex. MacKenzie, took a merely negative position until an incident occurred which they were able to develop into what is known as the Pacific Scandal which brought them into power for one term. The Pacific Scandal was largely a personal affair and did not have anything intrinsic or lasting in it, and because they had no policy they went down before the National Policy introduced by MacDonald and Tupper. The Conservatives maintained power for eighteen years, although Wilfred Laurier opposed them at two elections, making as an issue, first commercial Union, and then Free Trade with the United States.

Not until 1896 was there a change, and then it did not come about as a matter of policy, but was an entirely side issue which had to do with the matter of coercing Manitoba with regard to separate schools, and Laurier obtained power on the cry "Hands off Manitoba". Laurier adopted the Conservatives' tariff policy and maintained it for fifteen years, and might have continued longer had he not, in a weak moment given way to a proposal to advocate reciprocity with the United States. This proved his undoing, and in 1911 he gave way to Robert Borden and Borden and his Lieutenant, Meighen, carried the country through one of the most trying times any country has had to face, brought about by the Great War, but they still maintained the principles of the national policy.

As a result of a backwash of the war Mr. King came in, not to power, but to place, and who is bold enough to say that Mr. King has had a policy other than to keep in place. Readers of The Beaver, I ask you to look at these things, not as Tories or Grits, but in the light of common sense, and from a desire to see our common country emerge from the unsavory condition in which the late government led by Mackenzie King, has placed it. This is no time to be guided by tradition.

The worms that infest children from their birth are of two kinds, those that find lodgement in the stomach and those that are found in the intestines. The latter are the most destructive, as they cling to the walls of the intestines and if not interfered with work havoc there. Miller's Worm Powders dislodge both kinds and while expelling them from the system serve to repair the damage they have caused.

CEDAR CREST

To those seeking pleasure and recreation, Cedar Crest is an ideal camping resort. It is nicely situated on a very pretty point of Varty Lake and is surrounded by many cedars. There is an open space in the centre of the camp, which is suitable for sports, especially softball and quoits.

Early in 1922 Mr. Ira Salisbury, of Colebrook, appreciating the beauty of the point, built a very cosy cottage, "Out EEEE". Soon Mr. Levi Salisbury, owner of the camp, built three cottages, "Duck Inn", "Seldom Inn", and "U-No-Us". In 1923 Mr. A. E. Holland, of Yarker, also built a very attractive cottage, "Idyl Wyld". Each year an increasing number of campers and visitors have thronged the camp. Mr. L. Salisbury has made it very desirable by planting flowers and putting up swings and other amusements. Along the dock there are a number of boats, which are always ready for use for the campers, and the boats are constantly in demand for swimming, fishing and sailing.

This year, in the early part of June, Mr. and Mrs. Ayrhart and family and Mr. J. B. Sargimson, (known as Little Joe), of Campbellford, came to "Seldom Inn". Next to appear were Mr. A. E. Holland and family, especially Bashful Red, who, along with Little Joe, kept things lively around the camp. Mr. Holland and family occupied their cottage, "Idyl Wyld". In a few days Mr. and Mrs. Ira Salisbury moved to their summer home, "Out EEEE". In July Mr. and Mrs. Back, Mr. and Mrs. McIntyre, and Miss Preshaw, of Fulton, N.Y., took possession of "U-No-Us". In August Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Shangraw, of Colebrook, came to "Duck Inn". The Misses Florence Huffman and Helen Amey, of Moscow, and Reginald Freeman, of Yarker, came to "U-No-Us" for two weeks. The cottage was occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Dingle and Mr. and Mrs. Seymour, of Syracuse, for the remaining two weeks in August.

Each evening a large campfire burned brightly in the centre of the camp. Around it the campers and many visitors gathered for stories and sing-songs. Orchestra music was regularly furnished by the C. O. H. C. Serenaders.

There was great enthusiasm created when the two Camp Journals were being edited. On Saturday night, August 14th, when all the campers and many visitors were sitting around the campfire, the Girls' Journal was read, also an account of Cedar Crest in 1946. Then the Boys' Journal was read. These caused many rounds of laughter, as no one escaped the watchful eyes of those who edited the Journals. The jokes on all were of the most humorous type. Everyone enjoyed the jokes on others and digested their own to banjo music and "Sweet Adeline".

Following this a delightful surprise was in store for all, when hot dogs, watermelon and ice cream were served.

Camps "Idyl Wyld" and "U-No-Us" were the scenes of many parties. These were greatly enjoyed by the younger campers and their friends.

When ready to retire for the evening one considered himself fortunate if he could climb into bed without first removing platters of water, or spending an hour or two taking stitches out of bed clothing or fastening the slats of the bed in properly. In the morning it was a usual occurrence to be awakened by a dash of cold water. There were also many tragic scenes, such as falling into the lake, etc. However, these were considered real fun.

It is believed that the summer of 1926 has exceeded all others. Both the campers and visitors report an excellent time.

School opens soon. You will revuire a Watedman Fountain Pen. The new one (self filler), is $1.50 complete. Come in and examine it. For sale at Wallace's.

Wallace's Preserving Powder prevents fruit or canned goods from spoiling. 10c. a box, at Wallace's.

Prohibition Union

In this week's Napanee "Express" an article appears, handed in by A. A. Morden, Liberal, President of the Prince Edward Prohibition Union, stating that John Hubbs refused to sign a pledge to support certain principles advocated by the Prohibition Union.

Mr. Hubbs states that he DID NOT REFUSE TO SIGN this pledge, but, since he regarded it as a Liberal election "dodge", he wanted Mr. Horsey to sign it first. After securing Mr. Horsey's signature, officials of the Union never came back to Mr. Hubbs for his signature, but simply published a misleading report of the matter in the local papers.

Moreover, A. A. Morden, President, and R. W. Ireland, Treasurer, of the Prince Edward Prohibition Union, came to Picton as delegates to the Prince Edwart-Lennox Liberal Association Convention on Saturday, July 31st, and pledged themselves to support the Liberal candidate, H. H. Horsey, before asking the Liberal and Conservative candidates to sign their Prohibition Union pledge.

As proof of the above facts, Ex-Mayor H. G. Blakely has written the following signed statement:

THE PROHIBITION UNION QUESTION

At the request of Mr. John Hubbs I wish to make the following statement in reference to the article published in the Picton papers last week re the Prohibition Union Pledge:

This is to certify that, as Vice-President of this organization, I was requested to present this pledge to Mr. John Hubbs, the Conservative candidate. This I did. Mr. Hubbs did not sign, but expressed his willingness to do so provided Mr. Horsey signed. This is the report I made to Mr. A. A. Morden and Mr. R. W. Ireland, President and Treasurer of the Prince Edward Prohibition Union.

(Signed), H. G. BLAKELY.

I hereby declare that I did not refuse to sign the Prohibition Union pledge presented to me.

JOHN HUBBS.

Address and Presentation

The home of Miss Dorothy Richardson, Bridge St. west, was the scene of a delightful function on Monday night when over forty of her friends, including a number of players from the Town Softball League, gathered and presented her with an address, which was accompanied by a beautiful set of cutlery. The address was read by Miss Irene Embury, the presentation being made by Miss Dorothy Johnson. Miss Richardson is one of the best players in the Softball League in Napanee and her many friends all regret that she will soon be leaving for Ottawa to train for a nurse. Her place will be hard to fill, particularly in the Inter-Church League, in which she played a prominent part last winter for St. Mary Magdalene team. Her playing on the local team in the Quinte League this summer was also phenomenal and the best wishes of her many friends are extended to her. She is leaving in the course of another week.

McLaughlin-Buick.

Robt. MacFarland, the local dealer, representing the McLaughlin Motor Car Co., Ltd., had a wonderful display of closed models. The new 4-door Pontiac was shown for the first time in Napanee, and drew praise and comment from all people. The Oldsmobile was shown in Coach and Sedan models, very beautiful upholstering and nice streamline bodies painted in tasty colors, and well praised by all those who visited the tent.

The famous McLaughlin Buick was shown in seven different mdeels. The five-passenger sedan, painted blue, was very nice. The seven-passenger sedan, finished in a blue black color, elaborate in its upholstering, drew larger crowds. The Coach, finished in a Robin-egg blue, was inspected by all visitors. Its sliding, adjustable seats drew great praise.

The centre of attraction centralized around the four-passenger Coupe and the Country Club Coupe. Both of these models showed snappiness in all their lines.

Mr. MacFarland was kept very busy demonstrating these two models, one being sold on the first day of the Fair.

This display of Pontiacs, Oldsmobiles and McLaughlins, was a credit to Mr. MacFarland, and he deserves very much credit for his showing and sales.

The Star 4-Cylinder Cars.

Card's Garage has a particularly fine exhibit of this well known and popular make of cars, in the automobile tent. Owing to limited space it is only possible to show a few. Those on exhibition are the Sedan, price $1165; Coupe, $1020; Touring $800. They are all beautiful specimens and perfect in manufacture, are well upholstered, easy-riding, and present a fine appearance. They will give long service; one of the most powerful cars on the market. Mr. Thompson, at Card's Garage, will be glad to demonstrate these cars at any time.

—The— Constitutional Crisis

The constitutional issue is pure political buncombe, designed to divert attention from the King Government's administration of the Customs Department, upon which issue it was ignominiously defeated in the House of Commons.

Here are the vital stubborn facts:

1 In September, 1925, Mr. King was granted dissolution by His Excellency Lord Byng, on the representation that he must be given a chance to secure a clear working majority. He stated at Richmond Hill that if such a majority was not forthcoming, he would not attempt to carry on.

2 In the old Parliament thus dissolved there had been 234 members, of whom 117 were Liberals, 66 were Progressives or Independents and 51 were Conservatives.

3 In the new Parliament, elected in October, 1925, Mr. Meighen had by far the largest group—almost half the total membership of the House. Out of 245 seats the Conservatives had 116, the Liberals 101, the Progressives 24, Labour 2, and Independents 2.

4 Instead of immediately resigning, as he should have done in view of the ground upon which he had been granted dissolution, Mr. King asked for and was granted leave to carry on, on the assurance that he would leave the fate of his administration to Parliament itself.

5 On Friday, June 25th, three separate motions by so-called independents, in support of which Mr. King's Government marshalled its last ounce of strength, were decisively defeated and the original motion of censure, to which the foregoing had been moved in amendment, was still awaiting decision in Parliament when Mr. King asked His Excellency for dissolution on Monday, June 28th.

6 To have granted Mr. King a dissolution under such circumstances would have been a direct denial of the right of Parliament to pass upon the vote of censure then pending.

7 Following Mr. King's resignation, Parliament by a majority of 10 did actually adopt a direct vote of censure on the King Government, and declared it unworthy of confidence or office.

8 It was Mr. King's refusal to follow British precedent in co-operating with the incoming administration to pass supplies and complete the sessional programme that left Mr. Meighen no alternative but to ask for dissolution.

9 Mr. Meighen followed the same course as that adopted by Sir Wilfrid Laurier in 1911, when he saw that it was impossible to carry on and abruptly dissolved Parliament.

10 If His Excellency had recalled Mr. King to office, he would have done so in the very face of Parliament's vote of censure.

11 Under Mr. King's interpretation of the constitution a Premier need never resign, but could demand dissolution after dissolution, despite the verdict of Parliament or the electorate, and the Governor General must perforce accept his advice.

This is the story. It calls for no comment—it speaks for itself!

The Conservative Party stands solid as a rock for sound British constitutional practice, the maintenance of the British connection, and the right of Canada to enjoy the blessings of stable Government.

SILLSVILLE

(For last week.)

About forty-five friends adn neighbours assembled at the home of Mrs. David Young, on the evening of Saturday, August 7th, it being the occasion of her eighty-first birthday. The event was planned by the Ladies' Aid as a complete surprise to Mrs. Young, who had been invited to spend the day at the home of Mrs. D. H. Hoard, and only arrived at home as the guests were beginning to assemble. A short, bright programme was given, consisting of music and readings, and an excellent little speech by Rev. Mr. Stainton, in which he dwelt on the many aspects of a long life lived in busy service to humanity. Mrs. Stainton sang beautifully "The Songs My Mother Used to Sing". The programme closed with a piece of poetry written especially for the occasion, and of which Mrs. Young was the subject. Mrs. Wm. Charters then presented Mrs. Young with a beautiful bouquet, consisting of gladioli, sweet peas and baby's breath, after which the guests adjourned for supper. Seated at the long table with Mr. and Mrs. Young were Rev. Mr. Stainton and Mrs. Stainton, and a number of her relatives and old friends. The beautiful birthday cake, alight with candles, was placed in front of Mrs. Young. On it was inscribed "Many happy returns of the day, 81". This was cut and served to all present, a piece being also sent to Mrs. Amey, a daughter, living in U. S. A., and who was unable to be present. A matter of regret also was that the eldest son, John, was unavoidably prevented from coming. The other living children were all present, Mrs. Asselstine and her husband, of Moscow coming especially for the occasion. Shortly before midnight the happy "Birthday Party" came to an end, the guests all wishing Mrs. Young bon voyage on life's journey.—Kingston Whig please copy.

The Hinde & Dauch Paper Co. of Canada, Ltd., Trenton.

The Hinde & Dauch Paper Company, of Canada, Ltd., Trenton, Ontario, expects to start operation of its plant the first of the coming year. They are now taking in baled wheat and rye straw in carload lots, team and truck deliveries. Anyone having any of this material for sale should communicate with them, as it is an excellent opportunity for the producers of straw to get rid of their surplus stock.

They are not purchasing oat or barley straw. Threshers should, therefore, keep their wheat and rye straw separate from the oat and barley straw.

This is an opportunity for farmers who have small presses to combine with their neighbors' supply and press the straw at times when they are not busy with their farm work; also for the large pressers to purchase straw from the farmers who have not the baling facilities, and sell to the Paper Company. 35a

PRESENTATION

On August 20th, the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Smith, South Napanee, was the scene of an event which will not soon be forgotten by those who were present, when about forty-five neighbours and friends gathered to bid them farewell before leaving for their new home in Toronto.

Mr. F. W. Barrett acted as chairman for the evening. After calling order, an address was read by Mr. N. R. Miller, and Miss McConachie presented Mr. and Mrs. Smith with a purse of gold; Miss Wescott also being remembered by the gift of a gold piece. Mr. and Mrs. Smith were totally taken by surprise. After a suitable reply the evening was spent in conversation, music and speeches. A duet, contributed by Mrs. R. Elliott and Mr. Barrett, was most appropriate to the occasion.

Refreshments were served, after which all joined in singing "Blest Be The Tie That Binds". Each one felt like lingering just a little longer, but all good things come to an end, so every one content that they had spent a profitable evening, wended their way homeward, wishing Mr. and Mrs. Smith and Miss Wescott bon voyage through life.

On August 10th Miss Wescott was presented with a handsome leather purse by the Friendly Bible Class of Grace United Church, of which she was a member.

POLITICS

Last week I reviewed the standing of the two political parties in the Dominion as it related to the policies of the past. Let us now consider some of the conditions that exist to-day. We are faced with an election and the party leaders are discussing before the country two different questions each claiming that their's is the main issue.

Mr. Meighen is discussing the customs scandal, and Mr. King, in order to turn attention away, from it, is discussing something else which he has dignified by the name of constitutional question. Mr. Meighen is backed up by the facts that were brought out in evidence before the parliamentary committee, and Mr. King is discussing a question of preceedure and precident which he knows the average voter does not know much about and cares less, and which Mr. King himself knows really there is nothing in; but it furnishes him with something by which he may arouse sympathy for himself as one who is abused and unfairly dealt with, all of which is, of course, ridiculous. The customs scandal is quite another thing. It deals with things that people can understand, such as finances, morals, respectibility, and common honesty.

The evidence taken before the Parliamentary Committee, and the evidence now being given before the Commission appointed to prosecute the inquiry, shows beyond question that the King Government, its officials and ministers, were cognicant of and winked at the whole unsavory business, from the Premier down.

And yet there are those who would make light of the whole affair, and say that former governments were just as bad. In the light of common sense, what has that to do with it? If this were so, why were these governments not held up and brought to task, and was there no man in the house, in those days, with the courage and moral stanama of Hon. H. H. Stevens, to bring these things to light if they existed, and why was not something brought before the Committee of Investigation to prove these things? It was not because the range of inquery was limited, nor because the will to do was not present.

No, recrimination gets the King Government nowhere, and anyway, it is the evil itself that we want to get after, and so trying to shift responsibility cuts no ice when the country is in possession of the facts, and a government with these facts against it is not worthy of the confidence of the people of this young country where righteousness should prevail if we want our nation to be exalted and prosperous.

HUFF FAMILY RE-UNION U. E. L. CELEBRATION

The re-union of the descendants of Paul and Solomon Huff, two United Empire Loyalists, who landed in what is now Adolphustown, Ontario, on the Bay of Quinte, after the war of Independence in 1784, was held at that place, on Thursday, the 26th of August, when the old church built on the Huff farm in 1792, still standing, was filled with members of the Huff family, who attended from various parts of Canada, the United States, and from Australia.

W. C. Mikel, K.C., Ex-Mayor of Belleville, addressed those present in the old church on the coming U. E. L. Celebration to be held in 1929. Mr. Mikel said the United Empire Loyalists Association of Canada in November, 1922, passed a resolution recommending that a U. E. L. celebration should be held in June, 1924, to commemorate the 140th anniversary of the landing of the Loyalists, and also every five years thereafter, to focus attention on the services and sacrifices of the United Empire Loyalists. Pursuant to this resolution the big U. E. L. Celebration was held at Belleville in 1924, when Mr. Mikel was Mayor of Belleville. Fully sixty thousand U. E. Loyalists and their friends attended during the five days of that celebration, and it was at this celebration that the Huff Family Association was formed.

In 1929 the next U. E. L. Celebration will be held, and Mr. Mikel suggested that the U. E. Loyalists commence to lay plans now, as a considerable amount of time is required to complete arrangements for a celebration worthy of the event. Picton, Napanee, Kingston, Brockville, Ottawa, Toronto, Niagara Falls, and St. Catharines have already been mentioned, also Windsor owing to the facts that Detroit remained in the hands of the British for a time after the war, and there are now residing in Detroit, Windsor, and vicinity, many descendants of original U. E. Loyalists. He said Belleville would gladly take on the celebration again, but was willing to see the honor pass around to other places.

The Aid met at the home of Mrs. Robert Frink on Friday evening of last week to wish farewell to one of their members, in the person of Mrs. Julia McMillan. The difficulty in uplifting drama is that those who want it purer don't patronize it much, any way.

POLITICAL COMMENT

"The most complete confusion still exists in the minds of a large proportion of the U. F. O. membership. No doubt, following the forthcoming Federal election and after the Provincial election has been disposed of, the Progressive party, being duly swallowed, as it will be swallowed by the Liberal party, farmers throughout the length and breadth of the Province will suddenly awaken to the nature of the cul de sac into which the Progressive party has led them."

"What, however, grieves The Sun is that at this time we find in the present campaign, as in Northumberland County, the farmers, under various group names, merely appendages of the Liberal party. It appears very much as though the U. F. O. membership in Northumberland County has meekly permitted the wool to be pulled over its eyes, and to allow itself to be tied on to the tag-end of the Liberal party, like one of the paper tails a little boy ties on to the tag-end of his kite."—Farmers' Sun.

If Canadians generally and French-Canadians in particular will not open their eyes to the tricks and snares of this campaign, if they cannot see what is being prepared under the camouflage of maintaining the Constitution and saving liberty they will pay dearly for their lack of understanding. There is no question of the Liberals maintaining the Constitution, there is no question of changing an absolute democracy; there is no question of saving the liberty of the people and of Parliament which nobody is menacing; there is no question of removing the Crown and afterwards the Senate, part of the authority from which the Constitution is derived, to hand it over to the most unstable and least competent element, the Liberal exploiter, with the methods of a demagogue for his profit, rights and aspirations, and even the revenues of the people. The sophisms of Mr. King are quite hollow, quite void. But they touch him less than his hunger for power and for the sweets of office. The eloquence of Mr. King is just the expression of this hunger. All the rest is only palliative and sophism. — Montreal La Minerve.

"In a communication published in this issue Mr. William Allan takes the solid ground that the disclosures made at the Customs inquiry are so serious and far-reaching that nothing should be permitted to stand in the way of impressing upon the minds of the public the enormity of the offenses involved.

"The Customs scandal issue is clear-cut. It opens up one of the sorest spots in Canadian political history, pointing plainly to the need of housecleaning and to the duty of the electors to stand on guard in the future. But to keep the issue straight it is plain that its importance must neither be minimized nor placed out of focus by the injection of charges which will not stand the light of inspection, and which, in the long run, may tend to cast doubt even on the truth.—Toronto Globe.

On all hands we see good reason for expecting that Mr. Meighen will have a good working majority in the next House. In the provinces in which he is strong to-day, his strength is likely to be increased. In Ontario, of whose 82 seats he won 68 in the last election, will probably give him three more this time. In Western Canada there is a fair prospect of his strength being increased by about eight seats. The Maritime Provinces are pretty certain to do as well as they did in the last election and there is a chance of doing still better. In Quebec the conditions are more favorable for Mr. Meighen than they were last year. At that time there was not a single French-Canadian daily supporting his candidates. Now there are four influential French-Canadian dailies advocating the policies and supporting the candidates of Mr. Meighen. The all-Canada Conservative party has now a French-Canadian political leader in the Province of Quebec. Mr. Patenaude is Minister of Justice in the Meighen Cabinet. Mr. Fortier, one of the leading employers of labor and a strong protectionist, is now supporting Mr. Meighen, whereas in the last election he was on the opposite side. In Quebec 246,000 votes were polled for the Conservative candidates in the last election, and a number of seats that went to the Liberal side by a narrow majority may be turned into the Conservative column this time. Another condition that has changed is the control of the election machinery. This time there will be no chance for the stealing of seats by gentry of the "Baldy" Robb type. —Toronto Mail and Empire.

VICTIM DIES OF INJURIES

Injuries received in an accident Saturday afternoon, when a truck fell on him as he was endeavoring to place it on the road, resulted in the death Wednesday afternoon of J. Walter Denyes, age 43, 605 Tyler, in Mercy hospital. The accident happened about 60 miles southeast of Gary, where a truck of the Gary Baking Company had left the road.

Mr. Denyes was chief mechanic of the baking company and he was summoned Saturday to pull one of the company's trucks out of a ditch. Joseph Knudson, age 37, 1009 Cleveland, was the driver of the truck which left the road and overturned. He is now in Methodist hospital with a broken leg.

In attempting to bring the truck back onto the road late Saturday afternoon, Mr. Denyes was pinned beneath it when it toppled over on him again after it had been uprighted. His leg was broken, back was wrenched, ribs crushed and he suffered internal injuries.

His body will lie in state in Williams, Marshall and Good mortuary until Friday noon. Funeral services will be in the Masonic Temple, 6th and Jefferson, at 2 o'clock Friday afternoon, with Rev. Harold R. Martin officiating. He was a member of Lodge No. 677 of the Masons. Burial will be in Ridge Lawn cemetery.

The deceased was born at Odessa, on October 30th, 1882, the eldest son of the late Harvey Denyes, and spent some years with the firm of Macnee & Minnes, Kingston, going from there to Rochester, N.Y., then to Gary, Indiana.

He is survived by his wife, formerly Miss Georgie Reed, Rochester, N.Y.; his mother, Mrs. H. Denyes, and one sister, Mrs. Geo. S. Lucas, of Moscow, Ont.

TAMWORTH SOFTBALL

(For last week).

In the three games played during the last week, the Tamworth girls have certainly given us a fine exhibition of softball and how it should be played. The scores speak for themselves. But while Tamworth has obviously the best team in these parts, their opponents were by no means to be lightly reckoned with. The fast Enterprise nine, who recently gave a close run to the Kingston Treasures, were the first to go down before the Tamworth Go-Getters, with the very decided score of 17-2. This game was played on Tuesday, Aug. 17th. While the Enterprise girls were not up to their usual form in this game, the Tamworth girls displayed A 1 ball-playing throughout.

The next game was played in Camden East on Wednesday, Aug. 18th, with a score of 28-3, in favour of Tamworth,—'nuff said.

Still flushed with this success, the Go-Getters went farther afield to seek victory, and found it at Parham, on Thursday, Aug. 19th, again with the one-sided score of 34-8.

And what was the secret of this uniform success? About sixty per cent. of it lies in the remarkable fast pitching of C. Lockridge. The same old story was repeated in every game. The opposing team found it almost impossible to hit the ball at all, and when they did, they rarely went beyond the infield, where they were speedily picked up by our fast infielders. Of these, G. Gilmour 1st base, and B. Milligan 2nd base, starred. While the outfielders had very little opportunity of displaying their prowess in these three games, it is certain that if they are as good as the rest of the team, they are all right. But we must not forget the one who works behind the scenes. Our catcher, M. Redden, is most efficient. Rarely does a ball get by her, and even less seldom does a runner steal a base from her. She has one of the best pegs any girl player could have.

But the real forte of the Tamworth team lies in the heavy hitting of the team as a whole, and of G. Gilmour, C. Lockridge, A. Lott and M. Redden in particular. This heavy hitting combined with the extraordinarily fine pitching of C. Lockridge, go to make the Tamworth Go-Getters one of, if not the best team in these parts,—perhaps it would not be too rash to say, in the county.

Following is the line-up:

P., C. Lockridge; c., M. Redden; 1b., G. Gilmour; 2b., B. Milligan; 1b., A. Lott; s.s., H. Whalen; r.f., B. Milligan; c.f., J. Milligan; l.f., J. Harrison.

THE GROWING GIRL

Requires a Mother's Constant Care and Watchfulness

In their early teens it is quite common for girls to outgrow their strength, and mothers should carefully watch the health of their daughters at this time, for it is when strength is sapped by too rapid growth that anaemia develops. The first signs may be noticed by peevishness, langour and headaches. The face grows pale, breathlessness and palpitation follow, with low spirits.

At the first symptom of anaemia mothers should act at once. Neglected anaemia often leads to decline, but if you see that your daughter's blood is enriched there need be no cause for anxiety. The finest blood enricher ever discovered is Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. The pure, red blood created by these pills will quickly banish all signs of anaemia. They will build up your girl's health and ensure her a robust girlhood. Give your daughter a course of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills now. Make her strong like thousands of girls and women throughout Canada who have been rescued from the clutches of anaemia by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

You can get these pills through any dealer in medicine, or by mail at 50 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

SWITZERVILLE CENTENARY NEWS

1826—1926.

The year 1926 has been a notable one in many respects, but particularly to the residents of the Switzerville community, because in 1826, just one hundred years ago, the foundations of the old historic church was laid and built. These were the days of the saddle back preacher, whose appointments were far between, and Methodism was being slowly yet surely established in the hearts and homes of the people, who were glad to drive long distances so that they might have the privilege of hearing the Gospel preached, and also to hold Christian fellowship together. In such times, this church began, and to be the centre of Religious activity, and in it the people continued to worship for nearly three-quarters of a century. However, the time came when it was thought necessary to replace the old frame structure with a new brick building to carry on the good work and meet the religious needs of its members and community, so that thereby the worship of God has been carried on through one hundred years. Now that the century mark has been reached it was felt that the present time was fitting to put forth a special effort to repair and beautify the place where God's honors dwell. To-day it stands as a monument of Divine mercies of a century, also as a reminder of the Spiritual labors and sacrifices of the itinerant ministers, local preachers, class leaders, Sunday School and other workers and organizations. It stands also as a challenge to the loyal hearts of the members of Switzerville, which they respond most worthily with the result that the work of renovation is complete, and the re-opening services are being held on Sunday, August 22nd, with the Rev. C. W. DeMille, of Oshawa, a former Pastor, as special preacher at both morning and evening service. On Monday evening, August 23rd, a Harvest Dinner will be served. All who are privileged to attend these services will have an opportunity to observe that Switzerville Church as it stands to-day is unique in its architecture, being a combination of the Gothic and Roman, the roof and ceiling being sharp Gothic, the windows and alcove arches Roman.

In the matter of decoration, the heavily beamed ceiling supports are finished in the tones of the wall, thus placing the tall gabels to great advantage by way of decorating and dividing the ceiling into sixteen beautifully squared panels of solid wood field, the effect being most charming. The walls are of burnt biscuit shade in oil colors, with the Roman arches of the windows and the window jambs pleasingly arched with ivory shades. The alcove in the chancel is also of Roman architecture and is carried out in neutral shades of light biscuit, and the main large arch is of ivory on which is written in cathedral type a suitable biblical quotation. This central Roman arch is supported by two pilasters 8 feet high giving the arch its truer significance and the proper apparent support of strong columns on either side. At the rear of the chancel in silver and gold and other soft colors, a frescoed cross and crown appears, which reads, in cathedral letters and characters, "No Cross, No Crown". The wood work, including seats, pulpit, altar-rail, choir loft screen, are finished in flemish oak shades. The decorations throughout are of oil colors of a high order. The decorative scheme and color combination are the inspiration of C. B. Scantlebury, Architect and Church Decorator, of Belleville. Former members of this historic church who now reside elsewhere, will, we are sure, welcome the above news.

TO MRS. DAVID YOUNG

The Sillsville people, one and all,
Both old and young, both great and small,
Have all met here with purpose same,
To honour Mrs. Young, we came.
For eighty-one years since the day
That she was born have passed away.
Not far did feet or fancy roam
From this small burg she still calls home,
As she has called it all these years—
Here dwelt her hopes, here dwelt her fears.
A tried and trusted friend to all,
No task too great, no task too small,
To win from her a quick response
The call for help was heard but once.
With ready hand and heart she came
To help the weaker in life's game.
And many who are far away
Remember Mrs. Young to-day.

A family to the world she gave,
Taught them to live and to behave.
I fear she must have used the gad,
For Wesley was a lively lad.
And John and Perry, both of which
No doubt full often felt the switch.
Now Bate has lived in U. S. A.
So long I fear she's there to stay.
I wonder what Meighen thinks of that—
'Twould be a feather in his hat
To bring her back with us to live,
What Canada lent the States must give.
And Mary comes each little while
To cheer her mother with her smile.
Sweet Ella passed the Great Divide
Soon after leaving mother's side.
Her partner through her busy life
Has found in her a faithful wife.

The Ladies' Aid has taken the chance
Of this quite happy circumstance,
To give to you a Birthday Party
And thus convey our greetings hearty.
So all your Sillsville friends to-day
The short, the tall, the grave, the gay,
Wish you bon voyage on life's way.

The SMP Roaster is a fine time saver. You put the roast or fowl in the oven. The roaster does the rest, bastes, roasts to perfection. It roasts with very little shrinkage, thus saving dollars every year. None of the tasty meat juices are lost; all the rich flavor is retained. Besides you can buy cheaper cuts, for it makes cheap cuts taste like choice ones.

The close fitting cover keeps all the cooking odors and the grease inside the roaster—the smell of cooking doesn't fill the house, and the oven is kept sweet and clean. Best of all, it cleans out in a jiffy after the roasting. These are splendid vessels. Price 85c. to $1.50 according to size and finish. Sold in all hardware stores.

"Then, I Learned How to Shave."

"I had developed the habit, like lots of fellows, of shaving year after year with the same old "safety".

"I was out camping with a chap who used a Valet AutoStrop Razor and was very enthusiastic. 'Just try it,' he urged.

"Results! What a difference! It is all in the stropping, I learned.

"I'll never go back to the ordinary "safety" because I'll never be content with the blade giving only a few shaves, the blade getting duller with every shave. Believe me, those two weeks convinced me that I had been in a rut as far as shaving is concerned."

This is the experience of many men. Maybe you are in a habit rut. Have you tried the Valet AutoStrop Razor which automatically sharpens its blades without removal—cleans too, without removal?

Why keep to old fashioned ways? Just try a Valet AutoStrop Razor. Note its superiority.

BETTER TELEPHONE SERVICE

Frequent users of the long distance telephone have noted a marked speeding up of the service within the past few days on connections to many distant points. The change is due to the introduction of a new method of handling the call by the long distance operators. The usual practice has been, when a subscriber asks for "long distance", to connect him with a special operator who records on a ticket the details of the call, while he hangs up until connection is established.

Under the new method, the long distance operator receiving the call is able, on practically all messages where the number wanted is given, to connect the subscriber with the telephone in the distant city without its being necessary for him to hang up his receiver.

"All that is necessary," Manager Nolan remarked in explaining the new system to The Beaver to-day, "is that the calling subscriber should give the long distance operator the number of the distant telephone. Of course, if he does not know the number we can look it up for him, but in that case it may be necessary for him to hang up, as heretofore, and wait until the connection is established.

"This new type of service," Miss Nolan added, "is one of the most important advances in recent years in long distance telephone operating. Our subscribers who have been using the service recently are greatly impressed with its speed and effectiveness."

LUCAS TELLS INSIDE HISTORY OF SESSION

Says King Offered To Give Progressives Whatever They Demanded As Price of Their Support

W. T. Lucas, former member for Camrose, Alberta, gave to the convention, which renominated him recently, on account of his stewardship at Ottawa, the reasons which prompted him to vote as he did. He threw in a lot of lurid details for good measure. Mr. Lucas reviewed the actions of himself, the Alberta group and of the Progressive group from the time Parliament opened to the close. At the conclusion he was renominated by a clear majority over two other candidates for the position.

Mr. Lucas opened by saying he went down to Ottawa with an open mind, but it was apparent to him that, Mr. Meighen with the largest group and with a favorable Senate, could give the west the legislation it wanted much more easily than Mr. King.

"He had been charged with being a Tory," he said. He debated the charge emphatically. If there had been three sides to the question, he might have been able to vote differently. When he voted with the Liberals, there was no charge of being not independent, but when he voted with the other side it somehow was different. No decision was arrived at in the Calgary meeting before the session, because it was not known which party would be in office.

Mr. Lucas dwelt upon the pressure which was brought to bear on the Progressives and U.F.A. members by the Liberals. He outlined the proceedings leading up to and subsequent to a straw vote taken by the Progressives at the opening of the session. Fourteen points regarding legislation had been submitted to Mr. Meighen and Mr. King. Mr. Meighen's answer was clear cut and definite, he said, but he and the group were not just satisfied with it, and hoped for something more definite from Mr. King. Mr. Lucas ridiculed the replies of Mr. King. He tried to find out what the westerners wanted and then give it or anything for their support.

Mr. King's reply left Mr. Lucas the same as he was before. The western group, Mr. Lucas said, was promised practically the same thing from each side. It was a question as to which had the better chance of getting it over, the Liberals, with a greatly reduced number of 101, or the Conservatives, with their ranks increased from 50 to 116. Mr. Lucas said he wanted to get what he believed was right from whatever party would offer it. The end of the session, he said, justified his stand at the first. With both replies before them, the western group met in caucus, many times. On the opening day the tacticians were working.

Invaded Caucus.

Seeing their own predicament, the Liberals that evening herded the Progressives on the sixth floor of the house, where Vincent Massey, and Mr. Bowman, editor of the Ottawa Citizen, tried to influence them. Words condemning others of intrigue did not come very well from Mr. King at this time. For the first time in his knowledge an outsider rushed into their private caucus and told the party what was going to be done. Mr. Bowman was the message carrier.

In caucus that Tuesday night the Progressives took a secret ballot straw vote to find out where they stood without making the result binding. The result was twelve to ten in favor of going in with the Conservatives, and when that was announced three more stood up and said that they would join the majority, making the vote 15 to 7. Mr. Forke almost broke down, and announced that the party could have his resignation.

There was never another vote taken in caucus on the question, the next being in the House of Commons where their vote stood five for Conservatives, fifteen for Liberals. The Premier, then not able to sit in the House, asked Mr. Lucas to come to see him, and tried to talk him over—something Mr. Lucas thought to be poor tactics for a man in his position.

Speaking of the last few days in the House, he thought what went on to be the most disgraceful he had seen in his life. The Government put on pressure on the Progressive members.

"Those last days I went through a regular hell, something I never want to go through again. The Government was trying to do all sorts of things."

Mr. Lucas charged that they tried to intimidate Mr. Campbell by means of a letter found in the files of the Department of Justice, in which Mr. Campbell was representing the claims for someone in his district. The files had been deliberately searched, said Mr. Lucas, to find such. Mr. Fansher was threatened the same way, but Mr. King is reported to have told him that he had safeguarded himself somewhat by writing on the letter that he made no request personally in regard to the matter in which representation was made. Mr. Lucas quoted Mr. King as stating to these gentlemen: "We have you in a very dangerous position."

Mr. Lucas condemned the late Government for bringing down the kind of speech from the throne it did. It should have been a simple thing, he said, "so that the Conservatives could have had an equal chance at securing Progressive support." The occasion for his really falling out with the King administration was over the natural resources bill. He did not see why Quebec people should want to interfere with a school system in a province where it had operated satisfactorily for 21 years.

The King budget, Mr. Lucas said, was good. It was an election budget. Mr. King planned to put the rest of the Progressives out of action in an election based on it this fall, "and he is accomplishing it in Manitoba, too," said Mr. Lucas. At this point he gave figures to show that the average tariffs in the last three years had been higher under Liberal rule than under the previous administration.

Scenes of Disgrace

Mr. Lucas condemned the King Government unmercifully on the Customs scandal. The obscenity and rottenness, although not applying to the actual working of the department, suggested the conditions of affairs and the character of the men in charge. An efficient man at the head of the port of Montreal had been removed and Bisaillon worked his nefarious way up to the top until the Mounted Police had to report on him. His stenographer was receiving $3,600 per year and a bonus. She was the mistress to a Minister of the Crown, and the general conditions were such, he said, that he defied any newspaper to print the obscene stuff. The girl had the officials blackmailed, and the Government knew it. The much-talked-of steamer Margaret had been supplied with whiskey, a party of fast women and Jacques Bureau was in charge.

The Protective Association had spent $20,000 of its own money to get information about Bisaillon. When Mr. King heard of their findings he suggested that they make a charge, and they would have a Commission appointed. If my house was on fire, asked Mr. Lucas, and somebody told me about it, would I wait a charge before doing something?

The question came up in the party to support Mr. Kennedy which meant a motion of censure or doing otherwise. When Mr. Kennedy made his report, pressure was brought to bear to have him change and make it less drastic, but nothing would move him. "Should I support our own man who attended faithfully every session of the Probe Committee or do according to the dictates of party? In caucus it was agreed to support the Kennedy report. I did not bolt from the party. Time and again we agreed in caucus, and afterward in the House the vote was entirely different."

Dealing with the actions of Mr. King and the Governor-General at the close of the session, the Government saw it was to be defeated, said Mr. Lucas, and, rather than be defeated on a scandal, it resigned. It was trying to find a way out. Then when Mr. Meighen wanted to try to salvage the legislation that it had taken six months to discuss, Mr. King refused to discuss the matter. The Governor-General would have been a moral coward if he had done anything else than he did do.

"There are some things that an honorable man cannot compromise on," concluded Mr. Lucas.

"If I cannot stand on a strong U. F. A. platform, I do not want to go back at all. After the action of the last six months, I don't want to be associated with the name Progressive. At the outset, the only time the question was considered away from some legislation, we voted 15 to 7 to support the Conservatives, and Mr. Forke said that if we did that we could have his resignation. That was the only decision, and it came early in the session.—The Picton Gazette, August 19th, 1926.

YOU'LL find the smooth Chevrolet leads always in the front of the traffic line. At the sound of the whistle or the sight of the word "Go", the smooth Chevrolet is first to get away.

Chevrolet will run rings around large, cumbersome cars—weaving in and out of traffic with ease that is almost uncanny. Chevrolet may be turned completely around in the width of an ordinary road. It can be parked with ease in a surprisingly small space. It will gather speed on hills where bigger, costlier cars slow down. And always the Chevrolet driver knows that, pulsating quietly beneath the hood, is abundant power that will not fail him in an emergency, while Chevrolet, above any cars in its class, possesses the smoothness that makes driving—either fast or slow—a source of pleasure and satisfaction.

ALBERT SAMPSON KILLED BY TRAIN

Residents of the community were shocked to hear of the untimely death of Albert Sampson, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Sampson, Monday morning.

Albert, who was a contractor in Lansing, was working with his crew of men on construction of concrete work between the rails near the Ivy Union depot. He was attempting to remove a form of concrete from one track on which a freight was coming. He was unable to do this and just as the freight struck the form he jumped to the next track, in the path of an engine travelling south on that track.

The victim was carried about 200 feet from the point where he was struck by the engine. The contractor's leg was severed, an arm was broken, and his body crushed. He was rushed to the Sparrow hospital, but he died shortly after arriving. Albert's father, two sisters, Anna and Laura, accompanied Mr. Stinson on his trip to Lansing for the body.

Mr. Sampson is survived by his wife, father and mother, four sisters, Bessie, Mrs. Laura Colter, Anna and Mrs. Marion O'Shaneesey, and one brother, Wilson.

He was born at Mt. Pleasant, July 26th, 1889. He received his education in the Mt. Pleasant schools, and at Trent Institute, where he was well liked by all. In 1911 he married Miss Louise Clarkow. When he was 35 years old he moved to Lansing. There he made a name for himself in contracting circles and was a member of the Sampson and Holland Contracting Company.

He was deputy sheriff for our county in 1911-12, and was undersheriff in 1915-16 when his father was sheriff.

The family has the deepest sympathy of the community in their loss.

Funeral services for the deceased were held at the home at 2 p.m., yesterday, the Rev. C. B. Hopkins, officiating.—Isabella County Enterprise, Mt. Pleasant, Mich., Friday, August 20th, 1926.

Deceased is a nephew of Mr. George Sampson and Mrs. Mary Sampson, Napanee.

The Oil for the Farmer.—A bottle of Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil in the farm house will save many a journey for the doctor. It is not only good for the children when taken with colds and croup, and for the mature who suffer from pains and aches, but there are directions for its use on sick cattle. There should always be a bottle of it in the house.

TAMWORTH UNITED CHURCH

The sermon subject for next Sunday is "Squaring One's Life by the Golden Rule"—a Labor Day sermon.

Absence makes the heart grow fonder. The minister, with his wife and son, Floyd, find themselves delighted to be back to Tamworth, after a four weeks' vacation. Paul and Willard remained for a season in Michigan and Kenneth left for his school in Porquis Junction on Thursday of this week.

During the early part of our vacation Mr. Hugh Close, one of the members of the Tamworth congregation, was called to his long home. Rev. Mr. Wilson, of Roblin, kindly took charge of the funeral service in the absence of the minister.

Last Monday afternoon Wm. A. Matthews, the 35-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Adam Matthews, of Erinsville, passed into the beautiful beyond. The funeral service was held in the United Church at Tamworth at 10.30 a.m. on Wednesday. For ten years Mr. Matthews lived in a dark world, being totally blind, but now with him it is light.

Our sympathy goes out to John McGregor, who was stricken with paralysis last Monday morning and has lain in an unconscious condition ever since.

Our Y. P. S., both at Tamworth and Marlbank, will meet for reorganization next week, the one on Monday and the other on Tuesday evening.

The field day exercises held in Marlbank last Wednesday afternoon, under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid Society, were fairly well attended. The softball game between the girls of Roblin and Marlbank, and the baseball game between Sulphide and Marlbank were of special interest.

Keep Children Well During Hot Weather

Every mother knows how fatal the hot summer months are to small children. Cholera infantum, diarrhoea, dysentry, colic and stomach troubles are rife at this time and often a precious little life is lost after only a few hours' illness. The mother who keeps Baby's Own Tablets in the house feels safe. The occasional use of the Tablets prevent stomach and bowel troubles, or if trouble comes suddenly—as it generally does—the Tablets will bring the baby safely through. They are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

The Customs Scandal

With the customs investigation still far from finished, the King Government already stands convicted of having co-operated with smugglers, bootleggers, dopesters and thieves, and of having thus been a party to defrauding the National Treasury, strangling legitimate business, debauching officials, high and low, thwarting the administration of justice, and bribing the electorate!

To cite but a few instances--already proven--from its appalling record of malfeasance:

1 Stolen automobiles, smuggled into Canada with the connivance of Customs officials, were sold for a pittance to friends of the King Government, and those found guilty were allowed not only to go unpunished, but to continue their nefarious trade.

2 Smuggled liquor selling was engaged in on a large scale by Customs officials whose duty it was to protect the Treasury.

3 Corrupt officials were unpunished and promoted; honest officials were punished and demoted.

4 Prison-made goods are on the prohibited list, yet tons and tons of such goods, produced in prisons where contagious diseases were prevalent among the inmates, were smuggled into Canada for sale to innocent Canadian consumers, with the direct knowledge and co-operation of Government officials.

5 Police officers—members of the incorruptible Royal Canadian Mounted—were withdrawn from the Quebec boundary line at the request of the smuggling ring. Honest traders had asked for increased police protection, but the King Government preferred to grant the request of those who were defrauding the public revenue.

6 Guilty knowledge even in 1923 of the frauds that were being practised has been proven against the King Government beyond the shadow of a doubt. Time and again, in 1924 and 1925, the Commercial Protective Association—an organization of business men—placed before Mr. King irrefutable evidences of it, that they had succeeded in tracing down at their own expense. With his Government hopelessly entangled with Canada's criminal element, Mr. King did not—dared not—take any action to remedy the appalling conditions.

7 A total revenue loss estimated at $35,000,000 per year was the result of the smuggling thus condoned by the King Government.

8 A $54,800 loss was sustained in one case alone when Mr. Cardin, Acting Minister of Customs and Excise, settled for $3,200 with a dishonest importer, who, according to Mr. Cardin's own officials, had cheated the Treasury out of duties amounting to $58,000. This deal was consummated just previous to the last election.

9 Free liquor, from Government warehouses in Montreal, was supplied in generous quantities to members of the King Government and to Government officials in Ottawa, in contravention both of the Federal Law and the Prohibition Law of Ontario.

10 The habit-forming drug traffic is one of the worst curses in the world today. Under the protection of the King Government, Montreal became one of the great dope-distributing centres of North America.

11 The peak of this corruption, and of this interference with the Customs collection and the administration of justice, is proven by the evidence to have been reached just prior to the general election of October, 1925, when, at the written request of Liberal candidates, Ministers of the Crown called off the Royal Canadian Mounted Police because they were enforcing the law, kept convicted crooks out of jail, and sanctioned Treasury frauds as a means of securing the return of the King Government to power.

Despite the fact that with Mr. Kennedy supporting them, the Liberals had a majority on the Investigation Committee, that the Chairman Mr. Mercier was a Liberal, and that the Prosecuting Counsel Mr. Calder was a Liberal candidate in the last election, and despite the further fact that the committee sat almost daily for five months, thus affording Liberal members ample opportunity to uncover malfeasance on the part of previous ministries, not one word of proof, not one breath of suspicion, was brought against the administration of the Customs Department under the Laurier, Borden and Meighen Governments, but only against its administration under Mr. William Lyon MacKenzie King!

Has anything more disgraceful ever besmirched the pages of Canadian history? Can a proud and honourable nation, whose people fear God and eschew evil, afford to condone such dishonesty, such corruption, on the part of its leaders and public servants?

With so thorough a preparation at hand as Miller's Worm Powders, the mother who allows her children to suffer from the ravages of worms is unwise and culpably careless. A child subjected to the attacks of worms is always unhealthy, and will be stunted in its growth. It is a merciful act to rid it of these destructive parasites, especially when it can be done without difficulty.

It's your duty, Mother, to see that the frail, peaked, sickly youngster grows up to be strong in body, keen in mind and robust in health.

Extracted from the livers of the lowly codfish are the health, weight and strength producing vitamines that are found in McCoy's Cod Liver Extract Tablets, which are sold by pharmacists all over North and South America.

Doctor's know about them and so do all druggists, and if your children need building up ask for these tablets to-day if you want to give your loved ones a good appetite and put pounds of good healthy flesh on their bones. But be sure and get McCoy's.

They are not expensive—60 tablets 60 cents—and if you are not pleased with the improvement after 30 days—your money back.

DENBIGH

(For last week)

Miss Lucy Schenseich and her brother, Rudolph, of Kitchener, who have enjoyed a few weeks' country life here with relatives, have returned to their city home. — Mr. and Mrs. J. Adams, of Peterboro', who enjoyed about a week's pleasant visit with the former's parents, Dr. and Mrs. J. Adams; have also returned home.—Albert Wienecke, of Rochester, N.Y., who spent a few days here last week, has returned to the city, accompanied by his mother and his brother, Alfred, who will visit some of their relatives residing there.—M. Ready and his son, Andrew, who are employed at Boston Creek, in Northern Ontario, arrived to renew some old acquaintances at their old home here. Andrew had only a few days' leave, and has already left on his return, but his father intends to extend his visit to at least a week.—Mrs. Wm. Nicholson and her baby daughter, Corinna, who were welcome guests of the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. Stein, have returned to Ottawa. — Miss Viola Kossmack, of Eganville, is a welcome visitor of Miss Bertha Stein.

The quietness of the village was broken on Friday, when it was learned that Frank Blakely had been arrested by two Provincial Officers. Blakely, who lives near Griffith, has been burning lime near Denbigh, and it would seem he has been making moonshine and disposing of it to one or more parties near Denbigh, who, it is said, made a practice of spending Saturday and Sunday at Thirty Island Lake, where they found sale for the booze. On Friday Blakely was on his way from Griffith to Denbigh, and when about seven miles out was approached by the officers, who found several bottles in his rig. He was taken in hand, and with the officers, left for Napanee. This is Blakely's second or third offence, so he will not likely get off very easily. —Mr. M. Ready and two sons, Andy and William, are renewing acquaintances in Denbigh, their former home. —Mr. and Mrs. Geo. A. Smith left for Ottawa to spend a few days. — Mr. and Mrs. Joe Adams, of Peterboro', have returned home, after visiting with the former's parents, Dr. and Mrs. Adams, Denbigh. — Mrs. Faulk, of the Faulk House, returned home, after visiting relatives in Oswego, N.Y.—Miss Louise Faulk is enjoying a visit with her sister, Mrs. E. Napanee Loses Fine Girl Athlete.

On Wednesday Napanee lost its best all-round girl athlete. The girl in question is Miss Dorothy Richardson, well known in all branches of girls' athletic activities both in the town and surrounding district. Dorothy was the star of the N.C.I. girls' Basketball Team for two years, and her work will be sorely missed. She was also captain of the School champions last year. She was Girls' Athletic Champion for 1925-5 at N.C.I. and was without a peer on the track or at the pits. Besides this she was a star softball player. Her stellar work will long be remembered by the fans who are very sorry to see her go. Her destination is Ottawa, and the fans are wishing her the best of good fortune and hope that she will be as prominent in athletics there as here. Always popular with everybody she will leave a host of friends here and no doubt will find just as many in the Capital.

SOFTBALL

On Friday evening the newly organized and rejuvenated St. Pats defeated the much-touted Kingston Supremes by a 17-10 score at the N.C.I. grounds. The winners were much the better team and deserved their win.

Beatrice McGuire was the star of the game with a homer, a triple and three singles in five times up. Her homer landed right at the school door and was a tremendous wallop. She also pitched a nice game. Marion Grass, Dorothy Richardson, Dorothy Johnston and Florence Kinkley were the new-comers to the team.

Dorothy Richardson made a nice catch in left field, and Dorothy Johnston did some stellar playing at 1st base.

Marie Pappas did the twirling for Kingston, but was no puzzle to the locals. G. Pappas at short and H. Pappas behind the plate, did good work.

Line-up :—

Kingston—H. Pappas c., M. Pappas p., E. Truesdale 1b., E. Scrutton 2b., G. Pappas s.s., G. Craig 3b., R. Cunningham lf., I. Gordon, cf., R. Timblett rf.

St. Pats—M. Grass c., B. McGuire p., D. Johnston 1b., M. Embury 2b., B. McGuire ss., I. Embury 3b., D. Richardson lf., F. Kinkley cf., J. McGraw rf.

Umpires—Messrs. Naphin and Richards.

Next Week's Softball Card

The Mercantile League will wind up its schedule on Monday evening, when "B" Company and 86, I.O.O.F., will clash at the N.C.I. grounds. 86 boasts of some mighty sweet players and the Oddfellows intend to give the soldiers a run for their money. A large crowd is expected, and the game will start exactly at 6.30.

Softball will lose another valuable performer, when Mary Bates leaves for Uncle Sam's domain, with her parents, in the course of a few weeks. Miss Bates is well known to the fans, chiefly because of her everlasting jesting even when in defeat. She was the star of the champion Grace Church team and her place will be hard to fill.

Miss Dorothy Richardson was presented with a beautiful wrist watch by a host of admirers at a surprise party which was staged at her home last week. About forty girls assembled at her home and took her completely by surprise. On Friday evening the Leafs also honoured her in the "B" Company Club Room, with another party, and a beautiful gift of a fountain pen and pencil. Dorothy takes with her the best wishes of every player and fan in this district, and her work will long be remembered by the supporters of the Leafs and the fans in general. A better all-round girl athlete was never seen in Napanee.

The work of the Napanee Leafs at the Fair was highly praised by all who saw them in action, and some fans even voiced the opinion that they couldn't see how Napanee finished so poorly in the League. They trimmed Belleville Beaver and Deseronto Ponies, and played great ball all through.

The Leafs will leave for Toronto either to-day or to-morrow, where they will play the return game with the Nationals of that city. Quite a number of fans will accompany the team.

Belleville High School won the championship of the Bay of Quinte Softball League on Tuesday evening when they defeated the Deseronto Ponies by 17-11 in the Bay town. The score stood 11-11 in the 7th, but Belleville came through in the 8th to score six runs and win the game. Both teams played far below their regular form.

Batteries :—

Belleville—Messrs. Ramsay and Wilkins.

Deseronto—Messrs. Wagar and Hoppings.

Umpires :—Woodley, Belleville, at plate; Weir, Belleville, at 1b.; and Naphin, Napanee, at 3b.

Belleville had defeated Deseronto 22-2 last week. Woodley, of Belleville, was Deseronto's choice in the last game.

Treasures 15, Leafs 9.

On Wednesday evening the Kingston Treasures defeated the Leafs at Riverdale Park, before a small crowd, by a 15-9 score. The locals were without the services of Marion Grass, hard-hitting backstop, and her hitting was missed. Hazel O'Neill, however, made a good job of it behind the plate. Margaret Douglas contributed a few errors at 1b. but this was due to a badly swollen finger. However, she came through with two timely wallops to drive in four runs. The amusing part of the game came in when Marion Embury stole 3rd and home in succession before the pitcher woke up, and Mary Stinson travelled all the way to 3rd while the pitcher was having her little snooze. Kathleen Ungar made four different catches in centre field, Violet Whitton, Deseronto shortstop, played 3b for the locals, and now the Leafs have a fast, young infield. Lil Wagar, Deseronto pitcher, also played for the Leafs. Both players will make the trip to Toronto, and play for the Leafs.

Boxing fans might be interested to know that another of our local boxers has entered the professional ring, and is making a name for himself in the Queen City. Joe Deschene is the boy to discard his amateur status and try to raise the name of Napanee into the sport world. Deschene is well known locally. He has signed with the Manager of Al. Holmes, well known Toronto boxer, and is doing his boxing as a bantamweight. He has boxed several bouts and has come out favourably each time.

A Foe to Asthma. Give Asthma half a chance and it gains ground rapidly. But give it repeated treatments of Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Asthma Remedy and it will fall back even faster. There is no half way measure about this remedy. It goes right to work and drives asthma out. It reaches the inmost breathing passages and leaves no place for the trouble to lurk. Have it by you for ready use.

WEDDING BELLS.

Bell—Peters.

A quiet wedding took place at the United Church Parsonage, Enterprise, on Wednesday, Sept. 1st, at 10 a.m., when Miss Blanche Bell, daughter of Stanley Bell, of Enterprise, and Mr. Carman Peters, son of Ross Peters, of Wilton, were united in marriage by Rev. H. A. Bunt, B.A.

The bride was becomingly attired in a dress of cocoa brown crepe, with hat and coat to match. Miss Luella Peters, sister of the groom, acted as bridesmaid, while Mr. Keith Simmons was best man. After the ceremony the young couple left for Napanee and points West on a brief honeymoon, after which they will reside at Wilton. Mr. and Mrs. Peters are followed into their new home by the good wishes of scores of friends, a number of whom gathered at the parsonage, while the ceremony was in progress, to cheer them on their way.

POLITICAL COMMENT

The following editorial extracts are taken from the issue of September 4th, 1926, of "The Toronto Saturday Night", an independent weekly jour- nal.

The Wall Street Magazine on Canada

Mr. E. D. King, managing editor of Wall Street Magazine, amplifies what he assumes to be the Liberal at- titude at considerable length, and his article is prefaced by an editorial note which after dwelling upon the large financial holdings of American capitalists in Canada concludes: "It seems that world history is in the making in Canada and nothing less is at stake than whether Canada is to continue in the British Empire, or gradually cut loose". After dilating on the "internal dissensions" with which he says Canada is torn, the writer touches on the Liberal leader, "Harvard Graduate and former head of the Rockefeller Foundation". "Mr. King and his followers" the article explains "are opposed to the protect- ionist principle and are nationalist in sentiment; that is, they believe Cana- da ought to be entirely independent and free of British influence. They do not admit it so openly but neverthe- less all their policies are colored by the general objective."

Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen on the other hand is spoken of as "an able politician who cannot see a future for Canada except under the British aegis."

He next deals with the coming Im- perial Conference, and says that the edifice of the British Empire "will be strong only if the British can count on Canada being in". But can she? is the thought in his mind, for he con- tinues: "At present, this is a most uncertain matter. If, at the forth- coming elections the Conservatives gain a majority in the House of Par- liament, then the Dominion may find herself represented in London by a Conservative Prime Minister and this would mean that Canada had set her feet in the direction of closer rela- tions to the United Kingdom. If, on the other hand, the Liberals win, then the British Government may as well give up their idea of a solid British Empire. Here (in the United States) the approaching elections must be considered a milestone in Canada's history."

The final paragraphs of the article deal with the economic situation and point out that Canada has been growing much more slowly than she should. Mr. King does not think an- nexation will come quickly, and be- lieves that for the present "it would seem that the least civil commotion would be caused if Canada would con- tinue under the British Banner." But he earlier says: "Economically, America, and not England, is the mo- ther country. The Conservatives claim, not without justice, that if the Liberals have their way and Canada becomes entirely independent of the United Kingdom, she will be too weak to stand by herself and that economic determinism will compel her to seek protection through some more or less formal arrangements with the United States."

Uncle Sam's Interest in the Elections

In no Canadian election since the Reciprocity campaign of 1911 have American publications taken so much interest in the progress of events as in the present contest. There have been editorials in leading publications of many states of the union, many of them ill-informed, but all based on the assumption that Uncle Sam has a direct stake in the result. Very much against his will, we should assume, Rt. Hon. William Lyon Mackenzie King has been taken under the eagle's wing in most of these utterances which are of the friendliest nature, and reflect a willingness to take Can- ada into the Union not forcibly but by peaceful assent. Generally speak- ing recent American discussions of the Canadian campaign have been casual interpretations of the unfor- tunate "constitutional" issue raised by the Liberals. Most Canadians are aware that it is mere camouflage, and will be forgotten in a month from now, but in the United States, where less is known of the actual situation, it is assumed that there is a power- ful party in Canada anxious to break away from Imperial connection, and looking toward closer political rela- tions with the United States.

Evils of Minority Dictation

Disgraceful as was the Customs scandal, and disastrous as it was to business, it was hardly a greater evil than irresponsible government dic- tated by insignificant minorities. Mr. King is treating the country to fig- ures showing favorable trade bal- ances, which are utterly fallacious when the vast aggregate of unlisted imports which were smuggled into Canada in recent years is added to the port returns. He has boasted of a prosperity bestowed on this country by Providence in the shape of three bountiful harvests,—but it is a pros- perity of which the people at large have not enjoyed the full benefits ow- ing too instability and irresponsibility at Ottawa. Liberal candidates have made a boast of the "Robb Budget", but that budget was promulgated in such a way as to alarm and paralyze the business of the country for weeks. Messrs. King and Robb were the first to attempt to scuttle it and sacrifice it for the sake of their precious "con- stitutional" issue, when they refused to co-operate with Mr. Meighen in finishing the business of the session. The Robb budget, in truth, was in its ultimate form a joint product to which both opposition and govern- ment contributed. In its original form, of which the indignation of the country forced the alteration it was dictated by Mr. Forke and his small group of Progressives, and for weeks the uncertainty it created did untold mischief. When Mr. King's own Liberal following was finally permit- ted to function, the objectionable features of the Budget were modified, and the Conservatives behaved excel- lently by refraining from any at- tempt to make party capital out of a matter in which manifold business in- terests were seriously involved. This episode shows how much better it is to have the stronger and older parties with a stake in the whole country in charge of affairs.

The whole history of the Budget shows how difficult it is to deal with the pros and cons of propositions in which the economic affairs of the country are deeply involved at a time when every political maverick feels himself in a position to dictate to the government. The influence of the two Winnipeg Communists, Messrs. Heaps and Woodsworth, ove the gov- ernment was a matter of such notor- iety that in their home city they did not hesitate to boast that they held the balance of power. The manner in which they secured recognition for the One Big Union, in close alliance with the Third Internationale of Mos- cow, has on several occasions been ventilated in these columns. They had Mr. King so subdued that he felt obliged to declare himself neutral on the subject of the British General Strike, backed by Soviet money and aimed at the destruction of the Brit- ish constitutional system. These are matters in which the West is more interested than the East, where Mos- cow ideas have failed to get a foot- hold; but perhaps the most flagrant instance of minority dictation was when Mr. Bourassa was able to hold up the Alberta Natural Resources bill and proved himself more powerful than actual cabinet ministers like Hon. Mr. Dunning, Hon. Mr. Mother- well and Hon. Mr. Stewart.

The great question is of course whether the polling on September 14th will restore to Canada, stable government. It has been lacking since the beginning of 1922; and it was a natural consequence of the ad- vent of the group system in the Cana- dian House of Commons, four and a half years ago, that instability should in the end breed dishonest and irre- sponsible government. At the elec- tions of last October the electorate went a considerable length toward getting rid of the group system, but did not go far enough. There was an immense slump in the Progressive vote as registered in 1921; a drop from 769,387 to 282,599 votes, nearly half a million; and much the greater part of these votes went to Conserva- tive candidates. But the tremendous- ly increased support accorded Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen fell short of crystallizing in seats sufficient to give him a working majority in the House of Commons.

WEDDING BELLS

Thomlinson—Holt.

A wedding of unusual interest took place at St. John's Church, Bath, Ontario, on Saturday, September 4th, at three o'clock, when Dorothy, only daughter of the late W. N. Holt, Midleton, County Cork, Ireland, and Mrs. G. W. Cuppage, Lakeview, Bath, was united in marriage to Mr. Philip Eric Thomlinson, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Thomlinson, Toronto. The Church was beautifully decorated for the occasion. The Rector, the Rev. W. G. Swayne, officiated, the wedding music being played by Mrs. Swayne. The surpliced Choir entered the Church, singing "The Voice That Breathed O'er Eden". The tune used was specially composed for the wedding of the bride's mother, by T. Maldwyn Price, Esq., R.A.M., of Welshpool, North Wales.

The bride, who was given away by her step-father, Mr. G. W. Cuppage, wore a simple frock of shell pink georgette with godets of cream lace. Her large picture hat was of pink georgette and taffeta with chin strap and streamers of black velvet. She wore silver shoes, and carried a shower bouquet of roses and lily of the valley. Her two attendants were gowned alike in period frocks of taffeta and georgette. Their hats were of georgette with velvet chin straps and streamers in deeper shades. The maid of honor, Miss Naomi Carmichael, wore orchid, the bridesmaid, Miss Doris Thomlinson, sister of the groom, was in powder blue. They wore silver shoes and carried old-fashioned nosegays of roses and sweet peas. The groom was attended by his brother, Mr. Frank Thomlinson. The ushers were Mr. Harold Northmore and Mr. Eric Holt.

A reception was afterwards held at Lakeview, the home of the bride's parents, when the bride's mother received in a gown of Reseda green crepe romaine, with hat to match. Mr. and Mrs. Thomlinson left later for a trip on the St. Lawrence and Saguenay Rivers. The bride's travelling costume was of blue and blonde crepe with smart tweed sports coat and felt hat to match. On their return they will reside in Toronto.

ARE YOU AFRAID OF YOUR MEALS?

Proof that the Stomach is Weak and Needs Toning Up.

Are you one of the many sufferers who dread meal time? Hungry, and yet afraid to eat, because of the pains and discomforts that follow. When the stomach is out of order the whole system suffers, and as the blood becomes thin and watery it becomes increasingly difficult to correct the digestive disorder. There is no tonic for the stomach that is not a tonic for the whole body; thus a blood-building tonic such as Dr. Williams' Pink Pills not only relieves indigestion, but adds to the general strength. Mr. D. J. Shaw, Selkirk Road, P.E.I., has proved the value of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills in a severe case of indigestion and relates his experience for the benefit of other sufferers. He says:—"I suffered from indigestion for a number of years. My case was so bad that words fail to describe it. My appetite was gone, constipation was present, and my nerves were all on edge. I could not sleep well at night, and the world was a dark spot for me. I tried a number of remedies, but without any benefit. Then Dr. Williams' Pink Pills were recommended, but without much faith, after so many failures, I decided to try them. After baking three boxes I noticed a change for the better. Then I got three boxes more and found I had a genuine remedy. I continued the treatment, took moderate exercise, could take plain food without suffering as formerly, and proved that these pills make good blood, and that this good blood will restore the stomach and nerves. Anyone suffering from stomach or nerve troubles will make no mistake in giving Dr. Williams' Pink Pills a fair trial."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all medicine dealers or will be sent by mail at 50 cents a box by The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont. Write to-day for a copy of the free booklet "What to Eat and How to Eat".

A pleasant feature of the evening was the presentation of a handsome wool sweater coat to each of the members of the team, fifteen in number. The presentations were made by Miss Alice Holmes. This was made possible by the efforts of Mr. Fred Henderson, in collecting donations. The sweaters are of dark maroon with yellow and black "O", and are very attractive. Asthma Cannot Last when the greatest of all asthma specifics is used. Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Asthma Remedy assuredly deserves this exalted title. It has to its credit thousands of cases which other preparations had failed to benefit. It brings help to even the most severe cases and brings the patient to a condition of blessed relief. Surely suffering from asthma is needless when a remedy like this is so easily secured.

BAY CIRCUIT.

After our short vacation near Cobourg and at Fenelon Falls and Toronto, we have returned much refreshed, and earnestly desire to serve every person in the best interest of the Kingdom.—Considering the weather, we had good congregations at each of the services on Sunday. Rev. W. J. M. Cragg, M.A., of Kobe, Japan, will be with us on Sunday and Monday, Sept. 19th and 20th. Subject for next Sunday's discourse, "God's Waiting Ones".

With a cross-word puzzle in his hand he was crossing a busy street, lost in thought over a nine-letter word meaning "the act of striking together."

Suddenly an auto hit him. As he reached the hospital he gained consciousness and muttered, "I've got it —collision."

Don't try to kill time. Time can stand the racket longer than you can.

The Oil of Power.—It is not claimed for Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil that it will remedy every ill, but its uses are so various that it may be looked upon as a general pain killer. It has achieved that greatness for itself and its excellence is known to all who have tested its virtues and learned by experience.

SUMMER HEAT HARD ON BABY

No season of the year is so dangerous to the life of little ones as is the summer. The excessive heat throws the little stomach out of order so quickly that unless prompt aid is at hand, the baby may be beyond all human help before the mother realizes he is ill. Summer is the season when diarrhoea, cholera infantum, dysentry and colic are most prevalent. Any of these troubles may prove deadly if not promptly treated. During the summer the mothers' best friend is Baby's Own Tablets. They regulate the bowels, sweeten the stomach and keep baby healthy. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

ROD AND GUN

A collection of articles of real sport in various parts of the Dominion sums up the contents of the September issue of Rod and Gun, the Canadian sport magazine, which is just published.

An interesting article on some moose experiences, principally in Eastern Canada by William J. McNulty appears followed by an amusing story of a British Columbia trip, "Poor Fish," by C. J. Broderick. Bonnycastle Dale in this latest issue deals with some experiences, "Living at Close Quarters With the Moose of Nova Scotia." J. W. Winson writes an interesting study of the Saw Whet and Screech owls.

Fishing Notes, the regular department edited by G. P. Sladen, contains several articles of diversified angling interest and C. S. Landis' Guns and Ammunition department carries a number of instructive articles for the shooter. In the contents is also a good article on the slaughter of ducks by floating oil on Hamilton Bay.

Rod and Gun is published monthly by W. J. Taylor, Limited, Woodstock, Ont.

The minister's son was in the fifth grade in school now and was exceedingly conscious of his superior scholarship. Every night he came home and imparted something new to his proud father.

"Father," he began, "the teacher has been teaching me the meaning of the tenses."

"Oh, has he " remarked the divine; "then I'll give you a little test. If I said, 'I was a good golfer,' what tense would that be ?"

"Past tense," responded the learned one.

"Correct, my son," beamed the proud parent. "And if I said, 'I am a good golfer,' what tense would that be ?"

Without a moment's hesitation the boy replied, "That would be present tense."

The church conference was over and the hostesses were returning from seeing the visitors off.

"Who did you have, Mrs. Brown " asked Mrs. Retlaw.

"Oh, a very nice minister. Who did you have "

"I had two locust preachers," concluded Mrs. Retlaw.

"You mean two local preachers. Locusts are those things that come in swarms and eat everything."

"That's right," said her friend. "I had two of them."

"IN THE PUBLIC EYE"

WHEN you come to the Eyesight Cross Roads and realize that you must either become possessed of a pair of correct glasses or go down, down Misery Road into the Blind Man's Alley, you should at such time consult our optometrist. He will prescribe for you a pair of glasses that will help repair the damage that use or age has done your eyes and allow you to see clearly again.

CHEVROLET

Value Means More than Price Alone!

THE price of a car is what you pay—the value is what you get. Value is the combination of Quality and Price.

Notwithstanding the recent remarkable reductions in Chevrolet prices, Chevrolet does not aim to be the cheapest car in its class. It does aim —and is justly considered— the greatest value in its class.

The smooth Chevrolet is outstanding value, not only because it costs you less—but because it gives you more—more smoothness of performance—more power and speed —more instant acceleration—more striking beauty of line and finish—more richness of upholstery—more completeness of appointments.

To pay less than the price of the smooth Chevrolet is to sacrifice quality. To pay more, for a car in the Chevrolet class, is needless extravagance.

The Smoothest Chevrolet in Chevrolet history is selling at the Lowest Price for which Chevrolet has ever been sold in Canada.

Ask your Chevrolet dealer about the GMAC Plan of buying a car on time.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of Alexander Howe, who departed this life September 14th, 1920.
Just a thought of you, dear Alexander,
Just a memory fond and true;
Just a token of affection
That my heart still aches for you.
No one knows the silent heartache
Only I who have lost can tell
Of the grief that is borne in silence
For you, the one I loved so well.

WEDDING BELLS.

Reid—Hagerman.

On Wednesday noon, Sept. 1st, 1926, the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fenton Reid, of Ernesttown, was the scene of a very pretty wedding, when their eldest daughter, Marguerite, was united in marriage to Hugh John Hagerman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Abraham A. Hagerman, also of Ernesttown. Rev. W. R. Merrick officiated. The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, looked very charming gowned in a white dress of georgette with pearl trimmings, and carried a bridal bouquet of sweetheart roses. The bride was attended by her cousin, Miss Hazel Reid, who was becomingly attired in a very pretty pink gown, and carried a beautiful bouquet of pink roses. The groom was assisted by his brother, S. A. Hagerman. The wedding music was played by the groom's sister, Miss Pearl Hagerman. Immediately following the ceremony the bride and groom, with their friends and guests, numbering nearly fifty, retired to the dining room, where they partook of a bounteous repast. After the customary toasts, the bride and groom left amid showers of confetti and good wishes, for their honeymoon in western points of Ontario.

THAT BOULEVARD STRIP

To the Editor of The Beaver.

Dear Sir,—When the pavement is finally laid on John and East Streets, it will be hard to find two more beautiful streets in Ontario. One thing only is needed to complete it. Just now private owners are filling in the boulevard strip, on which in all probability sod will be laid or grass seed sown. Perhaps some one more ambitious than the rest will set out a few flowers in the centre of it, and just there the symetry of the whole will be marred.

Anyone who has visited St. Thomas or Aylmer, which are noted for their flowers and the beauty of the streets, will recall how their strip is used there. Right down the street from one end to the other, the property owners plant, perhaps one color tulips for spring and red geraniums for summer, and a few asters for fall.

Wouldn't it be possible for the property owners in Napanee to do something like that right on the start, so that next spring one could look down John Street and see a row of tulips in the centre of a grass plot? A little friendly rivalry between John and East Streets in this direction wouldn't hurt.

Unless someone takes hold of this it will be neglected and much of the artistic effect of our beautiful streets lost. Couldn't the Horticultural Society initiate the movement?

—ARTISTIC.

OBITUARY

The many friends in Belleville and vicinity learned with deepest regret the passing of Helen M. Bell, death occurring at the residence of her parents, 22 St. Charles Street, at an early hour on Friday afternoon, Sept. 3rd, 1926, and thus another promising young life was cut off in its prime, following an illness of almost two years' duration. Helen was the second and beloved daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Bell. She was born in Merrickville, but had resided in Belleville for the past ten years. Though being confined to bed for over a year, she was bright and patient always. Possessing a happy disposition, she endeared herself to a wide circle of friends. In religion she was an Anglican. With her sorrowing parents, there are left to mourn her loss three sisters, Georgia, Jessie and Mabel; also two brothers, Eric and Wallace, all of Belleville.

With a legion of sorrowing relatives and friends, the funeral was held on Monday morning, the 6th inst., from the family residence to the Emmanuel Church, where Rev. Geo. Marshall conducted the impressive service of the Reformed Episcopal Church. Assisting him was the Rev. J. S. McMullen. Interment was made in the Belleville cemetery. The esteem with which the deceased was held was evidenced by the wealth of floral tributes, a special car being used to convey same; this too, testified the sorrow felt for the passing of this young life.

Prunella—"How do you like your new music master, old thing?"

Pearl—"Oh, he's a dear! Awfully polite and all that. Yesterday, when I'd finished playing, he said—'Why do you take such pains to improve on Beethoven?'"

Two Sure Roads to Farming Prosperity

Protect the Home Market

For Canada, more especially for Ontario and Quebec, the stage is all set for a tremendous development.

The fabulous wealth of our North Country—now established beyond question—needs only the assurance of honest and stable government to attract capital and immigration on a scale that will inaugurate a period of unprecedented prosperity. A few years hence in Ontario there may easily be a population of 1,000,000 north of the Great Lakes and the Ottawa River.

All of which means a big and profitable market for farm products. That market should be reserved exclusively for Canadian farmers. Elect a Conservative Government, and it will be so reserved. For the Conservative Party stands pledged to see that the Canadian farmer is as adequately protected in this market as the United States farmer is in his.

As Mr. Meighen stated at Midland on August 3rd, "We will make it as hard for the American farmers to get their surplus shipments into Canada, as they are now making it difficult for the Canadian farmer to get his surplus into the United States."

Promises are Good -- but Actions are Better

For the United States farmer, the season for "seasonable" produce — all kinds of fruits and vegetables — opens much earlier than it does for you.

When your cherries, or your tomatoes, are first ready to pick, his production of cherries or tomatoes is at its peak.

Heretofore, in order to avoid breaking prices in his own market, he has been accustomed to dump his surplus production on yours.

In less than three weeks from the time it took office, the Conservative administration effectually stopped this practice by rigid enforcement of the dumping regulations!

What Others Have Done You Too Can Do!

The farmers of Canada have shown that they can march abreast of the whole world in quality production. Also they have made giant strides in increasing the quantity of their production.

But in the business-like, efficient marketing of their products they have failed to keep pace.

Little Denmark has developed a system of co-operative marketing that has made her one of the most efficient and prosperous agricultural countries in the world. Australia and New Zealand have both made the orderly marketing of their products a matter of national policy.

Don't let Canada lag behind any longer!

Co-Operative Marketing

Every farmer who knows his business hopes to —produce in larger quantity, and still be able to sell the increase without breaking the market;

—produce in a better quality, and obtain the premium to which he should thereby be entitled.

Both hopes can be realized — quickly and in full measuse — through co-operative marketing!

The proper procedure as regards organization, the proper technique as regards standards, grading, etc., and the proper methods of financing, are now an open book that all who will may read and profit by.

In the five years he was in office, Mr. King did absolutely nothing to bring the blessings of co-operative marketing within reach of Canadian farmers. But—

Mr. Meighen stands pledged, if returned to power—to quote his own words from an address delivered in Ottawa on July 20th—"to put into force such a policy as will enable the farmers of Canada to build up a marketing system which will compare in efficiency with that of any agricultural country in the world."

And this pledge will be carried out, even as Mr. Meighen's pledge to stop the dumping on the Canadian market of United States fruits and vegetables has already been carried out!

Yours is the choice—yours the responsibility—on September 14th. If you would unlock the double door to prosperity, the key for which Mr. Meighen offers you—

Maggie McKay, a regular visitor in the doctor's room, started on a long story of her afflictions. The medical man endured it patiently and gave her another bottle of medicine. At last she started out, and the doctor was congratulating himself when she stopped and exclaimed, "Why, doctor, you didna ask to see if my tongue was coated."

"I know it isn't," he wearily replied. "You dinna find grass on a race track."

GETTING SKINNIER EVERY DAY

Something Must Be Done and Done Right Now — Quick

Hollows in Cheeks and Neck Growing Deeper Every Week

Tens of thousands of thin, run-down men—yes, and women too—are getting discouraged—are giving up all hope of ever being able to take on flesh and look healthy and strong.

All such people can stop worrying and start to smile and enjoy life right now for McCoy's Cod Liver Extract Tablets which any druggist will tell you all about are putting flesh on boats of skinny folks every day.

One woman, tired, weak and discouraged, gained 15 pounds in five weeks and now feels fine.

We all know that the livers of Cod Fish are full of vitalizing flesh producing vitamines and these same vitamines of the highest class are found in McCoy's Cod Liver Extract Tablets—sugar coated and as easy to take as candy.

And this shows what faith the makers have in McCoy's for they say: If any thin person don't gain at least 5 pounds in 30 days your druggist will give you your money back—and only 60 cents for 60-tablets. Ask any live pharmacist anywhere in North or South America.

But be sure to get McCoy's, the original and genuine.

EXPECTANT MOTHERS

Read Mrs. Menard's Letter. Her Experience May Help

Chatham, Ontario.—"I want to tell you how much good your medicine has done me. Before my baby came I felt so weak and run-down that I could hardly do my work. My head ached continually and I was so discouraged that I could cry from morning till night. I had another baby just one year and a half old and it gave me a lot to do. So I thought I would try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, as I had read so much about it in the little books. I found a difference right away as my head was relieved and my tired feelings gone. My sister had been doing my washing and she continued doing it, as she said it might set me back if I started to do it again. It sure did help me and I had taken just two bottles when my baby came. He is a fine big boy, now nearly five months old. I am taking your medicine again and I am able to do my work all by myself now. I always recommend the Vegetable Compound to women, and especially to expectant mothers, as I believe they need help at those times."—Mrs. OLIVER MENARD, 54 Center St., Chatham, Ontario.

RUGBY

Local fans are waiting for the Intercollegiate to swing into action and to see the great Queen's team in action again. It is rather doubtful if the Tricolor will repeat this season with such players as Batstone, Leadley, Thomas and others lost to the team. However, Batstone may return and take a science course. Warren Snyder is playing his last season with the Blue and White. Ralph St. Germaine will return to McGill this season.

The Interprovincial appears to be in for a big season with the champion Ottawa Senators as strong as last season. The M. A. A. A. will be much stronger with Bud Thomas and Cap Fear playing under Montreal colors.

Argonauts expect to sign Harry Batstone, but will field a strong team. Tigers will miss Quinq, but a strong team will represent the Yellow and Black in the Big Four.

The Kingston City Soccer League will soon swing under way. It is expected that eight teams will answer the call. Five are certain, but the other three are doubtful. "B" Company may enter a team but small crowds of last year may change the decision of the locals. However, if Capt. Babcock decides to enter a team he will have lots of experienced performers to pick from, besides some raw material. Freddy Carter, Bill McLaughlin, Tom Kirby, Steve Waitson, Harry Babcock, James MacGillvray, Jim Naphin, Ambrose Kilioran, Wallace Perry, Grant Paul, Cornelius Mills, Andrew Cavanaugh, Bill Judson, Harry Clancy, J. L. Murray and perhaps C. A. Shoemaker would be glad to play for the locals. The other teams will be R. C. H. A., R. M. C. Cadets, Kingston City, R. M. C. staff, Seeley's Bay, C. I. C. (whatever that is), and the P. W. O. R.

For some unknown reason the Mercantile League game on Monday night wasn't played as scheduled. Neither "B" Company nor 86 appeared. However, the games will soon be under way again in the Armouries, and some of the postponed games will be played as part of a double-header.

It might be a good idea for the Executive of the Leafs and the Inter-Church League to get together and install five or six more lights with reflectors, as the lighting is not sufficient to allow one to follow the course of a swiftly moving ball. Also sheets of Beaver Board or some other material should be placed over the windows in the north side and two windows back of 3rd base. This would greatly help to liven up the game as one can hardly see the ball against the dark windows. The lights could be used only on softball nights and operated by a special switch, and the Beaver Board could be placed between the screen and window to insure it against injury. Or, for that matter the window could be covered with white cloth or paper which could be attached to the screen.

Napanee is shortly to lose two more fine young athletes, when Jim and Bill Carr leave for Toronto. These two young men were prominent in every branch of sport at the N.C.I., and were very popular with teachers and pupils alike. Both played for the N.C.I. and St. Mary's Juniors in the Intermediate and Junior Town Leagues respectively, and both were heralded as coming stars. Their work will be missed at N.C.I. this year, but they will doubtless make a name for themselves at Upper Canada College.

SOFTBALL

Parkdale 17, Leafs 9.

On Monday evening, in the Coliseum, Toronto, Parkdales defeated the Leafs 17-9 in an exhibition game. The Leafs were unable to play Saturday because of rain, and on Monday they played Parkdales. For six innings the locals battled away against a strange team in front of a strange crowd and on a strange diamond, and more than held their own against the strong Parkdale team. Then the strain became too great, and the girls fell down, and Parkdale piled up the score. The locals played a wonderful game all around till the 7th and 8th, Toronto fan remarked that they were every bit as good as the Parkdale outfit, and with favourable conditions would have beaten the Toronto team. However, great credit is due to the Leafs.

TRACK AND FIELD

Already the boys at the Collegiate are training for the Athletic Meet to be held in Kingston shortly. All are working hard and expect to figure largely in the doings at the Queen's stadium. The pits are in fine shape as is the track, and doubtless the local athletes will make a good showing. The Field Day at the Collegiate will be held much earlier this year so as to allow the boys to get ready for the Rugby season. Doubtless the Collegiate will carry on their annual game with Picton and Deseronto. So far the locals have the edge on the games as follows :—

With Picton, the N.C.I. have won 5 and lost 1; have scored 195 points, and have yielded but 18 points to their rivals.

With Deseronto, the N.C.I. have won 3 and lost 1. They have scored 44 points against the Yellow and Black, and have yielded 20 to the western High School team. These games have been going on for the past three years, and no doubt the locals are waiting anxiously for the time to come when they can try to down their rivals again.
